

Terry Mitchem Will Be Hostess 'Par Excellence'

Terry Mitchem, chosen to be official hostess for the 1958 summer sessions, is one student who is eager for summer school to begin.

Meeting campus guests when they arrive in Lincoln, arranging dinners and entertainment, assisting in planning Union activities, Miss Mitchem pictures for the 1959 college catalog—these are some of the duties of the hostess.

She will serve as co-ordinator for Bob Handy, director of Union activities and Dr. Frank E. Sorenson, director of summer sessions.

In addition, Miss Mitchem will take six hours of classes.

Her Guests

Among summer guests the hostess will be meeting are: Dylan Todd, folk singer; Toshio Shimanouchi, Japanese Embassy; Dr. George Bereday, Columbia University and Honorable Baron Friedrich Von Lupin, German consulate in Chicago. The summer hostess is chosen from students who have been active in Union work. Miss Mitchem, vice president of the Union, will succeed Diane Knotek Butherus, 1957 hostess.

"Charming"

"Terry is well qualified for the job," explained Handy, "because of her experience in programming, ability to organize and work with people and her charming personality."

After summer school has ended, Miss Mitchem plans to vacation in California with her parents.

A junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, she is majoring in Spanish and English. After graduation she plans to attend graduate school.

Late Fee Deadline Set For June 17

Late fees for undergraduates begin Tuesday. Deadline for payments is June 17. Graduate students may pay late fees beginning June 13 with the deadline being June 17.

June 17 is also the deadline for adding classes. Classes may not be dropped after July 19.

School Becoming Full-Time Job

Teachers or prospective teachers constitute the bulk of summer school enrollment.

Dr. Floyd Hoover, Registrar, said he thought more teachers worked for advanced degrees in the summer than at any other time of the year. Dr. Hoover added that more and more regularly enrolled students are staying over for the summer.

"The trend started with the GI's after the war," he said, "and it's been growing ever since."

He suggested that married students might be part of the reason for this. Usually they are more anxious than single students to get out and earn a living. Dr. Hoover cited a growing summer school enrollment as a trend all over the country.

Last year 3,188 students took summer school courses, and an enrollment of between 3,250 and 3,300 is predicted for this year.

Scholarship Winner

Phyllis Bonner, junior in arts and sciences has been awarded the $250 Ayres, Swanson and Associates Award, presented to an outstanding advertising or journalism student at the University.

Husker Face Changes

Summer students returning to Nebraska's campus for the first time since the '57 summer session will see not only the results of a general cleanup campaign, but also a "new" Cornhusker campus.

At last three "temporary" buildings have bitten the dust—literally. Temporarys A, B and K have been removed and in their places will be parking facilities and landscaping. Temp. B was the Campus Book Store before its razing.

Another old landmark to summer students was Ellen Smith Hall, which also fell before progress. It was torn down and in its place is a new landscaped entrance to the University. It also sets the entrance to the new and modern-designed administration building on 14th St.

Prospective pharmacy students should be pleasantly surprised to see Lyman Hall, new pharmacy building. It is a new addition to the west end of Bancroft School on 14th and "U" Sts.
