

Mythical Government Draws Highschoolers To Campus

Creation of a mythical state will draw 300 high school girls to the campus this month to study state and county government at the 17th annual session of Girls State.

Former Girl Staters among University students may attend the Reunion Banquet on June 19th. Eleanor Kessler, a University freshman and former Girl Stater may be contacted for tickets.

The mythical state, based on the operations of the state of Nebraska, will hold elections during the week the girls are here. Heated battles for the governorship and other offices are predicted, judging from past sessions.

After the elections, officers chosen from the girls will participate in a mock inauguration at the State Capitol. Gov. Victor Anderson will give the inauguration address.

Robert Simmons, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska is to speak on opening night, June 15.

Lawyers, experts in government and educators will lecture to the girls, said Mrs. Mary McVicker, department secretary for the American Legion Auxiliary, the group sponsoring Girls State.

Speakers during the week include Secretary of State Frank Marsh; Hugo Srb, clerk of the State Legislature; Rev. Rex Knowles, pastor for Presbyterian students and County Judge Herbert Ronin.

Publishing Practice Given

The second annual publications workshop for high school advisers has been extended an extra day this year. It will be held Tuesday through Friday.

According to James Morrison, workshop adviser, the workshop will consist of more laboratory experience this year. The participants will be asked to write, edit and publish a small mimeographed publication at the end of instruction.

A half day's instruction will be given each to reporting, news writing, copywriting and editing, and letterpress, offset and mimeograph. A full day's instruction will be devoted to both photography and the high school yearbook.

Dr. William E. Hall, director of the School of Journalism, will begin the workshop Tuesday with lectures on the fundamentals of reporting. In the afternoon, Neale Cople of

The Lincoln Journal will lecture on news writing.

Wednesday morning, Dr. Robert Cranford, associate professor of journalism will give instruction on copywriting and editing. Morrison, Kenneth Peitsch and Robert Pickel will lecture and instruct on the letterpress, offset and mimeograph.

Ray Morgan, photography instructor, will give fundamentals of camera operation on Thursday.

The subject for Friday will be the high school yearbook. Instructors will be Miss Hattie Steinberg and Morrison.

A workshop picnic will be held on Tuesday at Pioneers Park and on Friday a workshop banquet will be held in the Student Union.

Registration fee for the 1958 workshop is $9.50. This covers the cost of all instructional and laboratory materials as well as the picnic and the banquet.

Union To Show Foreign Films

Four international film classics will make up the Summer Film Society's program at the university.

Held in connection with the Summer Sessions World Affairs Preview series, the films will provide students with an opportunity to become familiar with other countries and peoples.

Included on the program for the first Film Society Showing (Thursday, June 26) will be the Japanese films: "Along Japan's High Road"; "Japan"; "Suzuki Family";

and "Schools in Japan."

The remainder of the summer program is:

July 1—Germany: "Murders Among Us" and "On Wings of Song."

July 8—England: "All Quiet On The Western Front."

July 15—Russia: "Sadko" and "Black Patch."

All of the films will be shown in the Student Union Ballroom.

Showtime for all of the films, except the first one (June 26) will be Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m.
