Lerner Says U.S. Needs To Organize Brainpower

Education Is Bottlenecked, Educator Says

The greatest educational crisis that the United States faces is that it has not learned to organize its brainpower for the task ahead, Max Lerner, nationally known educator said at a convocation Tuesday.

"The United States cannot borrow the educational methods of others, whether it be the British or the French or the Russians, any more than they can borrow ours," the author of the best seller, "American Civilization," said.

Foundation Gets Check For $100,000

A check of $100,000 from the estate of Howard Wilson was received this week by the University Foundation, according to Perry W. Branch, executive-director of the Foundation.

In his will Wilson, who was president of Bankers Life Insurance Co., bequeathed the money to the Foundation as a permanent endowment.

The will stipulated that the income be used "exclusively to promote the making of gifts, donations and bequests to the Foundation for the benefit of the University of Nebraska."

Wilson who died in 1958, served as past president, trustee and member of the investment committee of the Foundation. He received a Distinguished Service Award from the University in 1944.

Double Bill Stars Bogey Sunday

Humphrey Bogart stars in two films in the Sunday Union movie.

Starting time is at 6:30 p.m., an hour earlier, due to the double feature presentation.

The first film, "Key Largo," is based on a play by Maxwell Anderson. It is a drama of crime and violence set in the Florida keys. Co-stars are Edward G. Robinson, Lionel Barrymore and Claire Trevor.

The second feature, "The Petrified Forest," co-stars Leslie Howard and Bette Davis. It is classified as the film which made Bogart a star.

Admission is free with University identification cards. The movies will be shown in the Union Ballroom.

A triple science fiction-horror show will be presented at the Union Saturday at 7 p.m.

Boris Karloff stars in two of the films, "The Walking Dead" and "Isle of the Dead." The science fiction film, "The Thing", stars Kenneth Tobey and tells of a discovery at the North Pole.
