

Three Get Year Leave Of Absence

Three University professors have received the consent of the Board of Regents to spend the next school year lecturing and doing research work abroad.

Dr. Glenn W. Gray, professor of history, has received a University Research Council Fellowship to study parliamentary proceedings in the British Isles during the fall semester.

Dr. William Bowsky, associate professor of history, will travel to Italy where he will study the history of medieval Siena. Siena was one of the greatest commercial and banking powers in Western Europe during the 13th Century. Dr. Bowsky will take his leave during second semester of next year.

Dr. Oscar Mandel, associate professor of English, has received a Fulbright Fellowship to lecture on English and American literature at the Amsterdam Municipal University for the 1960-61 school year.

A year's absence was also granted by the Regents to Dr. Merle Stoneman, professor of school administration and elementary education. Dr. Stoneman will accept a position in the U.S. Office of Education, school plants division.

Four resignations were accepted by the Board of Regents. They included Dr. Helen Linkswiler, professor of home economics; Robert Wotton, associate professor of zoology; Miss Jean Davis, associate professor of home economics; and Phil Rueschhoff, coordinator of art in the Extension Division.

Research grants totaling $112,481, training grants amounting to $85,523 and Fellowships equaling $6,802 were accepted by the Board.

Filkins Elected Builders Rep

Myron Filkins, sophomore in Agriculture, was elected Builders Student Council representative Thursday.

He was the last member to be elected, except for a runoff election for Tassels representative, due to a tie.

Organ Recital By Roberts Set

Myron Roberts, professor of organ, will give the first organ recital at the newly constructed Church of the Holy Trinity in Lincoln on Sunday at 4 p.m.

The recital will be open to the public and will include a group of Bach selections and others inspired by the Anglican tradition.

Roberts will play one of his own compositions, "Prelude and Trumpetings," which is now in the process of being published.

This is also the first time for a recital on the church organ. Roberts was the church's consultant in the construction of the organ and is the congregation's permanent organist.

Delta Omicron Plans Musicales

Delta Omicron, national professional music society for women, will present its Spring Musicales today at 4 p.m. in the Social Science auditorium.

The group will present five numbers under the direction of Sue Stahl.

Soloists will be Louise Conrad, Jean Sanders, Kay Schoneberg, Nancy Watton and Ann White.
