Solich Hits ISU For 78 Yards

The Iowa State fans looked with amazement at the little Husker fullback . . . but when the game was over every Iowan had to give Nebraska's Frank Solich much of the credit for NU's 14-7 win.

The Cyclones battered Solich around but the junior speedster still tore through their line for 78 yards.

No less than 18 times was the 162-pound fullback called upon to handle the ball-carrying chores.

Solich has had a busy time in the three Nebraska games to date.

He carried the ball 31 times for 157 yards. This gives him an outstanding 5.1 yard average.

In punt and kick-off returns, Solich has a 15.3 and 16.5 yard average returns. Fans will remember that last year returns were a specialty of Solich's.

However, a broken ankle in the 1963 Minnesota game forced him to the sidelines until the final two games of the season.

The tough footballer will probably always be best known for the sensational 80-yard touchdown return that was nullified during the Orange Bowl contest. An official ruled he stepped out of bounds and the controversy is still debated.

Solich calls Cleveland, Ohio his home town. He played his high school ball under Coach Carl Falivene at Cleveland's Holy Name High School. Solich scored 104 points and played safety on defense during Holy Name's city championship season.

Rifle Team Wins; Saathoff Top Gun

The University of Nebraska rifle team, off to another good start, outshot two Iowa State teams over the weekend. The Huskers accumulated 1402 points, bettering the Cyclones' 1381 and 1274.

Bob Saathoff, Grand Island senior, took high point honors. Coach Sgt. Robert Wilson's squad fired from the prone, kneeling and standing positions.

Celtics Play In Omaha

The National Basketball Association champion Boston Celtics will play the St. Louis Hawks in Omaha tonight at the Civic Auditorium.

The game is being sponsored by the Douglas County Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Led by Bill Russell, 6'10" center, the Celtics have won the NBA Championship seven out of eight years. The only break in their string during that span was perpetrated by the Hawks.

The Hawks are led by Bob Pettit, the all-time pro scoring leader, and Cliff Hagan. Pettit will be the first NBA player in history to score over 20,000 points, and he should surpass this mark this year.

Senior Toothaker Heads Cross Country Squad

Nebraska's cross country team, rich with balance this year, opens its season against Iowa State and Minnesota over the Cyclones' three-mile course at Ames, Ia., Saturday.

That balance quality, lacking in previous years, brings an optimistic tone from Coach Frank Seveigne. Last year the Huskers lost all four duals and ended sixth in the Big Eight Conference meet.

Larry Toothaker, two-letter winner from Plattsmouth and the only senior on the squad, will lead the NU team with juniors Tucker Lillis and Peter Scott, who showed promise as distance runners during the outdoor season.

The squad's sophomores include: Joe Perez, Jim Ryan, Lowell Stratton, and Jim Scherzberg, a transfer from Kearney State Teachers College.

Iowa State's cross country crew is the strongest it has been in years. Last week the Cyclones defeated Drake 27-28 in a close race. Leading the I-State squad was David Lee who took first in a time of 15:22.8.

Other Cyclones are Brian Kuhlman, Craig Burroughs, Bill Harrison, Bob Rippe, Bob Rowell and Paul Stachour.

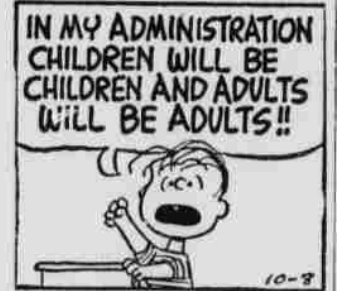

The two Husker home duals, against Kansas State (Oct. 17) and Missouri (Oct. 31), will be

Cards Pour Into Room 207

Student Health has suddenly become a popular place. Room 207 has had a very popular occupant since Monday afternoon, Husker quarterback Fred Duda.

Over one hundred cards and letters in two days are evidence that Fred is thought of by many.

"I've had lots of visitors . . . the guys were here last night. They had to tell us to keep the noise down," he said.

Some of the cards Fred received were from the football players' parents. The Extra Point club sent two, tearful, dachshund hound cards complete with 300 or 400 signatures.

"I don't know most of the people who sent cards," he said.

Some of the players' wives have brought cookies and fudge. "All the guys ate them last night," Fred reported.

He watched the opening round of the World Series Wednesday afternoon—saw the Cardinals beat the Yankees 9-5—but wasn't rooting for either team. "I'm for the White Sox, but they aren't in there," the Chicago product said.

"It is good to be back, though everyone was nice in Iowa. Some of the Iowa State players came in to see me and the head coach came, too," Fred commented.

"I'll be here the rest of the week. I hope I can get to the Saturday game somehow. I plan to get back to classes next week, though I'll be on crutches for three months," he said.

"I'm only carrying twelve hours and know someone in every class, so I should be able to catch up without too much trouble."

After a change in medicine Fred is able to sleep comfortably without much pain at night. "The first night I was here I woke up nearly every hour," he said.

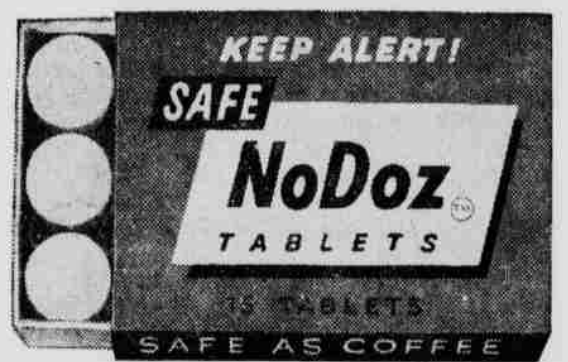

He will occupy room 207 the rest of this week. Two bouquets of red and white carnations, one from KOWH
