Husker Grapplers Have Tough Opener

Nebraska's wrestlers break into the 1966-67 season Thursday in Lincoln against always tough Iowa State.

The Cornhusker grapplers will be running head-on into a Cyclone squad that has proven, like other Big Eight schools, to be a major power in national ranks.

Iowa State, who finished second in the NCAA collegiate wrestling tournament last year, was the country's championship team the season before.

And they're no exception in the Big Eight.

Husker coach Orval Borgianni claims Nebraska is in the "finest competition" there is.

"There's no doubt we're in the toughest conference in the nation," said the Husker mentor.

"As long as I can remember, Big Eight teams have been one-two-three in the national tournament," he added.

Borgianni also pointed out that the champion of the Big Eight is usually a safe bet for the national winner.

It is therefore reasonable that a match between teams in the league will provide some of the best college wrestling in country.

There will be at least 10 varsity matches when NU and ISU clash this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. An eleventh match will depend on whether Borgianni can come up with a heavyweight to complete his team.

Unless the heavyweight position can be filled, the Huskers will enter the meeting with one strike against them.

All other divisions will be filled by the top NU wrestlers in all weight classes. Freshmen will also perform in 10 divisions, with the deletion of the optional 191 class.

The varsity rundown: 115—Larry Tepley; 123—Jerry Langdon; 130—Ron Thon; 137—Bob Kuchera; 145—Dennis Dobson; 152—

Dwayne Dobson; 160—Gary Hoffman; 167—Harry Gaylor; 177—Ben Barrends and 191—Gene Libal.

Freshmen contenders, who will wrestle at the same time as their varsity counterparts, are 115—Gary Gnage; 123—Bill Rawlings; 130—Fred Stamm; 137—Bruce Colvin; 145—John McVay; 152—Richard Dudgeon; 160—Howard Putter; 167—Paul Johnson; 177—Jim Reeder and Hwt.—Mike Burdic.

Devaney Named For Coach Honor

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and Bob Devaney of Nebraska are among eight coaches named as candidates for the Coach of the Year Award to be presented by the American Football Coaches Association convention in Houston January 12.

Other District winners announced Saturday were Tom Cahill, Army; Bo Schembechler, Miami of Ohio; John McKay, Southern California; Jerry Clairborne, Virginia Poly; Vince Dooley, Georgia; and Odus Mitchell, North Texas State.

NU Blasts Ducks In Opener, 79-56

A near capacity crowd of 7,800 turned out for Nebraska's opening basketball game Friday to see the Huskers outclass the Oregon Ducks, 79-56, and give early warning that Nebraska could again be a Big Eight powerhouse.

Nebraska showed signs of first game jitters in the first half but didn't let the trend continue as they hit four straight baskets early in the second half to surge from a narrow 35-34 lead to a 43-34 edge with 15:06 remaining.

Three baskets by Stewart Lantz and one by Tom Baack accounted for the eight point surge that put Nebraska in command. Baack finished high for Nebraska with 27 points, including a 9-10 effort from the free throw stripe. Lantz and Willie Campbell were next for Nebraska with 19 and 13 points respectively.

Oregon, who fell to Kansas State Saturday, 52-45, was paced by guard Nick Jones with 17 points.

Nebraska's next encounter will be at Wyoming on Wednesday.

Freshmen Win

The Husker frosh opened their season last Thursday in a high scoring contest at Des Moines, Iowa, beating the Drake freshmen 101 to 90. Tom Scantlebury paced the Husker freshmen with 24 points. The Nebraska frosh will host Creston Junior College tonight at 7:30 in the Coliseum.

Bob To Speak At I-State

Bob Devaney, coach of the four-time Big Eight champions at Nebraska, will be the speaker at the annual Iowa State football recognition banquet Jan. 5.

Mal Schmidt, executive director of the Cyclone Club, said Devaney would come direct from the Cornhuskers' Sugar Bowl engagement with Alabama. The banquet will be held in Memorial Union on the Cyclone campus.

Devaney ranks just as high on the banquet circuit as he does in the coaching circles. He has built the best won-lost record among the active major coaches during stints at Wyoming and Nebraska.
