PACT Announces Support of NFU; May Offer Course

PACT announced their general support of the proposal yet to be adopted by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Agricultural Economics department. The proposal, which includes the creation of a new degree program in agricultural economics, was supported by one of the largest donations received by a student organization on campus this year. The donation was made by DSU, who will provide a series of grants over the next two years.

Mrs. Mason Lauds IFC After 6 Years of Service

By Joyce Gorton

In a recent interview, Mrs. Mason praised the International Fraternity Council (IFC) for their dedication and service over the past six years. Mrs. Mason, who has been a member of IFC since its inception in 1966, emphasized the importance of the organization in fostering a sense of community and providing support for students during their college years.

Contact Weathers" Call for Volunteers

Contact Weathers, a local non-profit organization, is calling for volunteers to help with their upcoming event. Volunteers will be needed to help with set-up, registration, and other tasks. Those interested in volunteering can contact Contact Weathers at their office for more information.

PACT Supports Student's Old Testament Thesis

The department of religious studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has received a donation of $50,000 from PACT, a local non-profit organization. The funds will be used to support the student's thesis on the Old Testament.

Campus Student Health Alert

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has issued a student health alert regarding the recent outbreak of a highly contagious virus. Students are advised to take precautions to prevent the spread of the virus, including washing their hands frequently and avoiding close contact with individuals who are sick.

Students Warned About PACT's Use of Invasive Research Techniques

Students have expressed concerns about the use of invasive research techniques by PACT, a local non-profit organization. Concerns include the use of invasive procedures that may cause unnecessary discomfort and pain.

Little Lincoln: Where the Action Is

By Maryann Johnson

Little Lincoln is the newest addition to the Nebraska Husker football family. The mascot has been welcomed by students and fans alike, adding a new level of excitement to game day.

PACT's Mission: Supporting Student Success

PACT, a local non-profit organization, continues to support student success through various initiatives and programs. Their recent donation to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln exemplifies their commitment to the academic community.

Mrs. Mason Lauds IFC After 6 Years of Service

By Joyce Gorton

In a recent interview, Mrs. Mason praised the International Fraternity Council (IFC) for their dedication and service over the past six years. Mrs. Mason, who has been a member of IFC since its inception in 1966, emphasized the importance of the organization in fostering a sense of community and providing support for students during their college years.

Contact Weathers, a local non-profit organization, is calling for volunteers to help with their upcoming event. Volunteers will be needed to help with set-up, registration, and other tasks. Those interested in volunteering can contact Contact Weathers at their office for more information.

PACT Supports Student's Old Testament Thesis

The department of religious studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has received a donation of $50,000 from PACT, a local non-profit organization. The funds will be used to support the student's thesis on the Old Testament.

Campus Student Health Alert

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has issued a student health alert regarding the recent outbreak of a highly contagious virus. Students are advised to take precautions to prevent the spread of the virus, including washing their hands frequently and avoiding close contact with individuals who are sick.