Between China and Japan. The Empress of Russis in

Most Deplorable Cendition of Health. LONDON, April 26-1 s. m. -In the couse of commons to-day Lord R Greatevenor, the manber for Flint-shire, in behalf of Mr. Gladstone, gave notice that when the house should sit in committee of the whole a fortnight hence, he should move an address to the queen, providing for the erection of a monument to Lord Beaconsfield in Westminster Abbey. Mr. Hodnett, chairman of the Halley de Hab branch of the laud league, was arrested to day under the coercio act, at Skibbereene, the market town in Minster, to which he was taken for incarceration. Thousands of people gathered and cheered the prisoner and taunted the constabulary, who had made the arrest, but there we no breach of the peace.

San Francisco, April 26-1 a. m. —Information just received from Jap-an makes it probable that the long-smouldering discontent between Jap-anese and Chinese statesmen may ere long burst forth in a fisme of war. When the controversy between the when the controversy between the governments with respect to the ownership and occupation of Lew Kew island arose sometime ago, the Japanese were very firm, and insisted on what they claim as their rights. They were at that moment in the belief that China was on the eve of war with Russis and they thought they would Russis, and they thought they would at the same time. The Chinese au thorities made fair promises, and a government. By this time all immediate danger of war with Russis was passed. China has at present her army in an exceptionely good condition, and her navy, which is far stronger than ever, is ready for immediate and effective action. When the Jspanese commissioner pressed their claims recently at Pekin they were answered in a very different tone from that which the Mandarins had previously used, and were in effect told that the Chinese did not care to be longer annoyed by them They reported the insult to their own government, and Japaness man of war has been sent o bring them home. WASHINGTON WAIFS. ARMY AND NAVY RECEPTION-NO RE PUBLICAN CAUCUS.

WASHINGTON, April 26-1 a. m .-There was a brilliant, though informal reception at the Executive Mansion last evening. Mrs. Garfield and Mrs. Farragut received the army and navy. It is believed that every army and navy officer in Washington was there. Ex-Assistant Scoreta. / of the Navy Fox gave a dinner lest night at Wormleys, to his old naval friends, about fifty of whom were present. It is denied most positively by the republican senators that there will be a caucus to-day. Col. Bob Ingersoll Considerable excitement was crested here yesterday by the publication of the names of the parsons said o have shared in the spoils of the Star Route ring. It is understood that other names will be given to the public very soon.

THE HERO OF MOBILE.

WASHINGTON, April 26-1 a. m. Very little business was transacted in the departments yesterday, and they were all closed at moon in order to permit the employes to participate in the Farragut ceremonies. The ceremonies opened by prayer by the Rav. Arthur Brooks. The statue was unyelled by Quartermaster Knowles, who lashed Admiral Farragut to the rigging at the battle of Mobile. The usveiling was signalized by a grand outburst of music from all the bands, and the unfurling of the admiral's flag. The statue represents Farregut as standing on the deck of the flagship "Hartford," one foot on a block-and-tackle, and a marine glass in his

President Garfield accepted the statue in the name of the nation in an eloquent speech, in which he eulogized of the committee, who had taken charge of the construction and erection of the statue in his memory. Senator Voorhees then spoke, after which "Hail to the Chief" was played by the full Marine band. Then came the admiral's salute of seventeen guns, accompanied by the paradera salute and music, the admiral's flag belog hauled down during the last gun. The procession then reformed, a marching salute being given while passing the statue, and were reviewed in front of the executive mansion by the president and members of the cabinet and officers of the army and navy.
