Leadville does not make so much oise in the world this season as she has done in days that are past, but she two answers, but attributed the fact to the prevailing excitement over the president's assassination "There's better, is improving in her moral tone. So marked has this improvement become that the newspapers find it a source of comment. The following article, noting this change in the aspect of affairs is from The Herald of Sunday last, and is worth reading, as going to show the dawn of an important era and the passing away of the old state of affairs:

The great difference among men, of all callings, is energy of character or the want of it. Given the same amount of learning and integrity, and the same opportunities, and energy will make one man a conquerer. The want of it will see the other a failure. Dead-beat are all men without force. They had as good a chance as any of their companions. Others went ahead and carried off the prizes, while they were lying by the wayside, dispirited and despondent. It takes nerve and him, perserverance, patient continuance in well-doieg, to win a great into a profession without this pluck and force will not earn salt to his porridge. He will drag along through life with the help of friends, getting some credit with them for being a well-meaning man, in delicate health and unlucky. The real trouble is he lacks energy. This is just as true of the minister as of the lawyer or physician. Piety is not enough, and piety with much learning is not enough. All the Greek and Hebrew in the world will not qualify a man for usefulness in the ministry. It wants push, stamina, vigor, courage, resolution, will, determination - in one word, energy. If the youth knows a little Greek, he knows what en ergos means and without it Dr. Parr's knowledge of Greek will not help him to useful ness or success in the pulpit.
