A communication from Mayor Boyd was read, stating that he had signed the ordinance for the appropriation from the general fund for defraying the expenses of the months of May and June, also for a special tax for the building of sidewalks. A communication from the mayor was read, stating that he had appointed as appraisers of the damages to property caused by the change of grade of Eleventh street, S. G. Read, Geo. H. A communication was presented recommending, as the most suitable location for a city pound, the property of Mr. Estabrook, located on Tenth street, between Capitol avenue and Davenport street, and was referred to the committee on police. A communication from citizens residing on South avenue and Twenty-second streets, asking that the grade be established on a new road between the government corral and St. Mary's avenue, was referred to the city engineer with instructions to make a survey and establish the grade. The motion was lost and a recess of fifteen minutes was taken for that object. After consideration of the question a resolution was adopted that the sum of $833.33 be appropriated from the general fund for cross walks in each ward, making a total of $5,000 for the city, that the city clerk be instructed to advertise for the construction of walks, to be of such material and located at such points as the councilmen of that ward shall direct. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Everything Interesting Which Transpired Yesterday. The Usual Budget of Local Gossip. THE BLUFFS IN BRIEF. Quite a heavy thunder storm passed over this city yesterday morning. Dr. D. S. Star, of this city, is general agent and third owner of the Eureka Frederick mines. Dr. S. M. Ballard is spending a few days in Council Bluffs. The doctor is a well known citizen, being among the first settlers beyond the Mississippi. He gave the name Omaha to our sister city, and with seven others at one time owned the site on which it stands. He is still quite well although ripe with age. The Nonpareil comes out with a local column from Omaha. This is the way it should be. There is no reason why the paper should not have an extensive circulation over the river. Judge Larimer has gone to St. Louis on a business trip. J. C. Morgan, editor of the Globe, and Thomas Bowman have gone to Chicago to take in the races. A woman in the lower part of the city has a large cat that goes after the cows every night, and drives them out on the bottom in the morning regularly. The granite from which the Keith monument was cut, came from Red Beach on the coast of Maine. Mr. Wheeler, proprietor of the Revere house, this city, has erected three very neat Swiss cottages on the corner of Eighth avenue and Seventh street. A teamster, drunk of course, nearly killed his horses running them at full speed the whole length of Vine street and part of Washington avenue, last evening. Ira Platner will have seven blooded horses at the trotting park next week. Mr. Westervelt, clerk for Smith & Crittenden, and the Misses Hewitts, with friends, are camping out near Clear Lake, this state. A. B. Walker has taken a trip west in the interest of mining and shot manufacturing. His daughter, Fannie, takes his place in his real estate office during his absence. Mr. and Mrs. Ford will visit Niagara Falls this summer. Journeymen barbers are paid higher wages in Council Bluffs than in Omaha. Mrs. J. I. Edmondson, has gone to the Isle of Shoals off the coast of New England. It is almost impossible to keep trace of the improvements going on in Council Bluffs; here is another. One of the officers of the Rock Island road is erecting a very fine two story frame dwelling on the corner of Tenth street and Seventh avenue. Col. Dailey has moved into his new house. Arrangements, it is understood, are being perfected for another trial of speed between the Kescues of Decatur and the Rescues of Council Bluffs. The Bluffs team, since they were beaten here, have just asked to try the race over again, believing that they are more than a match for the team that took a thousand dollar prize away from them during the recent tournament. M. G. Griffin, the grocer, mourns the loss of his father, who died in the city of Chicago, where he resided. The Milwaukee & St. Paul road will regret it if they don't come into city via Indian creek. B. W. Height is convalescing, and will be about again soon. John N. Beckly, who had charge of the city decorations during the tournament, is dangerously ill at Colfax Springs. A small thief got in some of his goods last Sunday. He stole $100 from the keeper of a restaurant on Bryant street, and a small sum of money from Mrs. Leach, who keeps a laundry. J. A. Goldthwaite, of the Schenectady Locomotive works, Max Friedlander, New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Councilman, Des Moines, are at the Ogden house. Wm. Frazier, of St. Louis, Chas. Richards, of Chicago, and J. C. Hollis, of New York, are registered at the Ogden house. J. B. Smith, of Pittsburg, and J. M. Gross, of Burlington, and about thirty others are booked at the Pacific. N. W. Matson, of Neola, is at the Revere. One hundred and ten car loads of cattle were due at the stock yards yesterday afternoon. For the credit of the city the old Powers building should either come down or be rebuilt. One of the lady passengers from the east stood in the sun at the Transfer yesterday admiring the beautiful scenery presented by the bluffs until she was overcome by the heat and fainted. She was taken into the emigrant house, where she soon recovered. Three hundred passengers were delivered yesterday at the Union Pacific depot by the eastern trains. Dr. Stillman has moved the "L" of his residence onto the lot west of his house. He will proceed at once to erect a large two story frame front—costing about $5,000. When completed he will occupy it as a residence and rent the house he now lives in. Judge Abbott says that marriage this hot weather is almost out of the question, but he joined a couple yesterday nevertheless. Their names were given as follows: Groom, Hendrick Lassen; bride, Ingelburg Yessen. Yesterday they were made happy. The Northwestern was about seven hours late yesterday morning, on ac-

WHERE DID IT GO?

The Money Sent To Aid the Sufferers of the Flood. Omaha Contributed Thirty-Five Hundred Dollars. And Niobrara People Never Received a Cent of it. Theodore H. Mehrling, who lost all his earthly possessions in the recent overflow of the Missouri at Niobrara, is at present in the city. He was met yesterday by a reporter of THE BEE, when it was incidentally developed that not one cent of the money collected in Omaha reached the Niobrara sufferers. Owing to the low ground on which that town was built there was great suffering caused by the overflow and very few escaped without any loss. "You say you didn't receive a cent of money?" inquired the reporter. "Not one cent, nor even a shirt or a meal of victuals." "And you lost everything?" "All that I had in the world was swept away in the flood and it was only by a hard struggle that I saved my family. When I found the water rising I started from my house toward the high ground, I held a blanket in my mouth, one child on my arm and the other by the hand. The rising water made the blanket too heavy to carry so I dropped it. I tried to swim to my breast and was going over the head of the child I led by the hand. I caught her by the hair and raised her up but it was almost a miracle that I finally saved her." "Did no one else about Niobrara receive any money?" "Not a cent so far as I know." "If they had received any money you would have heard of it?" "I think I would. We had a society there of about thirty members. Some of them lost all they had like myself while most of them lost nearly all they owned. I can take an oath that none of these got any outside aid and I am certain nobody else did." Mr. Mehrling carries with him a certificate from Vac. Randa, the county clerk of Knox county, certifying that he is a resident of Niobrara. He is well-known to both Judge Bencke and John Baumer, of this city, and his statement in this regard may be deemed thoroughly reliable. Such being the case the question naturally arises, what has become of the money sent from Omaha in aid of sufferers? Mayor Boyd, as treasurer of the fund, was called upon. Referring to his book and receipts he said: "On April 30th, I sent $1,000 to W. R. Smith, Mayor of Sioux City and May 5th, $500 to the same gentleman. These amounts are acknowledged to have been received in The Sioux City Weekly Journal of June 30th. On May 5th I also sent $100 to L. W. Russell, of Glenwood, Iowa, for the Pacific Junction sufferers and $250 to W. L. Rogan, of Hamburg, Iowa; on May 7th I sent $1000 to Geo. H. Hand, acting governor of Dakota on the 10th $250, contributed by Samuel J. Tilden, to W. R. Smith, mayor of Sioux City and on the 13th a load of potatoes worth $107.15, which I purchased from Haydock Bros, and sent to Acting Gov. Hendrick D. That makes over $3,200, and we have over $200 yet on hand. In all my letters to Mayor Smith, as you see here, I say the money must be spent as far as practicable among Nebraska sufferers." Now, the money was shipped from Omaha all right, and reached the parties to whom it was sent. What became of it then? The people of Niobrara suffered as much probably as those of any other river town, and why were they overlooked? These are a couple of questions that persons contributing the money would like to have answered. Mayor Boyd thinks that the money sent out from Omaha in aid of the sufferers from the Missouri river overflow was devoted to that purpose. However, the greatest amount seems to have been spent nearer Yankeetown, while Niobrara, although it suffered greatly, was overlooked. The Marriage Ceremony. Mr. Aphelon Cox and Miss Belle Little were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Sunday, by Rev. J. W. Ingram. Mr. and Mrs. Cox left on the afternoon train for Missouri where they will spend a few weeks among relatives. "BLACK-DRAUGHT" cures dyspepsia, indigestion and heartburn. C. F. Goodman's.

SLOCUMB BENEFIT.

That Was What Pat O'Brien Received Yesterday. Patrick O'Brien boarded a street car Monday and rode down Farnham, as far as Tenth street, and then got off, refusing to pay his fare. Officer McCune was in the car dressed in citizens clothing and when he told O'Brien to pay his fare, was told by the fellow, with a pugilistic tendency, to go to Hades. McCune collared him and was walking him toward the jail when the fellow's pleading and promises caused the officer to let him go. Later in the evening a telephone message reached the jail stating that an officer was wanted on Tenth street, and one was immediately sent down. He returned soon with the same man. He was creating a disturbance by fighting and flourishing a revolver. Soon after it was discovered that he had stolen the pistol in a house on the corner of Eleventh and Harney streets, having choked a negro woman until she allowed him to take it from her. Yesterday morning he was tried in the police court and given the benefit of a "Slocumb," or ten dollars and costs. When he has served this time in jail he will be tried again for petty larceny and given another dose, and after that he will have a trial for carrying concealed weapons. He is the same man who made a good deal of trouble at the Davenport house last Saturday night and again on Douglas street. Information wanted regarding the whereabouts of Hugh D. Heary. His daughter at Knoxville, Ill., is very low. Anyone giving information of him to D. M. McKnight, Omaha, or H. W. Hoagy, Knoxville, Ill., will be rewarded with the thanks of his family.
