FLICKERING.

The President Hanging to Life by a Thread.

Blood Poisoning Affecting the Brain

Physicians Still Cling to Hopes of Sustaining Him.

No Important Change During the Night.

Washington Waiting in Breathless Suspense.

THE PRESIDENT Yesterday afterne on's dispatches from the White House gave the faintest glimmer of hope. Discharges from the pus cavities in the parotid gland afforded some relief. Business was generally suspended in Washington. During the night the presi-

August 26. -8 a. m. -There are indications of the parotid gland dis-charging pus through the throat of the president. In some measure this further relief to the inflammation is deemed favorable, but will, of course, cause increased annoyance to the patient.

August 26.—8:30 a, m.—The president slept most of the night, awakening at intervals of half an hour to an hour. On first awakening there was, as there has been several nights, some mental confusion, which disappeared when fully aroused, and occassionally he muttered in his sleep.

The effect days. The secretion of several days. The secretion of pus always creates severe conhad received no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored the secretion of summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and even then expressed his faith that the president would restored no summons to Washington and the summon of the president would restored no summons to Washington and the summon of the president would restore the president would restore the president would restore the president would n some mental confusion, which disap-peared when fully aroused, and occas-sionally he muttered in his sleep. These symptoms have abated this

James and Secretary Kirkwood have telegraphed to friends that there is a gleam of hope. NOON BULLETIN.

The discharge of pus from the gland through the ear is reported as continuing satisfactory. The wound is said to be giving no special trouble. The patient's pulse has been stationary during most of the forenoon, but is now somewhat accelerated. 2 P. 'M. BULLETIN. The president continues sleeping quietly but is not gaining. Dr. Bliss says the present is the most alarming period in the history of the case and that it is a mere question of sustenance. He says that the president has yet a chance of recovery, but a slight one.

3 P. M. BULLETIN. By noon the White House offices were literally thronged with people. The issuance of the bulletin was very discouraging, and few, it any, had little hope. During the day Mrs. Garfield remained constantly at the bedside of the patient. FIVE O'CLOCK BULLETIN.

No change is reported in the president's condition this afternoon. The doctors are trying to feel encouraged again, but the general opinion re-mains that the end is near. Attorney General MacVeagh says there is no hope left, except that which always remains while there is life. General Swain feels no less hopeful than this morning. Reports from the sick-room show no change,

SEVEN O'CLOCK BULLETIN.

The president's condition has not changed materially since the last bul-letin. He continues to take by the mouth the liquid food prescribed and occasionally asks for it. Since yes-terday forenoon, commencing at 11:30, enemata have again been given at regu-lar intervals. lar intervals as means of administering stimulants as well as nutritive. They are retained without trouble. Pulse 116, temperature 99, respiration 18. F. H. HAMILTON,

D. W. Bliss, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD,

ROBT. REVEURN. NINE O'CLOCK BULLETIN.

Reliable reports from the sick-room are to the effect that the president is resting easily, having short naps and experioncing less annoyance from the gland than last night. Mrs. Garfield is near him most of the time.

TEN O'CLOCK BULLETIN. Dr. Woodward, who is now with the president, reports that there has on no material change since the evening bulletin. The gland does not seem to have changed. The president has slept some during the evening and is no more uncomfortable than at the same hour last night. His pulse when last taken was 111. Before 9 o'clock all the members of the cabinet had arrived at the White House with exception of Secretary Blaine

ELEVEN O'CLOCK BULLETIN. e condition of the president remains about the same as indicated by Dr. Woodward an hour ago. MIDNIGHT BULLETIN.

No material change in the presi-dent's condition. The physicians do not anticipate any during the night. TWO O'CLOCK A. M. BULLETIN

Two o'clock A. M. BULLETIN

The president slept fairly well during the last is hours. No new unfavorable symptom developed.

Nothing in his outward appearance to indicate any material change since the last official bulletin. There is certainly no warrant in the present situation for a fatal termination to make the president would size. Last night. ation for a fatal termination to-night. THREE O'CLOCK A. M. BULLETIN.

There is no marked change during

Washington, August 20—7 a. m.—
Dr Reyburn says there is no change in the condition of the president this morning, except that he is resting more quietly. The pulse and respiration of blood and sudden death from blood poisoning. Now there is a president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the pulse and respiration of blood and sudden death in the condition of blood and sudden death in the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry. The pulse and respiration of blood and sudden death in the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the pulse and respiration of blood and sudden death in the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the pulse and respiration of blood and sudden death in the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and consequently we feel a little encountry of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and the condition of the condition of the president this seems to be a relief from this fear, and the A further discharge of pus from the parotid swelling this morning is con-sit ered in a favorable light. PUSPONDENCY AND DESPAIR.

ton. During the night the president's pulse fluctuated, but no decided change in his condition could be distinguished.

LATE BULLETINS

Notional Associated Press.

August 26.—8 a. m.—There are invested.

some mental contrasion, which disappeared when fully aroused, and occasionally he muttered in his sleep. These symptoms have abated this morning as on previous days. At present his temperature is slight it is. The only hope is that the patient may recommend and his pulse a little mucre frequent than yesterday morning. Pulse 108, temperature 99.1, respiration 19.

(Signed) F. H. Hamlton, D. W. Blass, J. W. Blanss, J. W.

The drainage of the swollen gland the night except Mrs. Garfield. She through the ear of the patient seems did not undress, but lay down on the to be affording some relief, and Secretary Hunt, Postmaster-General o'clock she heard the doctors moving about and went into the sick room with them. They found it necessary to administer nourishment and soon retired. Mrs. Garfield remained by her husband's bedside until the president fell asleep and then returned to her room. Gen. Swain relieved Mrs. Dr Edson at 3 o'clock and daylight found Mrs. Garfield sharing his vigil. She looked pale but as resolute as ever and remarked to a member of > president was: "He seems to be no The first direct news from the sick oom was from Dr. Reyburn, who said: There has been no change since last night except that the president is resting a little better." A little later Dr. Bliss said: "His pulse is about 110, and temperature and respiration, from the morning examination, appears about the same as last night." There was a slight discharge of pus from the parotid swelling through the throat and the doctors sent word through a cabinet officer that this was deemed a favorable indication.

Secretary Brown remained at the white house all night. Bliss and Reyburn breakfasted at 7 o'clock and the other physicians arrived at 8 o'clock.

THE GENERAL OUTLOOK. Secretary Brown's rooms were filled with correspondents and news mongers when the morning bulletin was issued. Its character was not at all satisfactory. It gave no hope and made no mention of circumstances, which, on authority of two physicians, when the morning bulletin was issued by the suppuration. This is the only hope. Meanwhile the requisite nourishment is administered, and the general condition of the patient shows no change. were known to exist. One was the discharge of pus from the gland could last? "I don't know," he replied. "God alone knows." The agent of National Associated Press saw Dr. Bliss: The gland is now suppurating better. It is discharging a little through the ear this morning and through the mouth as well? No, that was a mistake. It was a mucous pus like that from an in- however, all the present complications flamed throat that came through the in the case turn out in the worst manmouth.

Is he troubled much now phlegm in the throat? Not so much as he has been. takes him, however, five or ten minutes to clear it out. Sometimes he gurgles and manages to keep it pretty

You still think the gland is full of little pockets of pus?

Yes, but this drain through the is relieving it. You must not think the president is out of his head. He may have been slightly at times, but now his head is as clear as ever. He asks after the condition of the gland, and fully ap-preciates that it is now the important feature. You retain a hope? Yes, that the president may be kept

There is no marked change during the last hour. The pulse has been pretty high. During the last half hour it was 130. The sick-room attendants my the president's mind has not been not become a little encouraged. Post-master General James came from the cabinet room at 10 a m. "Well, how on anxiety, but the latter does not master General James came from the cabinet room at 10 a m. "Well, how is it?" was asked.

"There is a gleam of hope. You can read this dispatch," and he showed a message he was just sending to Hon.

Thurlow Weed. It read thus:

A gleam of hope, at 10 o'clock, comes from the physicians. The president is no worse and recovery is not impossible.

We H. Hunt.

The former shows the strongest sense cabinet rooms the latter does not under estimate it. So long as the pulse running from 110 to 130 where the patient is as emaciated and debilitated as the president gives little ground for hope."

An encouraging report, which was reported to his wife this evening that he had lost no hope since norming.

three days. Thereupon the cabinet adjourned the question until this parotid swelling has found a slight relief by a dischage of pus through the right ear. He continues to swallow liquid food in an adequate supply. He exhlbits a tendency to continuous sleep or drowsiness. His physicians pronounce his condition to be critical.

BLAINE

Dr. Bliss, teis afternoon, said: "The ical, even alarming; while not entirely hopeless, still very grave. We Press and Dr. Boynton. have resumed the enemata, which "What do you think a now consists of whisky. The prestion now, doctor?" the family who asked her how the ident is more likely to die of exhausthe present condition is overcome. A and that gain still holds good. triffing recurrence of the delirium was noticed by Mrs. Garfield this morn- rotid gland at present?" He is conscious of what takes place about him. The mental disturbance is due to the anaemic condition of the brain.

The fact the gland was not men tioned in the evening bulletin is adversely commented upon and regarded as an unfavorable indication.

As Dr. Hamilton was leaving the mansion, after the evening dressing of the wound, he said, in reply to Attorney-General McVeagh; "The president appears a shade better." "In v

Dr. Reyburn says that the present condition of the gland offers a possibility that if the president can be sustained for a few days he may yet caused?"

In what did it differ the first that it and it had a watery appearance."

"By what was that probably caused?" tide over the effect of the depression

Dr. Bliss takes a more hopeful view At 6 o'clock he said that there is yet through the mouth. No mention was made of the gland. This was interpreted as unfavorable and the bulletin was severely criticised.

At 6 o'clock he said that there is yet think the no physemia and no trace of it. The discharge from the glandular swelling is not offensive. No other gland is affected. The discharges from the gland will probably continue to be made through the ear for the next several asked how long this state of affairs asked how long this state of affairs time the matter may begin to oze. time the matter may begin to coze, instead of discharging freely.

"Is there any possible hope against the worst, and if the worst does come when will it be?" "If we can give sufficient nourish-ment to sustain vitality until the poisonous matter in the gland is dis-charged we will pull through. Should, ner possible the president will not die within three days."

"Is it true or false that the bowels have given away so that no more ene-mata can be administered:

"It is false. We have given the president enough nourishment by the mouth and enemata to sustain him three days. We have not yet stated, but may in this evening's bullstin, that up long enough for elimination of the blood poison. That is the strongest on all, and the information that came hope, of course, and there are now from the sick room indicated that the declared the gland to be the most im-

The children, too, recognize the crisis. Miss Mollie has more a quietly about the house to-day, attending to Most cabinet officers came back little duties and waiting on her during the merning, and evidently mother. Harry and James seem to the evening meeting.

At 8 o'clock the following conversacondition of the president is very crittion took place between the representative of the National Associated "What do you think of the situa-

"The president failed to-day until tion than blood poisoning. The question is whether he can hold out till still. After that there was a slight gain

"What is the condition of the pa-"There seems to be no change in appearance." "Are there any indications of pus formations in other parts of the body!"

"There are none. "What is the character of the pus taken from the wound to-night?"

"It was about the same as last "Was it as good last night as it has "Hardly?" "In what did it differ?"

"By the generally low state of the president's system."
"Does that cause any alarat"
"Not particularly, but it is an additional indication of the generally vitiated character of the blood."

"Now, doctor, how long do you think the president will live "I can not undertake to say

"You don't think he will die

"I hardly think so, and he may live several days; he may live several

"Then you think he is better now than he was earlier in the day!" "Somewhat. At one time this after-noon I did not expect him to live through the night. The indications were very bad and the pulse ran up to 138 and staid at 106 for some time. Fince then, as I said before, there has been an improvement, which seems to con- and has also requested that he be tinue. There is another thing that given a piece of rope upon which to looks a little better. That is that the suspend the blanker for screens. The president's mind seems clearer to-day. report that an order was insued to re-We do not usually expect a man's mand Guitean to the United States on the downward track." "At one time since the noon bullecomparatively slight shock.

Dr. Hamilton was asked if the shade hope to which he referred earlier in the evening had broadened. "Just a shade," was the response. Secretary Lincoln said, "There is

At the White House quite The day bids fair to be one of terrible anxiety. The impression provails that there must be a change for the better to-day or the worst consequences must ensue. All conditions now demonstrate the effects of blood poisoning and a decided reaction is the only hope. Dr. Bliss states the glandular swelling is filled with indirect and constant telegraphic communication with the White House, in direct and constant telegraphic tool of pus always creates severe contained. The effect ington and even then expressed his bud did not think the transfusion of pus always creates severe contained to this creation to this creation to this case.

The day bids fair to be one of terrible not impossible.

(Signed) Wm. H. Hunt, Thos. L. James.

Vice-President Arthur remains at his residence on Lexington avenue since norning.

Col. Rockwell telegraphed Collector Robertson that the president was very low, but hope was not abandoned.

One correspondent wrote that he were closed earlier than usual. Drs. Bliss and Woodward remain alone at was large, healthy, and willing to give some of his blood for the purpose of the White House, some of his blood for the purpose of the White House, but up to 2:30 p. m. this afternoon, had received no summons to Washis received. He promised that the offer should be submitted to the surgeons, but did not think the transfusion of the containing that he many the surgeons are surprised at this. The doors of the White House derived the were closed earlier than usual. Drs. Bliss and Woodward remain alone at was large, healthy, and willing to give the White House, but up to 2:30 p. m. this creation to the was large, healthy, and willing to the question again was postponed, won by Clara A., Bride Cake second;

meeting to day agreed to recommend to their church that Sunday be ob- chase, was won by Dora Doan, Gift

Postmaster General James remarked that matters were still grave and crit-

"Can you give us a word of en-couragement?" said the reporter to Secretary Windom. He answered: "Just a very little, but we should be

BLAINE'S CABLEGRAM. Secretary Blaine sent the following dispatch at 10 o'clock to-night: Lowell, Minister to London While the president has made no gain to-day, his loss of ground has been less, in the judgment of his physicians, than was expected last night. In this aspect there is a slight feeling of encouragement, or, at least, a ray of hope. Adverse symptoms are still manifest, and the one favorable indication of swallowing and digesting liquid food continues. Two or three times during the day he asked for nourishment. He has spoken intelli-gently and voluntarily, and through-out the day his mind has been less affected than yesterday. The expected relief to the parotid swelling from the discharge of pus through the ear has not been realized. The situation is one of great gravity and danger.

(Signed) BLAINE, Secretary.

GUITEAU TERRIFIED.

General Sherman said this evening, to a reporter who questioned him concerning the proceedings taken by the military to protect the jail, that he did not propose to give any par-ticulars about the matter, but he added: "You may be assured that all will be done that is necessary. In the military as in civil life the only rule of conduct is to be prepared for coming events as they arise and leave the results to a higher power.

Guiteau is seriously alarmed and fears he will be lynched or shot through the window of his cell. It was for this reason that he wanted iron shutters put over the window, mind to improve when he is physically steamship is denied, but the Passaio hope, of course, and there are now signs of its disappearance. The little molecules I referred to the other day as on the neck and under the sufficient of the molecules I referred to the other day as on the neck and under the bulletin. Just before dismer hour arms are fading away. It looks now as if we were going to sustain him through the day without the loss of ground.

Secretary Kirkwood was met in the telegraph office. "How does it look?" Hunt said: "The doctors seem to telegraph office. "How does it look?" Hunt said: "The doctors seem to telegraph office. "How does it look?" but as follows: "Until yesterday I would not have believed that the president would die. Last night, however, the information we received that the president would die. Last night, however, the information we received by the seven oclock bulletin. Just before dismer hour are fading away. It looks now as if we were going to sustain him through the day without the loss of ground.

Secretary Kirkwood was met in the telegraph office. "How does it look?" but a solution are received by the seven oclock bulletin. Just before dismer hour are feature of the case. The figures were evidence that there had been no material change in the gener all condition. The administration of food and enemata was looked upon as a farce, since no nourishment seems to be assimilated.

The resuming of the administration of enemata causes widespread comment. The fact that whisky is used with them is recognized as an extreme resort. Two were given yesterday and two to-day, the second one just after the morning dressing. It is believed that his system cannot long sustain the intensifying injection.

Amone the playsicians have declared the gland to be the most important feature of the case. The figures were evidence that there had been no material change in the gener all condition. The administration of the condition. The administration of the city for the purpose of lynching Guiteau. Telegrams were seems to be assimilated.

The resuming of the administration of weith come by different routes.

The jail building is of unusual strength, but any attempt to break into it will be met by military resistance. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the jail officials were telegraphed that if they wanted assistance to call upon the Umted States marines. The latter are under waiting orders, ready for an emergency, and no matine is allowed to be absent from the barracks.

SORROW IN THE METROPOLIS. New York, August 26. - The critical condition of the president caused an unusually large crowd to assemble at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-night, among them Senator Legan, ex-Senators Platt and Conkling, Gov. Fenton and Gen. Grant.

Gen. Grant left for Long Branch for Washington on the midnight train, but at 11:30 he stated that he had received no dispatches from Washington outside of the regular bulletins, and would certainly not leave to-night.

SUMMER SPORTS.

The Turf.

BEIGHTON RACES. New York, August 26, -In the racing at Brighton to-day the first race, five furlongs, was won by Cridge, Clara A. second; time, 1:04.

The second race, mile and a half, was won by Una, Potomac second; The third race, seven furlongs, was

The fourth race, mile heats, was won by Aleck Ament, Maj. Wheeler second in the first heat and Nimble Foot in the second; time, 1:461, 1:472.

ALBANY, August 26. Albanys, 7, NEW YORK, August 26.-Troys stationary pressure.

The Sessions Squabble. National Associated Press. SALAMANCA, August 26.-The conand bore evidence of outrageous vention to nominate a successor of Lorin Sessions, state senator from contented with little bits now." Secretary Hunt said: "He remains about ballot resulted: Sessions 35, Marvin the same."

this district, met to-da.". The first ballot resulted: Sessions 35, Marvin 20, Fenin 17, Barse 18, Allen 9. The last being: Sessions 37, Barse 23, Marvin 8, Allen 20. It is doubtful whether a nomination will be made until after an adjournment.

The senatorial convention adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. The forty-ninth ballot stood: Sessions 35 Marvin 39, Allen 9, Barse 9.

"A Misplaced Switch."

CHICAGO, August 26 .- At noon two freight trains on the Illinois Central road collided at Twenty-sixth street, wrecking the engines and many loaded cars. Damage $5,000. The cause was a misplaced switch. No one was injured.

The Cramer Mystery.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., August 26 .-The inquest over the body of Jennie Cramer was resumed this afternoon at West Haven, and brought out new and startling facts. Phillips, a new witness, testified positively that he saw Cramer with Blanche Douglas on Chapel street Thursday evening, contradicting the latter's confession. S. J. Mattoon, a drug clerk, also contradicted Douglass. He says that both were in the store Thursday evening. The most startling testimony was that of Mary Williamson, the chamber-maid of the rooms over the Ratcliffe house. She says she pre-pared a bed for James Malley and another Thursday night night, and saw him in bed the next morning. This contradicts Malley who says he Fatal Botler Explosions.

METAMORA, Ind. August 26.—A portable engine attached to a circular aw mill owned by John Ferris & Bro., on the farm of James Belange, exploded yesterday. Sylvester Vate, he engineer, was thrown one hunslept at home.

TERRIBLE FIRES.

Huge Packing House in Chicago Destroyed.

Over a Million Dollars Goes Up in Smoke.

Village of Jean Baptiste Again Devoured by Flames.

No Water Obtainable and the Cathedral in Danger.

Terrible Fire

CHICAGO, August 26.—This even-ing John C. Hateley's packing house at the stock yards was totally destroyed by fire, caused by a lighted candle left in the cellar, igniting the wood work. The building was a three and a half story of brick, 300x 225 feet; loss $25,000. Four million bacon sides were burned in the building was a three and a half story of brick, 300x 225 feet; loss $25,000. Four million ing; loss $450,000. Fifteen thousand barrels of pork were destroyed; less, $350,000. Total loss, $825,000. The insurance is $100,000, in 100

and Gen. Grant.

Gen. Grant left for Long Branch early in the evening.

Vice-President Arthur remained at his residence this evening and received a few callers. It was rumored that the vice-president would leave for Washington on the midnight train. The total loss of the fire is $1,000,000. There was no explosion but a terrific noise was caused by the falling walls.

A THIRD TIME DESTROYED. Montreal, August 27.—12:30 a.m.—The unfortunate village of St. m.—The unfortunate village of St.
Jean Baptiste, in the north part of the city, is now in the grasp of the devouring element for a third time inside of two years. There is nowater service and only a hand engine available. At this hour several houses have been destroyed and the flavors are still destroyed and the flames are still leaping along. Great fears are enter-tained for the safety of the splendid Roman Catholic cathedral.

THE DAY'S DARK DEEDS. Murders Foul and Robberies on Hangman's Day

THE WAR OF RACES NATCHEZ, Miss., Au ust 26.—In a difficulty at Deadman's Bend, Nolan Baker, white, shot John Allen, colored, in the neck, kalling him.

MURDERED HIS PATHER. BLOOMFIELD, Ia., August 26.— Huram Brooks, aged 18, shot and killed his father at Floris, in this was beating his wife with a club.

MUNCIE, Ind., August 26. - Burglars blew open the safe of Crook & Wolf at Danville last night and secured notes valued at $1,200 and $100 m

APR TRACKING A

FOUL MURDER IN IRELAND. LONDON, August 26. -Two unknown men, supposed to be connected with the land rent agitation, went to the house of Dennis Coyne, Johnston, near En-field, Ireland last night, threw lime in his eyes, dragged him from his bed and murdered him. They then made their escape. The police are searching for them. The body of the mur-treatment. Saw Mill Burned.

dered man was burned by chemicals

National Associated Press. PADUCAH, Ky., August 26-2 p. m. – The large saw mill of Upton & Craddock, at Obion station, Tenn., burned accidentally last night. Loss, $8,000. There was no insurance.

The Golden Coast

San Francisco, August 26 .- 11 a. m. - The Lackawanna and Jamestown have arrived.

Residents of Alaska, through a convention held at Harrisburg, memorialize congress to establish a territorial government. An election for a delegate to present the memorial and represent the territory will be held September 5th. EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The university of Berlin has 215 pro-fessors, and during the past academic year-5,027 persons attended their lectures. About 100 new students are expected at the university of California next term. That institution has been generally reor-

St. Louis had a generous sum—$933,-923.32—to spend upon her schools during the past year. Of this money $839,882.23 was used. Pupils from the country who attend the San Francisco high schools are required to pay 85 a month. Those who attend the grammar schools pay $2.50.

There are 21,000 teachers in Iowa, largely female. The average monthly compensation of the girls is $26, while the compensation of the girls is $26, while the men score an average of $31. And yet teachers are easier to get than kitchen girls and roustabouts.

The admission of colored students to the Tennessee university at Knoxville is discussed by the trustees of that institution, and a strong prejudice against it has been developed. The state superintendent, with what the Nashville American calls "practical wisdom." proposes that colored. "practical wisdom," proposes that colored applicants be sent to Fisk university at the state's expense.

There is a strange oversupply of teachers in the Province of Ontario. In some cases forty or fifty applications have been made by third class teachers for situations steamship is denied, but the Passate lies near the wharf at the navy yard, and a tug with steam up is constantly in the vicinity and isevidently kept in the vicinity and isevidently kept ready for some emergency.

Early this morning the United Tassate line and scalded so badly that he died.

Greenburg, Ky. August 26, 2 p. Machanism and then to enter the profession, use it forever.

Machanism and the united line in the mill of H. H. H. Machanism and then to enter the profession, use it forever. "At one time since the noon bulletin," said Dr. Reyburn, "it looked as president enough nourishment by the mouth and enemata to sustain him three days. We have not yet stated but may in this evening's bullstin, that we are giving him peptonized beef yelk of an egg and six drams of whisky every four hours. The quality of the food is of the best that any man can have. Even the milk persident any man can have. Even the milk persident any person was the saddest yet experienced at the White House, the old cry of "holding his own" admission by Dr. Blas that there was administered."

"At one time since the noon bulletin, "it looked as if the whole parcial gland was going if the whole parcial gland was going to slough off like an immense carbundle in a spongy mass. If that should occur the result would be very got up steam at once. The officers was condition and he could poorly withstand such a shock. Later, however, its appearance changed and the process of suppuration bid fair to proceed the very purest milk.

The evening bulletin did not reassure the immates of the White House, the old cry of "holding his own" proving more and more unsatisfactory.

The afternoon was the saddest yet experienced at the White House, the old cry of "holding his own" proving more and more unsatisfactory.

More comment was caused by the