The examination of Clausen, for the murder of two men several years ago, was begun at Pacific Junction yesterday. The prosecution is making out a strong showing of circumstantial evidence. Joe McCreary, who is now serving a life sen tence for his part in the murders, claims that Clausen did the shooting, and that that Chausen did the shooting, and that they divided the plunder. Some of the guards of the penitentiary claim to have intercepted notes which Clausen, while intercepted notes which Clausen, while serving a term on another charge, sent to McCreary, in which Clausen urged McCreary not to give him away, promising in return to try and get him out, when he, Clausen, was set free. They found her in a well-known house of prostitution, and the man for whom she had forsaken her husband and forgotten sacred yows, fled like a coward. The scene for a time was an exciting one, and the strange meeting between husband and wife was anything but easy for either. He had not come for revenge, however, and he as quickly as possible made this evident to the excited and surprised young woman. He freely confessed to her what he had deemed to be his faults, years, is to open a new banking house in Avoca. A new two story brick building he would freely forgive all. They talked the whole matter over for hours, the wife confessing that she had been untrue, but claiming that she had bestowed her endearments on no other man beyond the one, for when she had deserted her husband. She had tired of the life of sin, and yet she feared her husband would harm the man who had broken up his home. She made him pledge himself that he would not even prosecute him, and various other confessions, expressions of repentance and mu tual pledges passed between them, the talk lasting until break of day, the officer in the meantime being in waiting to take any such official action as a change of circumstances might necessitate. Peace was made with the coming of morning, and all terms of the treaty agreed upon. The party repaired to breakfast at the hotel, and took the morning's train fer home again, with the wowed determination of together living down the ugly record of the past.

Our New Loan and Improvement Co. Investigation into the matter convinces us that one of the most equitable, reasonable and feasible plans of building houses is that proposed and in operation by the Mercantile Loan, Trust and Improve-ment company of this city. By investing in shares in this institution, which is backed by some of our best and most reliable business men, it becomes possible and comparatively easy for a man of moderate means to secure a comfortable home for himself and family. In taking a certain number of shares, at a certain monthly payment, in a few years a man can own a house of his own for about the same as he pays monthly for rent. We believe the Mercantile Loan and Trust company, by organizing and opening up for business, have filled a long felt want in Council Bluffs. Their plans and system of loans will bear the most careful scrutiny and examination, and we have no hesitancy in pronouncing them reasonable and equitable, and backed by gentlemen of honor and integrity. As the company exists it becomes at once an institution of value and credit to our city and those who desire homes. Their presdent is T. A. Kirkland; vice president, Judge Peake; secretary, I. R. Beery; treasurer, Col. Beebe, and their office is in the basement of Shugart & McMahon's new block, corner First avenue and
