PREVENTIVE POLICE.

A New Detective Organization in Omaha.

A Long Felt Want About to Be Supplied.

The frequent robberies, burglaries and other acts of outlawry committed in Omaha during the past few years, which are almost wholly attributed to the insufficient size of our police force, long ago convinced our citizens that something else was needed to protect merchants and citizens from the depredations of thieves

A step has at last been taken which promises to supply this want, and the nuture of the new movement is explained in the following circular, issued yester-

To the Merchants and Citizens Omaha.

GREETING: The undersigned purpose establishing in this city a "Merchants Preventive Police Force" and general detective agency, similar to that now in residence on the lot south of Hon, J. L. Web- operation in eastern cities, providing we can obtain your support and patronage. It is our intention to employ good, trustworthy men, whose duty will be to patrol the streets and alleys, and to visit the premises of each one of our patrons at least once every hour during the night. These men will be instructed to try all doors, and see that they are properly secured and to be always on the alert for burglar and thieves, and to promptly give th alarm in case of fire. Each patrolma will be equipped with a policeman's club a dark lantern, and a uniform cap, bear ing on the front the legend, "Merchants Preventive Police."

This circular is signed by "Felker Co.," Mr. Steve Felker being well know in this city, where he resided for a lon time, and his brother being one of th celebrated Pinkerton detective agency With responsible parties at the head the movement, it could not result other wise than in great benefit to the merchants and other subscribers. The system will be extended so as to cover not only the business blockss, but the residence portion of the city, and it will be perfected as fast as the patronage will

Such an institution has been talked of for a long time, and is now put in shape to produce good results, if it meets with proper support.

ANOTHER NOR'WESTER.

A Closely Contested Game, Chuck Full of Paralyzing Errors.

As early as three o'clock the crowd be gan to assemble at the St. Mary's avenue grounds to witness the second game between the Port Hurons and the Union Pacifics, and by four o'clock fully fifteen houses, in which the name of a prominent hundred anxious spectators were inside houses, in which the name of a prominent hundred anxious spectators were inside cally ear ending June 30th, from which the enclosure, while quite as many the following figures are taken: equally anxious were perched upon the Taxes col'd, regular ... $225,619.33 house-tops and the adjoining hills out-

The game throughout was marked by each side for presenting their arguments. The sharp plays by both teams, although the harmony was somewhat marred by a grand "kick" against the decision of the umpire upon two occasions by the visitors The game was called promptly at four o'clock with McKelvey at the bat, who failed to reach first; Funkhouser folsay that matters are ripe for a strike here as lowed with a safe hit; Baker and Whitney, both of whom failing to reach first, left

The many friends of Miss Marcia ManFunkhauser on third. Watkins now faced Salisbury, and was retired before turn to Omaha this summer, but will spend rea ging first. Collins struck a foul which was nicely cal tured, Myers com-pleting the trio by failing to reach first. Second innings—Sneed got first on an error, and was captured on second; Foley followed with a fly to left and had chance to rest in consequence; Briggs dying on first. Dunn hit one to Whitney, which of course Charlie gathered in, Pirie following with another to Whitney who was there again; Morrison now fol-The prisoner was turned over to the western lowed with a daisy and got as far as the detactive evency, to be taken care of during third bag when Beck struck a hot foul that was superbly taken care of by Baker, Morrison scoring.

Third innings—Salisbury retired on a tip, which he kicked in running. Bandle getting to first on balls. McKelvy hit a hot one to short stop, and found out that Pirie was just mean enough to hold it Funkhouser and Briggs now followed with safe hits, filling the bases. The audience all felt good about now, but Samuel Orchard, Mr. Stone, and Herman Whitney went to bat and pounded the air, leaving the bags full Thompson (catcher) struck hard to Mo

Kelvy and stopped, followed by Watkins, who hit safe and got first and sneaked to Dunn giving Briggs a dandy fly and which was taken in "too slick." Fourth Inning-Sneed got first or balls, Foley and Briggs both retiring on bottles, and tried to get several other boys to fouls to the catcher, Briggs' foul giving drink with them, and in this manner gave Thompson a chance to make a beautifu running catch, and Salisbury being extin-guished by the short stop.

fly, and found that "Stub" could make a running catch as well as any of them. Morrison went out on first, and Lodkin Fifth inning—Bandle again goes to first on balls; McKelvy failed again to get there, Funkhouser following in a safe hit; Baker also hitting safe got Bandle to third. A little confusion here between the first and second basemen being taken came forward and struck into space, Watkins following with a fly to Sneed to the queen's taste.

Sixth Inning—Foley could not get his nice hit past short. Briggs did, however, and crossed the plate. Salisbury gave the second base man a chance that he declined, but who remembered it against Harry, and prevented him reaching that base a few moments after. Bandle followed, and by some nice work finally planted his foot on the marble. McKelvy being taken care of by left Pirie now tried hard to reach first, but failed, followed by Lodkin, who struck out, and Beck went out on a fly to Sneed Collins and Meyers scored meanwhile, making the score 4 to 4 and even in-

Seventh inning—Funkhouser out on first; Baker fouled to catcher; Whitney striking a 'little one for a cent" to third that cost him his place; Thompson thought to get one over Briggs' head, but failed; Watkins and Dunn both retiring on fouls that Baker captured amidst deafening applause.

Eighth inning—Sneed's grand drive to the fence caused him to take a rest on third until Foley got in his work which brought him in; Briggs, Salisbury and McKelvy, all getting out on first, not until Foley managed to score, however, and leaving Bandle on second; Pirie and Montage out of the score of th Morrison now scored; Lodkin and Beck going out on first and Thompson on second; score now 6 to 6, and only one in ning to hear from.

Ninth inning-Funkhouser, Sneed and Foley retired on flys, leaving Baker and Whitney to hold down a couple of bags. Watkins scored for the visitors and wining the game through an error.

An amusing feature of the game was a oterie of blue-coated admirers of the visiting club. The were squatted immeliately behind the back stop, and vociferously cheered every point made by the bottle-green artists. Their enthusiasm of was so marked and malicious as to attract genesal attention, but the fact that they were among the recently bounced Union Pacific conductors did not tend to make their applause an infection.

To-day is the last chance for the U 's to save themselves, and it is to be oped they will take advantage of the chance offered. We hope to see as large if not larger crowd present. Below is the score:

A GREAT YARN.

An Alleged Cause for the Conductors Discharge.

In Which the Commercial Travelers Cut a Big Figure.

The great sensation lately has been the wholesale letting out of the passenger conductors along the line of the Union Pacific railway, and extending all the Thirty passenger conductors between Omaha and Cheyenne alone have summarily bounced and one of those left knows what day he will get his time. On the Utah and Northern eighteen out of the twenty-one conductors have been bounced Various reasons are assigned for this gen-and the "drummers" had formed a gigantic scheme by which they were to mutually benefitted. As anyone knows the commercial travelers ride on 1,000 mile tickets as a general thing and it is stated that the plan was to get one of these tickets use it a time or two and then keep it on hands but instead of having it punched out by the conductor to divy up with him, he taking half fare and pocketing that and the drummer saving the other half. The company was the party which would thus come out at the little end of the horn and as the sale of 1000 mile tickets fell off very rapidly they soon "smelled a large sized rodent" and finally ferreted him out. This is the story most extensively circulated but whether there is any truth in it or not THE BEE dont know. It is hardly likely that such a bungling job would have been made of it if it had been undertaken.
