

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Wednesday Morning, August 15.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Who are Lippitt, Leak & Co. m.&w. Today is prairie chicken day. Get down the shot gun. One "Blossom" in the police court yesterday. Ten dollars and costs. Paid. "Our party will take a tent and camp out for a week and "rough it" on the shores of Spirit Lake." Eight dollars only for the round trip to Spirit Lake on 17th. Avail yourselves of the opportunity for a week of recreation. The Hotel Orleans has accommodations for three hundred and fifty guests. It is new and elegant, and the rates are reasonable. For full information, tickets, etc., for the Spirit Lake excursion, on the 17th, call on Harry Deuel, 14th and Farnam St. aug10-14. Now is the time to buy furniture. Charles Shiverick is advertising sweeping reductions in all kinds of furniture, to continue through August. Jake Markel is on the lookout for the man who nipped his best hunting dog about a week ago. Chicken season has come on and he needs the animal. It has not yet been decided which officers will occupy the new building of the Union Pacific, but it is understood that the auditor will take one whole floor and the general manager a number of rooms. An ice cream social will be given at the rooms of Union Catholic Library association this evening, to which all friends of the society are cordially invited. A musical programme of rare excellence is promised. According to the new arrangement the packing house of the English syndicate will be so far from the town that the dwellers up St. Mary's avenue need not be troubled about possible odors. Mr. George Henning, agent of the American-Busch Brewing company, in starting a new set of books recently, found that he had 232 counters for keg and bottled beer. He is making things hum in his new field. A telegram from Denver says the D. & R. G. will not be ready for travel through several days, owing to the washout. The Union Pacific will meanwhile carry its passengers from Salt Lake. The break is between Grand Junction and Provo. A private picnic excursion, given by Polacyk Lodge No. 19, C. S. P. S., visited Plattsmouth on Sunday. About fifty persons went down on the K. C. train in the morning, and returned in the evening. The Plattsmouth members of this order joined in, and a good time was had. P. J. Qunelly, captain of the Red Stocking B. C. C., denies that his club played with and were beaten by the St. Charles nine, last Sunday, but they are just asking to flatten them out on the diamond field. To precipitate this crisis Capt. Qunelly challenges the sainted ball tossers to mortal combat on the B. & M. grounds on Saturday, August 25. "and may the best man win."

THE CRIMINAL WORLD.

The Criminal World.

A Man Arrested for an Alleged Rape. The Robbers' Racket for the Past Week-Additional Particulars of the North Park Tragedy. A man who gave his name as John Bentley, a hard looking citizen, was arrested last night and lodged in jail on the charge of rape. It appears that he was walking up Tenth street in the evening and overtook a girl named Fannie Taylor, who resides in a locality of doubtful reputation on Jackson street. He accosted her with: "Hello, little girl!" "Hello," was the reply. "May I take your arm for a walk?" "I guess so." The two then walked down to the lumber yard on the river bottom, where Bentley, it is claimed, tried to accomplish his purpose, and was only prevented by the timely appearance of the watchman on the scene, and was hurried off to jail. Miss Fannie denies that she is a bad woman, and says she has one man, and that is all she wants. The officers think that Bentley had no money, and that that was the cause of the racket.

THE CINCINNATI GAME.

The Cincinnati Game.

Details of the Defeat of the Union Pacific by the Shamrocks. "The Visitors are Superior Men of their Kind, and a Fine Looking Nine." Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, Aug. 13. The Union Pacifics, of Omaha, played the Shamrocks on the Cincinnati grounds yesterday, before between 3,900 and 4,000 people. It was the best toned Sunday gathering yet seen on the grounds. In the grand stand were several hundred ladies and several of Cincinnati's representative moneyed men. The visitors are all superior men of their kind, and each member of the team is an employe of the Union Pacific Railroad, in the company's offices at Omaha. They are a fine-looking nine, and play a better game of ball than the score of yesterday's game indicates. They lost the game irretrievably in the first inning by Sneed's bad fielding and Salisbury's temporary weakness. In the last inning they made a bold rally, but it was too late to recover lost ground. The Shamrocks opened up business from the start. Bower and Welch hit safely past short. A passed ball advanced each a base, and on Sneed's bad throw Bowers scored. Ochler then hit safe and Deagle cleared the bases by a three-bagger over left fielder's head. Traffley was fielded out for the first man retired, then Hirst's grounder was thrown wide by Sneed. Shoupe gave Sneed another chance and this time he threw high over the catcher's head, while two more runs came home. Shoupe had gotten to third, and came home on a passed ball. Greenless was fielded out, and Bowers, the second time at bat, struck out and retired the side. After this Salisbury gained control of his arm, and pitched strong game, only three hits being made off of him in the next eight innings. Traffley got a hit in the third, went to second on a passed ball, and stole third, but was left. Greenless hit for three bases to left in the fourth, and scored on a passed ball. In the seventh Meyers' base on balls, a force-out by Ochler, a wild throw by Bandle, a stolen third base and a passed ball, made the eighth run. Greenless made his second three-bagger in the eighth, after two out, but was left. Salisbury's weakness was at the start and Deagle's at the ending. The home club made four hits in the first inning, while the Omaha men reversed this by making three in the first eight innings, and four in the last. Baker's hit and Greenless' error gave the batter second base in the first inning. After two out in the fourth, Foley hit safe. Then Meyer's muffed Sneed's fly, and by a little reckless throwing on the part of Meyer's, Hirst and Ochler, both men scored. McKelvey lost off with a hit in the sixth, and got second on Traffley's low throw, but was left there. A brilliant fly catch by Greenless marked the eighth. After one out in the ninth, Deagle lost himself for a while, and was thumped vigorously, Billy Foley opened with a hit and took second on a passed ball, Sneed followed with a three-bagger to right. Shoupe threw Bowers over the fence and Bowers, then Rockwell and Salisbury, both hit safely to right, and it looked like a circus. Four runs were home, one man on base and but one out; but Bandle flied out and McKelvey was fielded out, and the game ended. All in all, the game was well worth watching. There were two brilliant spurts at the setting. The fielding, barring Sneed's, was very fine, and the base running good.
