

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Monday Morning, Sept. 24.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier... By Mail...

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's fall goods. Additional local on seventh page. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's.

Judge Looftourow spent Sunday at the Ogden.

Alex Stewart was assessed the usual amount Saturday for being drunk.

There was no preaching services in the Presbyterian church yesterday.

Hattenhauer's new carriage factory, on Fourth street, is nearing completion.

Judge H. M. Hubbard is to speak at Bloom & Nixon's hall to-morrow night.

Cal Wagner's minstrel company arrived at the Ogden yesterday from Sioux City.

Fay Templeton and her opera company gave a matinee here and evening entertainment also, Saturday.

G. S. Robinson is showing some rich specimens of ore taken from Colorado mines by his brother, M. W. Robinson.

The total receipts of the stockyards for a week past were 356 cars or 7,120 head; and total shipments, 351 cars, or 7,020 head.

Perry Laddon on Saturday pleaded guilty before Justice Schurz, for assaulting John Allen, and was fined $5 and costs.

Preparations are being made for quite imposing ceremonies in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic temple.

There is to be a temperance mass meeting at Macedonia to-morrow evening, at which Rev. Mr. Armstrong, of this city, is to speak.

In the superior court Saturday the foreclosure case of Wheeler vs. Clemons, which has excited some interest, was decided against Clemons.

Congressman Burrows, of Michigan, is to speak here next Thursday evening. He is one of the best campaign speakers sent forth by the Republicans this year into Iowa.

The Shugart Implement company is to put up another warehouse, this new one to be 50 by 145 feet, and to occupy a site between the building of Deere, Wells & Co. and the Keystone Manufacturing company.

The Y. M. C. A. held a meeting in Bloom & Nixon's hall yesterday afternoon, and reminded the public of the gathering by singing gospel hymns on the street, in front of the hall, before the meeting began.

Davy Dane and Alfred Kirk, the young men arrested on suspicion of having robbed the trunks of the diningroom girls at the Ogden house, were discharged Saturday, there being no evidence to warrant holding them further.

The Presbytery of Council Bluffs is to meet next Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church in this city, at which time a sermon will be delivered by the retiring moderator. Sessions will also be held Wednesday forenoon and afternoon.

A little blizzard started Saturday afternoon in R. Mullis' store on Broadway. A stovepipe running up through the floor passed so near to a bed in the room above as to set the clothing on fire. Quick work prevented what might have been a destructive fire.

Chief Field found a bay mare Saturday night which had been left standing on the street all day without any care. A man who will leave a horse standing thus on such a day as Saturday was, ought to be tied up to a post and left the same way for a double length of time.

Three more suits were started Saturday claiming damages of the Chicago & Rock Island company, on account of the dynamite explosion two years ago. These new cases and claims are: E. and Geo. Beck, $105; Ellen and C. R. Mitchell, $150; John and Mary Short, $50. Probably one test case will decide the whole batch.

The horrible mud of the past few days again reminds the citizens of what a blessed thing it would be to have the main streets paved. In the absence of paving, it would be a good idea to have the mud scraped off the crossings, and as there are frequently prisoners boarding out fine in the calaboose, this exercise would do them good.

What has become of the scheme for a city hospital? It ought not to alumber, as it seems to be. Council Bluffs needs such a hospital, as there is no place now where a stranger or a man without a home can be taken for care, if wounded or sick. The city needs a hospital, and a good one, and there seems no reason why it should not have one.

The board of education, through its attorneys, Scott and Stewart, have prepared a motion for having the injunction dissolved now preventing the use of soft coal in the Bloomer school building. The ground on which the motion is made is that the corporation was given no notice of the time or place when the writ of injunction was to be asked for.

All who intend to go to the reunion at Maryville, Mo., should be at the best quarters of Abe Lincoln post G. A. R., at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Tickets are for sale at the Wabash office at $3.85 for the round trip. This will include the whole of the necessary expenses, preparations having been made to receive the boys there in good shape, and care for them, rations and quarters.

Mrs. D. A. Benedict is enlarging her business greatly, and has just received a large line of entirely new goods, ladies' furnishing goods of all kinds, hosiery, zephyrs and yards, ribbons, lace, jewelry, etc. Mrs. Benedict, as all her customers know, handles only the best, as well as the latest, and the ladies, if any there be, who don't know this, can easily be convinced by an inspection of her stock.

The new city jail is about ready for use, but it is talked that there is no use occupying it until after the water works are connected and running so as to keep it clean. In view of the weak and nasty condition of the woodbox, now called calaboose, it seems that some temporary arrangements should be made so that the new jail can be occupied at once. There is no decent or safe place to keep city prisoners now, and something should surely be done, and done promptly. Yesterday all the prisoners in the calaboose had to be transferred to the county jail, they being determined to break out, and there being no way to prevent them.

General Agent A. B. West, of the C. & Q., is fast winning for himself a name by the special pains he is taking to protect the property as well as persons of passengers. He bravely led to the front some confidence men the other day, and Saturday he was prominent in another incident. An old man bound for Philadelphia lost his pocketbook, containing a large amount of money besides his tickets, etc., etc. West, instead of letting the matter go, as many railway officials do, began a search, and learning that another passenger had been seen to pick up a pocketbook he interviewed him and got the old man's property back.

THE BEE, in speaking of the presence here of Mr. A. N. Carpenter, of Galesburg, Ill., referred to him as a "hand-sawed gardener." THE BEE stands corrected. Mr. Carpenter is a landscape architect in the true sense of that term, and not a landscape gardener. His skill and reputation have been won along the line of preparing an accurate and complete plan as the architect of a building would do, leaving these to the gardener and others to execute, an entirely different thing from mere landscape gardening. He has already gathered up the data for preparing plans for J. W. Squire, John Bennett and A. W. Street, and others, are thinking of also engaging his services.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth T. Haskins, former residents of Council Bluffs, arrived here yesterday morning from Peoria, Ill., on a sad mission indeed, it being to bring to this city the form of their little daughter, Lou, whose young and promising life went out on Friday last. Little Lou was only three and a half years old, but during the residence of the family here won many friends and was a favorite. The little form was laid at rest here yesterday. The grandfather, Samuel Jacobs, of Hamburg, was here also, accompanied by his daughters, Miss Sadie and Miss Belle. The sad event calls forth the liveliest sympathy on the part of the many friends of the family thus called upon to mourn.

Justice Schurz had one of those disagreeable affairs, a neighborhood quarrel, to adjust in court yesterday. It involved Mrs. Murphy, two Mrs. Coyles, the three being sisters as well as neighbors, and a man named Donahoe, who is a sort of cousin of all three. It appears that Murphy's boys were running in Mrs. Murphy's cornfield and Donahoe, who was in Mrs. Murphy's employ went to the Coyle house to make them take care of them. He threatened to shoot the boys and being drunk and uproarious, Mrs. Coyle began to throw the woodpile at him piece by piece. The horse he was driving pranced around and run against the barbed-wire fence, cutting himself so badly he needed a veterinary surgeon to care for him, while Donahoe himself got on one's two towns to have it cared for when Mrs. Murphy, who owned the horse, protested to its being used any more, not knowing that the horse needed a doctor, and in trying to make Donahoe give up the horse, hit him with a club, causing the blood to spur. It was a bad case of neighborhood and family matters, and Justice Schurz, after discharging Mrs. Coyle on a charge of assault and battery, dismissed the other cases on motion of the State.

For sore throat use Dr. Jefferies' (Council Bluffs) infallible preventative and cure for diphtheria. Dr. Jefferies cures every case of dyspepsia.

TAKING A TICKET.

How a Young Man Took the Time of a Main Street Tailor.

Jacob Koch, the tailor on Main street, had his sympathies touched, but afterwards soured, by a young man who entered his shop and wanted to get a suit of clothes pressed up. The young man very honestly confessed that he had no money to pay for the pressing, but seemed willing to work it out; so Mr. Koch gave him a chance to split some wood in the back yard. The young fellow worked well, but when he got through, in passing through the rooms of the family to enter the shop again he helped himself to a gold watch, and a hair chain, which were lying exposed there. The loss was not discovered until after the young man had left with his clothes. No trace has since been got of the fellow or of the watch.

A. Booth's select oysters received daily at W. T. Braun's.

A call has been issued for a convention to be held in Des Moines October 31, to organize a Prisoners' Aid association.

The purpose of such an association is to aid discharged prisoners in obtaining honest employment. Every year some 600 prisoners or more are discharged from our Iowa prisons. A large number of them, if not all, would be glad to lead honest lives. But it is proverbially and universally difficult for one who has once been an inmate of a prison to gain the confidence of the people, or to secure even the most meager opportunity to gain a livelihood. A vast amount of good has been done by those persons, unfortunately as yet a small number, who have made it their business to aid those in finding a way to steady industry. But for want of more such philanthropists, and more extended and united efforts, a large number of discharged prisoners—appealing to think of—become confirmed criminals, not because they choose that course, but because every other course seems closed against them by general suspicion or hatred. Such an association as that suggested has already been in successful operation in some other states, and it is to be hoped that one will be formed in our own State and heartily supported.

HOTEL LIFE.

The Proprietor of the California House Skips and His Boarders Run Riot in the Bar-Room.

Robert Toeschler, the proprietor of the California house, No. 1001 Broadway, has not had any too enviable a record as a landlord. It will be remembered that a short time ago he was arrested for robbing a drunken stranger of his money, and got out of it by turning over some money claiming that was all he had, and that he took it because the fellow was too drunk to take care of it, and was just keeping it for him until he could get sober.

Saturday night the same landlord skipped out, or at least disappeared. The property was mortgaged, and Constable Fox proceeded to gobble it, but a number of the boarders concluded that they might as well have a good time, and so proceeded to take possession of the bar. They helped themselves to whisky and cigars freely before the officer got there that when he arrived they were all on a pretty high drunk, and having matters their own way. The constable proceeded to drive them out the front door, but they came around to the rear door, and entering that way, wanted to run the bar themselves. There was a lively time indeed, until the police officers marched down to the assistance of Fox, and gobbled up the party. They gave their names as John Michael, Ned Tighe, John Smith, Conrad Francis, "the unknown," Thomas Riley and M. S. Boyer. The whole crowd only assayed $2.50 and costs, and they were crowded into the calaboose together.

Yesterday they put in their time in trying to devise some way of getting out. One of the crowd found a hole in the floor and through this crawled down into the cellar, expecting to get out that way, but finding no way out, and getting no relief from the mud, rats, and darkness, which characterize that place, he begged of his comrades to pull him up again. Then they tore a wooden bunk to pieces and taking the pieces pryed away at the rear door of the calaboose. Chief Field hearing them at work, detailed a man with a gun to stand guard on the outside of the rear door, with instructions to shoot the first fellow that stuck his head out, or tried to escape. He then gathered some of the police, and ironing the unruly prisoners, marched them all down to jail, where they could be kept with more safety.

Miss Stevens in New York.

Miss Neally Stevens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stevens, of this city, has arrived safely in New York from Germany, where for four years she has been devoting herself, under the best masters, to the completion of her musical education. The many friends of the family, who have watched the young lady's successful career with so much interest, gladly read everything bearing upon the subject, and hence we reproduce we reproduce what The News-Press, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., says of her being there: "The many friends, both in Vasar and elsewhere in this city, of the accomplished young pianist, Miss Neally Stevens, will be pleased to learn that she has returned from Europe. Miss Stevens arrived in New York Sunday on the steamer 'Netherlands,' of the White Star line, from Antwerp, and reached this city Monday evening.

She it will be remembered, under the recommendation of Prof. Ritter, a number of years ago, went to Germany to complete her musical education under the famous Dr. Hans von Bulow. Here she succeeded in convincing the eminent von Bulow that America can produce fruitful musical talent. She next, with a favorable introduction from von Bulow placed herself under the instruction of Prof. Theo. Kullok. She remained with him until his death, and from there with Raif, a pupil of Tansig, she still added to her accomplishments.

It is unnecessary to enumerate the master musicians under whose instructions she has studied. Suffice it to say that as a graduate of Liszt, and we believe she is the only American lady who ever possessed that distinction, her abilities as a pianist cannot be misunderestood.

A News-Press reporter enjoyed a half hour's conversation with Miss Stevens yesterday, and found her to be a lady of pleasing manners and refined tastes, a devotee of Liszt and Kullok, and a thorough enthusiast of the profession she has adopted.

Miss Stevens has a course before her as a professional pianist that must be successful, for in this practical age true merit is invariably appreciated.

She will probably make her debut in Steinway hall in November, and it is hoped that she will favor a Poughkeepsie audience in the early part of the season.
