JULIUS MEYER.

A Pretty Compliment to a Popular Musician.

Wednesday a very enjoyable event was celebrated at Masonic Hall, the friends of Mr. Julius Meyer, the popular musician and director of the Musical Union orchestra, assembling to give him an ovation on the eve of his departure

Mr. Meyer goes to the country which was the scene of Casar's magnificent con-quest for a double purpose, but he will while there devote most of his time to the purchase of holiday goods for the firm of Max Meyer & Co.

There were about twenty-five couples present at the reception, the music was ine and every feature of the evening was pleasing, not only to the guests but to the recipient of their compliments. It is safe to say that no man in Omaha would be missed from our midst more than Julius Meyer. One of the most agreeable companions socially, he has a big warm heart and he has friends by the core who will look forward with pleasure o the day when he will return, which will be about December 1st. A FATAL PALL.

Death of Livingston, the Unfortunat Brickinger.

J. H. Livingston, the unfortunate bricklayer who fell Wednesday from the third story of B. F. Brown's new block on Douglas street, died at 2:30 a. m. yes terday from the injuries received.

Acting Coroner Miller decided that the facts in the case were so plain that no inquest was necessary.

A WARRIOR BOLD.

General Sherman's Dilemma in Performing His Great Kissing Act.

The return of Miss Alice Harrison to the city recalls an incident of her career when a member of the famous California company of four or tive years ago, which may still provoke a smile from those who witnessed the occurrence in question. About the time of Miss Harrison's fare well benefit at that theatre, Sherman was visiting the city, and with his staff oc-cupied a box at said performance. Now, whatever difference of opinion may exist as to the military renown of the general of our armies, there is no dispute as to his being the champion kisser of the continent. In fact, the hero of Atlanta may be said to possess a mania for labial salutations of a fatherly sort and is known to requently indulge in the proud boast that he has kissed ninety per cent. of all the pretty girls in the United States. His chief of staff once computed the Gencral's monthly kissing average, large all the year round, dry and wet seasons in-cluded, at about 8,106, or, say, in round numbers, about 22,000 kisses per each kissing fiscal year. If the General had only added babies to the list of his sub-jects he would have kissed his way into the White house years ago, but his reluc-tance to waste valuable time and raw material in the pursuit of his hobby induces him, with the true instinct of a veteran professor of osculation, to select only the rettiest of the fair sex for that honor. At the benefit referred to, no sooner did Miss Harrison appear on the stage than the old war horse snuffed the battle from afar and began to grow restless and

We must now ask our readers to acompany us to the little Danish settlenent of Ericyland, on the borders of the Baltic in the year 1831. A village festi-val is being held and the distinguished visitors gathered to salute the girl who has taken the annual prize for cooking and virtue. There is a young American officer amid the number, who, instead of printing the customary chaste salute upon the check of the village celebrity, folds view.

Says:
Young man, I'll give you your own Bargains in Farms & Lands price to ship with me as a diver."

"And why?"

"Because you can hold your breath onger than any man in the business." We merely relate this little incident to emphasize our story. The kisser was young Tekumseh. But to resume. As oon as the staff were behind the scenes, General Sherman pitched in with the re-mark that he hadn't kissed anything since breakrast. He was standing in the middle of the stage with his back to the curtain, and absorbed in bestowing a paternal kiss upon Alice and feeling like a just-admitted angel sliding down a butered rainbow, when that impish young ady saw that the prompter was about to ring up the "drop." Quickly placing her hands over the general's ears so he could not hear the bell, she backed him against the curtain. As every one knows this is wound around a huge wooden roller on the inside of the canvas. The general's coat-tails were caught by this as the cur ain went up, and before the prompter could reverse the motion the astounded nan was suspended about ten feet from the stage like a sheet from a clothes-line. The audience went off into hysterics of merriment, while the members of the
