OAKLAND'S BIG BLAZE.

Twelve to Fifteen Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed. The Origin of the Fire Unknown.

OAKLAND, Neb., October 17.—This morning, about 2 o'clock, Mrs. S. C. Smith, of the St. Paul hotel, smelt smoke and awakened her husband, who got up and looked about, but finding no fire went to the front door, when he saw smoke issuing from the store of A. I. & H. Friend, just across the street. A general alarm was given and soon men began to gather and proceed to attack the fire. Upon opening the front door it was found to be on fire and impossible to gain an entrance for securing any goods. A like effort at the rear end proved nearly as unsuccessful so the entire stock of some ten or twelve thousand dollars in general merchandise and the building were entirely destroyed. The stock was insured for $7,500 and the building for $1,000. Adjoining on the one side was the store and residence of Mr. Stoltz, merchant tailor, which was also consumed. A portion of his goods were rescued and the balance covered by insurance. On the other side was a house owned by A. Wells Co., bankers, and occupied as a residence by Mr. E. F. Pontius, agent at this station, excepting the front rooms below, which were occupied by Miss Rhone for military and dressmaking. The goods were all removed from this building, but it stood so near the other that it was also consumed and was also insured. A space of several feet gave opportunity for saving other buildings which by almost superhuman effort was accomplished. The buildings on either side and across the street were badly scorched and glass broken. The usual amount of damage from packing was hurriedly and removing goods was sustained by others. Had there not been rain falling at the time and previously it is thought nothing could have saved the destruction of half the business portion of the town, and all agree that it was fortunate that it is no worse than it is.

The origin of the fire, it is reported, is the store contained a base burner with fire in it. No one slept in the store and it was closed by Mr. Friend himself at the usual hour in the evening.

TENNESSEE CAMPAIGNERS.

Some Famous Battles of the War Fought Again With Tongue Instead of Steel.

A Distinguished Gathering of Members of the Army of the Tennessee at Cleveland

Spirited Speeches, Stirring Songs and Pictured Battle Scenes—Tributes to the Memory of Garfield. CLEVELAND, October 17.—The sixteenth annual reunion of the society of the Army of the Tennessee began today. There was a large attendance of members. General Grant, said to have arrived last night, was not present. He is expected to-day or to-morrow. The society formed at the Kenard house, this city, this morning and marched in procession, about two hundred in number with a band of music, Major Howe and Captain Barber carrying the society's colors and Generals Sherman and Leggett arm in arm at the head of the column, to Ontario street tabernacle, where a business meeting was held. General Sherman, President of the society, in calling to order, tendered congratulations on the large attendance, the apparent good health of the members and the auspicious circumstances surrounding the beginning of the reunion. Though eighteen years have elapsed since we ceased using arms and took up the pen and the tongue, this our sixteenth reunion since the formation of the society, two having been allowed to elapse. The original date for this meeting was fixed for October 4, the anniversary of the extraordinary brave and gallant defense of Corinth in 1862, but I was obliged to go on a long trip in the far west, and the meeting was postponed on my account, for which I am profoundly grateful, as it enables me once more to meet with my old comrades. Gen. Sherman, Secretary of the society, in his report of the meeting said that he was exceedingly anxious to be here, but was prevented by the illness of his wife. I am commissioned me personally to apologize for his absence. General Gresham is kept away by pressing business. General Grant has just telegraphed that he hopes to be here. The weather is beautiful, the people in the city are very patriotic and exceedingly anxious to see me here, and I am truly glad to see so many of my comrades in this beautiful city.

A committee was appointed to select officers, orator and place of the next meeting. The annual reports were submitted and routine business transacted. Letters of regrets were read from Generals Hancock, Crook, Prior, Harrison and others. A committee to consider the propriety of holding the next reunion in Yellowstone Park reported satisfactory arrangements had not been made with the railroads and the matter recommitted. A resolution to wear uniforms at the reunions and the society badges at all times was tabled by a decisive vote. A telegram was then read inviting the members to visit the society of the army of the Cumberland. General Sherman, in the reading of the telegram, said it would be impossible for him to be there, but he hoped all who could would attend and represent this society. He said the two armies were closely related. They were almost Siamese twins.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

PHILADELPHIA, October 17.—The Protestant Episcopal convention in committee of the whole considered the tentative report of the proposed alterations and additions to the prayer book, as well as deemed inexpedient such legislation as would allow the establishment of a court of appeals, also the proposed canon for trial of presbyters and deacons. The committee reported adversely relative to the resolutions of Rev. Mr. Haskins for raising $100,000,000 for the establishment of church schools. Report adopted.

A STRIKE IN IROK.

EAGLE CLAIR, Wis., October 17.—The Leader to-day publishes the discovery of a remarkable bed of iron ore in the northern part of the State. The discovery was made by Wm. Newell of this city, and J. G. Thrope, A. C. Putnam, A. D. Chappell, and some Chicago capitalists are preparing to develop the mine. There is great excitement over the discovery and a spur track is to be built from the Wisconsin Central line to the new mine as soon as sufficient ore is raised to begin shipment. It is said to be the most valuable iron lead ever discovered in this country.

THE UTAH VIGILANTES.

SALT LAKE, October 17.—A letter was received by Acting Governor Thomas, of Utah, from Senator Burchard at Kansas, making an appeal in behalf of Mr. Murphy, who was lynched by the vigilantes in Park City, Utah, several weeks since. The Senator says Murphy was a former resident of his county in Kansas, a good neighbor, and he appeals to the Governor for a reward for the vigilantes, arrest, and the Governor to order and stay in order and proceed in business, not charging him with previous delay. He introduced Rev. Capt. John Mitchell, who offered prayer. The long roll was sounded and scenes disclosing the realistic representation of the battle of Shiloh amid wild cheering. Gen. Foster then added an address welcoming the society to Ohio. He paid a warm tribute to generals and soldiers of that army. He declared that in the latter generations the heroes of the war of the rebellion will be held in higher esteem and greater veneration than even the fathers of the revolution for the result of their warfare is that both victors and vanquished are equally satisfied and glad that the union was preserved and that slavery was destroyed. Both follow the same flag and both ready at the drop of the flag to fight together for that flag against the whole world, if need be. [Great cheering.] Mayor Farley next formally welcomed the society to the city in well chosen compliments. After singing by the Arions, General Sherman happily referred to the war and addressed the society. He said: It is my pleasant duty to acknowledge in behalf of this society the compliments paid to the society by the Governor of the great State of Ohio and mayor of this beautiful city. We thank you from our hearts for your cordial words of welcome. We are no longer soldiers; we no longer wear red and blue uniforms; we no longer wear the sword and spur. We no longer wear the sword and spur. We are simply like you, citizens of this country at present sojourning in the peaceful State of Ohio. I might pile up praises and figures of Another Wreck.

OSKALOOSA, Ia., October 17.—Last evening the Central Iowa freight way train was on the grade four miles north of this city the boiler of the engine exploded, causing a bad wreck, nineteen cars being piled up in a space of 140 feet. Engineer Edward Bagley was instantly killed; fireman Charles and brakeman Elmer Blanchard, probably fatally injured. The boiler was carried forward 150 feet and the wreck piled up thirty feet in height.

The Mackey-Bennett Cable.

PARIS, October 17.—J. W. Mackey and Jas. Gordon Bennett signed a contract with Cables Bros. for two transatlantic cables, the first cable to open about June 1st.

The Bee Keepers' Convention.

CHICAGO, October 17.—The annual convention of the Northwestern Bee Keepers' association began here this morning, delegates being present from Nebraska, Michigan, Wisconsin, Texas, speech higher than yonder dome, but even then I could add nothing to the simple words: "We thank you for your hearty welcome," a welcome not of words alone but also deeds, for we realize that every home in this great city of cheering homes are open to our members, who would not stand upon the invitation, but who enter them with heart and soul. Again we thank you.

Gen. Sherman was about to sit down amid vociferous applause, when a huge camp kettle in flowers was presented to him and the cheering was renewed. When he could be heard he turned to those on the stage, remarking: "I suppose we must keep the pot boiling," and then addressed a few words of plain thanks to the two gentlemen who placed the floral gift before him. Cries of "louder," "louder," came from the audience. The General turned, saying: "Never mind, boys, I wasn't speaking to you; I was only thanking the gentlemen who brought me a kettle filled with flowers instead of cabbage. I suppose they thought I would like it better." He then presented Miss Alice Mitchell, of Chicago, who sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," assisted in the chorus by the Arions.

Rev. Bishop Fallows, of Chicago, was introduced as the orator of the evening, General Sherman remarking that it is a general, he is a bishop—you can take your choice of titles. I know he was brave and gallant in war; he is eloquent in peace and I hope you will give him close attention. Bishop Fallows spoke at considerable length, frequently interrupted by the heartiest applause. Referring to Garfield after Lincoln, he said: "The pure and incorruptible statesman, the laureled scholar, the knightly soldier, the grandly patient and suffering hero, who followed Lincoln in the honors and responsibilities of the presidency and then followed him by the martyr's path to the martyr's palm, cried out in the agony of his despair and dread despair 'O God reign and the government at Washington still lives!'"

CLOSED SWITCHES.

Progress of the Strike of Yardmen in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, October 17.—Sheriff Roubiquet, of Clair county, Ill., swore in about thirty men as deputy sheriffs this morning and distributed them at different points in the railroad yards in East St. Louis. Seven United States deputy marshals were also on the ground, but they were specially assigned to the Ohio & Mississippi yards, that road being under the protection of the United States Court. In the Cairo Short Line yard one new man was assaulted and all other new men in that yard were driven out by the strikers, but after the deputy sheriffs made their appearance the strikers retired and the new men went to work. All the roads are working a small force made up mostly of employes of other departments, but trains move slowly, except in the O. & M. yard, where the usual work is being done under protection and where there is nearly a full force. On this side of the river the situation is much the same as in East St. Louis, except there are no special officers on duty. Clerks and other employes are doing some work and considerable freight is being moved reasonably well, but there is a life in the yards. Railroad managers held a meeting this forenoon, but it was impossible to ascertain their action. The strikers asked the yardmen in Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Pittsburg will strike within a week, and that the demand will be the same as that made here, viz: Chicago standard.

A DARK, BLOODY DEED.

WICHITA, Kan., October 17.—A few weeks ago C. Botham, of Harvey county, started from his farm near Newton, Kan., with 200 sheep overlaid through Indian Territory for Texas, accompanied by a woman named Nellie Bailey, an ex-banker's wife of Sedgewick city, and a driver named Dodson. A week ago Sunday Botham was shot and buried south of Skelton Rancho. The woman and man kept on with the sheep. C. M. Hollister, United States Marshal at Caldwell, Kan., hearing the facts, followed them, arrested and brought them to this city Monday evening. He also brought the remains of Botham back to Newton in a metallic case. The manner in which Botham was shot clearly shows his death was not suicide. The affair has every appearance of a dark and bloody deed. The examination will be held before United States Commissioner Sherman.

The husband took the revolver and followed Wolf, shooting him the head near the temple, inflicting a wound that will cause death.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

O'DONNELL'S TRIAL POSTPONED. LONDON, October 17.—O'Donnell was indicted on the charge of murdering Carey. O'Donnell pleaded not guilty to the indictment for the murder of Carey. The trial was postponed till November 21st.

Sullivan read the affidavit of the prisoner's solicitor that the solicitor of O'Donnell at Cape Colony had called there who could be called to testify in the case. Attorney-General James stated he would not oppose the application for postponement of the trial if the names of the witnesses were inserted in the affidavit and the drift of the evidence to be given by them indicated. After remarks by Judge Danman, he decided to postpone the trial. Previous to Sullivan's application for postponement, O'Donnell was brought into court and, in response to a question of the judge as to the charge of murder preferred against him, he pleaded not guilty. He was serious and the subject of legislation, probably relates to the fence war on public lands.

GOVERNMENT WORK IN WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, October 17.—General Newton, president of the national board of engineers, and Colonel Houston, of the United States engineering corps, have returned from their inspection of the Wisconsin and Fox rivers and say they found everything in very satisfactory condition. Col. Houston says the allegation that they were to investigate frauds in government work is entirely erroneous. They looked into the project of the War Department to build a "through water way" from the Mississippi river to Lake Michigan and found the plan feasible, but one entailing great expense. Gen. Adams and Gen. Comstock, members of the board, have already inspected the work, and the board will meet soon in New York and prepare their report to be submitted to Congress early in the December session. Col. Houston says the nature of their report will not be divulged till then.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

The Winning Ticket in Thayer, Correspondence of THE BEE. HERBON, Thayer Co., October 17. The Anti-Monopolist were so well pleased with their old county officers that they renominated every man, with the exception of candidate for sheriff. The ticket is a remarkably strong one and every man will be elected without a doubt. Last fall we elected everything from representatives down to road supervisors. Thayer county can be counted on as being solid Anti-monop and will roll up a larger vote this year than ever before. R. P.

FILLMORE COUNTY POLITICS.

GENEVIEVA, Neb., October 17.—Politics are getting warm. Anti-Monopolists have a full county ticket in the field and confidently expect to elect every man. The Republicans, for the sake of harmony, held a secret caucus for three straight hours and had a stormy time of it. After the caucus they adjourned to the court house and held their regular convention in about fifteen minutes, and everything passed off "harmoniously," but there will be kicking all same. Republicans admit that the Anti-Monopolists will elect the bulk of their ticket. Democrats held a convention on Saturday last and decided to endorse the Anti-Monopoly ticket. The fight will be a warm one. K. S.

The Atlantic and Pacific railroads have been perfected to open this new transcontinental through line on Sunday, October 21st inst. Through Pullman palace sleeping cars will run without change between St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, California; also through Pullman sleeping cars without change from Kansas City, Mo., to San Francisco, Cal., over the lines above indicated.

This is the first great triumph for the cities of both St. Louis and Kansas City, the opening of this new transcontinental line, with through cars without change to San Francisco, Cal. Through Pullman cars will be started from San Francisco on the 21st for both St. Louis and Kansas City, over the new route. This service will be continued daily from each sleeping car for the Kansas City and San Francisco. The time between St. Louis and San Francisco, also between Kansas City and San Francisco, will be shortened twelve hours by this new route, as against the present route by Denning, New Mexico. The distance by this new route from St. Louis to San Francisco is 2,440 miles which is about 240 miles shorter than the route via Denning.

The track the whole distance is laid with steel, well ballasted and in fine condition. The scenery on the line of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad in New Mexico and Arizona is of the grandest character and certainly will tend to make this new route the most popular of all the transcontinental lines. The Pullman palace car company are now busily engaged in getting ready a full complement of electric sleeping cars for the new service to be established on the 21st
