THE RAILROADS.

The Minden Branch of the B. & M Open and Daily Trains Ronning.

The C., St. P., M. & O. to Estend a Line -Bound for California -General Notes.

THE MINDEN BRANCH OPEN.

Nearly every day Nebraska opens up a new railroad. The most recent internal improvement of this kind is the completion of the B: & M, branch from Kenesaw to Minden. It is finished, and the first train passed over yesterday. It was a mixed train, and went from Hastings to Minden. This train is now a regular one, and will run from Hastings to Minden, and return, each day. The time table is as follows: Leave Hastings, 5 p. m., and arrive at Minden at 7:45 p. m. a. m., and arrive at Hastings at 9:40 a. m. It connects with the through train each way.

The stations on the line are Hastings. Juniata, Kenesaw, Hartwell and Minden. Hartwell is a new town.

This line is known as the B. & M. "cut off". It begins at Kenesaw and will be extended in a southwesterly direction to some point on the main line in the Republican valley. Its entire length is fifty-five miles, or a saving of thirty miles by the present Red Cloud route.

Work is pushing ahead from Minden toward the Republican valley. The road is now graded to the south line of Phelps county, to the town of Holdredge. The place at which it will strike the mainline in the valley is not yet known, although two or three towns are quite certain of being the junction point.

ANOTHER LINE SOON TO OPEN. In a day or two or more, another line of railroad will be put into operation in man of a small amount of money in that this State. The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha line will commence tomorrow to run trains between Wakefield and Hartington. This latter place, a new town, will be the terminus for the present. A train each day will make daily connection at Wakefield for both Sioux City and Omaha. Thus Omaha trade is extended further into the grow-ingnortheastern portion of the State. GOING TO CALIFORNIA. Hoyt Sherman, traveling agent of the U. P. railroad, arrived yesterday with a party of thirty-five people, men, women and children, en route to Colton, California. These people are from Owatonna. Minn., and are going to California to secure permanent location and make homes. They left for the West last evening in a NOTES The greater part of through travel is now in a westerly direction. As a rule, the trains going east are light.

Live stock, grain and freight receipts and shipments at the U. P. yards show a good average business these days.

Mr. James McCabe, superintendent of for Sioux City and will take a general trip over the line.

Reports received at the U. P. tele graph office say that at 7 o'clock yesterday morning the weather along the line as far as Ogdsn was clear and cold. A cold wave passed over the morning be-fere, but there was no snow. The C., St. P., M. & O. is now building a winter bridge across the Missouri at Sioux City, which will be finished by the time that navigation closes. It may be well to say to the uninformed that a winter bridge is a temporary structure. built upon piling a few feet above the water, and is to be used during the season after the river has closed until navigation opens in the spring. The transfer boat is then used.

Amusements.

Mr. B. McAuley's new comedy, "The Jerseyman," was produced at Boyd's last evening, to a fair-sized audience. The comedy element in this play is left almost entirely to the star, and the fun is almost continuous. Mr. McAuley's acting makes "Gilderoy N. G. Punk" a remackable character, and especielly excellent in its exhibition of Yankee shrawdness. Mr. McAuley's support was good and gave him able assistance. To-night Mr. McAuley closes his present engagement in Cmaha, and will appear as "Falstail" in Henry IV.

A Startling Discovery. Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all throat and lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery; resulting in hundreds of our best citizens using it in their practice. Trial bottles free at C. F. Goodman's drug store Regular size $1.00.

Paving Notes.

The frost of Tuesday considerably interfered with the work of grading on the streets to be paved. On Fifteenth street, between Douglas and Dodge streets, the earth was frozen to the depth of several inches, and made digging somewhat tedious. If fine weather continues that street will be payed at once.

The paving on the west side of Fif-teenth street as far as Farnam street has been completed and is now open for

The steam roller is now at work on will be open to the public in a few days. The paving will continue just as long # as the weather will permit.

In police court yesterday there were four cases for disturbing the peace. In three of them the parties were each asseased a fine of $5 and trimmings. One of them cashed up and the other two were committed, while the case of the fourth one was continued.

Complaint was made against the two little "coons" who were arrested yester- worth's guests.

day, charging them with having assaulted a farmer with stones. The house of a colored woman, by the name of Mrs. Davis, where the "kids" have been hanging out, was searched and several pigeons which the boys had killed with slingshots, were found and identified by Charley Fleck as belonging to him. Several other misdemeanors have been reported and charged to the account of these two urchins, and Judge Beneke held them. After a hearing they will probably be sent to the reform school.

Business was unusually quiet in police circles last night.

In the police court yesterday afternoon complaint was sworn out against John Gorman by Nick O'Byrne, charging him with making threats of violence to O'Byrne's person. Gorman was not arrested yesterday, and the case will come up hereafter.

FOOLING A FARMER.

An Iowa Granger Falls a Victim to Shrewd Game Played by Horse-Traders.

A [Forced Trade of a Poor Team Horses for a Good Span of Mules.

Yesterday an Iowa farmer, who came into the city with a load of onions, was made the victim of a very clever confidence game at Homan's stable, wherethe had put up his outfit. He was approached by a horse-trader, who offered to trade him a team of horses for his span of mules. While they were talking the matter over, a third party stepped up and said to the farmer: "If you Hon. A. J. Weaver, Congressman from the make the trade I'll buy your outfit-the First district, made a pleasant call at the BEE team of horses, wagon and harness—for News, which will be found equally apand the third partygave him $10 to bind appreciated: the bargain, and said that he would go over to Council Bluffs and get the money and return as soon as possible. He then disappeared, and a few minutes afterwards another man took the farmer aside and told him that a swindle was being put up on him, and that he had better go and see the police. This occurred immediatly after he had refused to exchange teams until he received the full

The deal was clererly fixed up, and the persons engaged in it are no doubt experts in that kind of business, and know just how to do it without entangling themselves in the meshes of the law. Since writing the above, it is learned that the trade was not such a bad one for the farmer after all. When he learned of the game that had been played upon him, he secured an officer who at once began looking for the mules. About six o'clock last evening, the missing team was returned to him, with the request that no questions be asked. The farmer now has his mules and is ahead the $10 which was given to bind the bargain.

The Alleged Land Frauds in the Region of the Odoriferons Name.

No Investigation by the United States Grand Jury.

In his statement to the United States grand jury relative to their duties, the District Attorney, Hon. G. M. Although no names were mentioned, many persons concluded that he proposed to have Congressman Laird and the Stinking Water transactions investi-

A representative of THE BEE, upon meeting Mr. Lambertson, called upon him to explain and be a little more definite in his statement relative to land

"The investigations to which I re-ferred," replied Mr. Lambertson, "were the alleged frauds in Custer county. I did not intend to have anybody infer that I had in mind the Stinking Water business. I understand, however, that an investigation of the so-called Stinking Water land business had been made, or was about to be made, by special agents of the Land Department, and until they make their report on the case no action will be taken by me."

Gosh All Hemlock, How it Blows,'

The pleasant sunshine and calm weather of to-day proved an agreeable change from Tuesday, during which the Nebraska blizzard was abroad in the land. A NOVEMBER BLAST. Gosh all hemlock, how it blows! How the dust in volumes goes Cavorting madly up the streets,
Blinding every one it meets—
Filling eyes, and ears, and nose!
How the wintry winds give battle

To the rusty signs that rattle
As it blow.,
Blows, blows, blows, blows,
Gosh all hemlock, how it blows! And the hose—what of the hose And the hose—what at the hose Of the ladies, when it blows? We can see them plain or striped, On each buxom female biped, When it blows:

With her wrappings in a flutter, She is in a dreadful putter When it blows; And she glows Like a rose,

For she knows That the menfolks at the corner Have their naughty eyes upon her And her hose— Hose, hose, hose, hose, hose-Gosh a'mighty, how it blows!

And the plumber -- ah, the plumber. Who has kept indoors all summer.

Hears the wild, tumultuous blowing As it blows; And he wonders if it's snowing,

And if water pipes are going To be froze; And he goes,
As it blows,
To the window, and keeps peering
From behind the curtain, leering At the woes

Of his fellow-creatures, nearing-

And he crows—yes, he crows—
Demoniacally crows
As it blows,
Blows, blows, blows, blows—
