DR. H. WAGNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condown him for making this class of diseases a specialty, but help happy to know that with most perform of refinement and intelligence a more enlightened view is taken of the subject, and that the physician who devotes himself to relieving the afflicted and a ting them from worse than death, is no less a phigroun or physician who by close application excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately or humanity, the day is dawning when the false phi-authrophy that condemned the victims of folly or crime, like the lepers under the Jewish law, to die uncared for has passed away.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years are would hardly mention it.

To-lay the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formarly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly knored.

no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through their example, rnay be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely onelayes the victim. Mental and nervous afflictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dejection or irrascibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Lascivious drumms, emissions and cruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idiocy before, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this dangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fall, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and consequently, year will-power broken, take some nerve tonic to aid you in your effort. Having freed yourself from the habit, I would further counsel you to go through a regular course of treatment, for it is a great mistake to suppose that any one may, for some time, be t every so little, give himself up to this fascinating but dangerous excitement without suffering from its evil consequences at some future time. The number of young men who are incapaciated to fill the duties enjoined by wellock is alarmingly large, and in most of such cases this unfortunate condition of things can be traced to the practice of s

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many mony men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness.
