DESERTIONS IN THE ARMY

Seventy-Five Per Cent of the Case: Assigned to Whisky.

To the Editor of The Bee. In an article which appeared in your issue of the 24th inst., headed "Desertions in the Army," the opinion of the "Officer" differs materially from that of the enlisted men themselves, respecting at least one of the chief "incentives" to between pay-days." Enlisted men generally of the writer's acquaintance would be better satisfied if the system as præcticed in the navy regarding payment prevailed in the army; that is to say, each man in open account with the government, is given credit for his earnings amounts as would suffice for his small with or without interest, until expiration of term of service. To be sure provision is made by law for the deposit of money by soldiers, but there is this objection to it, once having the money in hand, many men with previous good intention to deposit, are insensibly led into the purchase reference to inter-state commerce laid of articles unnecessary and extravagant. Were the other plan in force it is the opinion of the "rank and file" that a large majority would draw only enough to procure such indispensibles as tobacco, and the few necessary toilet articles pertaining to the soldier's outfit. The government would be in a position of security against losses for transportation, etc., and men once having a balance to their In such investigation the commissioners credit would be less likely to desert and shall have power to summon witnesses this post. It is the firm duty of the commissioners to investigate belief of the writer that 75 per cent of all such cases of which they can obtain the desertions which have taken place within his konwledge, have been the direct outgrowth of whisky drinking. We have among us a class of men who in cities are styled "vagrants." They come and enlist, as many of them unblushing-ly affirm, to get "the winter over them." As soon as spring time appears off they go, with a few collars, a system renovated and built up by wholesome government rations. These creatures count in the aggregate of desertions and add enormously to the percentage. Men who soldier with a desire to get along seldom desert, but are attached to the life, occasionally violate articles of war, are tried, punished and returned to duty, and accept it as a matter of course, and in very many cases one or two moderate doses of gaurd house life effects a complete reformation. Respectfully, PRIVATE, 4th Infantry, FT. OMAHA, Dec. 26th.

SENATOR CULLOM'S BILL.

National Board of Railroad Commissioners.

Washington, December 26.-Senator Cullom to-day introduced a bill to estabtish a board of railroad commissioners and to regulate inter-state commerce, which proposes to provide for the appointment by the president of five commissioners for the term of five years each, one to retire each year. The commissioners are to be paid $5,000 per annum and their actual traveling expenses while in the performance of their official duties, to be furnished with an office and secretary, whose salary is fixed at $3,500. The bil does not authorize the board to establish desertion, and that is "the long interval rates, but provides that it shall exercise supervision over that portion of the business of all railroads, canals, or other transportation companies which passes through one or more states or territories, or to or from any foreign country into or through any state or territory. The last section provides that all common carriers engaged in inter-state commerce shall be required to keep posted in every depot on their line where freights are received or de-livered at least two plainly printed copies of their schedules of freight rates, and that no change in such schedule shall take effect until a new schedule, specifying such change, shall have been similary posted at least five days.

A GIRL'S STRANGE POWERS.

Manifestations Which Have Puzzled the Community.

Rome, Ga., December 21.-The Cherokee section of Georgia is greatly excited over the manifestations of Miss Lula Hurst, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. William B. Hurst, a substantial farmer of Polk county. The stories told were of such a strange character that Col. Freeman of the Cedartown Advertiser, Dr. F. M. Liddell and several other prominent citizens went out to Mr. Hurst's residence for the purpose of investigating them. They found the young woman to be the picture of health and of modest manner. Upon a request to manifest some of her newly developed powers, she arose and placed her hands on the back of a common chair, which soon began to move, first slowly, then violently. The doctor was requested to hold the chair. Being unable to do so alone then two, and then three men, trie with no better effect. Apparently there was not a particle of physical force used by the young lady, her hands merely resting cerelessly on the back of the chair. On a previous occasion four of the stoutest men of the neighborhood had found it impossible to hold the chair. A large old-fashioned bedstead stood with its head back in the corner of the room. On the foot of the bed Miss Lula placed her hands lightly on the bed and it arose two feet in the air and moved swiftly around the room.

Miss Lora Wimberly, a cousin of Miss Luia, while in bed recently heard a thumping noise in the head board, which thumping noise in the head board, which she thought was produced by her cousin with her fingers, and she requested her to stop and go to sleep. Miss Lula protested innocence, yet the sound grew more audible. A playful remark that it should strike her caused a sensation like a slaght shock, felt by Miss Wimberly about the fees. The record was berly about the face. The sound was then called to manifest itself where commanded about the bed, and the bed was finally commanded to move, and, to the wonder of the occupants, rolled briskly around the room. This is the circumstance which led to the subsequent experiments. On a recent occasion while Miss Lulu was in bed she thought of very pleasant and happy wedding at the residence of Julius Bernhard, No. 1213 were Mr. Theodore Hageman and Miss On another occasion, a man above the ordinary weight, sat in a chair, his feet on the rounds, while the lady placed her The Rev. FAVORED A HIGHER FINE.

By Rill Nye.

Will Taylor, the son of the present American Consul at Marseilles, was a good deal like other boys, while at school in his old home, of Hudson, Wis, One day he called his father into the library and said:

"Pa, I don't like to tell you, but the teacher and I have had trouble."

"What's the matter now?" "Well, I cut one of the desks a little with my knife, and the teacher says I've got to pay a dollar or take a lickin'.

"Well, why don't you take the licking and say nothing more about it? I can stand considerable physical pain, so long as it visits our family in that form. Of course, it is not pleasant to be flogged, but you have broken a rule of the school and I guess you'll have to stand it. presume that the teacher will in wrath remember mercy, and avoid disabling you so that you can't get your coat on any

A dollar ain't much to you, pa, but it's a heap to a boy that hasn't got a cent. If I could make a dollar as easy as you can, pa, I'd never let my little boy get flogged that way just to save a dollar. If I had a little feller that got licked bekuz I didn't put up fer him, I'd hate the sight of money always. I'd feel as ef every dollar I had in my pocket had been taken out of my little kid's back."
"Well, now, I'll tell you what I'll do.

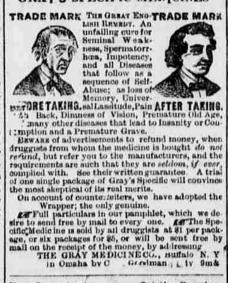

I'll give you a dollar to save you from punishment this time, but if anything of this kind ever occurs again I'll hold you The only Lottery ever voted on and enwhile the teacher licks you, and then I'll get the teacher to hold you while I lick you. That's the way I feel about that. If you wan't to go around whittling up our educational institutions you can do so; but you'll have to purchase them afterwards yourself. I don't propose to buy any more damaged school furniture. You probably grasp my meaning, do you not send you to school to acquire an education, not to acquire liabilities so that you can come around and make an assessment on me. I feel a great interest in you Willie, but I do not feel as though it should be an assessable interest. I want to go on, of course, and improve the property, but when I pay my dues on it want to know that it goes toward development work. I don't want my assessment togo toward the purchase of a schooldesk with American hireoglyphies carved

"I hope you will bear this in your mind, my son, and beware. It will be greatly to your interest to beware. If were in your place I would put in a large portion of my time in the beware

The boy took the dollar, and went thoughtfully away to school, and no more was ever said about the matter until Mr.

Taylor learned casually several months later that the Spartan youth had received later that the Spartan youth had received of this the spartan youth had received later that the Spartan youth had received later than youth had received later that the Spartan youth had received later was ever said about the matter until Mr. the walloping and filed away the dollar for future reference. The boy was afterward heard to say that he favored a much heavier fine in cases of that kind. On whipping was sufficient, he said, but he favored a fine of $5. THE NECESSITY FOR THE SPECIALIST.

DR. H. WAGNER,

Has long been acknowledged and more so at this day than any other. The vast field of medical science is ever increasing, and its numerous branches are brought nearer and nearer to perfection, and no one man can any longer grasp them al Hence the necessity for dividing the labor. And it is true beyond all doubt that dissue, affecting the gento-uninary organs need special study more than anything else, if we would understand and know how read them properly. reat them properly.

DR. H. WAUNER is fully aware that there are

DR. H. WAUNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condemn him for making this class of diseases a specialty, but he is happy to know that with twest persons of reducement and intelligence a more conflicted and view is taken of the subject, and that his physician who devotes himself to relieving the afficted and aving them from worse than death, is no less a phisanthropist and benefactor to his race than the surgeon or physician who by close application excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately or humanity, the day is dawning when the false phisanthrophy that condemned the victims of folly arcrime, like the lepera under the Jewish law, to distincted for has passed away.

A Few Reasons

Why you should try the celebrated Dr. H. Wagner's methods of curo:

1. "Dr. H. Wagner is a natural physician."

The Greatest Living Phrenologist.

"Few can excel you as a doctor."

The World's Greatest Physiognomist.

"You are wonderfully proficient in your knowledge of disease and medicines."

Dr. J. Marrowse.

4. "The afflicted find ready relief in your presence."
5. "Dr. H. Wagner is a regular graduate from Bellevue Hospital Pactice, and is thoroughly posted on all branches of his beloved science, especially on chronic diseases."

chronic diseases."

DES. BROWNELL & EWING.

6. "Dr. H. Wagner has immortalized himself by his wonderful discovery of specific remedies for private and sexual diseases."—Virginia City Chronicle.

7. "Thousands of invalids flock to see him."—San Francisco Chronicle.

8. "The Dector's long experience as a specialist should render him very successful."—Rocky Mountain News.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly absut it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

merly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through their example, may be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely enslaves the victim. Mental and nervous af dictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dojection or irrascibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Lactivious dreams, emissions and cruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idiocy before, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this cangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fall, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and consequently, your will-power broken, take some nerve tonic to all you in your effert. Having freed yourself from the habit, I would further counsel you to go through a regular course of treatment, for it is a great mistake to suppose that any one may, for some time, be t every so little, give himself up to this fascinating but dangerous excitement without suffering from its evil consequences at some future time. The number of such cases this unfortunate condition of things can be traced to the practice of self-abuse, which had been abandoned years ago. Indeed,

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of this unlikish hue, what the cause changing to a dark and torpid appearance. Relief to the Afflicted.

In medicines, as in science, the specialists are the ones who always comes to the front and accomplish great results. This remark is especially applicable to to Dr. H. Wagner, of this city. He stands at the top of his profession, and the cures he performs for the unfortunate would seem wonderful if not properly viewed in the light of scientific acquirements. He is andorsed by the most eminent of the medical faculty. Specific remedies for all diseases is the theory practice at present of educated and experience physicians, and in all large communities they have their specialties, to excel in which they direct their studies and practice. Dr. Wagner is a successful illustration of this modern school of specialties, and his unprecedented success in the treatment of private diseases is as wonderful as it is flattering.—Prof. J. Simms.
