

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, Jan. 1, 1884.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier - 50 cents per week. By Mail - $10.00 per year.

MINOR MENTION.

See Joseph Reiter's fall goods. Additional local on seventh page. Cheap Railroad Tickets at Bushnell's.

The Round Table meets this week on Thursday evening, at the residence of Mr. Otis.

Dr. A. J. Cook has removed his residence from North Main street to No. 629 First avenue, in Dr. Lawrence's brick block.

The attention of those who desire to employ a competent music teacher in the family is called to the special column on the eighth page.

What has become of that resolution passed by the city council last summer, ordering the city marshal to close all gambling houses?

The little son of Henry Van Brunt now has a little brother, and the father is as delighted as a man ought to be under such happy circumstances.

On Tuesday evening of next week Miss Neely Stevens is to give her piano recital, in response to the request of her many friends and admirers here.

The postoffice will be open to-day from 11 a. m. till 12:30 o'clock p. m., and in the evening, from 7 to 8 o'clock p. m.

The needful permits were yesterday granted to Elmer E. Nichols and Fannie A. Weston, both of this city; also to Leroy Thompson and Marietta Holladay, both of Hancock.

The city "cooler" is a cooler in fact, now-a-days. With no stove, and nothing but stench to fill up the cracks in the doors, the poor fellow who now gets a glass too much has indeed to suffer.

Deputy Marshal White has resigned his star to go into the stock business. He has made an excellent deputy, and no man among the officials has gained a stouter reputation for obliging manners and straight-forward dealing.

A young fellow giving his name as Frank Finner, was arrested yesterday by Marshal Jackson, while trying to sell two horse blankets, evidently stolen from some one.

John Foley, who was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Clatterbuck on a charge of malicious mischief in kicking in the door of David Dunkle's saloon at Crescent, yesterday gave $200 bail to appear for trial at the next term of the district court.

What city of its size can show so lax a government? A variety theatre with a wine room, gambling houses running as open as grocery stores, houses of prostitution, licensed but not regulated, women of purchasable virtue flaunting themselves on the principal streets and public places—is it not a free for all?

There seems a disposition on the part of Mr. Dohany not to open his new opera house until the citizens buy $1,000 worth of $5 tickets for the opening.

It is to be the big one at the Catholic fair. A grand ball is to be given besides the other attractions of the fair itself.

David Roberts to J. Clinton Roberts, lot 10, block 11, Stutman's second add; $100.

M. F. B. Huber to James N. Pratt, net, 9, 7, 40; $2,340.

Sarah M. Bailey to Deere, Walls & Co., lot 19, block 1, Oakland; $432.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks met with a singular accident yesterday. While running a sewing machine her finger got under the needle, and before she could take her hand away, several stitches had been taken in the flesh, the needle being driven into the finger several times, and then breaking off.

Steinhart & Freyhan are now moving their wholesale liquor establishment from Broadway in this city to Omaha, they having secured West & Fritchler's old stand on Douglas street, where they will have increased facilities for filling orders to the satisfaction of their customers.

It is the exception rather than the rule that promises in reference to the delivery of job printing are kept.

Go to Huriburt's fancy steam dyeing and French dry cleaning works at 34 Pearl street.

Mrs. M. Carroll, fashionable dress making, cutting and fitting a specialty. Apprentices wanted. No. 726 First avenue, up stairs.

Books, toys and fancy goods of all kinds must be sold at or below cost to give me an opportunity to attend to my coal interests in this city.

Ladies' and gent's clothing cleaned, dyed and repaired at Huriburt's, 34 Pearl street.

CLOSING THE SERIES.

The Last of Seven Very Interesting Scientific Lectures.

On Sunday evening Rev. J. J. Lemen gave the closing lecture of his series on scientific subjects. There have been seven of these lectures, and though the preceding ones have been excellent, the closing was a saving of the best wine to the last of the feast.

On Sunday night this last lecture was devoted to the consideration of man himself. The speaker took the brain, and showed its superior weight to that of the animals of the highest intelligence, it being almost twice as heavy.

In then spoke of the eye, and showed that the human eye was not so far seeing as that of the bee, and hence was not a development. The bee also had eyes on the top of its head, and if the development continued according to the theory of evolutionists man should have eyes all over his head.

The hand and voice of man were also used as arguments. In the savage the hand was as perfect as that of a civilized man. So with the voice. They simply were not trained and hence had powers that the savage knew not of.

The last straw these scientists caught at was that man came from the gorilla and chimpanzee, because there are similarities of formation, but St. George Mirart said that there was no argument in this, for it might as well be claimed that because the wrist bones of the indris, a cat-like animal found in Madagascar, resembled the wrist bones of man, that therefore man sprang from this, which all would pronounce as nonsense.

In closing the speaker summarized the facts reached by reason stated in other lectures, and gathering them all up very concisely, quaintly compared the position of these scientists with that of Topsy, who said she didn't know who made her, but "speck I jus' grewed."

Notice of Disolution. Notice is hereby given that the law firm of Sapp & Lyman is this day dissolved by mutual consent and on account of the appointment of J. Lyman as judge of the circuit court of this district.

A Newspaper Editor. O. M. Holcomb, of Bloomville, Ohio, rises to explain: "Had that terrible disease, catarrh, for twenty years; couldn't taste or smell, and hearing was falling."

Notice of Copartnership. Notice is hereby given that a new law partnership has this day been formed between the undersigned under the firm name of Sapp & Pusey.

THE OLD AND THE NEW. The Law Firm of Sapp & Lyman Now Changes to Sapp & Pusey.

As will be seen by a notice elsewhere the old established law firm of Sapp & Lyman now dissolves, this being necessitated by the appointment of Major Lyman to the judgeship of the circuit court. The firm has been among the foremost, not merely here, but in the state, for the past fourteen years.

It is the exception rather than the rule that promises in reference to the delivery of job printing are kept.

clear thought, and a more than ordinary power of language, added to his other abilities, he is a strong man, and the firm thus composed cannot but continue at the front.

NOT A CASE.

Not a case of rheumatism, not a case of neuralgia, not a case of pain of strain—not one—has failed to go when attacked by Thomas' Electric Oil.

NOT THE MAN.

The real Fox Captured in Jersey City, and the Young Man Here Released.

The young man Cannon who was arrested here on Friday on suspicion of being one James Fox, wanted at Jersey City for absconding with some express money packages, was released yesterday, the chief of police receiving a telegram that the real Fox had been arrested at Jersey City, and that hence the young man arrested here could not be the fellow.

Cannon on being released was quite indignant about the way he had been treated. He said that he had no objection to being held a reasonable time for the officers to investigate, but thought they ought to have provided him with a decent place in which to stay.

Jailer Shontz explained that he offered Cannon a hammock to sleep in, but he preferred the bench. Shontz denies the vermin and bad food charge, and says that he gave him the best treatment possible, considering the facilities afforded by the county. In order to hold Cannon until more could be learned about his charge of vagrancy was preferred against him when he was arrested. But now that he proves not to be the man who was wanted this case will be dropped.
