EASTERN TRAINS.

They Were all Late Yesterday Morning, Occasioned by a Storm in more Illinois.

The noon train west on the Union Pacific was over an hour late, occasioned by the delay on the trunk lines which was caused by a storm in Illinois. The Rock Island train was 30 minutes late in arriving at the transfer. The C., B. & Q., No. 5, was 3 hours late, while No. 3 was 5 hours behind

The Sioux City & Pacific train rolled in at the transfer 1 hour and 15 minutes

The C. & N. W. train was unable to make her time and did not arrive at the transfer until 3 hours after she should have done so.

The Wabash was 1 hour late.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul was the only road on which the train arrived on time.

The Union Pacific train waited for most of the belated trains.

DESTITUTE ONES.

How the Cold Snap Affects Poor of this City.

A Talk With Mrs. H. B. Fuller in Regard to the Poor People of Omaha and What is Being Done for their Relief.

The recent cold snap has affected all classes of humanity in a greater or less degree, but more particularly the poor people. By poor people is meant people who are in an almost destitute condition. and many such there are in this city. The relief association of this city are doing an immense work among this class, and it is They were run into the fence and brought to a really astonishing to visit their rooms and see how many applications are made for relief.

> The way the work is divided up now it is much easier than of yore. In each ward there is a committee of ladies appointed to look up needy ones and to whom needy ones may apply for help. The case of an applicant for relief is in vestigated by some member of the ward committee, and, if found worthy, is so offerings and it required two large wagon boxes to contain them all. Not only were vegetables donated, but groceries, and articles of almost every description -A committee consisting of B. Beer, W. J. were cast into the general supply fund. This is indeed very gratifying to see the children, thus early in life, exercising the greatest of all virtues, charity. A person who is naturally of a charitable disposition cannot be very bad at heart, and if the children have this principle instilled in their minds and hearts, it can have but one result, and that a good one. One of the most, if not the leading worker among the poor of this city, is Mrs. H. B. Fuller, who has been constantly engaged in this work for six years past, and can speak the name of almost

She stated that on Wednesday a woman called upon her single case, and Judge Beneke was not called for fuel, who stated that her husband was sick in bed and that she was obliged to put the little children tobed with their warrant. This is a state of affirs upon which sick father while she went to ask for fuel. the people of this city can congratulate them-on the same day another woman called selves. Such a thing has not happened before and said that she had not a particle of > there are many more women and children in this city who are actually suffering from cold and hunger. The ladies of this city are doing a great work and they should be faithfully supported in it and upheld by the nobler citizens of this city. There is doubtless many a man and many a woman in this city who would willingly give five or ten dollars for a charitable purpose. The trouble is that suffering never comes before their eyes; they are not brought face to face with poverty and destitution, and hence the thought of giving a tew dollars to the poor does not enter their heads. If their attention was called to the matter they would give. To all such we would say hand in your contributions to the relief association rooms, and you may rest assured that whatever is placed in the hands of these noble ladies will be judiciously and well expended. There are many of our citizens who daily send or take donations to the rooms, and to all such the ladies are duly thankful.

Mrs. Fuller was asked in regard to the poor people, as to whether there are any 'old timers' among the number. She stated that the great majority of them are people who have been receiving help ever since she has been engaged in the

She said also that the great majority of them are women who have been deserted by brutes called husbands, after having been instrumental in bringing into this world several children, and wo man and children who are cursed by hav-ing for husband and father a habitual drunkard.

One thing that the ladies of the asse ciation desire greatly, is that all the street begging be stopped and that persons make no contributions to street ggars, but refer them to the association rooms, where, if worthy they will receive help at once. There are a num-ber of chronic beggars in this city, who really beg from choice, and it is desired to break this up.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. THE PAPILLION MURDER.

the hands of McCarty:

"After the inquest Monday, the body was turned over to Kal Jewett for burial, and it is reported that he put the corpse in a loosely constructed box of rough pine, with cracks in which a man could insert his fingers, leaving his overshoes on, without even washing the blood away, and placed him under ground at a depth of 15 to 18 inches. And for thus going through the motions of a mock burial he immediately filed a bill with the clerk for $24.00. The statute provides for the decent burial of persons in such cases, and Mr. Jewett, who is the land. PRIZE FIGHTERS.

A Genuine "Mill" in This City Last Friday.

Two Local "Thumpers" Engage in Saloon Row and Adjourn to the River Bottoms to Settle Their Differences.

It has just begun to be generally known that Omaha has been the scene of a genuine prize fight, according to the most approved rules of the "profesh."

It is nevertheless a fact that a "mill" did take place in this city a few days bad men with their "dukes."

The affair took place on Friday mornng last and was witnessed by only a favored few. The two "thumpers" engaged in a saloon row early in the morning, but were prevented from fighting by the managers of the place. One of them who, by the way, is a painter, was ecluded spot, and there whip his opponent or perish in the attempt. The challenged party objected, for reasons "I'm monarchof all I survey," and best known to himself, and refused to did not detract in any way from the scene of combat if number two would innocence and humility which but consent to go. Number two was urged so strongly by his friends to fight that he finally agreed to do so, and the party got into a hack and were driven to the society people of Omaha will long rethe river bottom.

A ring was marked out and the pugilists stripped themselves and retired to their corners. Time was called and they went at it. Number two proved imself to be the better man from the very start and battered number one at every

The outside party, who, by the way, was a big negro, did not even stop to remove his linen duster, which had been lined to correspond with the weather, but went at the white "trash in a genuine go-as-you-please style, and in a very short space of time had thrashed the ground, not only with the two pugilists, but also with several outsiders who had been foolish enough to offer some sugges expenses of the girl as soon as he was eleased from custody.

Mr. Carter is firm in his belief that Snell is an honest man, and that he will fulfill all the promises he has made. That may all be, but one thing is post-tive, Snell left the city without even going to see the remains of the woman who had died through his carelesaness. He could not have been in a very badly dazed condition, after having had three days in jail in which to collect his senses. He never did show any signs of being a all flustrated after the shooting.

At any rate had this all been true, h has had plenty of time in which to forward the money to defray the expenses of the girl's funeral, but this he has not done, but has left it to be born by strangers, and if Snell ever does appear for trial, he will find that these things have been laid up against him.
