

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Saturday Morning, March 1.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier 30 cents per week, By Mail $10.00 per Year.

Office: No. 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

Additional local on seventh page. Cheap railroad tickets at Bushnell's. New spring goods just received at J. Reiter's, the tailor, 310 Broadway.

Fay Templeton and her company appeared at the opera house again last evening.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted to Frederick Raber and Anna B. Prior, both of this county.

The registry books closed yesterday, so those who have not their names enrolled will have to swear in.

There was one drunkard only in police court yesterday. Heavy business for a $2,000 judgment and $1,200 clerk.

The funeral services of R. S. Cole are to be held at the family residence, No. 616 Bluff street, at 10 o'clock this morning.

York township is reported as a little better, the vote there being 118 against the court house and 15 for it. A little crumb of comfort--very little.

The evening democratic sheet should burn its old files, in which it has so bitterly denounced Vaughan as "the sand-fot orator," etc. It has been whipped into the traces now, and now ought to destroy its record.

"There is no death. Grave, where is thy victory?" Spiritual circle to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon and evening in Spiritual Hall, commencing at 2 and 7:30 o'clock. Entrance on Main and Pearl streets, two doors south of postoffice.

If you desire to have your boys' clothes made to order take them to the Home of the friendless dress making and tailoring department on Willow avenue, between Fourth and Main streets. A first-class tailor will cut the suits and they will be made so that they will cost little more than ready made clothing and will be worth much more.

Mrs. J. R. Brooks manages this department and will give her personal attention to your orders for dress making and children's clothes.

Mrs. Judge Lyman and Mrs. George Brown have fitted up a room at the Home of the Friendless, and are caring for a poor woman there, with two children, whom they found sick and in distress.

The woman has labored hard to make an honest living, and succeeded in providing for herself and children until sickness prostrated her. The need of the Home is manifested in such cases most forcibly, and the beauty not only of charity but of Christian fellowship is manifested in the manner in which all, regardless of sect, work together for the upbuilding of the Home and the enlarging of its means of usefulness.

Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Brown are very constant in such labors, and certainly nothing grander could occupy their time and attention.

Vaughan seems to have muzzled or scared the other papers of this city, and they are as mum as though there was no city election, with the exception of the evening democratic organ, which has flopped about from a bitter opposition to Vaughan to a complete acquiescence.

There seems to be a general feeling that Vaughan will beat Flickinger in the race for mayor, and all the papers seem to want to get on the winning side. This may be good financial policy, but it looks cowardly. The Nonpartisan boasts of being a strict party paper, but it gives but lukewarm support to the republican candidates, and is silent and trembling.

Since it has become known that "the gang" has swung over to Vaughan, those who have been howling against "the gang" seem to be too afraid to speak out in meeting on any side. But the strict party organ, what has become of its republicanism?

The voters shall bear in mind that the office of mayor is not what many would have them believe. The mayor can do nothing in the way of city improvements and has no voice, not even in a tie. It takes aldermanic votes on improvement matters. The chief power of the mayor, and his importance in regulating city affairs is as chief of the police. He stands at the head of that department, and it depends more on him than on any other man, whether the gambling houses, houses of prostitution, saloons, etc., shall have a free-for-all or not. The character and record of both Vaughan and Flickinger are so well known by voters that they can each decide by his own conscience which will work most stoutly for cleaning up the city. The contest over mayor should not distract attention from the importance of getting good aldermen.

In the first ward the republicans have nominated T. W. McCarger, a man full of enterprise, and who has grit enough to carry out the will of the people, and who is above all schemes. Other good men are in nomination for aldermen, and some who are not so good. It is difficult to see how the moral reformers are going to support the man who clubbed mission Sunday schools out of the school houses, but his premises to the aggrieved Second ward are strong and numerous. "The best friends of the city," whom Flickinger pledges himself to represent, should surely canvass close the question of the fitness, morality and enterprise of each candidate, and by throwing aside the party lines give to this city some improvement in the way of a government. An adjourned meeting of the workmen--in other words a Vaughan hurrah is to be held at the court house to-night.

In the circuit court yesterday the case of Bond vs. the Wabash railway was on trial, it being a suit for damage because the railway neglected to furnish cars for the shipment of grain.

The noonday meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-day from 12 o'clock to 12:30 is to be devoted to the Sunday school lesson for to-morrow, and all Sunday school workers and teachers are especially invited.

The shooting club are arranging for some matches on St. Patrick's day, March 17th. H. F. Evans proposes seeing if he cannot get away with D. F. Stubbs, the present holder of the medal, and other contests will probably be arranged.

Alex. Sullivan, the president of the Irish National Land league, is to speak at the new opera house Thursday evening of next week. Other prominent speakers expect to be here also, the purpose being to organize a branch league here.

There is to be another meeting at the court house this evening to complete the ticket which was started with the name of W. R. Vaughan at the head in a meeting held last Monday evening. That meeting was a good deal of a farce, there being a large proportion of the audience who evidently gathered there out of curiosity, and who, when the proceedings and speeches failed to interest, interested themselves by all sorts of boisterous amusements. Whether the meeting to-night will be of a like nature remains to be seen; but as it is understood that Vaughan himself is to take up the reins, there will probably be enough in the proceeding to interest without any outside amusements.

Yesterday Deputy George Rainbow went forth to levy on some corn belonging to a man named Rodgers, in the southeastern part of the county. When George arrived on the scene he found the premises in possession of four women. George attempted to read the papers, but an old woman, known as Mother Johnson, yelled at him, "Get out of this, ye G-d-d-a-n of a b--!" It was in vain for George to attempt an explanation. One of the women seized a pitchfork and went for the deputy, who saved himself by grabbing one of the times. Two of the women came at him with clubs, and left a colored impression on his nose. There were several Danes along who were to take charge of the corn, but they were so badly scared that they did nothing to assist the deputy.

Not wishing to shoot the ferocious females, George returned to Harlan for reinforcements. This was the best thing possible under the circumstances. George returns to the battle field this morning, and we expect to see the festive ladies as prisoners of war. "Rah for Buren Sherman, the women's rights man! 'Rah for Mother Johnson!"--[Harlan Tribune.]

For Alterman At Large. At the request of many citizens I hereby announce myself as independent candidate for the office of Alderman-at-Large.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Bill is Opened, Changes in the Fire Department and Other Business.

The city council met yesterday afternoon, Mayor Bowman presiding, and Aldermen Eicher, James, Keating and Siedentopf present.

The minutes were read and approved. A large number of bills were read and allowed. Mrs. Henn seeing a notice in the papers that all bills against the city should be filed before the close of the month, filed her bill for $3,000 for damages done to her property by the overflow of Indian creek. The claim was promptly rejected.

Martin Casey, 544 Broadway, asked permission to have his frame building raised, a one-story brick foundation put under it and the rest of the building renewed. Petition referred.

A copy of resolutions passed by the Council Bluffs City Hospital association was read, asking the council to purchase grounds or condemn grounds suitable for a hospital site, and pay for same out of the general funds of the city.

The bonds of Itagan Bros. & McGork, in the sum of $50,000, for carrying out their contract for paving Main and Broadway streets, were presented and approved.

Bids were opened for laying brick sidewalk on Oakland avenue and curbing same. Chris. Straub offered to put in the curbing from $1.00 to $1.08, according to quality of stone, and the brick walk at 52 1/2 cents. J. & O. P. Wickham's bid for brick sidewalk and curbing $1.50. G. C. Hitchcock bid on the sidewalk, to be of Egyptian cement, 54 cents a foot. Referred to committee on paving.

The report of the chief of the fire department was presented. He reported that he had found the number of hydrants to be 200 and all in working order. He had also located a hose cart on South Main street, and recommended for foreman J. W. Kapelko, and for pipeman A. R. Hooton. He also recommended that James Bradley be appointed pipeman of Rescue No. 23, in place of L. A. Bergman, resigned. He had also transferred A. Morrison, formerly engineer of Bluff City steamer, to driver of the hook and ladder truck in place of M. Stevens, resigned. The report was referred to the fire committee, with instructions to report other necessary changes to reorganize the fire department.

Ald. James offered a resolution that the committee on streets and alleys expend $200 out of the general fund for filling up Ninth street between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues, it being deemed impractical to fill the street in full and charge it up to the abutting property.

Ald. Keating and Siedentopf objected to this mode, because it would cause complaints of partiality.

Ald. Eicher moved to refer the resolution to Ald. James and Keating, they being "hold-over" members, and he going out, not caring to make any change in the policy of making street improvements. Carried.

City Attorney Mayne brought up the matter of a severance of territory. The court having decided against the city, he wanted to know if the council wanted the case carried up to the supreme court. He was instructed to take the necessary steps to appeal the case.

The city engineer reported special assessments for filling up Fourth avenue between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. Report received and concurred in.

The committee on streets and alleys, through Alderman Eicher, reported favorably on the ordinance for the widening of Glen avenue at the intersection with Broadway. The ordinance was read a third time and passed unanimously.

Mr. William Engle appeared in support of his claim against the city for damages. Alderman James assured him the matter would be reported on Monday night.

Ex-Justice J. W. Baird appeared to inquire what had become of the petition presented to the council about six months ago for lamp-posts on Lower Broadway. He referred to the fact that there were many passengers at night going to and coming from the depots, and the men doing business in that part of the city were very anxious to have light. When the petition was presented, the aldermen informally assured the petitioners that there were three posts ready to be planted somewhere, but they had since been put somewhere else, and no attention paid to this petition. Alderman Keating said he thought there was no special need of lamp posts down there, but perhaps two might be used there.

Alderman James thought that oil lamps and wooden posts would do in many places, instead of getting expensive iron posts. Referred to the gaslight committee, and the committee instructed to procure both wooden and iron posts, the wooden ones to take the place of such iron ones as are now used there.

Alderman James thought the gas company should be labored with to see if they wouldn't reduce the price of gas, but it was deemed best to defer any action until the new council took hold. Adjourned until Monday evening.
