

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Thursday Morning, March 6.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

New crop clover and timothy seed for sale. Shugart, Waite & Wiles, Council Bluffs, Iowa. 18-1m. Bishop Clarkson, at 2 o'clock this morning, was reported as resting very easy, and his condition about the same. The cases against the several saloon-keepers for keeping open on Sunday, will be tried this morning at 10 o'clock. The case against Mr. and Mrs. Givens for assaulting Lewis Johnson Monday night, was continued by Judge Bencke yesterday morning for two weeks. A fine fat bay pony strayed into G. W. Homan's stable Tuesday morning. The pony had a saddle on, and the owner can have him by calling at the above named place. The break of sixty-seven feet in the extension of the North Omaha sewer will be completely repaired to-day and the street be put in such condition that it will be passable. The ladies of the South Omaha M. E. church will give a supper this evening from 6 to 9 o'clock at Mrs. Murrie's, on Pierce street, between 7 and 8. All are cordially invited. Numerous placards, offering $5,000 for the arrest of Premias Tillor, of St. Louis, were posted in conspicuous places yesterday in this city. Tillor, on the 21 day of March, stole a large amount of money, some placing it at $75,000, from the Pacific Express company. A United States postal car, the property of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway, was burned in Council Bluffs yesterday. The fire originated from the stove and when first discovered had gained such headway that it could not be checked. All the mail matter, with the exception of a few papers was saved. It was rumored on the street yesterday that the charred remains of a couple of human beings had been found in the Brown building. Investigation proved that a physician who fills a chair in the Omaha medical institute, happened, when the building burned, to have some dissecting material in his office, which was found by the laborers who were making repairs yesterday. The social at the First M. E. church, on Thursday evening, March 6th, promises to be a time of real pleasure. The entertainment will be social, literary and musical. The lecture by Rev. Mr. Battis, with the attractive subject, "The man in the moon," will be an interesting feature. The lunch will be served by the young ladies, for which ten cents will be charged. One dime at the door will admit big and little. The county commissioners, Fred Dressel and Contractor Cook will start on the overland train at noon to-day for Denver, Col. The object of the commissioners is to see the new court house recently erected in that city and inspect and examine its furniture, finish, and the steam heating apparatus. The party, before it returns, will probably visit Fort Collins, where are located the Colorado sand-stone quarries. These gentlemen will return the fore part of next week. A young man entered the coroner's office yesterday and in a subdued tone asked to see the coroner. He was informed that that official was not in and was asked what he wished. He stated that a friend of his had been elected coroner in the northern part of the state, and that the dead body of "Kid" Wade had been found and that an inquest was to be held and that there was no one in that part of the country who knew anything about how to proceed with an inquest, and he wanted to borrow a few blanks from the coroner of Douglas county to send to his friend that he might be enabled to go ahead and sit on the dead body of the "Kid" according to law. He was furnished with the blanks and took his departure.

A CROOKED CLERK.

George Contant Flees the City With $307 of His Employer's Money.

Only a Two Hours' Start, but Succeeds in Keeping Out of the Toils of the Law.

Mr. J. C. Weimers, who keeps a grocery store on the corner of Eighteenth and Chicago streets, in this city, was made the easy victim of his clerk yesterday. On Tuesday forenoon Mr. Weimers' wife gave George Contant, a clerk in the store, $180 to deposit in the bank. The book he did not return, as it was needed at the bank for the purpose of checking off. Yesterday afternoon he was given $127.65 more by his employer to have deposited in the bank. He returned to the store, after having been gone long enough to go to the bank, and complained that he was not feeling well. He said he would not work any more, and went out. After he had been gone a couple of hours he did not return, which aroused the suspicions of Mr. Weimers. He went to the bank and was amazed to learn that no deposits had been made by him yesterday or day before. The matter was immediately given to the police who went to the various ticket offices in the city where they learned that a man answering his description had been pricing tickets, both yesterday and the day before. None was purchased by him however. He wanted a ticket for Grinnell, Ia., but for some reason did not buy one. He was yesterday afternoon Mr. Weimers and Officer Turnbull went over to the Bluffs but did not succeed in getting any trace of him. Contant had been at work for his last employer only two weeks. Prior to that he had been at work for William Gentlemen five weeks, by whom he was considered a perfectly reliable and honest man. Mr. Weimers employed him upon the recommendation of a salesman for Poycke Brothers, of this city. Contant came to Omaha from Mankato, Minn., and it is thought by that he is now on his return to that city.

THE COUNTY COURTS JURISDICTION.

The Authority of That Tribunal to Revive Dormant Judgments to be Decided by the District Court.

In the district court yesterday before Judge Wakeley the case of Benzoni against the B. & M. railway in Nebraska was on trial all day. This action is brought to recover $15,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff from the acts of the defendant. Benzoni is the lessee of lots 3 and 4, in block 125, on which he had constructed a large building which was filled with ice. The defendant owns lots adjoining the ones leased by Benzoni and erected a barrier in such a manner, as plaintiff alleges, that the surface water overflowed, to the depth of several feet, the leased lots, thereby destroying and damaging the ice and ice house to the amount above named. The case is being tried to a jury and will probably consume the remainder of the week. Before the Judge Neville the case of Dennis against the Omaha National bank occupied the attention of the court. This action was instituted to recover the value of an alleged homestead which plaintiff claims was exempt under the statute. The judgment by virtue of which it was sold was rendered in the county court and was revived in this tribunal, having become dormant. In this case, will come up for decision the much mooted question among lawyers as to the jurisdiction of the county court to revive a judgment when once it has become dormant. The following is the assignment of cases for to-day. BEFORE JUDGE WAKELEY. Omaha Barb Wire company vs. City of Omaha. Benzoni vs. Burlington & Missouri river railroad company in Nebraska. Field et al. vs. Gotheimer. Merchants National bank of Deadwood vs. McHugh. Kaufmann vs. Ballou. Stegle et al. vs. Mount et al. Barker vs. Jorgensen. Randolph vs. Douglas county. BEFORE JUDGE NEVILLE. Gaslin, Jr., vs. North. Gaslin, Jr., vs. Bartlett. Goldman vs. Brown. Brad vs. Miller. Dennis et al. vs. the Omaha National bank. Bramford vs. Omaha. Manning vs. Omaha. Foy vs. A. Brown et al. Irving vs. Page. Rosewater vs. the Tribune Printing company.

Dangerous Baggage.

Yesterday a satchel was brought into the transfer by the C. & B. Q. train from the east. When a few miles east of Council Bluffs, the satchel was accidentally dropped by one of the baggage men on the train, and immediately following the fall came the report of a revolver, and the ball entered the baggage man's leg, inflicting quite a severe wound. The satchel was brought to this city, and found to contain three revolvers, all of which were loaded, only one chamber having been emptied, and that into the leg of the baggage man. The owner of the satchel called for it last evening, but Mr. Haney refused to deliver it until he had made an investigation.

President Crawford was in the chair. The members present were: Eicke, Freeman, Ryan, Allen, McCardle, Paulsen, Bolin, Seivers, Solomon, Matthias, Treeman, Traitschke, J. McCardle, Brown, Shivers, Wm. R. Brown, Van Dorn, and John Baumer. The meeting being called to order by the president, the annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. The secretary's report showed the membership of the society to be eighty-five, and that all the members had paid their annual fees. The annual fair of 1883 was held from September 10th to 15th, inclusive, in connection with the Nebraska State Fair. The cash premiums offered by the directors of the board of managers amounted to $1,260.25, and that the total amount of premiums paid was $278.25, and in addition thereto a number of diplomas were given. The reports of both secretary and treasurer were referred to a committee consisting of Elijah Allen, J. McCardle and Jacob Shivers. The officers for the ensuing year were then elected by acclamation, and are as follows: J. F. Paulsen, president; Henry Eicke, vice president; J. Baumer, secretary. Henry Eicke, treasurer. The board of managers for the ensuing year is composed of the following named gentlemen: N. I. D. Solomon, P. McCardle, A. Treeman, Jacob Shivers and Elijah Allen. On motion the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That it is the sense of this society to erect a building on the grounds of the driving park association for the use of the Douglas county agricultural society's exhibit, and that the board of managers be instructed to carry the resolution into effect if they can make satisfactory arrangements with the driving park association. Resolved, That the sincere and hearty thanks of the Douglas county Agricultural society are due, and are hereby tendered to our retiring president, Geo. A. Crawford, Esq., and retiring treasurer, James J. Brown, Esq., for their earnest and efficient services in the interests of this society. On motion board adjourned.

The Pool Tables. The recent order issued by the Marshal to the effect that all keepers of billiard and pool tables in this city must pay a license on the same, has stirred up the saloon-keepers considerably, and the Marshal is besieged daily by keepers of tables who endeavor to have the order withdrawn, but the Marshal is firm and declares that it is a state law and must be enforced. He says that he has been altogether too lenient with the saloon men, and that they have taken advantage of it, and grossly abused the privileges granted them. That is, a number of them have done this, until it has become a stern necessity to draw the reins upon them all.

A BOLD BURGLARY.

Thieves Enter the House of Mr. Ayres, on Thirteenth Street.

A Booty of $486 Secured by Them—No Clue to the Robbers.

A very daring and successful robbery was committed in this city on last Tuesday night, the thieves carrying off a large booty. Mr. J. B. Ayres, a veterinary surgeon, who lives on Thirteenth street between Howard and Jackson, had been busy all day Tuesday collecting his bills of last month. When he went to bed Tuesday evening he placed his pants, containing his pocketbook in which was $486, under his pillow. Some time during the night thieves entered by the rear door of the house, and stealing silently into his room, made away with pants, pocketbook and all. Mr. Ayres did not know of his loss until he arose in the morning. In the back yard he found everything stolen but the money. The burglars undoubtedly were acquainted with the premises and the habits of Mr. Ayres. To gain admittance to his room, by the rear way the robbers had to pass through the kitchen, and the sleeping apartments of the housekeeper. Upon retiring he locked the rear door and left the key in the pocket of some one on the outside by the means of some sharp instruments used in turning back the key. Mr. Ayres, being subject to calls at all our hours, wakes very easily, but heard nothing at all of the burglars. Upon waking in the morning he had a slight feeling of sickness and thinks it extremely probably that chloroform or some anesthetic was administered to him to enable the burglars to more effectually do their work. Nothing at all was disturbed in the room to indicate that it had been invaded by robbers, their manifest intention being to secure what they got. Mr. Ayres says that to his knowledge only two or three knew he had this amount of money. The affair has been given to the police who, it is said, as yet have no clue.

After an interesting debate the resolution passed without a dissenting vote. The following newspapers were represented at the meeting: Omaha Post and Telegraph, Grand Island Herald, Sutton Freie Presse, Norfolk Democrat, West Point Volksblatt, Nebraska City Staats-Zeitung, and Falls City Independent.

Card of Thanks.

The parents of the victims of the recent powder house explosion desire to return thanks to their many friends for the efforts to lighten their great affliction, and particularly to the teachers of the South school, in permitting the children—the playmates and schoolmates of Johnny Shitta and Willie Mallus—to attend the funeral services.

The Givens Trouble.

The man Givens and his wife were in police court Monday morning, and their case was continued for two weeks. The following communication may add some interest to the case: OMAHA, Neb., March 4th, 1884. EDITOR BEE:—I have been slandered, abused and insulted in the A. M. E. church, of this city, by the elder and others, for the purposes which will be explained in the police court as soon as Mr. Johnson recovers his wounds received at the hands of one Givens and his mistress. It is reported that I am not a member of that church, and never was, and Monday night the members of the church not being satisfied with the conduct of the elder of that church, met for a satisfactory settlement of the difficulties. I with others met in the church, when I was ordered to leave the church, at the same time informing me I was not a member of that church, and that I never had been received as such. In order to show my respectable connection to that church, and to establish for myself a good peaceable Christian character, I ask you to publish the following: When I left Leavenworth, Kansas, I procured a letter from Elder Hender showing me to be a member in good standing in the A. M. E. church of that place, of which he was pastor at that time. I brought that letter to Omaha when I came here to reside. As soon as convenient I gave my letter to Elder Buri Mitchell, who was pastor of the A. M. E. here, who in due time read my letter to the church, and I was received as a member, and was assigned a class, where I have been ever since, paying my class fees and quarterly.

A PROMISING ENTERPRISE.

A Large Wholesale and Retail Store of Confectionery and Retail Store to be Opened at 1211 1/2 Main Street.

An enterprise which promises to eclipse any thing of its kind in Omaha is about to be started. Fay & Co., of Minneapolis, have rented the large store at No. 1211 Farnam street, formerly occupied by Pierce & Bradford, and will put in one of the largest wholesale stocks of confectionery in Omaha, or the west. Besides this line of goods they will do a jobbing trade in cigars and fruits and intend to keep on hand always a supply of goods which, in quality, cannot be surpassed and in price cannot be beaten. These men have an extensive knowledge and a long experience in their business, and will keep on hand all kinds of goods in their line. In connection with their wholesale business they intend to build up a retail trade, so that they will be able to furnish their customers with good of the best quality in any quantity. There is no better place in the city for a business of this kind. It is just midway of the principal street in the city. In a short time only, this street will have more travel and do more business than any two streets lying parallel with it in this city. No better street or place could have been selected for a store of this kind. This firm undoubtedly will have the largest and finest retail store of its kind in Omaha or Nebraska. Candies, fruits and cigars are the goods which these gentlemen intend to deal most largely in and no pains will be spared to serve their customers with anything in that line. This firm will open its store in a few days where they will be pleased to have all those wishing good in their line, call and examine prices and goods. It has been the principle of Omaha and its people from its beginning to welcome here any new business or enterprise of whatever kind, and with such a feeling existing, for these gentlemen we bespeak success, a good custom and a liberal patronage.

How is it, Doc?

Can there be no remedy for the evidently inadequate facilities for the surveying of lots and tracts of land needed for farming? To illustrate the difficulty: A man recently bought fourteen acres of brush land at Florence, which he wished to have cleared and put in cultivation this season. But without surveying, there is no such thing as coming anywhere near a certainty as to the lines, surrounded as it is on all sides with similar land. He writes a letter to the county surveyor enclosing postage and receives no answer. He writes again, no answer. He then calls upon him at his office and the man of right angles and triangles looks up from his maps long enough to say he is very busy and that is all the satisfaction received. One does not wish to run the risk of going beyond the proper boundary and pay about $7 per acre for clearing off some one else's land. For want of a surveyor must one lose the use of land that he wants put under cultivation now? Is there no remedy? IRVINGTON, Neb., March 3.

The Sunday Rule.

The saloon men of this city were talking yesterday about the action of the city council in granting the Stadt theater permission to keep open Sunday evenings, and many were loud in their denunciations of such a course. They one and all claim that if the Stadt theater has a right to run on Sunday night that they should be granted the same privilege, as the law is no respecter of persons. There promises to be some fun in regard to the saloon matter before the business is satisfactorily arranged.

He writes a letter to the county surveyor enclosing postage and receives no answer. He writes again, no answer. He then calls upon him at his office and the man of right angles and triangles looks up from his maps long enough to say he is very busy and that is all the satisfaction received. One does not wish to run the risk of going beyond the proper boundary and pay about $7 per acre for clearing off some one else's land. For want of a surveyor must one lose the use of land that he wants put under cultivation now? Is there no remedy? IRVINGTON, Neb., March 3.
