draw a larger crowd than before. An interesting, forcible speaker, and one who handles the temperance question in a practical and political sort of a way, she holds the attention even of those who do not agree with her on the views advanced. The observations recently made by her in a trip through Kansas will prove an interesting feature of the lecture. A man named Herd was run in by the police yesterday morning as a vagrant. He wanted a blacksmith to make him some burglar tools and acted strangely, and it seems that he is a victim of the opium habit. He has with him a first-class certificate as a school teacher and seems to have become a wreck of his former self on account of opium. Col. Wm. Orr received yesterday by express from A. Failor, of Newton, Iowa, a fine Jersey Red sow. The breed was the first to introduce this breed in this part of the country, having got them first from New Jersey, of Clark Pettit, who was the first in this country who had Jersey Reds. Mr. Failor, besides being largely interested in hogs, has some very fine poultry, his game cock "Sullivan" having alone won for him quite a reputation, having taken more ribbons than any other game cock in America. The herd of polled Aberdeen Angus and Galloway cattle, at Maco Wise's stables are attracting much attention, and were visited yesterday by many, and the sale which takes place next Thursday will doubtless attract many buyers. This breed always commands very high prices, and while not so well known here as in many places, they need but to be seen to convince anyone of their points of superiority. There are in the herd 29 bulls and 17 cows; they belong to Leonard Bros., of Missouri; who brought them from Scotland.

HEALEY HERE. The Stock Man Who Forced a Balance with Attorney Cadwell Gives Bail. A short time ago a stock dealer named Healey, who had some dealings with Attorney Cadwell, entered the latter's office and pulling a revolver, forced Mr. Cadwell to sign a check for about $700, in settlement of some alleged loss on the cattle. The details were given by THE EEE at the time, and as Healey skipped out the matter rather dropped from public attention. Constable Clatterbuck went after the man a few days ago, and found him at his home in Beloit, Lyons county, and there arrested him on the three charges lodged against him before Justice Schurz. The cashier of the bank and other citizens seemed to have great faith in Healey, and gave him letters to banks here to provide for his bail, and on being brought before Justice Schurz yesterday he gave bail in the amount of $1,100 to appear next Monday afternoon. On the charge of carrying concealed weapons he pleaded guilty and paid a fine. It is understood that Healey will make arrangements to waive examination and give bonds to appear at the district court and fight the cases there. It is said that he has money and friends, and will make a strong attempt to get out of the scrape. It is understood that he will not deny the fact of getting the check at the point of a revolver, claims that he felt that the amount was justly due him, and that Cadwell's refusal to recognize any such claim aggravated him beyond the bounds of reason, and led him to force a settlement.

The admission to the lecture of Mrs. Baxter next Tuesday evening at the Baptist church will only be twenty-five cents. J. M. Phillips has commenced suit against the Blue line transportation company, claiming $282 for goods lost in transit for the east. Those who go over to Omaha to attend the polo game there to-night should take the 7:04 train, Council Bluffs time, and returning will leave Omaha at 10:10. Wanted--Fifty teams to grade on the B. & M. railroad at $3.50 a day. Information given at the Creston house, Council Bluffs, Iowa. P. J. MURRAY. Raymond & Campbell have just completed a fifty-two foot trestle bridge about a half mile west of Underwood, which is, like all their structures, an excellent one. Manager Brown with two operators were kept busy yesterday telegraphing to Chicago and St. Louis for muzzles for Council Bluffs dogs, the local market being drained. Prof. John Noble Kercher, a convert to the Catholic faith, will give a lecture here Sunday evening which is said to have caused much comment and excited interest in other places. Mayor Vaughan says that if any one will furnish him any evidence that an opium den is running in this city he will be thankful, for he is anxious to get a chance to show how quickly he will close it up. Last evening there was a gathering of young folks at the house of Mr. Otis on First avenue, the company consisting of several classes in the Congregational Sunday school, who were entertained by their teachers. Paul Giles, a colored attaché of the Ogden house, was before Judge Aylesworth, yesterday on a charge of threatening to kill his wife. He denied it, and said the only cause of trouble was that Sam Jenkins had taken his place in his wife's affections, and he chided her about it. The decision was reserved. One of the mule teams of the Main street car fell in the mud yesterday afternoon on Broadway, near Pearl. His ruleship found the bed so much softer than he was used to that he refused to arise, and it was not until after fifteen minutes earnest persuasion that he was made to change his mind and go on with the passengers for the out-going train. The slick soap vender who offers prices of money to those who buy a pinch of soap for a dollar, ought to be shown beyond the limits. While the mayor is insisting on muzzling the dogs, he should order his police to make this fellow move on, or else muzzle the pockets of the thugs who invest in this game and thus lose their earnings. The polo club have received their new uniforms, and will this evening initiate them in a game at Omaha with the club of that city. Besides the club some fifty or more Council Bluffs folks expect to go over the river to see the game. The team consists of T. W. McGow, Charles Haas, Bert Evans, Charles Stewart, Dick Ryan, W. W. Sherman and George Brown. A few nights ago the jewelry store of Zinn & Pardon, at Anita, was entered by burglars, who attempted to blow the safe but were prevented by parties returning from a wake. Mr. Zinn, of Walnut, was telegraphed to, and visiting the place found the damage done about $100, but he feels happy that the loss was no greater. Mrs. Louisa Wainbrooker, the distinguished authoress and lecturer, will give a lecture in Spiritual hall on to-morrow (Sunday) morning at 10:30 o'clock. The circles will be held as usual at 2 and 7:30 o'clock, afternoon and evening, same place. Monday will be celebrated the thirty-sixth anniversary of Modern Spiritualism, exercises commencing at two o'clock p. m., winding up with musical dancing at night after ten o'clock. The opportunity presented of hearing Mrs. Marion B. Baxter at the Baptist church next Tuesday evening will doubtless be readily improved by a large number of our citizens. So many favorable comments have been made on her last appearance here that she will doubtless

The Dog Decree. The proclamation of Mayor Vaughan calling upon all citizens owning dogs to muzzle or chain up the same, with the threat of having all such as are not so muzzled or chained, killed after 1 o'clock to-day has caused no little stir in the city. The purpose of the proclamation is to protect the public, there having been manifest of late in this part of the country a disease among dogs resembling hydrophobia, if it is not hydrophobia itself. Ex-Marshall Jackson, it will be remembered, recently lost about $1,200 worth of hogs, bitten by a diseased dog. The farmers in Garner township have recently lost considerable stock, and other cases have been reported of late. There are in the city hundreds of dogs, some of them very fine, and many of them not worth a muzzle. Many owners were yesterday hanging muzzles or chains, or both, and the supply of muzzles was completely exhausted, so that dealers had to telegraph elsewhere for help to meet the run on their stocks. Some owners are howling worse than the dogs even. Some have an idea that at 1 o'clock to-day the police will march forth with carbines and commence shooting up and down the streets at stray dogs, and that there will be a promiscuous slaughter of the innocents. Of course this is simple nonsense. If the present police force was to do any pistol practice the citizens ought to all be warned to stay in doors and pull down the blinds. Inquiry of the mayor leads to the information that it is the intention to provide a pound and there incarcerate stray unmuzzled dogs, and let the owners provide for their release on promise of taking care of them, and that there is not to be an indiscriminate slaughter of fine dogs and all, but that some judgment will be used in killing off those which are not cared for. Those who think that it is a terrible thing to have to take care of their dogs, ought to remember that though dogs are great pets and sometimes valuable, yet that human life has also some value, and one who wants to indulge in the luxury of owning a dog, ought to be willing to so care for him as not to have him among others, or endanger others. A little common sense and reason on both sides will cause the matter to be easily and satisfactorily adjusted.
