Van Wyck Wants a Laborer as Chief of the New Bureau.

The Proposed Postal Telegraph Bill—A Plan as Large as the W. U. for $21,000,000.

FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS. SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A bill was passed authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi at St. Paul.

Mr. Van Wyck submitted an amendment, extending the provisions of the lottery bill so as to prohibit the mailing of newspapers or other publications containing advertisements or notices of railroad, mining, or other stocks of corporations by margins or puts and calls, or any agency thereof; or any notice, report or statement of such sales.

A bill was passed appropriating $25,000 to compensate the officers and men of the government steamer J. Don Cameron for losses incurred by the sinking of the steamer in the Missouri river in 1877.

The Utah bill was laid aside, and the senate resumed the consideration of the labor statistics bill.

Mr. Van Wyck proposed an amendment to the labor bureau bill, which was read, providing that the chief of the bureau be identified with the laboring classes, etc.

Mr. Van Wyck said the communism of capital was more dangerous than the communism of labor. Six railroad kings could sit in a parlor in New York and regulate everything in the country.

His adopted son's suggestion to substitute the word "department" for "bureau" and moved to make the title "A bill to establish a department of labor."

Pending the debate the senate adjourned.

HOUSE. Mr. Bayne, in offering a resolution ordering an investigation whether Wm. H. English had violated the privileges of the house, said he had information that a member of the house in the early part of the proceedings had been asked to leave his seat; that he did so; that he had gone into consultation with English, and that he had thereafter disappeared from the floor of the house without having been named.

[The member to whom Bayne makes reference is Weller, who voted on the first roll call and did not do so thereafter.]

Mr. Nichols said Jere Wilson, an ex-member from Indiana, and counsel for Peole, had been on the floor lobbying in the latter's interests.

Mr. Cannon said he had not seen Wilson on the floor and didn't think anybody else had.

After the resolution was adopted, the bill amending the Thurman sinking fund act; the bill for the Oregon Central land grant; the congressional library bill, and the educational bill were pushed for consideration.

The Oregon Central measure proved successful, the consideration of the sinking fund bill being voted down—yeas 76, nays 130.

In the discussion following, Mr. George asserted that the Oregon Central, to which the decision referred, was not the Oregon Central to which the bill related, and intimated that Cobb was misleading the house, whereupon Cobb declared he had a letter showing George to be a railroad attorney.

Pending the debate the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON NOTES. THE ENGLISH-PEOLE CONTEST.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A decided sensation was created in the house this afternoon by the action of Hoar in rising to a question of privilege and charging Hon. Wm. H. English with violating the privileges of an ex-member by lobbying in the interests of his son as a contestant in the English-Peole election case.

THE U. P. WHAT C. F. ADAMS THINKS OF IT.

Special Dispatch to the Bee. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., who passed through this city a few days ago on his way to Omaha to inspect the affairs in the Union Pacific Railroad Company has returned.

A reporter called upon him to get the impression that he had been under the road was still there and was as well managed as ever, but owing to circumstances of which they (the managers) had no control. The earnings had greatly fallen off since the beginning of this year. He had been under the impression that there had been a heavy decrease in earnings during winter months, principally due to the exceptionally bad weather, but he found to his surprise that there was little improvement in the earnings for March and April. When asked what the cause was for the heavy decrease he said it was due in the first place to the general dullness in business, which is affecting all roads more or less at present, and in the second place to the largely increasing competition that the Union Pacific has had to encounter during the last year.

The construction of the Burlington to Denver, the completion of the Northern Pacific, and the Atlantic & Pacific to the Pacific coast, and the extension of the Denver & Rio Grande to Salt Lake city and Ogden, have all affected the Union Pacific, and taken away a considerable portion of the business which it formerly controlled. Besides, competition has had the effect of materially reducing rates. He was only surprised that, under the existing circumstances, the road was doing so well. He had no doubt that in time the condition of the road would improve and it would become as valuable as ever.

Another evidence of it has just come to light. It appears that Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, has hired a house at Morristown, New Jersey, for his daughter and her husband, who put all her ample dowry into the rat hole with all the rest, and who is now too poor to live in New York.

WARD IN JAIL. NEW YORK, May 22.—Ferdinand Ward, after spending the day endeavoring to find $300,000 bail was taken to Ludlow street jail to-night and lodged in a cell. He refused to see any person.

DENIAL OF "BUCK'S" SKIPPING. General Grant stated to-night the rumor that his son U. S. Grant, Jr., had fled to escape arrest was wholly without foundation.

Vendall for Superintendent of Schools, Maxwell is Republican; the rest of the state ticket is left for the Republicans to name, and the two parties will fuse in the October election as well as in the November. The electors' nomination was left to the executive committee.

The Cattle Crop. ST. LOUIS, May 22.—John M. Simpson, a prominent cattle man of Texas, who has just made an extensive tour of the cattle region and some of the northern markets, says the outlook for beef is very fine. He reports some advanced herds from Texas already arrived at Dodge City, Kansas, and says the season drive from Texas will be larger than for ten years and will probably reach half a million head.

The Banksters. DETROIT, May 22.—The American Baptist publication society elected John H. Doane, of New York, president; vice-presidents, Samuel Crozer, of Pennsylvania; J. E. Brown, of Georgia; Edward Goodman, of Maine; E. Morgan, of Connecticut; Rev. Benj. Griffith, secretary.

Ocean Disasters. LONDON, May 22.—The steamer Castalia Palermo, from New York, is aground off Malaga, Spain. She has jettisoned part of her cargo. Rough weather prevents assistance. The British ship Syria has been wrecked off the Fiji Islands. Seventy passengers were drowned.

TENDER OF OFFICE ACT. The house committee on civil service reform has unanimously directed a favorable report on the bill to repeal the tenure of office acts.

A NEBRASKA NOMINATION. The president has nominated John D. Seaman for receiver of public moneys at North Platte, Neb.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH. The report of the senate committee on postoffices and post roads on the subject of the postal telegraph has been completed by Senator Hills. It includes a summary of the history and increase of debts, rentals and capital stock of the Western Union company, and the value of its property, leased and otherwise, and says it would now require to reproduce a line in every respect equal to those of the Western Union—300,000 miles of wire, the cost of which, including poles, construction and instruments, would not exceed $10 per mile, making a total cost of $24,000,000.

THE REPORT ASSERTS that the passage of the postal telegraph bill will reduce the average charge per telegram from 39 cents to 25 cents immediately and to 20 cents in 5 years, and secure uniformity of charges irrespective of the amount of business in different places, for telegrams to newspapers and to commercial news associations. The report further says the power which the telegraph companies themselves have for sinister purposes, will be entirely taken away, and the same power possessed by the associated press and other similar associations will also be reduced. For the purpose, the report says of giving fabulous fortunes to its inside managers of the Western Union and their friends, the temptation to abuse in the HANDLING OF THE MARKET QUOTATIONS is enormous and will sooner or later prove disastrous. The proposed bill imposes competition in furnishing such news to more important places, whereby the field for profitably tampering with public intelligence will be so narrow that the temptation can no longer constitute a sensible danger.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL POOL. CHICAGO, May 22.—The Transcontinental Railway association resumed its session this forenoon. As a condition to joining the proposed money pool, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road urges that the Union Pacific withdraw from the tripartite alliance. Whether this will be urged to the point of breaking off all negotiations will probably be determined at the session this afternoon.

The matter was discussed at the afternoon session. It was urged by Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe that the Union Pacific could not deal fairly with both the members of the money pool and the members of the tripartite association at the same time. It was finally decided, however, to continue the transcontinental association and not form a money pool. The Union Pacific withdrew its withdrawal therefrom, which was to have gone into effect May 24th. The Texas Pacific and Missouri Pacific were admitted to the association. Another meeting will be held to-morrow.

THE DEAD-LOCK AT PITTSBURG. PITTSBURG, May 22.—A conference of the Amalgamated Association and Manufacturers' committee to-day resulted in a dead-lock. The manufacturers proposed that the union should be dissolved, subsequently the manufacturers decided to apply to the court to-morrow for the appointment of arbitrators under Wallace voluntary trade tribunal act, which has been tested by the miners. The Amalgamated association officials say that they will not submit to accession of the board.

WASHINGTON'S BUCKET SHOP MAN. WASHINGTON, May 22.—No news has been received from Lewis, the missing broker. A number of depositors with Lewis refer to Col. Burnside, the disbursing clerk of the postoffice department as the one who advised them in the matter. Burnside has left for New York, and is said to be very much disturbed on account of the losses of his friends, and will endeavor as far as possible to protect them.

INDIAN TERRITORY DESPONDENCIES. ST. LOUIS, May 22.—A party of horse thieves and whisky peddlers were overtaken in Indian territory a few days ago by several officers, and in an attempt to arrest them, George Duggs, one of the thieves, was instantly killed, another was mortally wounded and a third slightly wounded. Two officers are also slightly injured.

AN ANCIENT ODD FELLOW DEAD. ST. LOUIS, May 22.—Isaac M. Veitch died suddenly at his office to-day. He was one of the best known Odd Fellows in the country. He has been past grand officer of the supreme lodge of the World, and past grand master and past grand secretary of the Missouri grand lodge.

MAKING METHODIST BISHOPS. At the Methodist conference the ceremony of consecrating bishops-elect was proceeded with. The new bishops were J. W.eldon, M. F. Malin, C. A. Fowler, W. N. Nindler and Wm. Taylor. Bishop Simpson presided, assisted by other bishops performing the consecration ceremonies.

MEXICAN REVOLUTION AND FIRES. LAREDO, TEXAS, May 22.—No confirmation here of the reported revolutionary outbreak at Linares, Mexico, forty miles southeast of Monterey. The only news that has reached Laredo is to the effect that a great conflagration has prevailed at Linares.

GREAT FIRE AT ABERDEEN. LONDON, May 22.—A fire in the lumber yard of Milnes, at Aberdeen, was most alarming. Its open yard, covering three acres, was filled with a huge stock of sawn American timber. It is believed it will continue to burn several days.

A BELGIAN LITERATEUR DEAD. BRUSSELS, May 22.—Solomon Louis Hyman, literateur and publicist, is dead.

NEWS OF THE NATION.

THE METROPOLITAN. NEW YORK, May 22.—A report that the Metropolitan bank will be wound up was revived to-day. The officials know nothing of this, although a director states the question is one to be discussed.

MORE SUSPENSIONS. E. A. Show have announced their suspension.

RICHMOND, Va., May 22.—Elliott Dewey & Co. wholesale dry goods dealers, have assigned. Liabilities $200,000; assets not known. Dewey thinks they will pay dollar for dollar. The preferred creditors amount to $30,000.

YOUNG ULYSSES LEAVES. Rumors are afloat in Wall street this afternoon from a reliable source that U. S. Grant, Jr., has left for Canada.

A ST. LOUIS ASSIGNMENT. ST. LOUIS, May 22.—Kauffman, Kohn & Co., are preparing an assignment; liabilities about $75,000; credits principally in New York; assets between $30,000 and $40,000.

ST. LOUIS ATTACHMENTS. ST. LOUIS, May 22.—Attachment suits, aggregating over $140,000, were filed against the firm of Kaufman, Pohn & Co., wholesale dealers, this morning.

PORK. PHILADELPHIA CAPTURES THE MARKET. SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BEE. CHICAGO, May 22.—The board of trade men seem strongly convinced that Phil Armour will have control of the pork market for the next four months. It is said he is selling cash pork on consumers orders at $2 per barrel under the price for May. The house claims the pork is repacked, and the overweight obtained from each barrel enables them to sell freshly packed at less than the market quotation. "The boys," though, think this shows the great operator has the market and intends to keep it. The shortage in provisions is thought to be rather small. Commission men say they have advised customers all along to let pork and lard alone, as a few strong dealers were likely to have the market under their thumbs all summer, both to squeeze it and sell their stock at good prices.

THE GRANT GRIEF. The Failure Brings Them to the Verge of Poverty. Special Dispatch to the Bee. NEW YORK, May 22.—The Grant family was indeed financially crippled in the late panic. When General Grant to-day denied the rumor that "Buck" Grant had skipped to Canada, placing it on the broad ground that the young man hadn't money enough to get out of New York, he laid bare a new idea of the extent to which the crash had injured the family.

Another evidence of it has just come to light. It appears that Senator Chaffee, of Colorado, has hired a house at Morristown, New Jersey, for his daughter and her husband, who put all her ample dowry into the rat hole with all the rest, and who is now too poor to live in New York.

ONE OF HIS NINE LIVES. How a Pucky Darby Rooster Floored a Furious Felice Foe. Philadelphia Times. "I had a rooster onct as lickt a cat."

The hero of this remarkable statement stood in the middle of a group of admiring hoodlums under the lamp-post at Eight and Chestnut yesterday afternoon, and his twinkling eye flashed defiance. "Don't believe it, do you? It's a fact, though. I us't live over here in Darby township. I had a farm-plot up thar—potato patch, barn, chickens, an' all th' fixin's. One of the chickens I had was a corker—a reg'lar ol' he-evil rooster, he was—an' he us't th' cat wuz alwuz a-fightin', but alwuz at a distance, 's' th' th' wuz afeard o' each other.

"One day I wuz a-sittin' under a tree, never thinkin' o' nothin', when all of a sudden I hears a 'outlandish hollerin' like as tho' it warn't nothin' human, an' when I ups an' goes in'th' barn-yard, what d' yez 'sposz I sees? Why, thar t'nal cat a-rollin' over an' over, an' thar a-rollin' over t'other, an' all th' time howlin' an' a-screechin' an' th' fur an' th' feathers a-flyin'—only the rooster was nearly alwuz on top and the cat underneath th' wuz.

"An' thar th' kept it up fur nigh a'nour—meot a-interferin', but just a-watchin' 't'se th' fun out. All of a sudden the cat goes to shiverin', an' the rooster catches 'im i' th' eye, an' Mr. Cat fies back dead as—a screw-driver."

The interest of the crowd as the old man proceeded was intense. "An' the rooster—why he jumps up an' crows like mad—and ruffles his feathers—that is what wuz left on 'em, an' walks away, proud as all-fired creation. After the rooster goes away the cat opens one eye, looks at the rooster and looked around, as much as to say—

"I thought you said the cat was dead," remonstrated a doubter, whose incredulous looks betrayed his want of confidence in the narrative. "So he was," he chuckled; "but he only lost one o' his eyes, and when the rooster'd dispear'd he ups and walks away with t'other eight as lively as a half-drowned kitten."
