TEUTH has been crushed to earth and will not rise again. We refer to the New York paper of that name which gained a brief and unenvlable notriety by publishcampaign.

IF Lord Alfred Tennyson's new drama, "Thomas a Becket," is not any more dramatic than his thousand dollar poem, "Freedom," is poetic, it will provella dismal failure, and ought to be burled in the deepeat depths of a London fog.

Four companies of Ohio militia are to attend the presidential inauguration ceremonies. It is hoped, for the sake of Richelieu Robinson, who sighs for the peaceful simplicity of the days of Jefferson, that they will carry no bayonets.

THE cross-walks on Farnam street should have been laid with flat stones instead of the sharp and rough granite blocks, which make it very ucomfortable for pedestrians, especially the ladles. An him with having said that he was comimprovement ought to be madenext spring ing back to the senate if it cost a quarter by laying down cross-walks of flag-stone.

THERE should be no longer any doubt as to who is to be secretary of state. There have been numerous predictions, but that of the Papillion Times settles it as follows:

We predict that Thos. F. Bayard, of Delaware, will be secretary of state, in Cleveland's cabinet.

HORACE WHITE, editor of the New York Evening Post, says that Senator Garland will probably be selected as attorney general and Senator Bayard for secretary of state. None of the independents will have a place in the cabinet, he says, because the leaders among them do not wish any such position. the leading Colorado politicians, who are

I hope you will play in some opera that will enable our people not only to hear you sing but see you acting, said I, for after seeing you in Traviata I regard your acting almost as excellent as your song. You must have been exhausted after such an effort, you was so terribly in earnest. I noticed big tear-tears and feels as wretched as if the play was a solemn and sad reality." "I had more than my usual part of the play last night," said Patti, smiling, "Alfredo, my tover, was unwell and in one scene had a fainting spell, so I not only had to do most of the love-making, fondling and pressing but to fill out his part as well as that of absentninded actors who failed to keep up."

"Turning from the sublime to the ridicu ous," said Patti, "there was an incident in the play last night that does not appear the liberetto. You remember the scene when Alfredo throws down the mo sy at my feet and in the excess of passionate grief and an-
