Worth $1.25. It was in this year that the trade dollar is the only thing that has marred the issue since 1836, with the exception of 1837, when none were coined. The silver dollar of 1804 is the rarest with thirteen stars surrounding it. A cent of the 1799 issue, in good condition. cent of the 1799 issue, in good condition, is worth $40 to $50. It is said in explanation of this that the scarcity of 1799 pennies resulted from the fact that a number of them yet on hand and unissued from the mint were struck over in 1800 to supply a deficiency in the latter year. In1815, the Philadelphia mint, the only one then in operation, was burned down and no coppers were issued that year. One of the arest cents extant is one issue of the year 1817, when the number of stars surrounding the Goddess of Liberty's head was increased to fifteen. Several thousand of these were stamped win the two additional stars were removed and the remainder of the issue of that year appeared with the original thirteen. From 1817 until 1856 there was no change in the lies. In the latter year the small nickle cents with flying eagle were stamped. These are very rare. The remarkable growth of Omaha during the last few years is a matter of occasional visit to this growing city. The development of the Storb Yards—the necessity of the Belt Lins Road—the finely paved streets—the hundreds of new residences and coatly business blocks, with the population of our city more than doubled in the last five years. All this is a great surprise to visitors and is the admiration of our citizens. This rapid growth, the business activity, and the many substantial improvements made a lively demand for Omaha real estate, and every investor has made a handsome profit.

Since the Wall Street panic May, with the subsequent cry of hard times, there has been less demand from speculators, but a fair demand from investors seeking homes. This latter class are taking advantage of low prices in building material and are securing their homes at much less cost than will be possible a year hence. Speculators, too can buy real esta's cheaper now and ought to take ndvant e of present prices for future pro ts.

The next few years promises greates developments in Omaha than the past iv years, which have been as good as we could reasonably desire. New mannfacturing establishments and large job-bing houses are added almost weekly, and all add to the prosperity of Omaha.

There are many in Omaha and throughbut the State, who have their money in the banks drawing a nominal rate of terest, which, if judiciously invested in Omaha real estate, would bring them much greater returns. We have many bargains which we are confident will bring the purchaser large profits in the

We have for sale the finest resi-
