JUDGE BREWER'S DECISION ON THE WABASH The Problishionists Getting Ready SYSTEM.

Sr. Louis, April 16 .- Judge Brewer, of the United States circuit court, delivered an oral opinion this morning on an application by the receivers of the Wabash, for an order of the court, allowing them to cease operating certain leased lines of the system after May the first next, unless these lines made all expanes incurred in operating a special lien on the separate property of their respective roads. Judge Brewer said all the leased lines, whose incomes are over and above their operating expenses, are to pay rent or interest on the mortgage assumed by the Wabash road, such rent or interest to be paid out of the net

In the case of the Tolede, Peoria & Western road income which should have been em-ployed by the receivers to pay rent, but which has been devoted to other purposes the re-ceivers are directed to pay all rent due the Tolodo, Peoria & Western out of any funds in their hands and if they have not sufficient funds the y are to is us receiver's certificates mind the necessities of receivership.

In no case will they discentinue these operations of any road they were a, pointed to preserve and keep the entire Wabash system as a "going concern," in case there is any debt incurred in running these leased lines, that is if the revenue derived from the main line is not sufficient to pay the operating expenses of the branch lines, the receivers must issue certificates to make up the differences. This can be easily done as the receivers were authorized to issue $2,500,000 of such certificates and only $5,000 of them have so far cates and only $5 0,000 of them have so far

The court then directed an order to issue at the instance of the Cairo division restoring this division or branch to its owners and taking it out of the Wabash system pending foreclosure proceedings which have been brought by the first mortgage bondholders of that read in Illinois. The court over-ruled the application of the Central trust company for the appointment of Solon Humphreys and Thos. Tutt receivers, under the bill filed by them for foreclasses. In this connection the Thos. Tutt receivers, under the bill filed by them for foreclosure. In this connection the court held the receivers were not receivers of any particular party but were the arms of the court, to hold the property of the Wabash system in possession of the court for the benefit of all creditors alike. The court also denied the motion of the first mortgage bondholders of the North Missouri Pacific road to modify the order of the court which makes the receivers' certificates a first lien on all the property of the road, including the security on North Missouri bondholders. The court room was crowded with prominent railroad attorneys from all over the country while the attorneys from all over the country while the order was being delivered. The arguments had consumed two days.

for by the ensuing congress. Attorney General Brewster endeavored to secure a deficiency appropriation sufficient to meet these demands, but his estimates were cut down one-balf simply because they were deemed unreliable and extravagant. Had Mr. Brewster administered his office with reasonable economy, no necessity would have existed for nore money than had been appropriated, but loose and extravagant methods obtaining under his conduct of the department of justice caused the appropriation committee to distrust his recommendations. It is asserted by those who claim to know that it was Mr. Brewster's practice to anticipate appropriations by ordering the psyment of old accounts to be liquidated from new appropriations, and hence there was a big slice cut off the money appropriated on the estimates of the fiscal year.
