THE THREE MOUNTS.

Epitome of a Sermon Prepared by the Late Minister of the Lutheran Church in Omaha.

"Recited" Last Night by Request, in that Place of Worship,

The beautiful Lutheran church was filled last evening with a congregation that, like all Omaha church congregations, exhibited the deep interest which such occasions awaken. And which in drawn. this case was especially marked, doubtless owing to the fact that the sermon which was to be "recited" by the present occupant of the pulpit, was prepared by the late minister-Rev. Dr. Stellingjust before his death.

After the usual services had been finished, the minister, feelingly alluding to the circumstances connected with the preparation of this discourse which he was about "to recite word for word" as headed by three men supposed to be nearly as possible, announced as the ciminals, soon after the scene on Mount subject of his address;

"THE THREE MOUNTS," to Calvary, where the three Sina', Tabor and Calvary, referring, as the scripture upon which the remarks One whom the crowd seemed most inwere founded, to Exodus xix: 16 to 19 Matthew xvii: 1 to 5, and Luke xxiii: 33. It is a remarkable fact that every one of the places where occurred some great significant event, which God wished to use for a manifestation of his power and his love, is a prominent place; a place seeming to have been selected by God as fitted to last and continue as a monumental reminder of the event occuring there. So true is this that nearly all such places are mountains, places likely to withstand the ravages of time, and yet places not remarkable except that God selected and marked them for some great event.
