

COUNCIL BLUFFS. ADDITIONAL LOCAL. THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Friday Morning, May 1. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street. MINOR MENTION.

The Methodists held a sociable at the church last evening. Mrs. M. A. Allison, of Nebraska City, is at the Pacific house.

Sells Bros' advance guard are decorating the bill boards with lithographs of the coming show.

Harry Hunter was yesterday doing heavy editorial work for the old lady, Mr. Steadman being away.

Sells Bros', car No. 1 left last evening for Missouri Valley, but left four of the paste allingers here to work the country to-day.

"The Carnival of Nations," which is to be the entertainment given by the ladies of the Episcopal church, is to open on the 12th of May.

The sale of tickets for the lecture of Joseph Cook opens to-day at Bushnell's. The fame of this orator will doubtless cause a rush for seats.

Regular meeting of Fidelity Council No. 156, R. A., this (Friday) evening. All members are urgently requested to be present at this meeting.

The city council meets in regular session next Monday evening, and the assessors expect to have the books ready for the board of equalization to commence work.

M. F. Rohrer leaves next Monday to attend the fourth annual meeting of the Odd Fellows protective association, which is to be held at Fort Madison. He represents the Council Bluffs members.

Great preparations are being made for the meeting of the State Pharmaceutical society, which opens here on the 12th of May. Not only do the sessions promise to be interesting, but there will be very fine exhibits of various lines of goods and various preparations.

The following have been chosen as the jurors for the May term of the superior court: W. F. Sapp, jr., George O. Brown, L. Swearingen, K. B. Bowman, T. B. Baldwin, D. F. Elcher, Dick Ricketts, George Blaxin, and A. B. Nichols.

Pottawatamie Grove, No. 23, U. A. O. D., has elected the following officers: D. Nicholson, P. A.; A. Bergstrom, N. A.; W. N. Monster, V. A.; E. J. Abbott, secretary; C. Barghausen, treasurer; J. L. Whitman, V. A. The grove has a membership of over fifty.

One week from to-night a rare entertainment is promised at the opera house, it being the eleventh entertainment by Miss Jessie Outhout, the tickets for which are being sold at Atkins' drug store. Those who want a choice of seats should not delay in securing them.

If the young man who is "trying" to learn the newspaper business, attended to his own business half as zealously as he does to the business of other newspaper offices, he would not have let the Globe scoop him so badly on the burglar, neither of which he had a line about.

Rev. Dr. Cooley, the new pastor of the Baptist church, is expected to arrive on tomorrow's train, over the Northwestern & Chicago. His wife and one of his daughters are expected to come with him, the other daughter and son being in college, so that they will not come until the close of the college year.

Ladies with their escorts are given front seats at the dime museum and theatre which are separated from the seats of the gentlemen by a railing. The attendance of ladies is nightly increasing, they becoming satisfied that the management is conducting a strictly moral show and are making it just what is claimed—a resort for ladies and children.

Mr. H. J. Hilton, M. D., has given up her residence and practice in this city and left last evening on a business trip through the southwest. Mrs. Hilton has been a resident and practicing physician for the past four years in this city and leaves a large practice which any lady physician might be proud of. After an extended trip she expects to locate in the east.

The Methodists are talking of buying property on Oakland avenue for the purpose of a parsonage. The move is a good one, and there seems a good prospect of its being carried to a successful conclusion. Under the itinerancy system of that denomination, the ministers can stay at one place no longer than three years at the most, and these frequent moves make it peculiarly fitting that the churches should provide parsonages and some of the heavier furnishings.

The fellow who is "trying" to learn the newspaper business, is still hot because he cannot do something to hurt the Bee. The only thing that he has effected in that way was when he induced the Bee once to give him a little employment, under the pretence that he knew something about the newspaper business. Just how the engagement ended, and other facts in the young man's history might be interesting reading to those who do not know him as well as the Bee does. Mrs. Vallier, wife of Alex. Vallier, one of the oldest residents of Hazel Dell township, has just passed away, old age and infirmities being the cause of death. She lacked but twenty days of reaching her 75th birthday, and she has resided here since 1851, having come here from Canada. She leaves besides her husband, eight children. The funeral will be held at the family residence this morning at 10 o'clock.

There are plans on foot for furnishing the needed water supply for the cemetery, and the water works company will probably lay pipes, so as to supply a fountain and to furnish water for the various purposes for which it is so much needed, in the summer time especially. It is suggested that the city, which has several fountains yet to locate, have one of them placed in the cemetery, and this can easily be so arranged that from this water can be carried to various parts of the grounds.

The attempt of one of the light-weight reporters to make out that there is trouble brewing in the cigar makers union, seems to flash in the pan, like most of his efforts, the facts being too strongly against him. The manufacturers and workers seem to get along harmoniously, with the exception of two or three men, and the union makes no appeal in their behalf, while the manufacturers give very good reasons for not choosing to employ them.

DON'T WANT TO AIR IT. Two Triplets Want to Play Hush About the St. Joe House Affair.

The case of Matt Kuhl, of the St. Joe House, was called up before Justice Frayne yesterday and, as was expected, was dismissed. This action will strengthen the feeling that the "triplets" were the ones most to blame for the disgraceful row that occurred at a late hour last Saturday night at the St. Joe House. The action of the justice in having the case brought before himself, when from all reports he was one of the parties most interested in getting Mr. Kuhl punished, has awakened much sharp criticism, and it is intimated that the matter will not be allowed to rest there. If there had been a real assault upon the justice himself and his friends, and there had been just cause for action, even then it would seem very bad taste, to say the least for him, to issue the warrant himself and prepare to hear the case himself. Much worse is it, if, as is claimed, the justice and his friends were the aggressors. In view of the circumstances it seems that the trio, if not to blame, would have been anxious to have the details of the affair shown up in an official examination.

The abandonment of the prosecution of the case looks bad. The circumstances may be brought out yet, as the county board is yet to pass upon the bill of costs, which the justice will expect the county to pay. Whether the taxpayers will feel like taking the money out of their pockets to pay for this fun of "the triplets," if they do pay the bill the board will doubtless give the public the satisfaction of the exact facts as to how the cases were made up. The dropping of the case in Frayne's court should by no means be the dropping of the case entirely.

IOWA IN PIECES. Walnut lubricates in eight saloons. The Sioux City National bank is the largest tax-payer in western Iowa, except the railroad companies. Taxes assessed against it the past year exceeded $8,000.

Edwin Abernethy, a thirteen-year-old son of Col. Alonzo Abernethy, was drowned a few days ago in the Cedar river at a point about two miles below Orange.

John Gill was seriously injured at Fort Dodge Tuesday noon by a runaway horse. Mr. Gill was caught between the wheels and the box of the buggy and dragged a distance of two blocks before being released.

A resident of Farley named Brown has given notice that he will bring suit in the May term of court against Rev. C. E. Sheble, late pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place, for slander, claiming damages of $10,000.

The two Hainabergers, charged with the murder of Enoch Johnson, were taken from Marshalltown, where they have been held for safe keeping, to Eldora on Monday for trial. The vigilantes of Steamboat Rock, it is thought, will lynch the suspected men if opportunity offers.

The Chicago Tribune on Saturday last published a table showing the cost of building improvements in the various Iowa cities during 1884. In which Des Moines is credited with $2,330,074, Sioux City coming next with $380,000, Cedar Rapids $297,580, Council Bluffs $263,000, Clinton $368,800, Dubuque $276,548 and Keokuk $110,400, all of which has thrown the Dubuque press into a spasmodic denunciation of the compiler that makes Dubuque fall of so respectable a showing.

A Washington dispatch says: Hon. J. B. Grinnell, of Iowa, who was appointed agent of the bureau of animal industry, connected with the agricultural department, has written an interesting report on the "Cattle interests west of the Mississippi river." He gave six months time to the investigation and study of the question, and during this time traveled quite 14,000 miles in carriages and by railway through the western country. The report has been published by the department.

The Extent of the Czar's Dominion. The dominion of the czar of all the Russia comprises one-seventh part of the land surface of the earth, or one-twentieth part of its whole area. More than one hundred million people call the czar father, and are under his absolute government. A child is born in Russia on an average every eight seconds throughout the year, and a death occurs every eleven seconds. The population will double in about six years at the present rate of increase.

NIGHT PROWLERS. They Try Safe-Blowing In Vain, But Get a Big Feast. Their Workings.

There is evidently a gang of hard cases still lingering about the city, improving every opportunity to plunder. Yesterday morning some fresh evidences were discovered. Hale Hutchinson, the book-keeper for L. Hammer, on opening the office of the lumber yard found that some one had been there before him. The rear door had been forced open, and the burglars had quite thoroughly ransacked the place, opening all drawers and scattering papers and books about in confusion. They had also been at work on the safe, and curiously had fiddled themselves. Mr. Hammer has had his safe attacked several times during the past few years, and has wisely concluded to keep it unlocked, rather than have it bored and blown, it having been once so broken as to necessitate expensive repairs. As usual he left the safe unlocked, and was careful not to leave any valuables in it. The thieves, however, instead of simply opening it began to try the combination lock, and unwittingly locked it. They began to drill a hole and succeeded in getting a hole nearly through, when, for some unknown reason, they gave up the task, and left, securing nothing.

The store of R. P. Snow was also visited, and considerable plunder taken. An entrance was gained by the rear door, a staple being wrenched off, and then the inner door being unfastened by means of a screwdriver, which was shoved through a crack, and the bar raised by this. The fellows helped themselves at their leisure, the plunder consisting mostly of canned goods, tobacco, etc., two or three articles of clothing which were hanging up in the store, one of the fellows taking the pains to leave an old overcoat of his own in exchange for one he found there which suited him better. The safe was opened and a number of notes taken but they were old overdue ones, which were not considered of any great value except as bits of ancient history. Mr. Snow thinks his total loss is not to exceed $75.

About one o'clock yesterday morning Gene Mottaz, the watchman, found in one of the Wabash freight cars in the yards three fellows, and he drove them out. In doing so he sent the dog into the car, and soon after the fellows, whom he thought were tramps, had cleared out, the dog seemed to be enjoying a feast of some sort, and investigation showed the remains of a feast which the trio had been having, and which proved to be the remains of some of the goods taken from Snow's store. There was a new basket filled with provisions, canned meat, sardines, pickles, jelly, salmon, etc., and the marks on the half emptied cans were those of Mr. Snow.

This discovery was not made until it was too late, but the police on being notified hunted up three suspicious looking fellows, and locked them up, but there was nothing to identify them as the ones.
