R. J. Brown, of Leavenworth, ex-president of the Kansas association, addressed the convention by request.

Thirty-five new members were reported as having been added at this meeting.

An address was read and sent to the Women's Christian Temperance union, in response to a letter received from that body. In these communications the attitude of the pharmacist in regard to the prohibitory law, and the attitude of prohibitionists in regard to the pharmacy law, were dwelt upon, and some sharp points made in defense of the legitimate drug store.

DOWNING DRINK.

How the Faroucal Side of the Contest is Showing Up.

The injunction cases came up before Judge Aylesworth yesterday morning, and were continued until Saturday morning. It is generally understood that these cases have been started so that when the cases brought by the temperance alliance, to come up before Judge Connor, at Glenwood tomorrow, are called, the defense will be set up that there are these cases pending here, and an effort will be made on this ground to get the cases at Glenwood dismissed.

Then these cases can easily be dropped here, and the bottom will fall out of all the cases.

The petitioner, who signs most of the cases brought in the superior court here, is C. Schillme. Just who he is no one seems to know. One of the petitions appears to be from one McCarthy, another by John Coyle, and another by G. A. Bergman. Just who these petitioners are is likewise a mystery.

The attorney for these petitioners are these petitioners and against the saloon men is W. H. Ware, and from the statement of the saloon organ, in its last issue, it appears that Ware is the attorney for the liquor dealers. It is thus evident that there is a scheme on foot, the purpose of which is yet to be fully revealed.

The fact that some of the petitions, in the liquor cases started in the superior court, bear the name of G. A. Bergman, have led to the report that the Bergman thus seeking to cross the saloons, is the well known "Gus" Bergman. The latter denies that he ever authorized his name to be used, and says that he does not know anything about this move. He ought to know, and if his name is thus used without his consent, he ought to declare war on the fellows that borrowed it.

BAZAAR OF NATIONS.

A Variety of Elegant Costumes and Numerous Attractions.

The entertainment in progress in Masonic hall, under the name of "The Carnival of Nations," continues to delight and interest large crowds of ladies and gentlemen. Last evening the attendance was as on the previous evening, very large, and there was fully as much enthusiasm as on the opening night.

late and wafers, and all sorts of confectionaries. A pretty little gypsy tent, with still prettier gypsies, is the favorite for those who want their fortunes told. At the Italian booth are to be found bananas and other fruits. In Marie's confectionery bower are served strawberries and cream, and other refreshments. The American booth is as attractive as any, and all series of tempting refreshments are to be found here, presided over by the goddess of liberty and Uncle Sam. Near this a wigwam, where are to be found some of the aborigines. In each of the booths are to be found characters costumed in the dress of the country represented by the booth, so that the whole appearance of the place is bright, attractive and varied.

Last evening there was a regular New England supper served in the American booth, and besides the grand march, which is to take place each night, there was a chance given for dancing. This evening there will be special attractions introduced, so that no two evenings will be alike, and those who go every night will find something new to please them.

The affair promises to be profitable financially, and it is to be hoped that a large amount of money will be realized for the helping complete the beautiful church, a building which promises to be one of the finest in the state, and one which will be so much of a credit to the city that all should be interested in its completion.

VAUGHAN'S VETO.

He is Determined to Have His Pets Kept in Office.

The Reasons Why the Recent Election Was Illegal.

As announced in yesterday's BEE, the mayor has decided that the recent election of city officers was not legal, and that the old city clerk and old chief of the fire department must stick. It will be remembered that when these same fellows wanted to get Templeton removed from the office of chief of the fire department, to make room for Walters, they would listen to no reason, and no protest against the policy of changing chiefs, for political reasons, but now that the shoe pinches on the other foot, this is their first cry.

The mayor's veto has been filed, and as written in the bold chirography of "John Jay" reads as follows:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, COUNCIL BLUFFS, May 12, 1885: To the Honorable City Council of the City of Council Bluffs, Iowa.—Gentlemen:—I herewith return to you unsigned the resolution offered May 11, 1885, proposed with the election of city clerk, and clerk of the superior court (Council Journal, page 800). Also a resolution that the council proceed with the election of a chief of the fire department, which I also refuse to sign. The reasons of both of the said resolutions, and for such refusals, I beg leave to state.

First.—With relation to the re-election of the said clerk that the statute of this state provides that he should have been elected at the meeting on the second Monday after the election of aldermen. The evident object of this provision of the statute, in my opinion, is that the clerk then in office may know at the expiration of his term whether his employment is to be continued for a further term. After having continued him for this length of time after the expiration of his term, and when, but for such continuance, he might have procured other employment, in my opinion, is an implied contract on the part of the city to employ him for another year, and the election of a successor at said election, is a plain violation of the law and great injustice to the said incumbent.

Second.—With relation to the chief of the fire department, Section 2, of the city ordinance, providing for said officer, states that the chief should hold his office for a term of two years, unless sooner removed for misbehavior, and a successor elected at the annual election. The intention of this section is evidently for the purpose of enabling the chief of that department to become efficient by experience in the same, and that the important position may not be interfered with and hampered by reasons of politics and changes that may take place in the city council. No charges have been made against the present incumbent, and it is not even claimed that his services have not been efficient, and no effort has been made to remove him from this cause, and his term of office as fixed by ordinance not having expired, in my opinion the council has no legal right by said resolution to proceed with the election of an ordinance cannot be regarded as a resolution. It is in my intention and desire to here veto all resolutions, acts and records connected with the election on May 11, 1885, of the city clerk and chief of the superior court and chief of the fire department, as said election was had and done in violation of the law and city ordinances. Respectfully submitted,

W. R. VAUGHAN, Mayor. A notice was served on the newly elected clerk, Mr. Dairyple, yesterday, notifying him of the action of the council and of the veto, and like notices sent to the new chief of the fire department.

The other officer, C. J. Beckman, elected as poll tax collector, appeared and qualified without any objection.

Regulating Railroad Rates.

Christian Union. Laws attempting to regulate freights now exist in seven of the states. We think it safe to say that the notion that the railroad corporation is a private individual, and that the individual shipper must make his own bargain with it as he would with his butcher or shoemaker, has substantially passed away. The only question for the future is how to regulate the railroad rates so as to secure justice for the public without inflicting injustice on the railroad builders and operators.

A Light Sentence.
