"Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem," a sermon by the Rev. James Runcle, D. D., of St. Joseph-- List of the Delegates Present -- Standing Committee, etc.

The eighteenth annual council, of the protestant episcopal church, for the diocese of Nebraska, convened yesterday morning, at Trinity cathedral, corner of Capital avenue and Eighteenth street. The attendance of ministers and delegates is large. At 9 an interesting meeting was held, followed by communion services. A short recess was then taken, and at 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. James Runcle, D. D., of St. Joseph, Mo., preached an eloquent sermon, using for his text these words: "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem; they shall prosper that love peace; peace be within thy walls and plentifulness within thy palaces."

At the close of the sermon, the church council met and organized by the election of James Paterson as secretary for the ensuing year. An adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock this morning another communion service will be held, after which the council will convene again. One of the interesting features to-day will be the election, at 3:30 o'clock, of a treasurer.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

Preparations for the coming work--The Enumerators. County Clerk Leavitt received yesterday morning from Census Superintendent Lane, the necessary books and blanks for taking the census in Douglas county, together with properly filled-out commission blanks for the several enumerators. The books, etc. are very neatly and conveniently arranged, and embrace the proper forms for recording all the necessary data of an exhaustive census report. The books and commissions, however, for the city enumerators have not been received, and will probably be here in a day or two.

The following are the enumerators appointed for Douglas county by pre-cincts: E. khorn--James W. Moore. McArdle--Patrick McArdle. Platte Valley--T. J. Torrey. Union--J. G. Knight. Jefferson--H. C. Timme. Saratoga--W. H. Lawson. Millard--Fred Robinson. West Omaha--Albert M. Clarke. Chicago--Nick Rieken. Waterloo--Charles W. Parker. Florence--Thomas C. Price. Douglas--P. G. Delaney.

No notification has yet been received from Superintendent Lane as to when the enumerators must enter upon their work. It is probable, however, that all necessary preliminary arrangements will be made within the next two weeks. The city enumerators have yet to be appointed.

Legal Notes. In the district court yesterday Robert D. Duncan filed a petition for divorce from his wife, Caroline Duncan. The plaintiff in his bill of particulars alleges that the defendant, his wife, was married to him on the 24th day of December, 1877; that previous to the marriage, unknown to plaintiff, she had been wedded to one Olof E. Ericson, to whom she is still legally married. He therefore prays that a divorce be granted him. Judges Wakeley and Neville will hold a special session of court to-day in the city hall rooms, when the final business of the present term of court will probably be cleared away.

COUNTY COURT. The case of Brown vs. the B. & M. & C. B. & O. railroads, was taken up before a jury by Judge McCulloch to-day. The plaintiff asks $30 damages for property destroyed in the late freight house fire.

Troxell and Williams have commenced suit against E. Morony to obtain payment on $245.85 worth of eggs alleged to have sold to defendant in the month of April, 1885.

The following new suits were commenced yesterday: Lindauer, et al. vs. Beer. Huber vs. Anlacon. H. D. Lawrence vs. O. C. Campbell. Troxell & Williams vs. Edward Morony. Weller Higghson vs. John W. Bell.

TRACK AND TRAIL. A Little Girl's Hand Run Over by the Cars and Cut Off.

Stark and Stiff With a Bullet Through His Heart--Fell from the Cars and Instantly Killed.

The past few days seem to have been unusually productive of sensational and horrifying events along and on the various lines of railroads leading into Omaha. Monday, Frank Williams, a brakeman on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road, was killed by a tramp at Hubbard Station for no other reason than that Williams put him off of the train, where he and his partner in the tourist business were stealing a ride. The body of Williams was brought to this city last night, and a coroner from Chicago by the name of M. W. Ranfield, will arrive here this morning and take it back to that city with him. In the mean time Williams' slayer and his accomplice languish in durango at Dakota City.

At Ponca, a station on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road, 130 miles north of here, the dead body of A. G. Coleman was found yesterday morning, lying in a freight car, stiff and cold. The yardmaster and his crew were leading a lot of stock and when one of the cars moved up to the chute they were horrified at the ghastly sight which met their eyes. Coleman was lying on his back, with a revolver in one hand and his clothing was red with blood that had streamed from a bullet hole directly through the heart. He had been in the employ of the yardmaster several months, and it is supposed committed suicide, but for what cause no one knows. The body was taken in charge by a coroner at that place, and is now at the undertaker's. Full particulars of the affair could not be learned here last night, further than that Coleman was an unmarried man. His folks live in the east, but at what point is not known. An effort will be made to find and notify them before the remains are buried.

A SAD ACCIDENT. A handsome and bright little girl, 5 years old, daughter of Thomas Hobbs, whose home is at Osceola, this state, met with an accident yesterday that renders her a cripple for life. Mr. Hobbs and his family were aboard the Union Pacific train, journeying westward. It seems that at David City this little girl went outside and was standing on the platform. When the train started to move, in some way she was jostled, and losing her balance fell to the ground. A wheel of the car passed over one of her hands, cutting it entirely off. The father then stopped the train at David City with his unfortunate child, and placed her under the care and treatment of a doctor.

NOTES. J. S. Reed, a brakeman on the Laramie division of the Union Pacific, fell between the cars while the train was going through a shed near Dale creek, Sunday, and was instantly killed. He was standing on a car when the train entered the shed, and was struck by one of the timbers. Reed was a single man, and had been in the company's service two years.

The Omaha Bee Excelsior Band. The Millard hotel now boasts of a full-fledged, well-organized brass band, composed entirely of young blood men--table waiters and office boys. They are under the leadership of Levi Spencer, whose skillful manipulations of the cornet would stir the soul of Levi himself. The rank and file includes Jim Wainfield, Al Wats, George Smith, S. M. Lewis, John Moeht, John Sappleton, Frank Golden, John Martin, John King, George Boulden, Richard Gamble, Charles Washington, Charles Tolson and Mr. Yesser. The boys have just been supplied with a new set of fine instruments, and when the weather is pleasant guests of the Millard enjoy evening serenades that please their most fastidious fancy.

On receipt of a telephone message four or five police officers went out to Boyd's packing house last evening after several tramps that had congregated there, but before the officers arrived they vanished.

Judge McCulloch, of the county court, performed a double marriage at his office yesterday afternoon. The parties were Nelson Nelson and Christina Noquist; Pete Johnson and Hannah Steom.

Frank Burns, the man killed one day last week, at Dodge City, Kansas, was run out of Omaha not long ago. It seems that he bore the reputation here of being a very hard citizen, and spent most of his time in jail for ways that were wicked and lawless.

Hans Larson and Fred Swanson, two amateur Swede pugilists, engaged in a little knock down and drag out last night at Peter's saloon on north Twenty-third street. Swanson was hit over the head with a beer bottle and badly wounded. Both were arrested and locked up.

The Combination Store opened to day one hundred five large oil paintings which will be sold at $3.20 and $3.60 each. Call and examine, as they are a great bargain.

MORE OF THE MURDER.

Additional Particulars in the Killing of Frank Williams.

A Chapter on the Nutsence of Tramps, Who Line Freight Trains, to Steal Rides from Place to Place.

As noted in "Trank and Train" items the body of Frank Williams, who was murdered at Hubbard last Monday, arrived here yesterday evening and will be sent on to Chicago this morning. The Sioux City Journal of Wednesday morning contains particulars about the inquest held over Williams at Dakota City, Tuesday, as follows: The coroner's jury found that deceased came to his death from a gun-shot wound at the hands of Robison, and that Charles Davis was an accomplice in the killing. This verdict was reached after hearing the evidence of the men who saw the affair, and of the surgeons who made a post mortem examination of the body. The two tramps, Robinson and Davis, are confined in the county jail at Dakota City, and are to have a preliminary examination on Friday. Frank Williams, brakeman on No. 16, had been in the employ of the company about two months, was a single man, and had relatives in Chicago. A telegram was yesterday received from the Chicago chief of police asking that his remains be sent to that city and they are to be forwarded to-day. From a gentleman who talked with a brakeman who was with Frank Williams and saw the killing, the following account was obtained: The two tramps were found on the train at Hubbard, and Williams put them out of the car, using no more force than is usual or necessary. The men were abusive, particularly Robinson, a small man with a withered hand. Robinson, as he was leaving the car, called Williams a vile name, and Williams ran after him. He had not struck the tramp nor overtaken him when the fellow turned and shot, the bullet hitting Williams in the breast. He died almost instantly.

Conductor Hobert, of the Norfolk train, speaking of the shooting of Williams, said: "What to do about this tramp business is not so easy to determine. This morning in leaving Norfolk three of these fellows tried to get on the train as it was pulling out, but I spotted them, and they got when I spoke. It is not one day now and then, but every day. I venture to say that every freight train that comes or goes from St. Louis City at night brings in or takes out tramps. Suppose the tramps find them, they can only put them off at the first station, and very likely they get on the same train again. It is easy enough to get on freight trains at night, and as long as the only way to get off is to get off at the first station they will ride when and where they please. I had some experience with tramps while under-shipper in a Wisconsin county. They are as well posted as any commercial traveler, know the towns where food is plenty and easy to get, where they are well fed in jail, and where they are worked on the streets or in some place."

The four tramps rounded up by the combined force of the police department and the sheriff's office the afternoon previous were brought before Justice Foley yesterday morning. Low Wallace was the name given by the tramp who emptied his revolver at Deputy Sheriff Orikahank. Lew was sent up to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of assault with intent to kill. The others answered to various names, three of them slandering the honest name of the highly respected John Smith by giving them false names. They were sent up for thirty days each on the charge of unlawful assembly. It is understood that they will be turned loose after the circus has left town. Here was a splendid opportunity to organize a chain gang wasted.

VIOLIOUS VIRAGOS. An Iowa Justice of the Peace on a "Spec" in Omaha, He Gets the Worst of It.

About twelve o'clock yesterday David Dunkel, a man from Council Bluffs went into the notorious "castle" of Belle Henderson, alias Johnny Bull, at Eleventh and Capitol avenue, to get a watch which he claimed had been stolen from him the night before, and taken there. He became involved in a dispute with Belle and before he could protect himself, the enraged female was belaboring him savagely with a stove poker. In this operation she was assisted by Sadie McBride (white) another notorious slattern, who was at that time in the house. Before Dunkel's cries for help could avail anything, the two women had inflicted several severe cuts on his face and head. Responding promptly, Officer Frank Bellamy appeared upon the scene, arrested both women and took them with Dunkel to the jail. John Campbell, who Dunkel accused of having stolen the watch were also placed under arrest, and locked up.

During the afternoon Henderson, McBride and Plum were arraigned before his honor, Judge Stenberg, and given a trial. The two women were fined and sentenced to serve a term, each, in the work house. McBride, $20, and thirty days; Henderson, $25 and forty days. As neither of them have any money, this means, fifty and sixty-five days for Tuesday from serving a term. Plum was remanded back to jail for further examination, but as there was no special charge against Campbell the judge let him go.

SOMETHING OF A STORY.

How the Man Who Died at Wahoo Came to be Poisoned.

The drug and medical fraternities of Nebraska are just now more or less interestingly agitated over a queer case of death by poisoning out at Wahoo. Not many days ago a man who had recently emigrated to Wahoo from Illinois, very suddenly laid down and died. A post mortem examination of the body was made, which resulted in the physicians declaring that the deceased came to his death from being poisoned. On the strength of this conclusion, a druggist in Wahoo, by the name of Lamb, from whom this man had been getting a prescription filled, was arrested and held to answer to the charge of manslaughter. To attend the preliminary trial of Lamb, five druggists of this city and ten from Lincoln were summoned to appear as expert witnesses in the case. They went to Wahoo last Monday, but the case was continued until some further date.

Right here comes in the particulars, as related to a reporter for the Bee last evening which makes this affair not only interesting but rather peculiar. Probably there are not very many similar cases on record. When the man who died, came to Wahoo from Illinois, he brought with him two bottles of prepared medicine, which he was waiting for some kind of disease, which he did not expect. His imported supply was finally exhausted, he went to Mr. Lamb, with his receipt, and had the latter fill up his bottle again. It is stated the prescription distinctly directed that the medicine should be well shaken before taking. But it appears that the patient, as nearly all patients do, became careless and "took his medicine" without paying attention to the shaking of it. This, of course, left the heavy drug all at the bottom of the bottle, therefore what he drank out at first was weak. As he neared the bottom, however, it was doubly strong, and rank enough to poison. The ingredients contained in the medicine have not yet been made public.

While dying the victim acknowledged, what has been stated above, and in the manner in which he used the medicine. The directions also said that it should be taken in measured doses, and the man further testified that he never stopped to measure any of the quantities taken each time.

Died from Being Stung. John Wedeknow, who was stung about four weeks ago near the Union Pacific depot, died yesterday at St. Joseph's hospital from paralysis caused by the blow he received on the head.

Election Methods in Chicago. CHICAGO, May 20.--Late last night a novel development in connection with the city council canvass of the votes cast at the late municipal election was made known. Last Monday evening the council referred to the returns of thirty precincts of the second ward from which it was in question whether the council committee on elections for its decision as to their admissibility. Alderman Appleton, of the second ward, is chairman of the committee, and the returns in question are legally in his possession. Last night he left the city saying he would go a month for his health. Without these returns the council is unable to proceed with the canvass, and this claim the council will now close the canvass on the grounds that it cannot wait for Appleton's appearance.

Cattle Breeders Organizing. ELGIN, Ill., May 20.--About twenty representative breeders of Holstein cattle from the different parts of the state met here this afternoon to consider the advisability of forming a state association. H. M. Patrick, of Marquette, was elected chairman, and a committee of five was appointed to procure a charter. Dr. Joseph T. S. N. Wright, John T. Mann, N. J. Heiler, and Dexter Severy were elected secretaries, and the meeting adjourned to meet on the 25th inst. The secretary was instructed to issue a circular inviting all breeders to attend a meeting at Elgin on June 15 for the purpose of perfecting a permanent organization.
