Leave to marry was yesterday given to C. H. Halliday and C. C. Watkins. The former is from Bureau county, Illinois, and the lady from this county.

Pool selling, and headquarters during the races, at the Pacific house.

Some maliciously-inclined person yesterday put several cuts with a knife in a new rubber coat that was hanging outside the pawn shop of D. Goldstein, on Broadway.

Bricks for sale in large or small lots by J. A. Weaver, 815 Seventh avenue.

The two young men who were some time ago arrested at the transfer on the charge of burglarizing a store at Missouri Valley, have broken jail from Harrison county.

About forty boys and girls from the catholic schools will next Sunday observe their first communion, and the services at the church will be particularly interesting.

Reiter is offering great bargains at his merchant tailoring establishment, No. 310 Broadway. See his goods and get his prices.

The Council Bluffs driving park association seems to be no sort of a weather prophet. It always fixes its dates on rainy days. It ought to hire some good sign service man to pick out fair days for the races.

Bargains in silk at Harkness Brothers'. The waterworks company will keep their office open at the noon hour and from 7 to 8 o'clock in the evening, to accommodate those who are engaged during the regular business hours of the day.

Buy a good carpet sweeper at Harkness Brothers'.

A permit to wed was yesterday granted to A. W. Mandermakers and Wilhelmina K. Themer. The carpenter firm of Mandermakers & Van seem to be "joiners" also, as Van, the other partner, got a license the day before.

White goods and summer dresses goods at Harkness Brothers'.

The four-year-old boy, Bert Hunt, who fell down the cellar stairway at his parents' residence, 722 Fourth street, a few days since, and received severe injuries to his right side, is slowly recovering.

John Frederick, who seems to have a very hard reputation as a "coon carver," now lies in the city jail on a charge of assaulting another colored man, named John Beecher, a razor being the offensive weapon. No blood was shed in the rumpus.

A quiet talk was yesterday had between several gentlemen in the mayor's office, planning or trying to plan with a Knoxville, Marion county, man about getting a delegation to the convention in August next that was favorable to the mayor as democratic nominee for governor.

The city marshal yesterday served notices on all the railway companies that they must not run their engines faster than about eight miles an hour inside the city limits, and must not let their cars stand on street crossings, so as to obstruct travel, and that any violation would be prosecuted, by order of the city council sitting as a board of health.

Whenever there is a scarcity of local news the evening papers always put in an account of McClurg's cracker factory team running away. One would suspect that it is an advertising dodge of McClurg's, if it were not for the fact that they are so persistent in declaring that they have had no runaway, and they don't want any such notices.

The prohibitionists have served a notice on Ed Sherlock, the partner of Henry Wagner, that an injunction will be asked for against him, before Judge Looftbourne, in the district court next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A like notice in another court was served on Wagner some time ago. This is the first of the Council Bluffs injunction cases brought in the district court.

One of the race horses at the driving park yesterday morning got away, and made a wild run out of the gates, and away to the transfer and dashed into the building itself, and was there caught, causing quite a flurry of excitement in and about the depot. There seems to be a mania among the horses to enter buildings. Only a night or two ago a colt managed to climb the stairway to the second floor of Everett's block, and this other incident following so quickly gives color to the belief that it is an epidemic.

Everybody is going to Old John Robinson's great show, which is to be here next Saturday. This show does not make as big a spread on paper as some others, but puts the extra money into the show itself, so that the people get more satisfaction. Robinson takes great pride in keeping all of his advertised promises, and the praise which the show is winning everywhere this season is proof that this season it is a better show than ever, which is saying enough to cause every man, woman and child to be anxious to take it in.

Dr. Capell, who has lately located here, and established an office in the opera house block, has concluded that this is a good field for the starting of a popular medical journal, and has completed arrangements for publishing such a one, to be known as the Council Bluffs Medical Journal, the first number of which will appear in about ten days. It is his purpose to give the people the benefit of the latest facts in the science of medicine, the peculiarities of different diseases and how to treat them. Care is to be taken to use plain language, simplifying and explaining professional modes of expression so that the journal may be of practical use in the household.

The Wabash railway is arranging for a change of time-table, to go into effect next Sunday, by which the leaving time will be an hour and a half later, thus accommodating the public much better than now. There will also be a change by which the trains will leave the transfer, and then stop at the local depot, instead of the reverse way now followed. The establishment of a local depot meets a long felt want, surely, for the inconvenience of going clear out into the country, at the transfer, to get a train has been a serious inconvenience, and has given other roads, having local depots, a great advantage. Not only will the public appreciate the convenience of the local depot, which can easily be reached by street cars, and which is within easy walking distance of a great portion of the city, but the road will find that their business will be increased by thus accommodating this city.

A BLUE OUTLOOK. Rain, as Usual, Spoils the Races at the Driving Park.

The rain yesterday made a sad interruption in the races, and the programme, as announced for yesterday, goes over until to-day, so that, should the weather prove favorable, there will be all that can be attended to. The rain is a great disaster to the success of the meeting, which otherwise promised to be so great. With one of the finest fields of horses ever gathered at any meeting in this part of the country, with the best track in the west, there seemed nothing to be desired but good weather, but that was essential. Since the opening meeting of the driving park association there has not been a single meeting which has not been interfered with, and practically spoiled by bad weather. At each recurring meeting the plucky managers and directors have gone down into their own pockets, and labored with some of the more enterprising citizens, to get the means of hanging out heavy purses again, and meeting the large expenses, hoping that the results would commensurate somewhat with the exertions put forth, but each time, just as their hopes seemed about to be realized, the rains set in and all proved in vain. By this long continued series of misfortunes, a heavy financial burden has had to be borne by a few men, and it is not to be wondered at if, when another attempt has been made, only to be again thwarted, that these plucky and enterprising men should feel like weakening a little, or letting some one else pat the shoulder under the burden. One prominent man was heard to make the prediction yesterday that this would be the last meeting to be held on the track here, his reason for saying so being that the few who had been bearing the burden had naturally become weary and discouraged. Added to their other discouragements is the fact that little support is to be had from the citizens here, there always being more patrons from abroad than from the city itself. If there is any benefit to be derived from the reputation gained by the track here, and the drawing of many strangers here to attend the meetings it is surely shared by many who will not do a thing to keep the association alive.

FLAG STATIONS. Several Cases of Small-Pox Reported in the Outlying Towns.

Several towns in Iowa are being troubled some by small-pox. Seven cases of the disease are reported as having been at Shenandoah, two of which have proved fatal, and two others as very likely to prove so, one of the persons now lying dangerously ill being the former editor of the Republican. Dr. Hager, of St. Jo, says that the disease has been of the most malignant type, but that no further danger is feared, as the quarantine provisions are so complete as to prevent further spread of the disease. There are two cases reported at Farragut, one case at Essex, and three cases at Sirathan.

A FRISKY FREAK. An Omaha Man Jumps From a Third Story Window of the Ogden House.

He Gets Off With a Broken Leg.

At a late hour Tuesday night an Omaha man giving his name as Michael Shay, registered at the Ogden and was given a room on the third floor. Between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning, an occupant of a room on the second floor, with a window facing out upon the roof of the one story brick building adjoining the hotel, and occupied as Metcalf's saloon, heard a noise as of a man falling onto the roof, and then terrible groans. He summoned the night clerk, and the discovery was made that Shay had fallen or jumped from the window of his room onto the roof, and was lying there in an unconscious condition. Dr. Lacy was called, and an examination showed that Shay's leg had been broken in the fall, the fracture being below the knee. It was a long time before the injured man could be brought into any condition to answer questions intelligently, and even then he could give no explanation as to how he got out of the window. In taking the jump, or the tumble, he carried some of the bed clothing with him, and the charitable explanation was that he had a spell of sleep-walking, while others assert that he was no under the influence of drink that he did not know or care what he was doing, but in a crazy fit jumped to get out of the way of some fancied enemy. It was strange that he was not more seriously injured, and he may well congratulate himself on getting off with a broken leg. Word was yesterday sent to Officer Donahue, of the Omaha police force, who is related to the injured man, and steps will be taken to have him removed to his home.
