

THE DAILY BEE.

Saturday Morning, May 30.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Yesterday's weather was drizzling and disagreeable. "V" will soon be here. Testimony in the Brighton Ranch case was taken Thursday and yesterday before Judge Hull, master in chancery. The Omaha Fair and Exposition Association adjourned last evening to Saturday at 3 p. m., to give the committee time to call on a few more citizens. The assessors will all complete their work to-day, and not later than Monday the books must be turned over. Union precinct has already been turned in. There will be an important meeting of the stockholders of the Omaha Fair and Exposition association at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the Board of Trade rooms. Every stockholder is earnestly requested to be present. Cards are out announcing the marriage at Alton, Ill., on the 27th inst. of Harry P. Whitmore, of Lincoln, to Rosalie A. Tenchery. Both the bride and groom are well known and liked here. Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore will make their home in Lincoln. On last Monday night Mr. Edmund Paulsen, son of Mr. J. T. Paulsen, was married to Miss Katie Michaels, at the residence of the groom's father, Twenty-first and Lake, justice Bartlett tying the knot. The occasion was one of pleasant social festivity. "V" is liable to create a stir. Lawyer Baldwin, who recently circulated a petition for Guthrie's pardon and submitted it to Gov. Dawes, has received notice from that worthy that the executive clemency will not be exercised. The ex-marshall will, hence, wear the stripes for several months to come. "Babe" Edgerton, the infant detective, has returned from a pleasant jaunt to Lincoln. While there he called on ex-Marshall Guthrie. He reports that the ex-marshall is looking hale and hearty--the perfect picture of health. He is feeling in good spirits and has passed the stage of anxiety about his release. Guthrie wished to be remembered to his friends in Omaha. The Bands of Hope, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., will decorate with flowers the grave of Col. Watson B. Smith. All persons wishing to offer flowers will please send them to the W. C. T. U. lunch rooms, 120 North Fifteenth street, by 12 o'clock Saturday morning. The Bands of Hope of the city are urged to be prompt in attendance at the same time and place. Mrs. G. W. Clark. C. A. Dellow and wife, North Platte; J. C. Thompson and wife, Lincoln; L. Baldwin, Chicago; T. D. Peters, Sioux City; F. R. Rockport, La Porte, Ind.; J. L. Ritter, North Bend; E. Isabelle, Osage, Ia.; F. Sanders, Rockport; H. Haupt and wife, Philadelphia; W. Keller, Troy; C. L. Fox Jr. A. Stevens, Kansas City; J. P. Purcell, Odell, are at the Cantid.

MORE SMALL POX.

The Strange Case Reported to Mayo Boyd, Thursday.

The scourge communicated by Father to Child--Criminal Carelessness. Thursday another case of smallpox was reported to the municipal authorities, which from attendant circumstances, is rather more serious than cases which have developed within the past few months. Tuesday night Dr. Parker was called in to attend the little two-year-old girl of William Nichols, who lives at Twenty-sixth and Douglas streets. The case at first appeared to be one of chicken pox, and was so treated by Dr. Parker. Later on, however, unmistakable signs of smallpox developed, and the case was pronounced to be genuine by Dr. Parker yesterday afternoon. It appears that there are connected with the affair circumstances of the grossest negligence. When questioned by the doctor, Nichols, the father, said that he had come from Shenandoah, Iowa, about two weeks ago, and while there had been in direct contact with the small pox--had even slept with a small pox patient. He had then come to Omaha and had associated with the members of his family, without taking the precaution of having them vaccinated. Why he had taken this course he could not explain, but certainly, if the story be true, his actions are nothing else than criminal. The matter was reported by Dr. Parker to Mayor Boyd Thursday. Today steps are being taken to have the entire family, father, mother, the sick child and a two months old infant removed to the pest house. They will probably be taken out to-day if Dr. Pettit has things in readiness for the reception of the delegation, and the necessary vehicle is obtainable. The matter is in charge of Dr. Brown, who is acting as city physician in the absence of Dr. Lelsensring. Dr. Parker said, in conversation with a reporter yesterday, that he did not believe that the case would spread contagion. The rest of the family, none of whom had yet developed smallpox symptoms, had been vaccinated, as had every one else who had come in contact with the disease. The house has been thoroughly disinfected. The little patient will, it is feared, die, as the case has turned out to be of the serious "confluent" type.

Spoon castor and one dozen spoons, J. A. and F. W. Anderson. The festivities attending upon the event were of the most enjoyable nature. The groom, Mr. Ganson, is well known here, being connected with the clothing house of A. Polack, and has a great many friends to welcome himself and bride. May they live long and prosper.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

The Sensation Which Developed Itself in Marshal Cumming's Mail. Marshal Cumming received yesterday a letter, which is reprinted as telling its own story, one of interesting and substantial points: OMAHA, May 28. Marshal Cumming: Dear Sir--Have been up to your office twice to-day, but could not see you. As I leave to-day at noon, going west, I wish to tell you what I witnessed Tuesday evening. A man by the name of Kelley, an ex-penitentiary convict (who embezzled from the B. & M. Railway Co.), had in his possession a little girl about 11 or 12 years of age, and Webster street. I first saw them, from there they walked to Fifteenth and California streets and took a veil and tied it over the girl's face, then turned around and went back to Fifteenth and Webster street, and forth four or five times when he met a man and they both took the little girl into the second or third house from the corner of Webster and Fifteenth. About half an hour afterwards Kelly ran out of the house and called back to some one in the house, "I will get a doctor." Then he ran up Webster to Sixteenth but came back without any in the house again. My opinion is that this man Kelly and his companion outraged and killed his little girl. My first thoughts were to call the police and have them investigate, but as I am at present in poor circumstances I feared I would get into trouble and be held as a witness. The only other person who took particular attention of Kelley's action was a lady living on Fifteenth street, between Webster and California. She is quite a stout lady and I think she will corroborate my statements. What I have said above is the God's truth, and I could not leave the city without letting you know. Yours truthfully, THOS. G. KILLINGSWORTH.

STOPPED BY A THUG.

Mr. Benson Waylaid and Requested to Give up His Money or Valuables. About 1 o'clock last night Officers Matza and Brady landed a young scoundrel in the city jail, who had tried to waylay and rob Mr. Benson, the locoman. On the corner of Twelfth and Capital avenue, as Mr. Benson was passing along the scoundrel approached him and asked for a match. He said, "I have no match." "Then give me your cigar to light mine with," was the next request. This Mr. Benson kindly consented to do. As he took the cigar he started to move away the fellow requested him to hold on and give up what money he had. Mr. Benson informed him that he had no money at that time. "You have something valuable about you though," and the ruffian made a motion to strike Mr. Benson, but he ran, got away and went up to Douglas street, where he met the officers and told them of the occurrence. They went back to Shulz's saloon, found the scoundrel there and arrested him. At the jail he gave the name of Wm. McGlen.

A BOATING CLUB.

A Projected Organization Promising Great Things for Local Sport. For some time the question has been agitated among some of the athletically inclined young men of this city of establishing a boat club here, and having connected therewith a four-oar crew, composed of some of the best material available. The project has fast been assuming tangible shape and will, no doubt, find realization. Thursday night a meeting of some of the young men interested in the scheme was held in the office of Mr. F. N. Connors, in Creighton block. About a dozen or fifteen were present and it was decided at that time to organize the boat club, and immediate steps will be taken to that end. The meeting adjourned to meet next Monday night at which time officers will be elected, and the further details of the organization perfected. There is, without doubt, plenty of material for such an organization in this city, and a first-class four-oared crew could be "put afloat," capable of coping with any of the western clubs. For instance, there are such men as Joseph R. Clarkson, formerly of the Yale, C. K. Crallé, formerly of the famous Chesapeake, E. S. Ruff, formerly of the well known Eclipse team, champions of Ohio, F. N. Connors, of the Hilldale, (Mich.) team, which beat everything in America and Europe, besides Messrs. Moody and Brown of the old Narragansett club, which has distinguished itself on numerous occasions, and G. M. Holdredge, formerly of the Harvards. From this list it is noted that there is no lack of immediate available and first-class material for the crew organization. It is believed that the entire membership of the club will be something like fifty or sixty. The place selected for a course will be Cut off Lake. This body of water has been inspected by Mr. Connors who, in such matters, is to be regarded as an expert, and he has pronounced it first-class for rowing purposes, in fact one of the finest courses in the west. It is to be hoped that these gentlemen will lose no time in pushing the matter of organization to a successful consummation.

THE WICKED WILLIAM.

Bound Over to the District Court, for Attempted Arson. The notorious William Bates, who was arrested one night last week when in the act of setting a house on fire, had his preliminary trial Thursday afternoon before Judge Stenberg, and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $600. Not being able to furnish security for that amount, of course the wretched William must languish behind the bars, a safe and appropriate place for him. The testimony given revealed a conclusive proof that Bates had, maliciously and premeditatedly, made up his mind to burn the building, and it seems also that arrangements were on foot several days to consummate the crime. The man who owned it had decided the property over to his wife, and William's "woman," who lives next door, took time by the forelock about one week previously, and had her house, which is next door to the deced building, insured. It also appears that Bates intended to burn the property once before.

SOUTH OMAHA The Advantage of Settling in the New Town. The title "South Omaha" does not mean the southern part of the city of Omaha, but is the name of the thriving town commencing at the Union Stock yards on the south, and extending for a mile and a half north, nearly connecting with the city limits of Omaha. The company have again concluded to put on sale 1,000 lots, and let the purchasers of the same realize the profit which the enhanced value of these lots is sure to make. It now being a secured fact that South Omaha is destined--in the near future--to be the largest live stock market west of Chicago, there can be no doubt that this property in a few years will be worth five or even ten times the amount that it can be bought for to-day. Some may ask: If this is so, why do not the company keep it and realize this profit forth by any new town. The large business done by the stock yards company and the immense slaughter and packing houses together with their auxiliaries are no small feature in the aggregate of events that are destined to make South Omaha a large place. Again, the town is not an addition to Omaha, and is not liable for city taxes, although it enjoys all the benefits from the growth of Omaha that it would if it were just inside the city limits, but being just outside the city limits, and as it is the case in all new towns, special inducements must be offered first to get the people to take hold and build. There are probably more such inducements offered by South Omaha than were ever put forth by any new town.
