How it Has Interfered With the Western Schedule.

Kansas City Wins the Third Consecu tive Game From Minneapolis-The Events on the Turf-Local Sports.

Playing in Hard Luck.

The rain of yesterday prevented the Omaha-Chicago game, making the fifth postponed game on account of bad weather in Omaha since the season opened. So far the Western association schedule has been sadly interfered with, only two places-St. Louis and Kansas City-having been more favored than Omaha with good weather, and in both of them three games have been postponed. In making out the schedule the committee arranged that the first games were to be played in the southern towns of the association with the expectation that the weather would prove more propitious than in the northern. But the fates decreed otherwise. Out of the twelve schedule games only six have been played at Des Meines, seven at Omaha, and each at Kansas City and St. Louis. The southern series is now nearly completed, and it is to be hoped that in their northern trip the clubs will not play in such hard

Great interest is being taken in the Omaha-Dos Moines game to-day, and last night the betting was quite brisk, but considerably in favor of Omaha. When the Prohibitionists arrive, however, they will undoubtedly bring along a contingent which will back them heavily to win. The strug-gle to-day is looked forward to as a prece-dent, and if Omaha wins no one in the city will doubt but that she is the pennant win-

GILLIG'S DEFUNCT EXCHANGE

The Liquidator Takes a Pessimistic

View of the Situation.

EXTENT OF THE INDEBTEDNESS

The Berlin Pulse After the British Queen's Visit-Her Chat With the Chancellor-Salisbury Attacks Lord Woolsey.

A Badly Swamped Institution. (Copyright 1888 by James Gordon Bennett.) LONDON, May 11 - New York Herald Cable-Special to Tue Bre.1-For the benefit of the creditors and others interested in the American exchange I undertook to gather some information from those in charge of the liquidation. Mr. Arthur Cooper, of the law firm of Cooper Brothers, is the provisional of ficial liquidator. He was seen to-day at his office and took a pessimistic view of the situation. "What do I think of the creditors prospects!" said he, with a cold smile. not much. So far I have received only about £2,000, and after paying the various expenses that sum will be lessened. I coubt if the claims against the exchange are worth 10 cents on the dollar. Its a bad business as far as I can see. They had squeezed the concern pretty dry at both ends. There is some talk of reorganizing, of finding £10,000, etc., but-Mr. Cooper concluded not to finish his sentence, and yet as well as could be judged from his mask-like face it seemed plain that he did not bank very heavily on the success of the scheme to which he referred. "Some people even insinuated," suggested the reporter innocently, "that you were in collusion with Mr. Gillig." This was one too many for Mr. Cooper "What?" he exclaimed aghast, "I in collusion with Mr. Gillig?" and then he added with majestic scorn, "my dear sir, go out into the street and ask the first man you meet if he thinks it probable that the firm of Cooper Brothers would be in collusion with Mr Gillig. Oh, upon my honor, that's a good Tell those people who are troubled with such anxiety that I had never even heard of the American exchange until I was appointed its provisional liquidator by

Mr. Justice Sterling, and that I have in al set eyes on Mr. Gillig exactly three times.' As to the details of the condition of the American exchange, the extent of their debts, how they propose to pay them, what they will do with Gillig-in regard to these and all similar questions my ignorance is profound. More complete information was obtained at the American exchange, where the acting manager and representative of the liquidator expressed himself as follows: 'You ask as to the extent of the indebtedness. There were letters of credit to the amount of about $500,000, but of these the only ones on which there is any loss to our patrons are eash letters, which amount to only £3,000, divided among forty holders Guaranteed letters of credit will be cashed by the American exchange in Paris, or by any European banker doing business with the United States. Besides the £8,000 we are unable to pay at present the sum of £27,000 in current accounts and other liabilities, both here and in New York. Our total liability, therefore, is £40,000, and our entire number of creditors is 500 at the outside Our creditors, or at least half of them, are ladies, many traveling on the continent with children, and it is fair to assume that the people who can afford to taunt about Europe in that way will not be reduced to the verge of starvation, as the letter writers would have us believe, by the loss or delay which which they may experience through us. There is no use in painting the picture blacker than it is. I have great hopes of seeing the trouble speedily arranged, for the farther off they place the day of settlement the larger becomes the amount of money frittered away. I should say that we shall pay certainly 50 cents on the dollar. It's a great shame-a very great shame-that after such a speindid start and such perfect organization this institution should come to grief because -because-but I won't go into that," he concluded sadly, "hard words mend nothing."

After Queen Victoria's Visit.

[Copyright 1888 by James Gordon Bennett.] BERLIN, May 11.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to THE BEE.]-The anglophobia that some time since seized many German classes and newspapers has now een cured. Dr. Mackenzie's patience and the queen's visit had a great effect toward such a cure. Although Queen Victoria left Charlottenburg over a fortnight ago, Berliners are still gossiping about her visit and the possible consequences of her interview and the duke of Rutland's with the chancellor. The wildest rumors are affoat in the palace and in diplomatic circles regarding the subjects discussed. The official and semi-official papers are publishing most contradictory statements. According to one the Brunswick succession was discussed. Another yows nothing was mentioned but the marriage of Prince Alexander. A third thinks the Duke of Edinburgh's claims to the throne of Saxe-Coburg were once more threshed out. Each fresh article is of course promptly contradicted and the public is left n a hopeless fog, which perhaps suits Bismarck. I have it on the best authority the queen did not venture to overstep the limits of constitutional prerogatives by meddling directly with politics, but the Duke of Rutland acted as her political mouthpiece and pressed Bismarck for a settlement of several matters long outstanding. In court circles I am assured the marriage of Alexander to Victoria was the chief absorbing topic of conversation between the queen and chancellor. Bismarck explained the reasons of state which obliged him to interfere in the affairs of the imperial family to prevent an impolitic alliance even at the cost of private suffering. He laid stress on the necessity of not offending Russia nor interrupting friendships sworn to over eighty years ago at Potsdam beside the tomb of the great Frederick. Since then each succeeding monarch has been true to the compact from Nicholas to the late Kaiser, and the present ruler of Germany. Almost the last words of the veteran William were, "Never fall out; help each other." "How could I forget the speech I made at St. Petersburg in 1873!" said the chancellor. "I should regard myself as guilty of treachery if I ever dreamt of hostility to Russia. If, however, Prince Alexander would give official, or even semi-official, expression to his alleged resolve to renounce the Bulgarian throne once and forever I should be the first to counsel my august sovereign to sanction the match." I cannot guarantee the absolute words used at the memorable interview, as they filtered through several illustrious persons before reaching me. The queen told the empress, the empress told the princess, and the princess told a friend, from whom I got the information, but I have given you the sense of them. Steamship Agents Arrested.

VIENNA, May 11 .- | Special Cablegram to THE BEE.]-By order of the Austrian minister of justice, Chief Detective Baron Splenyi arrested at the railway station here the chief Vienna agent of the Anchor steamship company and another agent named Eichhorn, who had charge of a batch of Hungarian peasants booked for America. Both are enarged with abducting men liable to miliary service and with extorting money under false pretenses. The peasants have returned to their homes, and the agents have been imprisoned and their papers seized.

Salisbury Attacks Wolsey. London, May 15—In the house of lords the Duke of Cambridge, commander of the English forces, denied that the country was in imminent danger. This was in reply to sensational newspaper articles which claim to have emanated "from the highest military authority." Lord Salisbury protested against the prevailing impression that be cause the government did not make showy speeches her ovigilance slept. He would be insane to explain to all the world what was England's strength and the nature of the precaution she was taking. He complained that the high military author ities were making statements against the government at public banquets where they could not be answered. General Lord Wei could not be answered. General Lord Wolsley, he said, had recently declared that the reason that the army and navy were not as strong as they ought to be was to be found in the system of government, by a party, which was the curse of England, depriving the English stateman of manly honesty. General Wolsley ought to have made the statement in parliament where he could have been engineer.

Later advices indicate that Lord Salis bury's speech has caused a sensation in poli-tical and military circles. The attack upon General Wolsley was wholly unexpected. The general opinion is that Lord Wolsley will resign after replying to the premier.

Sensational Encounter Between Tw Women in a Preacher's Study. WEST CLIFT, Colo., May 11 -A church candal which has been brewing for some time culminated here yesterday in a most sensational manner. The parties involved are the pastor, Rev. H. J. Ulsh, young, handsome and single, and two married ladies, members of his church, named Mrs. Kowkowsky and Mrs. W. B. Jackson. For some time it has been common gossip here that Mrs. Kowkowsky had taken a great fancy to the young divine and, was very marked in her preference for his society. Rev. Ulsh, however, it now transpires, did not recipro-cote her matronly affection and reminded her of her duty to her, husband and to the church. Frequent repulses, however, only seemed to increase the woman's in-fatuation, and she was so persistent in her overtures that Rev. Uish went so far as to lay the matter before the elders of the church and suggested resigning his pastorate No one suspected that the persecuted preacher's morals were not all that they should be and public sympathy was entirely with him. This congregation being too small to employ

This congregation being too small to employ him for all his time, he occupied the pulpit in the neighboring town of Red Springs every other Sunday. One of the most prominent and zealous memburs, of this congregation was a Mrs. W. B. Jugksou between whom and the minister there soon sprang up a friendship much stronger than was justified by their church relation of brother and sister. He was very frequently called to Red Springs and Mrs. Jackson as coften had occasion to come to West Cliff. This condition of affairs soon reached Mrs. Kowkowsky and of affairs soon reached Mrs. Kowkowsky and she determined upon an investigation. Yes-terday afternoon Mrs. Jackson visited West

Cliff and immediately repaired to Rev. Ulsh's study. Learning of this Mrs. Kowkowsky secreting a whip in the folds of her dress, also visited the study and finding Mrs. Jackson there struck her several times over the head and shoulders. People in the house came to the rescue and Mrs. Kowkowsky was carried away raving. It is feared she

The recent discovery of large iron and coal fields near Alva, in Webster county, Mississippi, has lead to the organization of a stock company of Omaha and Lincoln capitalists who will develop the mines and locate their manufacturies in this city. The purpose of the men who are at the head of the company, of which David Fitzgerald, of Lincoln, will be its president, is to organize with a capital stock of $5,000,000, and begin at once the development of the mines. They will locate foundries near the mines and convert the raw ore into pig iron for shipment to this city where they will have a number of iron and steel manufactories and make this their common distributing point for all their manufactured goods. Mr. B. R. Tebault, of Beatrice, has been in the south for the past month looking over the field. He stated to a Bee reporter yesterday field. He stated to a BEE reporter yesterday that the iron ore was very pure and had as-sayed as high as 73 per cent pure iron. The vein is eight feet or more thick and has been traced over a half mile. The coal, which is a cannel quality, is in great abundance, and after a thorough testing has been found to be an excellent material for smelling purposes. Hickory and walnut lumber abound there in great abundance, and can be brought into the Omaha market very easily. As the Illinois Central road runs within fifteen miles of this coal and iron belt and have of-fered to put a spur road into it, the men who are interested in this enterprise will open the coal fields this summer, and by fall will have their coal in the Omsha market. They feel confident that they will make their iron industry a big thing for Omaha and Ne-braska, and will begin their work with that object in view.

Keep the Blood Pure

best medicine to take to keep the blood pure and to expel the germs of scrofula, salt rheum, and other poisons which cause so much suffering, and sooner or later undermine the general health. By its peculiar curative power, Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens the system while it eradicates disease.

"Early last spring I was very much run down had nervous headache, felt miserable and all that. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and was much benefitted by it. I recommend it to my friends. Mas. J. M. Taylor, 1119 Euclid Avenue, Cleve land, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"For a first-class spring medicine my wife and I both think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We both took it last spring. It did us a great deal or good and we felt better through the hot weather than ever before. It cured my wife of sick headache, from which she has suffered a great deal, and relieved me of a dizzy, tired feeling. I think every one ought to take something to purify the blood before the hot weather comes on, and we shall certainly take Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring." J. H. PEARCE, Supt. Granite Railway Co., Concord, N. H.

"I had crysipelas in the worst form, being nearly covered with blisters. My husband neard of Hood's Sarsaparilla and insisted on ; taking it, though I had little faith. I had taken but a few doses, when I began to feel better, and in a week I was sure it was doing me good. continued to take it according to directions and when the first bottle was gone I was entirely well. I have not been troubled by erysipelas

THE CHICAGO AND CURE OF CANCER and ULCERS.

Judge T. C. McLendon writes to the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga., under date of February 14, 1881: "About three years ago, Jerry Bradley, a colored man, had a cancerous sore on his face, near the right eye. It caused him a great deal of pain, and he lost the sight of the eye, but was finally cured of the cancer Omaha, by the use of Swift's Specific. This case is well known in Wilkes Co., Ga, where he lived (near Danbury), and of this case, I, myself, had personal knowledge."
Mr. L. Cox, of Arkabutla, Tate Co., Miss.

icine was recommended to me, and after using six bottles, I was completely cured. I never saw its equal as a Blood Purifier. My neighbors will use no other. Your medicing does even more than you claim for it. I have known it to cure cases which were thought to be hopeless. It is the best medicine made."

Mrs. A. M. Goldsmith, No. 614 Warren St., Mrs. A. M. Goldsmith, No. 6:14 Warren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes, February 22, 1828: "I commenced using S. S. about three years ago. I had suffered with a sore throat for over a year, when I commenced using your remedy. I used a great many other remedies with no good results. My little girl, also, had sore fingers; it commenced from the quick, and then the natis would ome off. We doctored har for over two years, and when I commenced using S. S. I thought I would see what it would do for her. I am thankful to say that it entirely cured her. It is the beat remedy I know of for the blood. I really believe it was the means of saving my life. The doctor told me I had a throat disease similar to General Grants. I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from discreded blood. I use it now as a tonic whenever I think I need it."

Mr. B. F. George, Milford P. O., Ellis Co., Texas, writes; "I had a cancerous wart of mole on my cyclid, as large as the end of my thumb, which had the appearance of cancer, causing me much pain and inflammation, from which I suffered a long time. Seeing the S. S. advertised I commenced using it, and after the use of a few bottles the zore dropped out, my cancer was gone, and I was entirely relieved."
