THERE has been a surfeit of talk on the Dakota railroad question. A change to action is desirable.

The concentration of all important Union Pacific offices in Omaha is in the interest of economy and convenience.

TO RECOGNIZE THE REPUBLIC. A resolution has been introduced into the United States senate providing for the recognition of the republic of Brazil by the government of the United States. It congratulates the people of Brazil "on flicir just and penceful assumption of the powers, duties and responsibilities of self-government, based upon the free consent of the governed," and recognizes the United States of Brasil "as a lawful and rightful government of right ontitled to exercise and enjoy international comity and all the benefits of the laws of na-tions as a sovereign power." The president is required to notify the states of Brazil of this declaration, and by proc-lamation to "require the people and government of the United States and of the several states, and all persons in authority therein, to recognize the flag of the United States of Brazil as the flag of a free, sovereign and independ-ont state." There appears no sound reason why this action should not be taken. It is true that the republic of Benzil has been established but little more than a month, that, no other nation has yet recognized the new government, and that doubt regarding its permanence still exists, at least in quarters where such doubt is nistural. But so far as apsuch doubt is natural. But so far as ap-pears the whole people of Brazil are satisfied with the new order of things, the imperial family, accepting the situation when it left the country, has since shown on disposition to attempt a restoration of the old condition, there is peace and order in the republic, the pervisional encounter is not the provisional government is per-forming all its functions and is pledged to the observance of every interna-tional obligation inherited from the monarchy, business is going on without interruption, and in all respects the United States of Brazil presents a perfeetly clear claim to be regarded and recognized as a sovereign and inde-pendent state. Not the smallest factional opposition to the new gov-ornment is munifested to give wurrant for a doubt as to the permanence of the republic or justify desitation in recognizing it. How far this country is called upon. n the observance of international com-

price obtained for corn this year oper-ates as an incentive to diversified and more profitable crops. An analysis of the sugar beets raised in Hall county ity, to regard the opinions and await the action of other nations respecting Beazil, may be a question. Certainly if there had been any conflict over the showed sixteen per cent of sugar, dem-onstrating that the rich, sandy loam of Nebraska is as prolific for root crops as If there had been any conflict over the change of gaverament, and it was still opposed by any considerable portion of the people, or if the new government processed any pol-icy in violation of the international obligations entered into by the mon-archy, the United States could not with a prover second for the sideth and in for corn. build and operate a sugar factory in Grand Island promises an early practical test of the value of this a proper regard for the rights and in-terests of other nations extand its rec-ognition. But the opposite of all this is the case. The revolution was absoan inducement which will multiply fac-tories in the state, if the first proves a success, of which there is no reasonable Is the case. The revolution was abso-lately peaceful, the result is accepted by the people of the entire country, or at any rate if any onpose it they do not show their hostility, and the govern-ment has declared its purpose to faith-fully respect every international obli-gation of the monarchy. Under these circumstances it would soon circumstances it would seem that this government might, with every propriety, and without wrong to any other nation, recognize the sister ro-

public. It is both the duty and the interest of the United States to in every legitimate way encourage the new republic, and by its countempace, friendship and in-fluence to strengthen it in the confidence of its own people and in the re-spect of the world. Recognition would go far toward bringing about these de-sirable results, and it would undoubtedly have the very general and hearty approval of the American people, while it would bring into closer relations of friendship with us a people whose country is nearly as great as our own in area and no less rich in resources.

The prohibitionists must give Omaka credit for not neglecting the cold water cause. With one of the largest and most complete systems of waterworks in the west, the advocates of clarified water cannot justly charge the city with indifference.

THE Pioncer Press instauates that "Omaha has had so many 'crowning tri-umphs' already that she is top heavy." Our esteemed contemporary's vision is blurred by dizzy beights. Omaha is toppling over St. Paul's commercial castles in the west and giving the peo-ple the benefit of a metropolitan market.

The business of the pension office is increasing so rapidly that it is impossi-ble for the commissioner with the pres-cat force to properly consider the avalanche of claims. At the close of last week nearly half a million claims were nonding. At the rate of fourtees were pending. He is now identi-ed with present which is now identified with several railroads, and there fore is presumably in hearty sympathy with the corporations. Mr. Brice did not make a brilliant record as a political manager in the last presidential campaign, but he has shown ability in practical affairs, and would undoubtedly make a more useful member of the national senate than Henry B. Payne, who has done nothing of which the world has any knowledge except to consistontly vote with his party. There are abler democrats in Ohio, however, than Mr. Brice, though perhaps none richer than he, and his money and corporation backing will doubtless carry him through.
