The Petition of Catholic Priests for a Western Coadjutor.

The announcement that the clergy of the diocese of Omaha had decided to ask Rome to appoint Bishop Scaulon of Salt Lake co adjutor to Bishop O'Conner has attracted pretty general attention among Catholics throughout this section of the country. The request is an unusual one and as such is presented in full, the following being a free translation of the petition forwarded to the he Marriage License.

Only one marriage license was issued yesterday, the following being the parties:

Out in the Cold.

Mrs. Gracie Crane, an old woman, applied to County Poormaster Mahoney yesterday for help. She stated that she had worked nearly two years for Tom Murray and had been driven by him from the house she occupied without receiving any pay for her two years' work.

Build Early Fires.

There is considerable complaint among the people living in the north end of the city that no fires are made in the stoves of the cars on the Sherman avenue and South Omaha electric line until after they start in the morning. The passengers, it is claimed, suffer not only from the cold but are also annoyed with smoke nearly to the heart of the city.

Coliseum Stockholders.

A meeting of the stockholders in the Coll soum Building association was held in H. B Irey's office last night. About two hundred and fifty five shares were represented. After a short consultation the committee appointed at a previous meeting to look over the books of the secretary and treasurer was directed to secure an expert to check up the affairs of the association, and also to secure additional signatures to an agreement providing for the payment of the expert.

Exchanging Stamped Envelopes.

Every three months the assistant postmaster boxes up spoiled stamped envelopes and ships them to the postoffice department to be exchanged for good envelopes. The regular quarterly shipment was made yesterday but the batch was smaller than usual comprising $256 worth of envelopes which had been solled or misdirected and been returned.

So many people are careless in directing letters that mistakes occur which necessi-tate thd use of new envelopes and to accommodate these people the postoffice depart-ment has made arrangements to redeem the stamp or the spolled stamped envelope, but not the envelope itself. A charge of 1 cent is made for the exchange. If a common en-velope with a stamp stuck on it is spolled no exchange can be made.

Omaha People Appreciate It.

It is very apparent that the citizens of Omaha appreciate enterprise. you do not believe it just watch the crowds that daily visit the show rooms of Russell, Pratt & Co. 319 S. 15th st. The increase in the number of fine residences and public buildings has prompted this firm to abandon the olumbing and steam-heating business and devote their entire time and attention to gas and electric fixtures. They carry one of the largest and finest assortment of chandeliers and shades in the entire west besides furnishing special designs for work in all classes of buildings. They exhibit in their show windows some special fixtures designed and made for the residences of C. F. Weller and Adolph Meyer, which are the finest pieces of workmanship ever seen in this city. Messrs. Russell, Pratt & Co. are too well known to need further mention. Their work and goods speak for themtelver.

THE RATE WAR.

It Cannot be Told When it Will End.

The rate war is becoming more exciting day by day. That break made by the Missouri Pacific has so changed the situation that there is no telling where the end will be reached. According to the special reports, the Trans-Missouri Passenger association indulged in some lively words at its Kansas City meeting Wednesday, though Omaha representatives present who returned yesterday tell a different story. John Frances, general passenger agent of the B. & M , said: "I see the newspapers have quoted me as saying our road would make a deadly cut, but that is false. However, there may be more truth than poetry in such a statement. They also announce that John Sabastian, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, stormed all day, which is entirely wrong. Mr. Sabastian conducted himself as meekly as a sucking dove." It was inferred from the few hints dropped by Mr. Francis that the Missouri Pacific's notice of its intention to cut the Pueblo rate from St. Louis to $15 was not endorsed. Nor did the association dissolve. Chairman Finlay sent out an order yesterday instructing all roads west of the river to accept the Chicago reduction as a basing rate for new tariffs which will be in line with it.

This fortunately, however, will hardly be necessary, because every line running into Colorado, especially those reaching Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Denver and Cheyenne are necessarily compelled to meet the Missouri Pacific rate, thus bringing the fare to Den-ver down from $31.15 to $18. A schedulo based on the Chicago Missouri river reduction would lower the Denver rate only about $4. The Missouri Pacific's cut from St. Louis to Omaha has been met by the Wabash and Burington. They are all solling tickets at $8.25, first class, and $5.25, second class. When a prominent passenger man stated that the Missouri Pacific's heavy slash had completely changed the complexion of the war, he continued: "Jay Gould is now in the west and I have no doubt he authorized his general manager to place the road in an aggressive attitude. Why he should want to reduce the Pueblo rate is something none of us can understand. There is undership of us can understand. There is undoubtedly some other motive than a mere desire to demoraliza rates." Moralize rates," One gentleman who claimed to be in possession of inside information de-clared that Gould's scheme was directed against the Santa Fe with a view to eventu-ally getting control of that road and make it a part of the Missouri Pacific system, An-other ventured the prediction: "I think you will come nearer hitting the right nail to say that he is stabling the Union Pacific-North-western combination."

All Obstacles Removed.

Representatives of the live stock exchange and railroads held another conference Wednesday at which an agreement was entered into whereby all cause for complaints of discrimination against the South Omaha yards and packing houses will be removed. In consequence of a disposition on the part of the roads to do any-thing reasonable asked of them. Every fa-cility for getting their stock to the South Omaha market with the same dispatch as to either Kansas City, Sioux City or Chicago, will be afforded shippers. Rates are also to which we form a judgment. "There are two processes in thinking-first, by induction, which sometimes leads us to define conclusions, and second, by de-ductions which bring us face to face with facts as we want to use them. Deduction is that by which we draw conclusions from east of conditions. certa'n conditions. From a general fact we draw out a particular idea. Ninety-nine percent of the thinking which we do is simply thinking out conditions which they have accepted as true."

Dr. Duryea on Reasoning.

Dr. Duryea delivered the first of his series of psychological lectures at the First Congregational church Wednesday evening. He took for his subject"Reasoning."A distinction was first made between demonstrative reasoning and thinking. "Reasoning," said the speaker, "is simply observation. Thinking is the more appropriate term. All rational beings think, and it is for us to consider what this process of thinking is. There are two terms involved in this process, a propo-sition and a conclusion. The proposition is sition and a conclusion. The proposition is the judgment stated at the beginning as the cause of thinking. The conclusion is the judgment stated at the end on the process. Thinking is that process of the mind by which we form a judgment.

The lecture was enlivened with apt illustrations, and the talk proved an interesting and instructive one.
