THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

Bankers Report the Financial Situation as Dull and Quiet.

A SCARCITY OF FIRST CLASS PAPER.

Tobbers Say Trade is Very Fair and Mail Orders Numerous, With Collections Rather Slow-Canned Goods Steady.

Mr. Hughes, manager of the clearing house, reports the clearings of the week as footing $4,061.175.17, an increase of 25 per cent, and balances footed $1,111,347.69. Bankers say the money market is dull and quiet and express ome surprise that it should remain for so long a time as it has in its present lethargle condi-Of course speculators would gladly bor row all the available surplus, but first-class paper is remarkably scarce and while bankers. o not care to go and hunt for it they express a desire to have more offered for discount than , has presented of late. As the season of navigation on the great lakes opens soon there will be released much money now invested in grain at the lake ports and this will be added to the available surplus, so that there seems to be a probability that money will continue easy during the spring and summer. Local rates. are about 8 per cent for prime mercuffile

Take is said by jobbers to be very fair in-deed, and mail orders are numerons and lib-eral. Collections are rather quiet and the indications from this source are that more is rather source with traders in the country, but there have been but for failures or assign-ments and the situation as regards out-standings is not looked upon as at all uncom-fortable. Values have been staady during the past week and fairly well maintained, no great changes of any kind being quotable, though dried fruits continue firm and active and holders are very stiff in their views, the opinion seeming to be general that the recent advance was legitimeted and permanent for this seem to take hold freely and there is a holders, here to be be the market not encouraging to holders. March L .... The sugar market is virtually unchanged, being if anything firmer at the close of the week than in the earlier part, but there is not nuclei disposition shown to buy beyond a supply for innucliate needs. The quantations at New York for refined sugars when exported less drawhacks are: Cut lonf, per 100 lbs, $455; cubes, $474; crushed, $555; powdered, $554; crushes, $574; crushed, $556; powdered, $554; crushided, $556; of corn and tomatees are in fair request, but the supply is very liberal and buyers can have all they call for without disturbing prices ma-terially. The floar market is fair and un-changed and prices are easy, tending down-ward. Hides are quiet, but the market is firm. Tal-

An Ingenious Piece of Devilishness

and Death.

Flotow, a Bannack outcast, who led a desperate band of renegade Arapahoes, was easily the worst Indian in all the mountain country in 1869. The marauders made annual trips from Wind river, in Wyoming, to White river in Colorado, and always left a frightful trail. They murdered, plundered and burned, carrying on the work of devastation with ap-

Flotow and his gaug had become a stand-family, not sparing women or children, burn ranch buildings and leave with the horses at davlight. In twenty-four hours they would swoop down upon another pioneer home a hundred miles away and repeat the work of murder, incendiarism and theft. A cheerful bit of barbarism little known to the world was practiced when Flotow and his men happened upon a flock of sheep. Tho tenders were shot down as they ran and the dogs knocked in the head and laid aside for a feast. Then the braves, each carrying a big run the knife through the member just below the joint. The other hoof would be inserted in the slit and there was the humorous paradox of a three-legged sheep with all four legs in sight. The poor brutes would die in great agony in about seventy-two hours. It was simply impossible to extricate the uncut hind leg. This ingenious cruelty was somewhat varied by cutting a hole in one car and thrusting a foreleg into it, destroying the ability to travel unless the car tore, which happened too often to suit the redskins. In half a day these Indians would destroy a band of 5,000 sheep. They considered this work a great lack.

They considered this work a great tark. This Flotow, whose name has never been interpreted, was the biggest, chekkest, shrewdest and most repulsive looking Indian I ever set eyes upon, writes a Cheyenne cor-respondent of the Chicago Herald. He was respondent of the other ago internet. He was more than six feet tail, straight, broad shoul-dered, thick needed and well muscled, with deep chest. In battle with Indians he was reputed the equal of five combatants. No white man ever lived the could handle him.

Added to his unsurpassed strength was in-credible agility and perfect knowledge of all styles of warfare. His craftiness kept hif own men on their guard. They judiciously kept from the tyrant's path when he was angry. He well understood English, but would converse only in his own tongue, and never did he sport any of the remarkable tangener insued his neember by the remarkable toggery issued his people by the government, excepting not even the blankets, for these he exacted from the Navajos. The wretch would

A fun-loving veteran who had been with Grant in the Wilderness and who had fought Indians on the Platte, jabbed his bayonet into

The Only One.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway is the only line running solid vestibuled, electric lighted and steam heated trains between Chicago, Council Bluffs and Omaha.

The berth reading lamp feature in the Pullman sleeping cars run on these lines is patented and cannot be used by any other railway company. It is the great improvement of the age. Try it and be convinced.

Sleeping cars leave the Union Pacific depot, Omaha, at 6 p. m. daily, arriving at Chicago at 9:30 a.m. Passengers taking this train are not compelled to get out of the cars at Council Bluffs and wait for the train to be cleaned. Get tickets and sleeping car berths at Union ticket office, 1501 Farnam st.

An Example of Meanness.

As an example of meanness an army surgeon told of a western New York farmer who came to the United States general hospital at Fortress Monroe in search of the body of his son, which had been buried in the hospital ceme-tery, says the Lewistewn (Me.) Journal. As was usual in such cases, the remains were exhumed and carefully removed from the coffin to a strong box suitable for transportation, all at government expense. After getting safely home the man wrote to the executive officer in substance as follows:

"The old coffin in which my son was buried was left in the dead house. want to know how much government is going to allow me for it.

A Congo native who has been taught to read and write, has just sent a letter, his first, to the archbishop of Canterbury. It is as fol-lows: "Great and Good Chief of the Tribe of Christ, greeting: The humblest of your servants kiss the hom of your gurment, and begs you to send to his follow servants more Gospel and less Rum. In the bonds of Christ, Uralla."

In ten minutes he was all right physically, but his mental distress was deep. His chagrin threw him into silentr age. He only glured at his captors and held his tongue. David Todd: The Romance of His Life David Todd: The Romance of His Life and Loving: by Cavid Maclure, is a new book by the Cassell Publishing company, 104 and 106 Fourth avenue, New York. It is an interesting narrative of a strong, self-contained, God-fearing man, whose only Flotow was made a prisoner of war. He was allowed to ride his own beautiful pony and had an escort of four men.

approach to weakness in character is brought about by way of his heart. Accustomed, however, to repression, owing to a life of loneliness, a peculiar devotion to purpose and a self-communing mind, he puts aside tempa structure of the one promise of his life's happiness, and, encouraging the good in him, brings it about by sustained herculean effort to assist a def-inite weight. The plot of the story is not particularly new. A minister, loving like other men and more, with all the concen-trated passion and intensity of a peculiarly individual soul, and making a sacrifice of his heart for right and truth, is a picture that has been drawn for us before in the literary chart. But his rugged character, in the midst of the army rol sinners, his alconners and indifference to the injury and insult fashioned by their venomous tongues; his mighty conquest of self are extra-ordinarially well told and have a vital interest. The dialoct lines are capital the sturdy Scotchmen, with their sharp tongues and rough personal wit, making ome broadly humorous speeches that are de-icious in their quaintness. David Todd is the sum and substance of the story, and the author has made him a figure of strong personal magnetism. The descrip-tions are admirable and tell of close observation, as the inner glimpses bespeak remarkale powers of divination.
