Would that he were yet in Galesburg.

He was as wild as a Texan peccary, and if he failed to give a man his base on balls, he just smashed him in the back with the spheroid and sent him there anyway.

At one time, in the momentus eighth the crowd arose as one man, and yelled murder! This was just after the Omahas had, by as picturesque a streak of hitting as you will in a life-time, knocked out six great, big, broad-chested runs, giving them a handsome Then the lusty huskers of the maize came

BEE.]-The dry goods house of A. W. Chuning & Co. was robbed last night about 9 o'clock, during business hours. It was one of the most bold and daring robberies ever committed in northwest Missouri, Four nasked men, dressed in Prince Albert coats and mounted upon good horses, were seen to pproach the town from the east a little be ore 90'clock. Each one had two large re-olvers and the citizens were terrified. They rified the money drawers and safes of the stores they found open, securing from $1,000

They then started for their horses, tied a short distance from town. By this time the citizens had collected their wits and a few runs and revolvers and started in hot pursui guns and revolvers and started in not pursuit to make a running fight. The robbers were now mounted and fought bravely. One of them was pierced with a bullet, as blood could be seen along the road and upon the bridges. The pursuit hasted about twelve miles and was then given up for the night. It was evident that the gang had some very

EXCITEMENT IN THE HOUSE.

A Great Uprour During the Discussion of the National Election Bill.

M'COMAS CALLS BLAND A HYPOCRITE

Congressman Henderson of Iowa Takes a Prominent Part in the Debate Several Bills Passed by the Senate.

Washington, June 28.-When the house met this morning Mr. Enloe of Tennesse moved to correct the journal so as to strike therefrom the titles of a number of private pension bills passed by the house last night. He claimed that the bills passed before the use went into committee of the whole and were not properly before the house. The iouse, however, refused to agree to his moion, so the bills stand passed.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the federal election bill. Mr. McAdoo of New Jersey took the floor and made a vigorous speech in opposition to the bill. He based his opposition on the principle of home rule and the right of the scople to control their own affairs without federal interference. He warned the republicans to beware of the experience of Walpole when prime minister of England. He begged the republicans, he abjured them by their own sense of mantiness to abandon the oill before the cry went up of 'Liberty, iberty, no interference with elections."

Mr. McComas of Maryland reviewed the various election contests during the present congress to show the necessity for the pass-of such a law. The democrats talked about the people as one kind of power and the gentleman from New Jersey (McAdoo) talked a great deal about home rule. Mr. McComas went on to say that the triumph of the white man's party in the south meant control not only of states but of the national legislature. Against tissue ballots, against false counting, against night raiders, against the shotgun policy, against intimidation, the dignity of the courts, the majesty of the law, the powers of the constitution assure justice all men, white or black, in this country

Loud applause. Mr. Bland of Missouri twitted Mr. Mc Comas for having taken away from the black men of the District of Columbia the power of local government and never giving it to the This resulted in an uproar, Messrs. Bland and McComas shouting at the top of their voices amid the appiause of their colleagues and the galleries.

Mr. McComas declared that when Mr. Bland affected an interest in eight or ten thousand black voters of the District, while during his long service here he had never raised his voice in behalf of the eight or ten million poor and oppressed black men in the country, he felt like calling him a hypocrite. Mr. Bland vehemently declared Mr. Meomas a hypocrite who felt no interest in the

At this point the uproar became so great that nothing could be heard save the com-mingled shouts of the debaters and the rapping of the speaker's gavel.
Mr. McComas managed to shout: "The black man in this district is like the white, and he appealed to the people of the south to treat blacks and whites alike.

He wanted no further proof than that declaration that the blacks of South Carolina uld not be allowed to exercise the guaranteed by the constitution. He felt warranted in saying that it was as dangerous as armed rebellion, and he meant it. He then read from an interview in which Representative Mills was justed as saying that the passage of the bill meant an increased number of deaths among federal election officers in the south. He did not know if this were true, but if so, it was another defiance. He served notice clared that Grover Cleveland had had no right to his seat in the white house and the democratic party shad not had an honest najority in the house in tweuty-five years to wanted to say that before he should consent that the minority should govern the majority he would favor the protec-tion of every ballot box by a killing bullet. Mr. Ewart of North Carolina, republican, osed the passage of the election. Unfortunately politics had come such a pass that under the rule f king caucus men would vote for measures hat deep down in their hearts they did not selieve in. As to the negroes' "political rights," speaking for his own state, he un-resitatingly asserted that no republican in he state, black or white, was prevented from casting a vote. The elections there were absolutely fair. The entire people of the south should not be blamed for the acts of a few lawless men. He was sick and tired of the sentimental talk about the negro problem. It was a delusion to suppose the negro was voting the republican ticket solidly. He was doing nothing of the kind. Many of nem were voting the democratic ticket and it was getting more and more difficult every year for the republican party to control the gro. STILL KNIFING THE RATES. General Frustration of all Attempts to Revise Western Freight Rates. CHICAGO, June 28.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The attempt to advance western freight rates has met with another set back on account of the wholesale cutting of rates on merchandise between Chicago and the west. Charges were freely made today that these rates had been cut 5 to 7 cents. If the charges are proved the Alton will not allow the advance of a solitary west bound rate until it is satisfied the cutting has ceased.

There is no question of the advance in rates and if the Alton can be satisfied its competitors will use the advance honestly and not as a means of cutting rates still deeper. It is not generally known, but it is a fact, that all the lines between Chicago and St. Paul have been ignoring the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act. This is done by making a through rate from the scaboard to St. Paul of 71 cents, while to intermediate points a higher rate applies in each instance.

The plan of advancing rates will be considered at the general meeting of the western lines next Wednesday. No attempt will be made to raise east bound grain from the Mis-souri river as the Alton and Interstate comnerce commission, between them, are more likely to lower these rates on account of their entinued manipulations.

Chairman Midgley's report of all east bound traffic from Kansas City, St. Joe, Atchison and Leavenworth for June to date shows the the following: Total shipments, 9,508 cars, of which the Atchison carried 2,197 cars, 986 being cattle and 761 grain; Burlington, 1,612 cars, 626 being cattle and 273 grain; Alton, 1,302 cars, 278 being cattle and 273 grain; the hicago, St. Paul & Kansas City, 1,095 cars, of which 1,028 were grain, none cattle and only sixty-seven cars of everything else be-Both General Manager Egan and Director Bensen deny any knowledge of the changes in officials on the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City road. It is thought, however, the rumor may be true because of President Stickney's Two Promotions.

CHICAGO, June 28 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE, |-Assistant General Freight Agent Biddle of the Atchison has been appointed assistant freight traffic manager. His jurisdiction extends over the Atchison proper and cased lines, including the Chicago, Santa Fe & California, Chicago, Kansas & Western, New Mexico & Arizona, the Sonora railway, Southern California and also the Wichita & Western. The appointment goes into effect July 1. Taking effect the same day also, W. S. Butler is appointed commercial agent with headquarters at Quincy.

The Beatrice Chautauqua. Beatrice, Neb., June 28-[Special to The Bee.]—The third day of the Beatrice Chautaugua is fully up to the standard of attendance and interest with the corresponding day of last year. The fact of its being farmer's alliance and Knights of Labor day had such to do with increasing the attendance, but the excessive heat militates strongly against any great attendance at the halls for ither lecture or study. The steamboat is monopolizing most of the ttention, as the river affords about the only endurable resort. The addresses of General Weaver, Captain Trevellick, and Mr. Tracy this afternoon and evening were well attended and eloquently delivered.

tion Upon Their Return.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 28.—|Special Tele-gram to The Bee.|—Since 1875 this city has not so completely abandoned everything else and devoted itself to a demonstration re eption of the victorious Cornell crews as it did today. A large fund contributed by the business men of the town was the means of converting the principal streets through which the victors passed tonight into veritable paths of fire and fireworks. The community was beof her and hewers. The community was be-side itself with wild enthusiasm, and the din of herns, cannon, church bells, whistles and bands of music was deafening. After speeches of welcome had been delivered in one of the parks by citizens and professors, the fire department and other organizations formed a procession and escorted the champions and Courteney, their coach, to the venerable Clinton house, where a ban quet was spread. At least ten thousand per sons from country and city solidly lined the streets through which the procession passed. All day the work of decorating every building here was in progress, and tonight the il-lumination was general. In one of the store windows is an embellishment representing Yale in a could, and bearing the legend, "Wait for Yale," which elicits some criti-

A QUESTION OF SCREENS.

Trouble Between the Union Pacific Coal Department and Miners. CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 28 .- Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-There is trouble brewing between the Union Pacific coal department and the miners employed at Rock Springs. The question is one of screens with which all coal sent to the surface of the mines is to be screened, after which the men will be paid only for nut and lump coal. The company claims that the quality of the coal is deteriorating and they cannot keep some of their best customers, including the Anaconda smelter, unless the coal is improved in quality under the present system. They claim that a good miner is paid no more than the poor miner provided that they each mine the same quantity, as its quality cuts no figure. The men, on the other hand, claim that the coal company should only employ good miners, that the introduction of the screens neans a subsequent reduction of wages. Thinese and Finlanders have decided stand by the rest of the miners in case of a strike. One mine has already been shut flown, but it is hoped that arbitration may yet settle the differences. The outcome can not yet be predicted.

The Present Hot Season Unprecedented in the Mississippi Valley.

COOLER PERIOD IS PROMISED.

Several Persons Prostrated by the Intense Heat-Outdoor Work Suspended in Many Places-Signal Service Report.

Washington, June 28.—The signal office pecial weather bulletin says the present period of continued high temperature in the middle Mississippi valley is unprecedented for June. Beginning with Tuesday, June 25, when the temperature was 100 above the normal height, it has gradually risen till the 26th and 27th to nearly 200 above. The cause for this abnormal condi-tion has been the uniform high pressure in the gulf region with an almost stationary low pressure area in the northwest. This distri-bution of atmosphere has cause a steady flow of warm, dry air to the northward. The inlow of air has been too slow to induce a rain fall, and the consequent clear sky has been favorable to extreme radiation from the sun which has raised the temperature steadily without the usual relief from the passage of storms across the country. Relief from these conditions may be expected Sunday night.

St. Paul, Minn., June 28.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-For the past four days the heat in Minnesota has been so intense as to be almost unbearable. Yesterday afternoon the Fahrenheit thermometer in St. Paul indicated a temperature of this the bottest weather here since July 3, 1883. During the night and up to 1:45 this afteraoon there was hardly an abatement of the heat; at that hour, however, a heavy rain and wind storm came up, cooling the atmosphere.

Reports of fatalities from sunstroke are coming in from all parts of the state, the number prostrated being especially large at Winona and other points along the southern order of Minnesota. In St. Paul Wenzel Hories, while out for a walk on Inver avenue, was overcome, went into a barn, lay down on a pile of hay and died before a physician could reach him. On lower Seventh street J. W. Patterson was prostrated and carried into a store where many prostrations among the laborers on the Selby avenue and University cable extensions. On the former a contractor became so darmed at the number of his mon stricker that he ordered all work stopped and sent the men to their homes.

There are rumors, that crops are severely scalded from the heavy rainfall, followed suddenly by the intense heat.

Cooler at St. Louis. Sr. Louis, June 28 .- Notwithstanding the assertion of the signal service people that there are no signs or prospects of an immediate break in the heated term which has been roasting this city for more than a week, the temperature is several degrees lower today than it was yesterday and the preceding days. Nevertheless the weather is intensely hot and the suffering great among the people. Small children especially suffer, and the mortality among those under three years old

The Heat in Chicago.

Cricago, June 28,-Today was much warmer than yesterday, the signal service thermometer registering 882 at 8 o'clock this morning, or 6° higher than at the same hour vesterday. At 11 o'clock the thermometers indicated a temperature of 92° to 95°, but at that hour a refreshing breeze was blowing and broken clouds obscured the sun. Five deaths from sunstroke have been reported to the coroner today.

The temperature reached the highest point

The temperature reached the highest point of the season this afternoon, registering 98, and at a late hour this evening it stood at 88. There were half a dozen fatal cases of sunstroke, and probably twenty-five prostrations during the day. The latter will all recover,
