The Right of the Present Board to Take Action on the Matter Questioned by Several Members.

adopted.

The question of establishing a branch of the high school at the Pleasant school was brought up by a report on a resolution to that effect introduced at the last meeting.

The matter was argued by Messrs. Robinson anh Points, the latter arguing that the high school should be kept intact.

It was finally decided to send the Ninin grade purils to the Pleasant school. The board of education met in special seasion last night for the purpose of electing teachers and considering such other business as might come up. The absentees were Messrs, Martin and Felton.

A petition was received from parents in vicinity of Webster asking that an eighth grade be placed in that building and it was referred to the proper committee. John Daly requested a renewal of his con-tract for drain laying and sewer building.

Referred to the new board.

The pastor of the Saratoga Congregational church notified the board that they required the building for church purposes only, and requested the board to vacate. The matter was referred to the superintendent of buildwas partly read by the secretary. It appeared to be a legal opinion on the right of the old board to elect teachers. Before the reading had proceeded very far numerous ob-jections were made, and on the question being put the reading was not allowed. THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

Its Extraordinary Growth and Development the Past Five Years. LINCOLN, Neb., June 28 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: Five years ago there were twelve professors, all told, for the work of the scademic and industrial colleges; now there are twenty-two. Then there were in these colleges 101 students; now there are 251, Then the total enrollment was 318; now it is 475. Then there was but one building on the campus; now there are five.

The internal development has been still nore marked. The department of philosophy has come into being during the past two years, and is presided over by a professor trained under the best instructors in Germany. Already a considerable apparatus has been collected for use in experimental researches. The departments of Greek and Latin have been strengthened by the addition of the chair of classical philosophy. The library of classical literature has been greatly increased, and a beginning has been made of a classical museum. In mathematics an adjunct professor has been added, and a considerable amount of apparatus supplied. Chemistry has been developed from a small department occupy ng their poorly fitted rooms, to completel filling a large building of eighteen rooms, and supplied with from $10,000 to $12,000 worth of apparatus. Then it received a part of the ime of one professor; now it gives full em-doyment to two professors, one instructor nd several assistants.

What is now the department of physics, or cupying nine large rooms and requiring the services of two professors, was then included in the department of chemistry. The present outfit of apparatus includes many of the finest pieces made, in the subjects of light, heat and electricity. The geological department, with its the maximum and anniclabration and with its fine museum and ample labratory and lecture rooms has grown to its present pro-portions from the dingy museum and single small room of five years ago. The department of botany and horticulture occupied two small rooms for all purposes, and was not overcrowded. Today it fills seven rooms with its specimens, books and apparatus. Then one man gave instruction in French and German to a few students now two are heavily burdened with the labor of teaching large classes—in—these and other modern languages, with Sanskrit and Hebrey in addition. Then the professor of English literature divided his time between his proper work and the drudgery of rhetoric and composition; now there are two separate deriments, each occupying the full time of

The department of history today, with its we professors, has grown in means and an pliances, and by the recent creation of the science advanced work in both lines ha been most successfully prosecuted. Civi Engineering was alletted a single room to all its work; now it has four, with creatly in creased apparatus. The department of agri-cultural biology is of recent creation. It rooms, with excellent apparatus for investi gation into the physiology and embryology animals, replace the meagre outfit of a fev years ago devoted to stock breeding and allied subjects. Then but few students at tended the unpopular lectures, now the de-partment is popular and well attended.

Five years ago the university library contained books in a small room, now there are about twelve thousand in the general library, which occupies a larger and better mean with many more in larger and better room, with many more i the special libraries of the department Then there was but a beginning of a single museum; now there are five collections in geology and mineralogy, zoology, entomology botany, agriculture, chemistry and art. Then there was scarcely a laboratory in an science; now there are no less than eigh weil equipped laboratories, viz, in chemistry physics, geology, zoology, entomology, botany agricultural biology and civil engineering. That the faculty of the university liberally educated one is shown by the fact that it includes graduates of the followin colleges and universities, viz: Union, Ober lin, Yale, Denison, Hiram, Michigan Agri cultural, Williams, Princeton, Nebraska, Bos ton, West Point, Berlin, Leipzig, Zurich London, Rochester, Johns Hopkins, Westeri

FESTOONS OF RAINBOW

Illuminate Several Fairy Lawns Where Fetes Are Held, One at Mr. T. I. Kimball's Being for the Benefit of the Creche.

The lawn about the residence of Mr. Thomas L. Kimball on Park Wild avenue was like a scene from fairyland on Friday night. Scores of Chinese lanterns hung like rainbow-hued fruit from the low-hanging branches of the trees or trailed in long graceful festoons from branch to branch. Glaring comotive headlights in different parts of the grounds shed a flood of light on groups of white dresses scattered in various parts of the beautiful lawn and the Union Pacific band discoursed sweet music for the dejectation of the guests.

The occasion was the lawn fete given the benefit of the Creche. Mrs. Kimbali and her daughter had spent a great deal of time and exercised a great deal of taste in the decoration or the grounds, and the result was a pleasing surprise to those who were present. The smooth level croquet ground had been enclosed with wire netting orm-mented with all sorts of fanciful designs in Chinese lanterns, and seated inside with tables and chairs were charming young ladies serving ice cream and cake. Along the south side of the house were a series of booths where candy, flowers and lemonade were dispensed. Attached to each flower was a number entitling the holder o a chance in the drawing for a pin which had been presented for the purpose. There were about 150 people on the grounds, and the pleasant company, the fine music and de-licious refreshments combined to make the evening a memorable one.

The wedding was a quiet, home affair graced with beautiful flowers and handsome presents. After the ceremony was performed Mr. and Mrs. Williamson started upon a bridal tour of Columbus, Cincinnati and St. Omaha where they will make their home

Wheel Club Lawn Party.

The Omaha wheel club gave its first lawn party on Tuesday evening. Only the members of the club and their friends were in attendance, and the evening was one to be remembered. The lawn was prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns strung in graceful featoons from tree to tree.

In the club house refreshments suitable to the weather were served and thoroughly enloyed. An impromptu concert in which the Mandolin club took part and dancing filled up the remainder of the evening.

As soon as Mr. Gurley called the assembly to order it plunged into a hot discussion over a motion made by Mr. Lytic to exclude all spectators from the room. This was finally declared out of order by the chair because of its previousness, no secretary having been chosen. Somebody nominated E. Mayfield of South Omaha for that place, and was ununimously elected. Then followed a motion to go into executive session, and it was carried. Reporters, can didates and everybody else not entitled by membership authority to remain were hustled

This action, however, had no special sig nificance. The object of the meeting was to determine upon and announce dates for holding the primary election at which delegates o a county convention will be elected, who, in turn, are to select sixty-nine delegates to the state convention. Still a point was raised which to some extent showed the drift of gubernatorial sentiment in Douglas county. It was embodied in a motion that the designation of polling places, as well as the naming of judges and clerks for the primary election, be left to the executive committee of the central committee. This stirred up quite a lively discussion, but the motion went through by a vote of nineteen to nine. It was decided to hold the primaries July 11, from 12 to 6 o'clock in the city, and from 7 to 9 o'clock in the country precincts; and to hold the convention July 12, at 2 o'clock. The committee then adjourned to meet again next Saturday and hear a report from the executive committee. WASHINGTON IS MISTAKEN.

Mr. Baker Holds that the Title to the Postoffice Lot 's in the Government. United States Attorney Baker is very indignant at the charge made by the authorities in Washington, as appeared in the correspondence of The Bee, that it was due to his idleness that the matter of proceeding with the work on the new government building has been delayed.

"I have done," said Mr. Baker yesterday morning, "all I could do in the matter except to take a hammer and go out and pull down the old rookeries that encumber the lots, and it is too infernally het to do that. I received the money from Washington one Sunday morning and before be'clock Monday morning I ing and before received Monday morning 1 had paid it into the hands of the court. As far as the title is concerned, it is now, without question, vested in the United States, and the delay is occasioned by the departments alone. All that was necessary for the title to become vested in the United States was the money to be paid into the court and the fities approved, and this has been done.

Judge Dundy was also seen in regard to the matter. He declared that at this time the district attorney had as much to do with the matter as any other ordinary citizen and

He took the same position as Mr. Baker had taken in regard to the title to the property, asserting that it became invested in the United States as soon as the money had been paid into the court. It was not necessary that this money be paid to these people before the title of the government became clear. About $35,000 yet remains in the judge's hands to be disbursed. Of this amount about $18,000 belongs to Benjamin F., Alice S. and Nellie R. Folsom and Mary Augusta Martin, minors, now residing in New York and to represent whose interests no guardian has yet appeared. Two foreign mortgage companies own the bulk of the remainder. Judge Dundy says that the delay is attributable solely to the departments at Washing ton. The most sensible reason, he adds, that he has heard given is the one advanced that it might be well to wait before commencing the plans until congress disposes of the pending bill to increase the limit of cost.

Second Ward Republicans. The Second ward republican club held a meeting at Kaspar's hall last night. Barely a quorum was present, owing to the threaten ing storm. President O'Donovan occupied the chair and D. D. O'Connell acted as secretary. The minutes of the last previous meeting was read, showing that the only business was the allowing of a few bills. Dan O'Kceffe rose to remark that he was for Mercer first, last, and all the time, but that the party who thought he had Dan O'Keeffe in his pocket had a big load. He further intimated that money had changed hands to Gus Hamel took the floor next and proceeded to roast Frank Kaspar and Hascal and all other supposed candidates for alder manic honors, intimating at the same time that he was the man of destiny.

There was a great deal of raising to points of order and questions of privilege with very The meeting finally adjourned without tak-ng any action, though the drift of the talk showed that the members present considered that there was a political combination against the Second ward, which should be met, and that everybody favored Mercer or anyone cise in preference to Broatch for governor.

as taken place this season has been recorded. It will involve perhaps about sixty-five lots in Albright, which have been purchased by E. S. Rood. The value of the lots, the deeds to which have been recorded, is placed at 8740496 It was learned from reliable authority that these lots were purchased by Mr. Rood with a view to disposing of them to the Rock Island people for a round house and side trackage. The company has already secured the right of way through South Omaha and all the way to Lincoln.

next Saturday night.
Rain prevented the Swedish anti-prohibitionists from holding the meeting booked for last night. E. M. Stenberg, the preshient of the club, was promptly on hand, but as only a handful of the members assembled the ting adjourned without fixing any date for the next meeting.

South Omaha's School Board Squabble

SOUTH OMARIA, Neb., June 27 .- To the Edtor of The Bee: My attention was called this morning to an article in an Omaha morning paper headed "A Just Remonstrance," and the substance of said article was to the effect that the citizens of South Omaha were aggrieved at the refusat of Mr. Persons to sign orders for wages due the teachers. In answer to that part I will state that the orders were filled out and signed by Robert Funston. Where does he get his authority to attach his signature thereto as a member and secretary of the South Omaha school It is a question for the courts to decide who has the proper authority to act as a member and secretary of the school board, and until then I am powerless to countersign a school order or recognize either one of the contestants as secretary of the board. The above headed article is continued as follows: "Mr. Persons bases his refusal upon the fact that Mr. Carroll is contesting the deci-sion of Judge Shields giving Mr. Funston a scat, and he will not sign the orders until the matter is settlel. There is not a fair minded man in the city rich or poor, but regrets that Mr. Carroli should have taken the steps that he has, and also that he is upheld by Mr. Persons. In reply to this paragraph I will state can-didly and truthfully that I do not uphold either party in the contest, and that any and every citizen and taxpayer in this city, who is liberal minded and possesses a fair quantity of intelligence realizes the exact posi-tion I am placed in as president of the South Omaha school beard in the unfortunate suit between two parties. I was elected to fill my present position by the residents of this city, and for their interests, and their interests and for their interests, and their interests wholly, will I work, and not for any selfishness in this matter. In conclusion I will state that the city treasurer could not and would not cash the orders not properly and authentically signed. Respectfully yours, F. J. Prasons.

Francis T. King, president of the board of trustees of Johns Hopkins university, speaking recently of the movement for the admission of women to the medical department said: "A mistake has been made as to the amount of the fund. The movers in the amount of the fund. The movers in the scheme have determined to raise $200.000. This was not to be done by subscriptions limited to $100 or over, as has been stated, but by gifts of any amount. The women now have several good colleges devoted to liberal education. The Johns Hopkins will outrank them all, and the women purpose, if possible, to effect an entrance into our school, so as to pursue still higher courses of study."

The University of Moscow recently celebrated its 155th anniversary. Its teaching force consists of eighty-eight regular professors and eighty-five private instructors; the number of students is 3,805. The minister of instruction has in recent years made several efforts to lesson the attendance at this and other Russian universities, particularly by keeping away the poor. In Russia, too, the professions are overcrowded. One of the latest orders is, that the sons of coachinen and washerwomen shall not be admitted to any obigher grades of schools. Another order is that only a certain percentage of the total number of students can be lows. instruction has in recent years made several number of students can be Jews.

The recent change in the government of Harvard university is not very generally known or understood. The university is now under the control of a governing board, which consists of the higher members of the smaller faculties, of which each department of the university (the academic, the scientific, the medical, etc.) has one. Each of these faculties has a dean of its own, and consists of all the professors, assistant professors, instructs ors and tutors connected with its school or department. What was commonly known formerly as the "faculty," which governs the students of the university in general, is now called the "governing board," and the faculty f the academic department is known as the faculty of arts and sciences."
