

THE DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, Editor.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily and Sunday, One Year, $10.00. Six months, $6.00. Three months, $3.50. Single copy, 10 cents.

ADVERTISING. All communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to the Editor.

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETORS. The Bee Building, Farnam and Sixteenth Sts.

Table with 2 columns: City, Population. Lists major cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, etc., with their respective populations.

Among all these cities none can show as large a percentage of growth within the last decade as Omaha, whose population in 1880 was thirty thousand five hundred and eighty-one.

The big four of the new northwest, viz: Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Paul and Omaha, have each shown marvelous progress and made wonderful strides within the last five years.

While ranking first as to percentage of increase, Omaha's total gain in population in ten years exceeds that of St. Louis, Boston, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and five other cities which had a population of one hundred thousand or more in 1880.

Omaha and Nebraska congratulate Wyoming on her entrance into the union and with renewed assurances of distinguished regard.

The weekly bank statement shows the reserve has increased $489,000. The banks now hold $6,644,000 in excess of legal requirements.

While the council committee is skirmishing around in the suburbs for tax shirkers the corporation colony in the heart of the city is conveniently overlooked.

As both local and Washington authorities disclaim responsibility for the post-office delay, the government should send out an exploring expedition to search for the title.

The kindest cut of all is the offer of the penurious New Yorkers the contract to build the Grant monument. But New York insists on the usual commission.

The urgent request of German merchants for the repeal of the duty on American pork goes to prove that prohibitory protection is a positive injury to the trade of the nation imposing it.

The fact that Kansas City is compelled to trade at the Omaha stock market is proof as strong as lost writ that the city by the Kaw has lost its grip, and must soon pay tribute to Nebraska's metropolis.

The seven stalwart republicans who voted to depose Major Balcomb for the benefit of Birkhauser will be taught a lesson presently by the republicans of Douglas county. It's a long lane that has no turn.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL CLARKSON loves to hear himself talk and likes to see himself in print more than any man who has edited a newspaper. His outburst at the Tacoma banquet reminds one of George Francis Train.

AFTER a brief, inglorious attempt to start a revolution in Mexico, the climate became so warm for the leaders that seven of them plunged into the Rio Grande and were fished out and jailed by United States troops. However, a torn in an American jail is several degrees better than court martial and a grave in Mexico.

WESTERN liberality is the admiration of the eastern tenderfoot. The tender of free gift lots adjoining booming towns merely to advertise the country seems to have hooked a jolly school of suckers, and netted the fair five dollars a head. While the victims are waiting for their lots, the generous speculator is wrestling with an indolent.

BUSINESS rivalry and cadaverous jealousy does not prevent undertakers from organizing to secure all the melancholy traffic will bear. It will soothe the closing hours of prospective patrons to know that there will not be an unseasonable slashing of coffin rates, and that the journey to the cemetery will be decorously conducted by the livery trust.

WILLIAM BLACK has taken an Omaha girl for the heroine of his new romance, it is stated, and Mr. Gladstone figures to some extent in a character named Grandison. Mr. Black visited Omaha some ten years ago and was probably struck on an Omaha girl, just as Stanley was while exploring the green room of the Academy of Music during his memorable residence in Omaha.

The republican county committee has designated Friday, July 11, as the date for holding the primary elections, and Saturday, July 12, for the county convention. The issues in the impending contest are not merely personal or factional. They involve vital principles essential to the maintenance of the integrity and supremacy of the party in the county and state.

OMAHA'S RANK AMONG CITIES.

Ten years ago Omaha ranked as sixteenth among American cities based on the national census. Unofficial census estimates of the population of leading cities of the United States furnish a reliable basis for comparison of their relative growth and rank.

Table with 2 columns: City, Population. Lists major cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, etc., with their respective populations.

Among all these cities none can show as large a percentage of growth within the last decade as Omaha, whose population in 1880 was thirty thousand five hundred and eighty-one.

The big four of the new northwest, viz: Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Paul and Omaha, have each shown marvelous progress and made wonderful strides within the last five years.

While ranking first as to percentage of increase, Omaha's total gain in population in ten years exceeds that of St. Louis, Boston, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and five other cities which had a population of one hundred thousand or more in 1880.

Omaha and Nebraska congratulate Wyoming on her entrance into the union and with renewed assurances of distinguished regard.

The weekly bank statement shows the reserve has increased $489,000. The banks now hold $6,644,000 in excess of legal requirements.

While the council committee is skirmishing around in the suburbs for tax shirkers the corporation colony in the heart of the city is conveniently overlooked.

As both local and Washington authorities disclaim responsibility for the post-office delay, the government should send out an exploring expedition to search for the title.

The kindest cut of all is the offer of the penurious New Yorkers the contract to build the Grant monument. But New York insists on the usual commission.

The urgent request of German merchants for the repeal of the duty on American pork goes to prove that prohibitory protection is a positive injury to the trade of the nation imposing it.

The fact that Kansas City is compelled to trade at the Omaha stock market is proof as strong as lost writ that the city by the Kaw has lost its grip, and must soon pay tribute to Nebraska's metropolis.

The seven stalwart republicans who voted to depose Major Balcomb for the benefit of Birkhauser will be taught a lesson presently by the republicans of Douglas county. It's a long lane that has no turn.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL CLARKSON loves to hear himself talk and likes to see himself in print more than any man who has edited a newspaper. His outburst at the Tacoma banquet reminds one of George Francis Train.

AFTER a brief, inglorious attempt to start a revolution in Mexico, the climate became so warm for the leaders that seven of them plunged into the Rio Grande and were fished out and jailed by United States troops. However, a torn in an American jail is several degrees better than court martial and a grave in Mexico.

WESTERN liberality is the admiration of the eastern tenderfoot. The tender of free gift lots adjoining booming towns merely to advertise the country seems to have hooked a jolly school of suckers, and netted the fair five dollars a head. While the victims are waiting for their lots, the generous speculator is wrestling with an indolent.

BUSINESS rivalry and cadaverous jealousy does not prevent undertakers from organizing to secure all the melancholy traffic will bear. It will soothe the closing hours of prospective patrons to know that there will not be an unseasonable slashing of coffin rates, and that the journey to the cemetery will be decorously conducted by the livery trust.

WILLIAM BLACK has taken an Omaha girl for the heroine of his new romance, it is stated, and Mr. Gladstone figures to some extent in a character named Grandison. Mr. Black visited Omaha some ten years ago and was probably struck on an Omaha girl, just as Stanley was while exploring the green room of the Academy of Music during his memorable residence in Omaha.

The republican county committee has designated Friday, July 11, as the date for holding the primary elections, and Saturday, July 12, for the county convention. The issues in the impending contest are not merely personal or factional. They involve vital principles essential to the maintenance of the integrity and supremacy of the party in the county and state.

THE UNANIMOUS DECISION OF THE NEW YORK COURT.

The unanimous decision of the New York court of appeals annulling the corporate existence of the sugar trust in that state, and placing its affairs in the hands of a receiver, strikes a stunning blow at one of the greatest combines ever organized in the country.

The Maine republicans are in splendid shape, and are wisely renouncing their congressmen. They are fortunate in being represented at Washington by men who command respect and are worthy to be kept in continuous service.

Mr. Cleveland wants to run again for president, therefore the party wants him re-elected; and the party wanting him re-elected, he constitutes party opinion, party caucus, party conventions, party platform, nay, even the party itself, all within the circumference of one capacious waistband.

The rage for titled husbands is not confined to the maidens of America. Even our widows have yearnings. One, the dashing relict of the late "Cherry Pectoral" Ayer, is about to bestow herself upon a Russian and receive in return the name of Princess Dolgorouki.

The price's chief claim to distinction lies in the fact that he is the brother of the mazarinatic wife of the late emperor.

An Intelligible Southern Editor. A recent appeal for funds for Atlanta university in which appears the name of William Lloyd Garrison, the editor of the Atlanta Journal writes:

Now here is William Lloyd Garrison, with one foot in the grave, who was the father of abolitionism, and has spent his whole life in abuse of the south and her institutions, cannot let this opportunity pass to hit Georgia a lick.

Some day the astute editor of the Journal will be started into an early grave by learning the sad intelligence of the death of Adam.

Prohibition's Intemperance. The intemperate element in Kansas has issued a call for another convention of prohibitionists, which shall take measures to convince congress and the supreme court that the latter is unacquainted with the law.

The manly and patriotic way is to frame a measure which will secure an honest vote and an honest count in northern states, and to make that the law for all states alike. If it cannot be enforced in the south, or cannot be enforced without a kind of interposition which the government deems inexpedient, that will be the misfortune of southern voters, but not the fault of congress.

A Federal Election Bill. The manly and patriotic way is to frame a measure which will secure an honest vote and an honest count in northern states, and to make that the law for all states alike.

VOICE OF THE STATE PRESS. The professional politicians hate THE OMAHA BEE as a mad bull hates the waving of a red flag. Nevertheless THE BEE purveys of every kind of news and makes its millions of war in a manner that makes the professionals weary.

Railrogs Are After Leese. There are a few people in this state who are extremely solicitous lest Attorney General Leese fall to retire from politics, but to date there has been no demand from the same sources that the railroads in Nebraska go out of politics, although they have been in considerably longer than Mr. Leese.

The Call for Harlan. There is a very general feeling throughout this congressional district that Hon. N. V. Harlan ought to be a candidate for congress this fall. The very strong sentiment that ought to be nominated who command the confidence of the people, and the prevalent impression that only such men can be elected has awakened the republicans of this district to the fact that Mr. Harlan is one of the few republicans in the state who can command the full party vote this fall.

Don't Justify the Means. Every honest prohibitionist must hold in contempt a sneak and a spy, and though his dishonesty and double-dealing confidence games are piled on top of the interests of the nation, he is not to be named in the cold clammy case there is in it. An honest cause needs no dishonest measures to advance it, and a reform law, sneak and confidence man who makes no pretense to piety and reform.

They Are Frauds. When the Flail advises the farmers to stand by the old parties if they desire to work the reform they crave, it cannot be accused of dishonesty. There is no paper in Nebraska that has greater contempt for the party whip than the Flail, and it defies the dictum of the junta and the manipulations of those who would set up the pins to wrest the control of any party from the hands of the people. The producers of this country do not need a new party, for they may control either party, and the third party agitation is only by the old, winged, hawk backs that has the highest out of the old parties, and who take this means to again get into prominence. Let the farmers beware!

Demands of the Voice. The New York Voice, not able to bring about prohibition or even the semblance of it in its own state, is confident that it can easily manage the campaign in Nebraska, and it has the cheek to demand that the forthcoming republican state convention declare unopinionally in favor of state and national prohibition, and yet the adoption of such a resolution would insure the defeat of every candidate nominated at said convention, and yet would not bind a living person to support the amendment, as prohibition is not, and cannot be made a political question to the extent of binding any one conscientiously opposed to it. If the management be left to the Voice, no result will likely be about the same as it was in Pennsylvania and Rhode Island last year, where the people by a practically unanimous vote repudiated the hypocritical fraud.

The English Want the Earth. Even the historic Sevres porcelain manufactory is threatened with being sold by an English syndicate, said to include some of the more important china-makers of Great Britain. Of late years the product of the Sevres works, which always have been under the direct control of the French government, has been steadily running down in public esteem. The manufactory has received an annual subsidy of something more than $100,000, but a commission has reported in favor of abolishing that. The annual sale of porcelain produced at Sevres now scarcely exceeds $20,000.

FROM THE CAPITAL CITY.

Two Convicts Who Will Be Pardoned on the Fourth of July.

BOTH MURDERERS ON LIFE SENTENCES.

A Suit Filed in the Supreme Court Which Tells How a Man Secured Two Prices for One Lot.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 28.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Among the humane laws of Nebraska is one which provides that every Fourth of July two convicts who have served over ten years at the penitentiary shall be pardoned at the discretion of the board having this power. This board is known as the state board of pardons, and consists of the governor, chief justice of the supreme court, the attorney general and the warden of the penitentiary. This board has been in conference for two days, and today selected the two fortunate men who will breathe free air again. These two are Walter Harlin of Plover county and John Kouzko of Richardson county. Harlin is a forty-seven years old man. Kouzko is an old man of sixty-three. Both were sentenced to life imprisonment for murder.

Harlin has been in the penitentiary since 1875. The crime for which he was convicted was the murder of a man near the Colorado line for his horse and wagon. He was arrested shortly after the commission of the crime, and at the time was in possession of his victim's effects. He confessed committing the terrible deed, but gave as his excuse the fact that he was on the verge of starvation and was driven to the desperate deed thereby. When sentenced he was a young man of thirty, but his fifteen years incarceration have given him the appearance of a man of sixty.

John Kouzko is a broken-down old man. Fourteen years ago he had a quarrel with his wife and he struck her a blow that left her lifeless. He was arrested, confessed his crime, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Both men have left a splendid record at the penitentiary and the pardoning board believes that both are thoroughly reformed, and are anxious to pass the few remaining years of their life as law-abiding citizens.

George W. Pleasant tells in the supreme court of a scheme which he claims was devised by one S. M. Boyd to get two prices out of one lot. The property in question is lot 10, block 5, of the city of Lincoln, and is today very valuable. Pleasant says that he bought the lot in 1874 from S. M. Boyd, but the following year Boyd sold the property to one J. H. McClay. McClay has since that time been living upon the lot almost from the date of the purchase, has paid taxes upon the same and improved it to a most valuable real estate property. He was astounded recently to find that persons to whom Biddgett had sold the lots laid claim to the property, and Pleasant says that the courts since that time have found such individuals may present. Biddgett had subdivided the lots and made a handsome thing by selling the fractional parts.

J. H. McClay and J. H. McClay have lost their suit against the county, in which they demanded to be relieved of paying city taxes for several years on the land in the city of Lincoln, which they claimed to be the property of the county. The court has decided that Mr. McClay and Mr. McClay would have to pay up the taxes they have been holding back all these years.

The Second Presbyterian church society has been granted permission to mortgage its property to the extent of $1,500 in order to complete the new building.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian association have also been granted permission to mortgage their property to the extent of $1,500 in order to complete the new building.

Today Judge Cochran handed down his decision in the case of Mrs. Douglas vs. a horse belonging to Mr. Douglas, the grocer at Twenty-first and J streets, ran away this morning and threw Mrs. Douglas violently to the ground, knocking her senseless. She was badly bruised by the fall, but her injuries are not thought to be serious.

Until yesterday the condition of Mrs. Thayer was very encouraging, but the extremely warm weather has caused a relapse and she is now lying in a very critical condition. This will be sad news to her wide circle of friends throughout the state.

David Baumgardner, of late clerk in Secretary Jewell's office, received a telegram from Washington today apprising him of the approval of his bond and the mailing of his commission as receiver at the McCook land office.

Tread softly here, in silent reverence tread. Richer than these marble cenotaphs and trass. Lies richer dust than ever nature hid. Packed in the mountain's adamant heart, Or slyly swept in unsuspecting sand. The Flail's been told for often since the soul. How vain and all ignoble seems that greed To him who stands in this dim cloistered air. With these most sacred ashes at his feet!

This dust was Chaucer, Spenser, Dryden and Milton. The poet that once blundered it lingers still. O'er-hallowed spot of English earth! If the unchast and happy spirit of man Have option to revive our dull globe. What august shadows at midnight here convene In the convulsive sessions of the moon. When the pale pulse of London faintly throbs. And one by one the stars in heaven pale!

PROHIBITION OR HIGH LICENSE. The Great Debates at Beatrice July 5 and 7.

Mr. S. G. Green, secretary of the Beatrice Chautauqua assembly, sends Tim Bar the following for publication:

There will be a joint debate on the question of "Prohibition vs. High License" at the Beatrice Chautauqua assembly, beginning at 10 a. m., July 5, and ending the afternoon of July 7.

Samuel Dickie, chairman of the prohibition national committee, and Rev. Sam Small will debate prohibition.

Hon. Edward Rosewater, editor of THE BEE, and Hon. John W. Webster of Omaha will argue for high license.

Even the historic Sevres porcelain manufactory is threatened with being sold by an English syndicate, said to include some of the more important china-makers of Great Britain. Of late years the product of the Sevres works, which always have been under the direct control of the French government, has been steadily running down in public esteem. The manufactory has received an annual subsidy of something more than $100,000, but a commission has reported in favor of abolishing that. The annual sale of porcelain produced at Sevres now scarcely exceeds $20,000.

THE HAUNTED FOUNTAIN," by Katherine Macquoid; "A Born Coquette" and "April's Lady," by the Duchess; and "In God's Way," a novel by Ernest Horn Borsman, are the latest novels published by the John W. Lovell company, New York. Paper 50 cents.

Frank F. Lovell & Co., New York, have published "Betty," a new and taking American story by Anna Vernon Dorsey, and "A Daughter's Sacrifice," by E. Phillips, the author of "As in a Looking Glass."

Mary Caldwell Montgomery's story "My Strange Patient," issued by the "Minerva" publishing company, New York, is having a big sale.

"Hayne Home," a Kentucky romance, by Anna Oldfield Wiggs, has been published by Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago.

The series of volumes which Messrs. Putnam have put in course of publication under the general title of "Heroes of the Nations," has been initiated by the publication of a life of Nelson, by W. Clark Russell, with the "The Wreck of the Grosvenor," and other brilliant stories of the sea. The prospectus of the new series explains that it is planned to present trustworthy studies or pictures of the lives and work of a number of representative historical characters about whom have gathered the great traditions of the nations to which they belonged, and who have been accepted as types of the several national ideas. The list of subjects announced as in preparation or under consideration includes: Hercules, Achilles, and ends with Bismarck. The publisher explains, however, that it will not be practicable to issue the books with any approach to chronological order, and, as has been stated, the first actually in readiness is "Russell's Nelson."

"The Love of Myself," by Lawrence L. Lynn, is a thrilling detective story, just from the press of Laird & Lee, Chicago. Paper, 50 cents.

Mark Douglas's story "Can Love Sin?" has been published by Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia.

"The Bachelor Girl," a picture of today, from the pen of William Hosca Ballou, has been published by John W. Lovell & Co., New York.

John W. Lovell & Co., New York, have published "Rimfold," a new story by Florence Marygatt.

A comprehensive story of Russia, from the able pen of W. R. Morfill, M. A., reader in the Russian and Slavonic languages in the university of Oxford, has been published by Messrs. G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York. It is the most valuable history extant of this great nation.

An Infants Immigrant. Ragnhild Larsen is the most infantile immigrant who ever came to this country without a natural protector. She is two years and one month old and landed at New York the other day. She came alone all the way from Stockholm, Sweden. She is an orphan, and was sent for by her aunt, who lives in Newark, N. J. At Stockholm she was placed in charge of the stewardess of a steamer, bound for New England. At Hull a railroad conductor took charge of her and saw her safely on a steamer at Liverpool. The steamer was the Britannic, the stewardess of which vessel looked after her until she reached New York, where her aunt received her.

Republican State Convention. The republican electors of the state of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention in the city of Lincoln, Wednesday, July 23, at 10 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following state offices:

Governor.

Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of State.

Auditor of Public Accounts.

State Treasurer.

Attorney General.

Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

And the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention.

THE APPOINTMENT. The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the lowest vote for hon. George H. Hastings, presidential elector in 1888, giving one delegate to each county, and one for each 50 votes and the major fraction thereof:

COUNTIES. DEL. COUNTIES. DEL.

Adams..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Arthur..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Barth..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Benning..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boone..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

Boyd..... 14 Kearney..... 8

THE MEN FROM MAINE.

The Maine republicans are in splendid shape, and are wisely renouncing their congressmen. They are fortunate in being represented at Washington by men who command respect and are worthy to be kept in continuous service.

Mr. Cleveland wants to run again for president, therefore the party wants him re-elected; and the party wanting him re-elected, he constitutes party opinion, party caucus, party conventions, party platform, nay, even the party itself, all within the circumference of one capacious waistband.

The rage for titled husbands is not confined to the maidens of America. Even our widows have yearnings. One, the dashing relict of the late "Cherry Pectoral" Ayer, is about to bestow herself upon a Russian and receive in return the name of Princess Dolgorouki.

The price's chief claim to distinction lies in the fact that he is the brother of the mazarinatic wife of the late emperor.

An Intelligible Southern Editor. A recent appeal for funds for Atlanta university in which appears the name of William Lloyd Garrison, the editor of the Atlanta Journal writes:

Now here is William Lloyd Garrison, with one foot in the grave, who was the father of abolitionism, and has spent his whole life in abuse of the south and her institutions, cannot let this opportunity pass to hit Georgia a lick.

Some day the astute editor of the Journal will be started into an early grave by learning the sad intelligence of the death of Adam.

Prohibition's Intemperance. The intemperate element in Kansas has issued a call for another convention of prohibitionists, which shall take measures to convince congress and the supreme court that the latter is unacquainted with the law.

The manly and patriotic way is to frame a measure which will secure an honest vote and an honest count in northern states, and to make that the law for all states alike. If it cannot be enforced in the south, or cannot be enforced without a kind of interposition which the government deems inexpedient, that will be the misfortune of southern voters, but not the fault of congress.

A Federal Election Bill. The manly and patriotic way is to frame a measure which will secure an honest vote and an honest count in northern states, and to make that the law for all states alike.

VOICE OF THE STATE PRESS. The professional politicians hate THE OMAHA BEE as a mad bull hates the waving of a red flag. Nevertheless THE BEE purveys of every kind of news and makes its millions of war in a manner that makes the professionals weary.

Railrogs Are After Leese. There are a few people in this state who are extremely solicitous lest Attorney General Leese fall to retire from politics, but to date there has been no demand from the same sources that the railroads in Nebraska go out of politics, although they have been in considerably longer than Mr. Leese.

The Call for Harlan. There is a very general feeling throughout this congressional district that Hon. N. V. Harlan ought to be a candidate for congress this fall. The very strong sentiment that ought to be nominated who command the confidence of the people, and the prevalent impression that only such men can be elected has awakened the republicans of this district to the fact that Mr. Harlan is one of the few republicans in the state who can command the full party vote this fall.