ADMISSION OF NEW STATES.

Belief That the Limit Has Been Reached for Four Years at Least,

STATUS OF THE REMAINING TERRITORIES.

The Proposed Substitute for the Wilson Original Package Bill Expected to Be Called Up the Coming Week.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BEE,

513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4. Statesmen who remained in Washington today discussed the outlook for the admission of additional states into the union, and they were unanimous in the conclusion that no more will come in sooner than the Fifty-third congress, four years honce. There are but four remaining territories-Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Oklahoma. The Indian territory and Alaska are now but provinces, without representation in congress. It will take four years, even in the proposed land title court, to clear up the titles to the lands in Arizona and New Mexico, and till that is done statehood is impracticable. The anti-Mormon laws will like y put Utah in the proper social state for statehood by the Fiftythird congress, and not till that time is it believed Okiahoma will have sufficient population for statehood. THE ORIGINAL PACKAGE SUBSTITUTE BILL. The friends of the proposed substitute for the Wilson original package bill reported by the house judiciary committee expect to call up that measure next week and hope to pass t. Senator Wilson says of the substitute that he fears it is unnecessarily wide in its that he fears it is unnecessarily wide in its scope, and it is said that Speaker Reed favors only a measure restricted to intoxicating liquers. The bill meets with considerable objection on account of its very much enlarged scope, and despite the confident claims of its friends there is more than a reasonable doubt of its passage. A measure similar in its far reaching effects was proposed in the senate, but it was generally agreed that it would be much wiser to confine legislation exclusively to the importation of intoxicating liquor in original packages, so that even if the substitute should pack the house it would be amended to its original snape in the senate and a long and tedious conference would ensue which might jeopardize all legislation on the subject.

Alaska will come in last, and the latter, it is

THE CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAMME. From this time forward the house will devote itself to the settlement of contested election cases, the original package, bank-ruptey and a few unimportant measures which have passed the scenate. The work of the house is virtually done for this session, iside from conference work on the tariff and silver. The republican senators will deter mine in caucus early next week the order o business in view of a clash between the tariff and the river and harbor bills. If it is de-termined that the election bill shall follow river and harbors, silver and the tariff, no one can estimate the length of the session or forecast the result of the tariff debate, but if it should be concluded that the elections bill shall go ever to the next session, it is stated on the best democratic authority and the re-publicans who object to focures of the tariff bill that it can be passed within ten days from the time it is taken up in the senate. The fact that there is any demand from the business men of the country for the speedy disposition of the tariff, so that orders for fall and winter trade may issue, will be BEEMER, Neb., July 4.—[Special Telegram] the strongest argument in favor of postponement of the elections bill till next session. A QUIET DAY.

Sunday itself could not have been more quiet than was this Fourth of July at the national capitol. The only feature that distin-guished it from any preceding Fourth was the fact that for the first time since there was a Declaration of Independence the stars and stripes which that document called into life floated gaily from the cabital of the nation At a late hour last night young America turned out and begun firing crackers. This clatter was kept up until the gray dawn of morning, but the noise was heard by few pub-lic men. The city was deserted by all who could get away. Secretary Noble, Speaker Reed and Congressman McKinley were the mly well known public men left in Washington. The others had, along with their fam-lies or the president and his cabinet, hied away to the seashere. The weather was in tensely warm and those who remained out of preference rued their judgment before the sun

MAI the capitol, where for seven months the contentions of partism legislators have resounded and thousands of visitors have daily threnged, not a person could be seen all day save the lonely and wern policeman, and since the holiday is to extend till Monday there is to be a continuance of quietude. The Indians Are Jubilant.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., July 4.—The Lower Brale Indians are highly pleased over the result of the recent protest against the government surveyors who are now engaged in running the boundary lines of their reservation. A short time ago the Indians made a complain that the new survey did not give them the land to which they are entitled. The princi paleause of complaint was in regard to the southern boundary of their lands, they claim ing that the line was located three miles north of the proper point.

The Sioux bill, under which the Sioux reservation was opened to settlement, requires that the south line of the Brule reser vation shall be on a direct line west from old Fort Lookout. The rains of this old fort are nearly obliterated, and this fact caused the mistake. The surveyor general was appealed to and he has just succeeded in finding the correct location of the fort, and it was, as claimed by the Indians, three miles south of the point from which the surveyors commenced work.

Another line will be established and the Indians will receive possession of the strip claimed by them. The contested three mile strip contains extensive coal fields which will now belong to the Indians.

Newcastle, Wyo., July 4.—[Specia Telegram to THE BEE.]-The enthusiasm over statehood found vent today in the Fourth of July celebration, and although a later jubilee is on the programme it gave a joyous feeling which made the outburst of today exceed all expectation. For three or four days the business men have been decorating and the committee working like beavers with bunting and flags, until the city this morning resembled a mass of patriotic colors. The street parade was more imposing than is usual in cities many times our size. The Newcastle cornet band led, followed by the Grand Army of the Republic and the city council. Then came a magnificent car covered with the national colors, with a pyramid crowned with a cupale and an American cagle carrying forty-four prettily dressed girls, representing the states of the union. The new state of Wyoming was represented by a child in a gorgeously decked carriage with an eagle on top, carrying a star bearing the figures "43." Next followed twelve lacks on horseback dressed in red skirts, white waists and blue caps, their horses wearing colored collars with the names of Wyoming counties, a long line of

The fireworks display at night was in harmony with the general celebration.

Among the guests were United States Minister Phelps and wife, Walter Damrosch and wife, ex-Comptroller John Jay Knox, leading Ameri can residents and a number of noted German marksmen. Mr. Phelps, speaking to a toast to President Harrison, said America's danger arose from her immense materia presperity. President Harrison rated the richest and strongest nation on the globe. From his lofty station he saw more clearly than any one else the full sweep of this incredible prosperity. He was neither dazzled nor shaken. He kept his poise, rugged and firm as Washington, shunning the tempting paths of popularity, keeping the Puritan simplicity of our fathers' day, and having no aspiration except to show that the man was greater than his surroundings, character greater than success. Referring to the estimates that $150,000,000 was spent by Americans yearly traveling in Europe, he said that although there was nothing the custom house can show was a return reward, yet there was a certain reward in the ampler knowledge and experience gained which Americans turned to use. Alluding to the American house life as the sweetest and prosperity. DEPEW W. STAGGERED. The Famous Orate nocked Out by an India: dress. NEW YORK, July 4 - Special Telegram to

THE BEE, [-Just before the captain of the steamer Normania gave the order to "cast off" at the pier at 6 o'clock yesterday morning Hon. Chauncey M. Depew was fast asleep in his stateroom. Two moments later he was out of his berth and wide awake and was staring with astonishment out of the cabin window. The dock was lined with cowboys and Indians of the Ferepaugh and Wild West shows and every man in the party was firing his Winchester rifle as fast as he could pull the trigger, while squaws and youngsters were yelling to split their throats. Who the racket ceased the Sionx interpreter, "Grass," bestowed on Depew the name of "Big Pawnee Killer," and then read a letter from Black Bull Bear, chief of the Wood Mountain Sioux, "Great waite chief, my brethren, red and pale faced: I am glad to have come nere to wish ven safely on your travels over the blue waters. We have often heard of your name, white chief, and when we traveled behind your horse of iron over your trail of steel from Buffalo to Albany we thought as your railroad was the greatest, so thought as your railroad was the greatest, so must you be high in the counsel of the Great White Father at Washington, and when you return to these shores and meet again the Great Father, will you not intercede with him for those Indians who for taking part in the conflict with the mighty Custer were banished to British America. The Indians have been spoken false against all along in this matter. True, General Custer was killed by them, but what could the poer In-dians do but fight when attacked by Yellow-Haired Chief. We have never sought or de-sired citizenship, but we Indians feel that we would give anything to be able to east our votes for you should you desire to be our next Great White Father. Facewell, white chief, and Indians' very best wishes go with you.

you."

For once in his life Depew was unable to think up a speech in reply and he had to content himself with bewing thanks as the steamer moved off. Among the forty braves were Kicking Horse, chief of the Maledans, and Long Tooth, chief of the Assinaboines, and Long Tooth, chief of the Lillstonesand nine squaws, including Mrs. Hallstones-in-Her-Stomach, Mrs. Thunderstorm and Miss Gray Engle Tracks.

Young Women Adopt a Novel Mode of Ridding Themselves of a Rival.

the Nicaragua canal, arrived yesterday from Nicaragua. A reporter asked him about the published reports of general sickness among the employes. He said: "Work is progressing rapidly. Greytown harbor enough now to receive vessels of more than moderate tonnage and very soon larger ones can go in easily. All these reports of sick-ness and destitution in Nicaragua are untrue We have some five hundred or six hundred men at work on the canal at Greytown and there will be no cessation during the sum mer. The story that many people are starving and unable to get work is a pure fabrication. We are making haste slowly. We do not propose to have another Panama canal lasco. Instead of spending millious for fine nouses and conveniences for officers and con-ractors and doing little on the canal we are eginning to devote our energies, to the maining, viz.: digging the canal. The canal will be in operation in five or seven years and big ships will be passing through it daily."

BY INSINGS. Two thousand people witnessed the after-tion game, which was close if not dangerously exciting.

In the opening inning Mr. Morratt, who was doing the twirling for the visitors, after Hutchins had been refired, hit Lawson with the ball and gave Corrigns his base on four wide ones. Halstron's error at second gave Bowles a life, and then, with the bases full, Elnyre lifted the ball over the right field fence for a homer, yielding four runs.
In the third, on an error by Webrles, a three-bagger by Geist and errors by King and Enger two more runs were added to the Crane's column, and that's all they got.

For the visitors, Fass rapped out a home ran in the third. In the fourth, a single by Eager, a four-bagger by Nick Schner and an awfal fumble by Bowles yielded five runs, tying the score. The visitors won the game in the fifth. Nick Schner got first on Nich son's error in right, stole second and third bases and scored on Corrigan's fumble of Jake Schnor's weak drive to short right. This ended the run getting.
