The board of education did not have a meeting last night. The reason was that the parties who gave the newspapers the information that an important meeting was to be held obtained their authority for the statement from their imaginations. Several members, however, appeared, but the board norms were neither lighted up nor unlocked. The regular meeting will occur on Monday night and there will be a special meeting on

C. F. Adams, an employe of the Council Bluffs paint and all company, has perfected a very simple, cheap and effective mail box, that can be gotten up and furnished at an expense of less than 25 cents. Postmaster Treynor's attention was called to it yester-day, and he advised the inventor to send a model to Postimaster General Wannamaker, who is very anxious to secure a cheap mail box that the department can make and furhish to the people without cost. If Mr. Adams' box should be adopted the few hours it required to develop the iderand make the box will prove the most profitable in his life.

The park commissioners, city council and others interested have been inspecting the Fairmount particlectric motor line. It is a well known fast that a ride over the line is not as gentle as it might be, and that the cars do not run as smoothly over this part of the line as they doover other portions. The dif-ference is laid to the lighter rails used for the parkline. A result of the investigation has been a movement to require the motor com-pany to take up the lightrails and lay down heavier. This has brought a strong protest from the residents of the street, who claim that a heavier mil will obstruct the street more, and they threaten to resist the alleged improvement in the courts if necessary.

The city council and a number of reporters went down to the pumping station of the waterworks yesterday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting the primary subsidiary reservoir, which has been emptied and cleaned out. The inspection was asked by the water-works people, who desired the city officials and the newspaper representatives to see the bottom of the big basin before it was refilled. It was found to be in excellent condition and well cleaned. There and been removed apparently hundreds of tons of the silt and mudthat had been pumped into it with the river water. The last analysis made by the company's chemist shows that there is thirty pounds of silt to every 1,000 pounds of water as it comes from the river. The greater part of this is settled and lodges in the first reservoir. The second subshlary reservoir will be cleaned next. The reservoirs of the com-pany have never had a more thorough cleang than that given them this spring, d the turbid condition of the water about which there has been so much kicking is due of this. Arrangements for the commencement of this work on the new subsidiary reservoir and other proposed improvements are about

NEWS ABOUT THE BLUFFS.

An Unknown Man Supposed to Have Been Thrown Into the River.

SIGNS OF A DESPERATE STRUGGLE.

Circumstances Which Point to the Belief That a Dark Crime Has Been Committed-General Notes.

The Missouri river seldom gives up its dead or reveals its secrets, but it gave up a secret last night that may lead to the discovery of a dark crime, by which a Council Bluffs man lost his life.

Atso clock last night the mounted patrolman on duty at the bridge discovered some clothes lying on the sadbar on this side of the river beneath the trestie on the east end of he motor bridge. He watched them for some time and noted the fact that there was no person near. The clothes looked as if they had just been taken off by some one preparatory to taking a plunge in the river. Knowing the dangerous chracter of the current at that point, and how easily a man might be drowned there he concluded to make an investigation, and dismounted and went down to the point. Only a dark hat and a gray coat could be found, and they were not lying together. Both were nearly new and of fine material. He brought the clothes up to the bridge and susted his horse and proceeded on his beat.

eported the circumstance. The facts were telephoned to the central station, and the patrolines were ordered to make a closer investigation. They returned to the locality, but by this time it was too dark to see dis-tinctly and a lantern was procured. They made a startling discovery. At the point where the clothess laid there were a large number of tracks on the damp sand, and mixed up in great confusion, indicating that a struggle had taken place. One set were the tracks of a barefooted man and the other were those of a man with a heavy pair of boots or shoes on. They led to the edge of the river, where a desperate struggle had apparently taken place. But the waters gave no sign of the secret they concealed. The boot tracks led back into the willows, but the barefoot tracks did not return from the

By the aid of the lantern a closer examination was made and a heavy gold watch was found lying on the sund, apparently as if it had dropped from a vest that was being lossely carried. It was found beside the tracks that led into the willows. The watch, the partial raiment of a man, the tracks and the struggle that had apparently taken place all indicate the fact that a murder has been committed for the purpose of robbery and the body of the victim thrown into the

There are no means of identifying the clothes or the water, and who the unfortunate owner was could not be determined There was no mark on the watch, but whether there were any papers in the coat pocket that would reveal the identity of the owner is as yet only known to the officers. The fact that he went into the water from this side is the only evidence that he was a Council Bluffs man.

The City Council. A special meeting of the city council was held yesterday afternoon with the mayor and all the aldermen present. It was called for the purpose of receiving the report of the police committee concerning the erection of a second story on the patrol house, to be used as a police headquarters and for police purposes. The committee reported in favor of the addition, and the report was received and concurred in. The committee was then into advertise for bids for the work, to be rebe opened and the contract let. The proposed addition will costabout $3,000.

The police committee reported in favor of allowing the police department some extra facilities in the way of a horse and buggy, and the report was concurred in. The price to be paid for the outfit of was fixed at $500, and a warrant for that amount was ordered to be drawn in favor of the mayor and to be paid the owner when the chief of police sucreeded in finding the animal and vehicle that

D. J. Hutchinson & Co. submitted the plat of Wilson's Terrace, a new addition to the city composed of a pertion of Palmer's grove. Referred to the city engineer to draw an ordi-nance and report at the next meeting. Alderman Wind called the attention of the council to the fact that the lease on the building new occupied by No. 2 hose company had expired and submitted a report from the fire committee that the lease be not renewed and that better quarters be provided. The matter was referred to the fire committee with instructions to secure a better building.

The city scavenger matter was called up and the committee recommended that no more scavenger licenses be issued, and in licu thereof that all common carriers be permitted to do scavenger work upon their carrier li-censes if they filed a proper bond with the city clerk to comply with the requirements of the ontinance, which provides for covered vessels and tight boxes. The report was con-curred an. This practically settles a question that has ridden the council like a nightmare and given more trouble than the weightiest problem of municipal government.

Alderman Casper called attention to the violation of theordinance licensing bucksters. The ordinance was adopted a year ago and was designed for the protection of the local was designed for the protection of the local dealers against the outside fruit and decayed vegetable dealers who sell commission consignments in the residence pertion of the city. The ordinance provides for an annual license of $50 and specifically states that this license must be taken out on July 1 for the entire year. Robert Huntington, for M. Daquette and others, showed that Omaha hucksters and commission men had been getting licenses. and commission men had been getting licenses by the month, and would take out the necessary permits only during the fruit and green vegetable season. The marshal and chief of police were instructed to see that the ordinamee was enforced, and the clerk was ordered to issue no more monthly licenses to anybody.

The council adjourned to meet next Monday night.

Want Personal Damages. In the superior court yesterday the trial of peculiar case was commenced. It is entitled George Mantor vs Hugh Dowling. The case comes here from Neola. The plaintiff claims that he was at work on Dowling's farm, and had some difficulty in getting his pay. At last he sued, and on the very day when he should have been in Neola to attend to the case he found himself in the Pottawattamie county jail, on a pretense that he was insane. It is claimed that Dowling was the one who came here and filed an information charging that Mantor was crazy. A warrant was issued and a deputy sheriff was sent out to bring him in. He was locked up in jail until the commissioners could be notified, and when they examined into his case they promptly discharged him. Such were the facts on which he brings this suit for damages, claiming of the defendant the sum of

An accident occurred at the residence of Deputy Sheriff William Curry in Crescent township Sunday evening, by which his eldest son, Joseph, aged twenty-one, suffered a severe fracture of the right ankle. The y oung man was going away from home, and was mounted on a frisky young colt. He role up to bid his mother good bye and the colt shield at something near the gate. The rider was thrown violently against a corn crib, and received the injury stated. A year ago the unfortunate young manhad the same foot almost severed from his body by a blow from an axe while chopping wood.

Chautauqua Attractions. The interest at Chautauqua continues. The age of its merit being recognized, the crowds continue to go and come. They go with great expectations and they come away with the expectations met to their satisfaction. Yesterday the great event was the concert given by the Schubert quartette. This combination is by no means unknown in Council Bluffs. Several seasons ago they gave a concert here, in the opera house. Last season they appeared on the Chautauqua grounds, and again this season. With each reappearance they seem to create increased enthusinsm. The praise due this quartette cannot be too strongly stated. Their musical novel-be too strongly stated. Their musical novel-ties catch the public and their more artistic renditions catch the musical critics.

Last evening Dr. Hensen again lectured.

It was, like his other lectures, unlike those given by any one else. His strong individ-uality, his quaintness, his funny illustra-tions, clear points and uncommon common sense gain for him the verdict of being one of the most entertaining speakers on the platform of Chautauqua. A Peculiar Affidavit. John Dunn denies that the saloon near the Revere house had its furniture seized by the officers. All that they took in that line was a beer faucet, which was afterwards restored. They took some kegs and bottles of beer, some jugs of whisky, etc. In further explanation of the affair the following rather remarkable affidavit, for prohibitory Iowa, i

How to Ring a Telephone. "I wish the people of Council Bluffs could earn one little bit of a thing," said Manager Atkins of the telephone exchange yesterday, "The little thing I would have them learn is not any more difficult of acquirement than was the a-b, ab, of their primary school days, but there are 5,000 people in the city structed to engage an architect to prepare who constantly use telephones who will not plans at once and have them ready for sub- or cannot learn it. It is simply to follow our mission to the council at the meeting next printed instructions, that are printed in a Monday night. The city clerk was instructed dozen places in every telephone book they ever saw, concerning the methods of ringing ceived up to Monday night, when they will up central and calling the subscribers they want. When they want central the instructions are to give one short ring, and only one, and when the operator at the office connects them with the phone they want, we have begged, and prayed and besought them to ring that 'phone by giving two short, sharp, brisk rings. Nine times out of ten they will jingle the phone once and then wait a long time and jingle it again. This leaves the op-erator in doubt as to what they want, and erator in doubt as to what they want, and according to her instructions she should cut in and ask them what number they want. If she does this they roar, and telt her to keep out, or they will try to smash the tympan of the phone by shouting the inquiry why in summer weather she didn't give them the number they called for. She will meekly apologize to them when she perhaps feels like strangling them. Then when they get through talking to that subscriber they will want another connection at once, and they will give their usual little jingle of the bell. The operator is afraid of being killed if she cuts in, and she naturally lots them ring awhile.

"It's a trying position the telephone girls have to fill. Their duties could be lightened and the service rendered much more satisfactory if the public would fully follow our instructions about ringing up. It certainly is not difficult to recollect this: Call central with one ring; call the subscriber you want with two rings."

Dr. Bowers' office moved to 20 N. Main. Bear Tongue.

A colored man was arrested near the Chicago & Northwestern depot charged with vagrancy. When he came up before Judge McGee there seemed hardly sufficient evidence to warrant his being convicted, but it was deemed pest to hold him until later in the day for further investigation. As he left the presence of the judge some one asked him what was done in his case and he answered in a very contemptuous way, referring to the judge in so vile an epithet that the court con-cluded that even if he was not a vagrant he was guilty of contempt of court, and that $50 fine might cause him to have a little better control over his temper and his tongue.

Judge Deemer's Condition. It was expected that Judge Deemer would be able to be here yesterday to attend the district court, but he sent word that his wound had broken out afresh, and was troubling him so greatly that he would not be able to be here before Thursday, to which time he ordered that court be adjourned.

Their County Convention of Yesterday a Very Lively One.

MOORE AND EGGLESION FOR SENATORS.

Oakley, Gillilan, Cornish, McKessen and Severine Chosen as Representatives-lales of Matrimonial Troubles-Notes.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 14 .- | Special to THE BEE. |-The great political struggle that has been in progress among the republicans of Lancaster county for several weeks came to a head this afterneon in the county convention held at Bohanon's hall. At 2 p. m. 200 delegates, all in their shirt sleeves, gathered at the place of rendezvous and though the heat was sweltering the enthusiasm was none the less demonstrative and the deliberations were carried on among an ocean of fluttering fans.

The meeting was called to order by W. S. Hamilton, who announced the object of the convention. On motion A. M. Trimble was chosen temporary chairman and M. I. Aitkin secretary. On taking the chair Mr. Trimble made a strong speech upholding the soldier element and paying a warm tribute to the record of the republican party.

After approving the credentials of the various delegates, Mr. S. J. Alexander was chosen permanent chairman. M. I. Aitkin was chosen permanent secretary and E. D. Sizer assistant secretary.

On motion of Mr. Trimble it was decided that each delegation should cast the vote for its absentees. On motion of Mr. Woodward it was determined to oppose proxies in the state convention.

Mr. Woodward also moved that no nominating speeches be allowed. Although this sentiment was opposed by every man cocked and primed for a speech, nevertheless it pre-The convention then proceeded to place

Candidates in nomination.
On motion of Charles O. Whedan, Mr. R. E. Moore was unanimously chosen as candidate for the position of state senator from the city. Amid loud acclamations Mr. Moore came forward and thanked the delegation for the bonor accorded him.

The following gentlemen were placed in nomination for the position of senator from the country precincts: S. W. Beardsley, J. D. Woods, C. M. Bronson and George W.

After the first vote was polled the result was as follows: Beardsley $2; Woods, 52; Branson, 76; Eggleston, 9). The second was as follows: Beardsley, 104; Woods, 26; Branson, 51; Eggleston, 121.

The friends of Woods lost courage at this importure and with dear his cause from the juncture and withdrew his name from the

The third ballot resulted as follows: Beardsley, 114; Branson, 9; Eggleston, 179, Mr. Eggleston was declared the nominee. The following nominations were made for the positions of representative, there being five places to be filled: John J. Gillilan of the Fifth ward, R. H. Onkley of the Fourth, Charles Severine of Buda precinct, A. J. Cornish of the Fourth ward, John C. F. Me-Kessen of Mills Charles, Rese, P. Me-Kessen of Middle Creek and Byron Beal of

Bud Lindsay of the Third arose at this uncture and declared that he had withdrawn from the race on account of the bitter oposition of certain papers and for the good of the party.

A motion was then made by Mr. Hathaway that Gillilan, Oakley and Cornish be declared the unanimous choice of the city.

After the second ballot Captain Carder re-tired from the contest in favor of Mr. Churchill. Mr. Everson's name was also withdrawn. The final ballot was as follows: Churchill, 162; Wineland, 31; Travis, 114. Churchill was declared the nominee for the

In the Fourth district Joseph McGraw and John Fraas were presented and resulted in a victory for McGraw on the first ballot. The vote was: McGraw, 189; Fraas, 114. Thomas J. Dickson was unanimously chosen as candidate from the Fifth district.

The following gentlemen were named for county attorney: D. G. Courtney, J. G. Johnston and B. F. Johnson. The first ballot was as follows: Courtney, 186; Johnston, 58; Johnston, 55; Strode, 1. Mr. Courtney was declared the nominee.

An old man named J. J. Kelley then arose and after making a speech highly complimenting Tom Benton, state auditor, he made a motion that Mr. Benton be allowed to se lect his own delegates to the state convention as Mr. Benton was desirous of being reelected. The motion was carried with a thunderous although there were several votes against the proceeding. A motion was then made that Charles H. Gere be given the authority in conjunction with a committee of five to name the delegates to the congressional convention. This was carried, although a good many voted against it.

Mr. W. H. Woodworth then moved that

Noah Cushingberry and T. Eddings, both well known to the police, were arrested to-day charged with stealing a lot of chickens last night from a farm near Walton. The tell-tale evidences were found about their houses in the bottoms. Cushingberry is the paramour of the notorious Jennie Adams, who, though but a little over fifteen years of age, has gone inevitably to the bad. Hers is a case of hereditary cussedness. AN INDIGNANT HUSBAND.

H. L. Spencer has for some time been suspicious of the attentions paid to his wife by one George Kelley, and yesterday he in-formed his wife that he would not be home until today. Instead of going out of the city however, he disguised himself and remained however, he disguised himself and remained here to watch her. Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning his worst fears were realized and his first impulse was to shoot Kelley. But instead of doing this he resolved to publicly digrace him and hunting up a policeman he caused the arrest of the guilty pair, and the two passed the remainder of the night in the city jail. Mrs. Spencer affects great renitence and assures Spencer affects great penitence and assures her husband that if he will withdraw the prosecution she will always be true and faithful to him hereafter. It is said that Spencer is bent on getting a divorce and also intends to punish his guilty wife and her paramour to the fullest extent that the law will permit. Mrs. Spencer's father is a well-todo farmer named Sperry and he lives near White Cloud, Kan.

CITY NEWS AND NOTES. The following colored gentlemen were each fined $10 and costs this morning for being in a gambling den: Frank Mitchell, David Weldon, Solomon Walker, William Robinson, Richard Johnson, John Jackson, Ben Corneal and J. M. Downing. There has been a no-ticeable lack of arrests of white gamblers, however, of late.

John J. Renfeldt, a butcher, slapped James Keneally for coming into his shop drunk and using improper language in the presence of ladies. Keneally caused his arrest on the charge of assault and this morning he was fined $2 and costs. The index assured him fined $3 and costs. The judge assured him that personally he admired his manly action, but the spirit of the ordinances necessitated

Jim Daily, who bit off a portion of J. Kitchen's thumb in a fight Saturday night, was fined only $1 and costs this morning, as it was proven that Kitchen and his brother provoked the attack. Kitchen was also fined

The police were called hurriedly this morn-ing to Tenth and O streets, where it was re-ported that Lou Gibler had killed Abraham Bayliss. On arriving on the scene it was discovered that Bayliss was not dead, but dead drunk. An insulting remark made by the inebriate to Gibler had caused the latter to knock Bayliss down. As he was too intoxicated to move it was thought at first that the terrible blow had killed him, but it had merely stunged him instead. Gibler was arrested and mulched to the extent of $11. Mina G. Metcalf asks the aid of the courts to collect $300 from C. F. Cadwallader.
