Governor Thayer had a number of friends in the convention, but they were outnumbered and made no forcible response to the resolu-tion. The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union were on hand, backed by outsiders with their little amendment resolution. The resolution was sidetracked with the committee on resolutions, whose report will be made at the adjourned meeting of the convention. After selecting delegates the convention adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman to nominate county offi-cers. The delogation chosen to the state con-vention is headed by Ernest Werner, and the congressional by John Schaler. The latter will be largely for Consell, but go unin-structed. The state delegation is uninstructed, except so far as the above resolu-tions instruct, but will be for Hon. W. W. Abbey for commissioner of public lands and buildings.

Er.woon, Neb., July 19.- [Special Telegram to Tue Bee. The republican convention of Gosper county met today. Ringing resolu-tions were adopted endorsing the cause of the party in the past and expressing infinite con-fidence in its ability and inclination to deal with the exigencies of the future. J. O. Stewart was nominated as candidate for county attorney and accepted the honor in a very neat speech. William Schefflebien was nominated for county commissioner. Delegates were elected to the state, congressional and senatorial conventions and were left uninstructed, though it is understood that the state delegation favors Hon Jack MacColl for governor, and that Harlan is the favorite for congressman. The repub licans feel quite confident of victory in the battle of ballots.

LEXINGTON, Neb., July 19 .- [Special Tele gram to THE BEE. |—The republican county convention met this afternoon and elected delegates to the republican state convention. The following resolution was unanimously Resolved. That the delegates in convention

BEATRICE, Neb., July 19.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The result of the repub lican primary elections in this city this even-ing is a signal victory for high license. The high dicense forces were led by C. O. Bates and George B. Everett and the strong fight was made in the second ward in which the Bates-Everett ticket is elected by a vote of 244 to 122. The struggle here was of special interest because of the Kretsinger-Tait Dempster faction leading the prohibition amendment forces as a boost for amendment forces as a boost for Hon. John A. Dempster's gubernatoral boom. As a consequence Dempster's chances in Gage county have gone glimmering. In the other three wards the Kretsinger-Tait ticket is snowed under badly. The remain-der of the county has not yet been heard from, definitely. The delegation as elected is strongly in favor of Capt. J. E. Hill for state treasurer. state treasurer.

STATE NEWS.

Lightning's Work at Stanton. STANTON, Neb., July 19.-[Special to THE BEE.]-A terrifle rain storm, accompanied by deafening thunder and almost continuous flashes of lightning, prevailed in this county last night. The lightning struck in several places in this town. St. John's German Lutheran church was struck at 1:30 a. m. The tower was soon in flames and in spite of the heavy rain prevailing at the time they soon spread to the main body of the building and

The Lutheran society will take immediate steps to rebuild. The next place to receive a visit from Jupiter was the Lesier residence. After entering the attic the bolt seems to have scattered in all directions, doing damage in nearly every room in the house. No one was injured here.

The hardware store of Wenman Brothers received the next visit. Entering the lower part of the front door (somewhat shattering it) the bolt jogged to the right, entering the gun case, breaking the guns; turned again; passed down along the wall to the other end of the store, killing a buildog pup that was lying under the safe.

Death of Rev. Byron Russell. Lour City, Neb., July 19 .- Special Tele gram to Tire Bee. |- Rev. Byron P. Russell, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, died at his residence here yesterday after an illness of three months, and was buried today, a large concourse of people attending the funeral. He was born in Tittle Valley, N. Y., in 1833. He received his education at New Hampton, N. H., and Lewiston, Me., and was ordained in 1858 at Danville, Me. In 1862 he entered the army as chaptain, in which service he contracted the disease which resulted in his death. In 1883 he located at Ord, and in 1883 was elected representative from Valley county, which office he filled creditably, and was then appointed acting state geologist, and as such superintended the sinking of the salt wells at Lincoln in 1887. In December, 1888, he ne-cepted the pastorate of the church at this place and has since resided here, although he has suffered intensely during his illness. He was highly esteemed and his loss will be greatly felt in this community.

Matters at Ord. Ono, Neb., July 19 .- [Special to THE BEE -Right Rev. A. P. Graves, bishop of the invisdiction of the Platte held an Episcopal service here Wednesday evening, which was well attended by our citizens.

The Weather and Crops. FREMONT, Neb., July 19.—[Special to THE Bes.]—The long continued dry spell was broken last night by a heavy rain, and there is great rejoicing by everybody. The corn crop in this county has not yet been injured to any appreciable extent, but a few days more of the dry weather would have proven very damaging. I. E. Heaton, who has been a resident of this city for thirty years, and local observer for the Doane college meteor ological observatory for several years, re ports the rainfall since 2 o'clock this morning at 3.34 inches, the heaviest known in the his tory of the city.

False Statement Corrected. NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 19 .- [Special to Tue Bee |- Much indignation has been aroused in this city by the false statements concerning this place sent out from Lincoln by the prohibition bureau. The recent asser-tion that the city council of Nebraska City took action upon the matter and refused to permit a pair of prohibition exhorters to hold meetings in this city is false in every particular. The matter never was considered, and the men in question, Smith and Huckins, held meetings here for two weeks and quit

ing mermaids at Spirit Lake, has called a special meeting of the board of directors of the Western association for that point Monday, for the purpose of arbitrating the Des Moines-Kansas City embroglio. From the prima facie evidence Kansas City is unquestionably in the right. Manager Manning was officially informed by the manager of the Des Moines team that the club had been team that the club had been disbunded and the players released. Manning immediately signed Hart, Patton and Traffley, then conscated to an exhibition game which Des Moines won. The readiness with which Des Moines' players were being gobbled up opened the manage-ment's eves to the fact that they could proba-bly realize several thousand dollars by the sale of their best men, so they squealed, and sending for Secretary Roche, claimed that the club had not disbanded and that the players had not been legally released. Roche swallowed this story without salt and decided in accordance with the wishes of the man agement—that the players had not been le-gally released. The following day Kansas City refused to play against what it considered part of its own team and the game was given to be. Moines, as was the exhibition game of the lay before. Kansas City has appealed to the board of directors and the matter will be settled Monday. While the Cowneys may not get the men, they signed it is boys may not get the men they signed, it is quite certain the forfeited games will not be counted against them.

Millwaukee should never be allowed to win the pennant. In fact it would be a great thing could the Western association drop her from the circuit next season.—July, 13, 1890. MILWAUKEE, July 16, 1890 .- To the Sporting Editor of THE BEE, |- Dear Sir. The above is from the Omaha Bee, You will please have the kindness to explain your reasons why Milwaukee should never be allowed to win the pennant, and why she ought to be dropped from the circuit next season !

wrecking of three small buildings, one occupied as a confectionery store, one as a feed Milwaukee has always been the club of the Western association you could rely upon in every way and at the end of the season always proved as well as any of them. Mil-waukee never had any financial trouble, where the clubs of other cities like St. Paul, Minneapolis, Dea Moines and Sloux City had hard times to pull through. If the Western association would not have Milwaukee and Kansas City it would not be at the standpoint Kansas City it would not be at the standpoint it is now. Why then drop the best towns and substitute less successful ones? Milwaukee won the pennant one year and never received it, the pennant being credited to a club that was a year later transferred to Omaha. This perhaps explains the ill-feeling or would Omaha like to have the pennant again this year and can't get it?

THE Y. M. C. A. DEBT.

The First $1,000 Towards Its Liquidation Raised Last Night,

A special meeting of the members of the Young Mea's Christian association was held last evening for the purpose of taking some decided action towards raising money with which to pay off the indebtedness of the association. There were about one hundred members present when President Fleming called the meeting to order. He made a short statement of the financial condition of the organization, showing the debt to be about $11,000, with about $1,500 of this amount provided for.

A little over half of the indebtedness represents the balance due on the building, and the remainder was incurred by current expenses.

Mr. Fleming stated that it had been suggested that the members of the association should at once take steps to raise the first few thousands among themselves, to show their interest in wiping out the indebtedness and to show the business men of the city that they were deserving of their assistance.

Mr. Nash was called upon for a few remarks, and stated that he did not believe that the business men of the city would see the building closed and the work of the asso ciation abandoned. The need for the work would exist just the same whether the association stood squarely on its feet in good financial condition or was bankrupt. He was positive that there was no other organization that could do so much for young men, and he doubted if there was nayone who would deay that it ought to continue its good work among the 20,000 young men of Omaha. He then stated that it was proposed to raise the first thousand dollars right ther and there, and called foresubscriptions.

Out of All Parties.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 19.- [Special to Turk BEE.]-Since Dave Butler turned loose on J. Burrows of Columbus and accused him of being narrow souled, selfish and ambitious to run things his own way, people have wondered what particular split had occurred in the ranks of the alliance, the union labor party and other organizations which for a while filled the air with general threats of amalgamation and a grand, sweeping rush to victory. As nearly as your correspondent has been able to gather the facts, Butler and Burrows had a meeting, and in the meantime they had looked over the field for available material-material that had the money to defray the legitimate expenses of a campaign. Butler claims that he suggested that Coleman of Polk had money, and if he would run he might put $400 or $500 in the campaign, to the credit of Burrows' paper, and then help foot the bills of extra and sample copies. Butler, whom your cor-respondent has been unable to interciew, has told other parties that he had no money of his own and in fact did not know whether Coloman would ran; that if he did ran he did not know, in the common phrase, whether he would "cough up," but took it for granted Burrows, in the virtuous depths of his soul at once, after reflection, took it that Butler was a deep and designing corruptionist; that was a deep and designing corruptions; that he had money galore to throw at papers which seemed to waver and which seemed to be in want of the needful, and he goes home and on the letter-head of the Farmers' Alliance wrote to Mr. Butler and peremptorily read him out of not only the amalgamated parties, but all parties now in existence and all parties which are liable to be in existence. Briefly, he killed him, buried him and erected his tombstone, without even giving him the benefit of the clergy. The letter could not be secured by your correspondent for publi-cation, but a copy of which was given me and from which I make these extracts shows that there is blood bright and red on the

that there is blood bright and red on the moon. These extracts show that Mr. Burrews thinks he is in command of all the forces in the field:

Lincoln, Neb., May 26, 1800.—Ex-Governor Davki Butler, Pawnee City, Neb.—Sir: As I was unable to say to you at our risat interview, on account of the public surroundings, what I designed to say, I have determined to write to you an explicit statement of our relative pessilions, and what I desire you to do, and what you may expect from me in case you fail to comply.

silions, and what I desire you to do, and what you may expect from me in ease you fall to comply.

Your connection with the reform provement in this state has been unfortunate from the start. But meaters have reached a point now where my farther forbearance would be criminal. Your deceitof poor Chamberlain, or your corruption of him, I do not know which, is simply despleable. Is he also a sharer of the money of Pr. Coleman's father?

You will curse me for this letter, but I imagine you will comply with the demand of it.

That demand is that from this time forward you absolutely withdraw from all participation in any reform movement. In this state—that you do not attend the Chamberlain contention—in short, that you absolutely retire to private life.

You told me the other day that I had a powerful position. Well, I have. This, then, is a demand and a threat from a man in a powerful position. You must comply with it or take the consequences. I long ago had irredutable evidence of your reachery. I have added irrefutable evidence of your treachery. I have added irrefutable evidence of your treachery. I have added irrefutable evidence of your treachery. I have added irrefutable evidence of your reachery. I have added irrefutable evidence of your treachery. a promise of confidence extorted to precede an insult.

I think I have made my meaning clear, and you can understand plain English. I shall announce in my paper this week that you have absolutely retired from all participation in public affairs.

I suppose you know me well enough to know that I do not need to take any oaths to failfill my thrat. I leave them for your use when you receive this letter. But when your first outburst subsides you had better read it again. Its significance will dawn upon you more fully on a second reading.

I am governor, with all due respect, yours.

I am, governor, with all due respect, yours,
J. Burnows. It is very evident that there has been a row in the ranks of the amalgamated forces, and both Butler and Burrows are willing that it both Butler and Burrows are willing that it should expand. It all comes, I hear, from the fact that the apportionment in the different counties to the state convention July 29, was made wrong. For instance, Pawnes county was given but three delegates, while Frontier was given twenty-three. Pawnes was entitled to thirty, if Frontier was enti-

tied to tweaty-three, and as Burrows made up the list, Butler sees in it a chance to destore and the other a small, unoccupied residence. The residence was totally dostroyed, while the other buildings were blown from prive him of twenty-seven delegates, Another thing that makes Butler hot and warm is that he claims that Burrows signed Craddock's name to the general call for an in-dependent convention without Craddock's knowledge. Craddock is secretary of the labor party of Nebraska. The following copy of Craddock's letter on that subject shows labor party of Nebraska. The following copy of Craddock's letter on that subject shows that the labor folks are also disturbed:

Lixcoln, Neb., July 3.—To Whom it May Concern: As a large number of my friends, by letter and otherwise, have demanded of me an explanation as to why the basis of representation to the call for a people's state convention was made as it was, I desire to make the following statement: I knew nothing of the call until I saw it published in the Farmers' Alliance of Lincoln. I was not asked to appoint a member of the committee, and I did not appoint any one on the committee to make the call and I had nothing to do with the call, and did not even know that it was being prepared until I saw it published in the Alliance. As soon as I saw the call I went to Mt. Thomson and protested, and on July 2 went with two witnesses to J. M. Thomson, secretary of the alliance, and asked him to name his member of the committee. At Thomson's suggestion I named I.D. Chamberlain as one member of the committee and Thomson named J. Burrows as the other member of that committee, but all this was after the call had been published in two issues of the Farmers' Alliance. I wish to say and have the public know that the use of my name in connection with that call as published is entirely without my knowledge or consent, and I am not responsible for any part of it. Respectfully,

Lincoln, Neb.

Whether Butler is sincere or not; Burrows is sincere or not, or what is the matter—the thing that remains prominent and proves, beyond doubt, is the fact that Butter and Burrows are at war. And this is why Butler roasts Burrows at public meetigs whenever he gets a chance. In the meantime Butler refuses to come off the perch, and with Chamberlain and Crad dock and other labor organizations is whooling it up in the country districts insisting that Burrows' soul is so small that a thou sand like it could find ample dancing room on the point of the finest needle.
