A ROAST FOR SPEAKER REED.

Congressman Struble Goes for the Presiding Officer of the House.

HE CONTRASTS HIM WITH CARLISLE.

The Senata Committee on Postofficas Reports a Measure for a Limited Postal and Telegraph Service.

WASHINGTON, July 29. -In the house today Mr. Camon of Illinois, from the committee on appropriations, reported a joint resolution providing temporarily until August 14 for such of the expenditures of the government as have not been provided for by the appropriation bills which have already become laws. Passed.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

Mr. Struble of lown made a attack upon Speaker Reed for his action towards gentlemen having an in terest in public building bills. He contrasted courteons manner of Speaker Carlisle towards all gentlemen requesting recognition, with the almost succeing manner in which the present speaker treated such requests. The speaker treated the members as though they were boys. He did not propose to stand this sort of treatment any longer without protest. Should the members, he asked, continue to submit onser like cowards to the dictation of the Should they not rather combine for an honest recognition! He was for against the rolings of the speaker in regard to the public building bills. remarks were vigorously ap-Plauded by the democrats,
Mr. Cannon thought the gentleman from Iowa had better have withheld his attack upon the speaker. He (Caunon) did not feel called upon to defend the speaker. The speaker needed no defense. The country speaker needed no defense. The country had approved the action of the speaker and the action of the republican side of the Mr. Peters of Kansas defended the peaker's action. Mr. Struble said the statement that members with public building hills and not been fairly treated was a fact; that he alleged be-fore the house and the country. He agreed that the work of the house during this ses-sion had been a grand work, but that did not deter him from protesting against the indig-nity put upon him and other members. Dur-ing his administration bills were approved public buildings in the south in places of 7,000 inhabitants, and yet the Sioux City bill had been vetoed. That was past and gone now, but, as he had said before, the speaker of the last house never falled to give courte-ous treatment to members on the republican de. [Democratic appluase]. Mr. McClammy of North Carolina expressed his pleasure at knowing that the occasion had arrived when the gentleman (Struble) could have the courage of his convictions. [Laughter, which broke out louder when Mr. Me Clampy alluded to Mr. Struble's failure t secure a renomination by speaking of the beautiful tones of the dying Swam.] An amendment which gave rise to discus-

As ameadment which gave rise to discussion was that appropriating $200,000 for the purchase of a suitable site for a building for the supreme court. In speaking to this ameadment Mr. Carath of Kentucky regretted that the gentleman from lowa (Strable) had made an attack upon the speaker. He thought there was some consolution in what the getleman from North Carolina (McClammy) had to say to the gentleman from lown on his funeral occasion about the dying song of the swan. The speaker might exclaim that the swans sang before they died, but that certain persons died before they sang. [Laughter]. He was opposed to a building for the supreme

Senate. Washington, July 29.—In the senate today the resolution adopted at a public meeting of republicans in Birmingham, Ala., against the passage of the election bill was pre-

Mr. Sawyer, from the postoffice committee, reported back the senate bill to establish a limited postal and telegraph service. Placed on the calendar. Mr. Sherman offered a resolution, which went over until tomorrow, for the daily meeting of the senate at 10 a. m.

Mr. Ingalls introduced a bill to establish a department of communication and said it was prepared by and introduced at the request of the wage worker's alliance. The tariff bill was then taken up in pur suance of the understanding reached in the republican senatorial causes last night, the pending question being on Mr. McPherson's amendment offered yesterday to reduce the duty on acetic acids. Rejected by a party

The clerk proceeded with the reading of the bill, but had only got through a line when he was stopped by Mr. McPherson with the remark that he (the clerk) was moving too hastily. Mr. McPherson then offered an amendment reducing the duty on boracic acid from 5 to 3% cents. Rejected-25 to 30.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas then addressed the senate in opposition to the bill, which, he said, was a declaration on the part of the republicans that the war tariff was never to be reduced. He firmly believed that the pres-ent period of protection was gone and would inaugurate a movement that would, in its effects and consequences, surpass previous upheavals of the kind. The protection system would be crushed and cast out as another abomination. Coming to the question of a bounty on surrar, Mr. Jones asked why not protect the tion. Coming to the question of a bounty on sugar, Mr. Jones asked why not protect the wheat grower by a bounty as well as the sugar grower. The proposition to take the duty off raw sugar and pay a boanty on American grown sugar simply meant "sugar free for refiners, sugar free for the sugar trust, sugar taxen for all who consume it for food."

Mr. Gorman said the democratic sense.

Mr. Gorman said the democratic senators wanted a free discussion of the bill or noth-ing, but the republican senators wanted to rush it through at railroad speed.

Mr. Aldrich said that in 1888 the tariff had been discussed in every field and workshop and on every hustings. The country under-stood that talk and the attempt to drive the republican senators to make stump speeches for political effect was simply to delay action on the tariff bill, which delay was destructive to every business interest.

Mr. Gorman reminded the republican side of Mr. Plumb's statement that the party was in no danger and of his warning that it would in no danger and of his warning that it would have increased taxation within eighteen months. He also said that Mr. Blaine had, through the senators from Maine, told the republican senutors that if they passed the bill as reported they would not only destroy the possibility of increasing our trade with the countries south of the United States, but the countries south of the United States, but would handrout the treasure in sighteen would bankrupt the treasury in eighteen months, for that was the meaning of it. Mr. Hiseock repelled the general charge that republican success at the last election was the result of the influence of manufacwas the result of the influence of manufac-turers or monopolists, and asserted that in the state of New York wherever democratic majorities were rolled up the steps of the whisky interest could be marked. In refer-ence to the statement as to the refusal of the fluance committee to give hearings to per-sons interested, Mr. Hiscock said it had re-fused to give hearings to representatives of the manufacturers of Germany, France, Eng-land and Belgium. The place for them to land and Beigium. The place for them to be heard was where the democratic members of the committee were in conference. He did not know how much money had been con-tributed to the democratic election fund by those interested, but he knew that every day the bill was delayed was largely to the profit of foreign manufacturers. They were inter-ested in its defeat.

Mr. Voorhees congratulated Mr. Gorman on his great victory in breaking the predeter-mined silence on the republican side of the chamber. As to the speech of the senator from New York, which had been extorted under the lash, it was the same old trade of buse against the democratic party.

After further debate the bill was laid aside and the house joint resolution to con-tinue the appropriations under the existing laws up to August 15 was presented, dis After an executive session the senate ad-

It has been pretty clearly shown that ten or a dozen of the busi-ness men of the city took the worthless paper and gave the fellow the goods he wanted and paid the difference in money. At Marcus' clothing store he bought a pair of dark brown pants for $6. The clerk measured him and found he wore pants that should measure 33 inches in the legs and 31 at the waist, but he picked a pair of 31-32 and was well satisfied with them after he got his change.

The Old Bluff City Steamer.

The old steamer Bluff City, which has seen more service and done more execution at fires than any other steamer in the state has been permanently laid aside, and it is probable that very shortly she will find her way to some junk shop or scrap pile. A few days ago the venerable old relic of pioneer days was taken from the rear room of the patrol house to make way for the improvements that are being made there, and taken to No. 3 hose house for the purpose of having Engineer Wicks overhanl it and ascertain whether or not it would be profitable to have it repaired. The flues have long been defective, but an examination showed that the boiler and also become rotten and worthless, and that to properly prepare the old machine for service would entail a cost of about eighteen hundred dollars. This is more than the council could hope to sell the steamer for, provided a purchaser could be found, and it has been depurchaser could be found, and it has been de-cided to make no further effort to dispose of it, but to store it away and if some time it can be disposed of for fire purposes well and good, but if it cannot to eventually seil it for what it will bring for old metal. Who Was the Thief? Yesterday afternoon one of Beecroft's express drivers named Hutchinson was called upon to take a passenger to Omaha. The passenger was a finely dressed. dudish-looking fellow of about thirty years of age. The expressman suggested that a back would be pleasanter, but the fellow wanted to ride in the express wagon and insisted upon the driver taking him across the bridge, telling him he had plenty of money to pay the bill and would give him the same price that a backman would charge. The driver accepted the proposition and started, but after they had gone as far as No. 2 engine house on Lower Broadway the passenger requested the expressman to drive out to one side of the street and wait a moment. He did so, and while they were waiting a covered wagon came along with two or three men in it. The expression at thought it looked like a horse traders' outfit, as several horses were hitched to the rear of the wagon. When they came up to where they were standing the passenger jumped from the express wagon and ordered the driver to go back to town and get his pay, and told him that he didn't intend to go to Omaha and was only taking a ride for the fun of it. While he was sitting on the seat beside him Hutchinson noticed that he had a large number of pieces of dry goods, silks and dress goods concealed beneath his vest. When he left the express wagon he climbed into the covered vehicle and it was driven rapidly away, but not until Hutchinson saw the fellow pulling out the stoff from beneath his coat and handing it to the driver of the wagon. Hutchinson endeavored to follow them, but they drove too rapidly and before he could report the matter to the police they were out of sight.

Motorman Jacobson was not in the billiard hall at 134 Broadway when he was relleved of his watch and money by the light-flugered "Doc" Cooly on Monday afternoon, but in the adjoining building, a candy store, owned by his brother, P. Jacobson. He was off duty and asleep, and knew nothing of the theft at Andrew Anderson was arrested at the transfer last night by one of the mounted pa-trolmen and conveyed to the station in the patrol wagon. Anderson got into an alterca-tion at the depot with some traveler and drew a revolver with the intention of shooting him out was prevented by spectators, who held him until an officer could be found. The prosecutions that have been started against Beecroft, the old expressman, for hitching his team on the street in front of his place of business have been dropped, and it is not likely he will have any further trouble in maintaining his right to keep one of his teams hitched in front of his office. Both cases were dismissed at the evening session of the police court last night. The jury in the case of Marcus vs. Dohany eturned a verdict last evening for Dohany The suit arose over a misunderstanding cor cerning a division wall of the little building owned by Dohany and used by John Temple ton as a cigar store. When Marcus built his new block he tore out the frail little wall and replaced it with solid pressed brick, and then asked Dohany to pay for a part of it. He re-fused, and hence the suit.

T. J. Kelley, who recently came here from Denison, Ia., and opened a beet and shoe store in the room formerly occupied by the Cascade laundry on Broadway, gave a bill of sale yesterday of the entire stock to A. I. Ruie, of Charter Oak, Ia. Mr. Rule immediately took possession of the store and will continue to run it. He is an old shoe man and will doubtless work up a big trade. Mr. Kelley goes on the road for Charles A. Coe & Co.

The Council Bluffs electric light company has been awarded the contract for wiring the new hotel, and the work will be commenced at once. There were twelve bidders, some of them lower than the Binffs company, but they secured the cantract upon the agreement to wire the immense building for every known system. There will be 563 electric lights. The work will be under the super vision of Mr. Evans, who has had man vision of Mr. Evans, who has had many years' experience, and who now holds the re sponsible position of superintendent of the

The Grimm-World-Herald-Seguin-Haynes Pacific-house riot cases were called in the superior court yesterday afternoon. A great deal of testimony was taken, some of it of a decidedly sensational character, relating to a number of letters that had been sent and re-ceived by some of the parties implicated, directly and indirectly, in the trouble. The in-troduction of testimony was not finished, and the cases were continued until 8 o'clock this morning. All the principles are being tried for the same offense-simple assault.

Mrs W. H. Copson, was severly injured in a runaway accident last evening. The horse she was driving feel on the pavement and in his efforts to regain his feet he broke the shafts and became entangled in the harness. When he got upon his feet again he was badly frightened and ran away. Mrs. Copson had wrapped the lines around her arms, and when the horse broke loose from the buggy she was dragged for some distance on the prvement. Her right arm was dis located and she was severely bruised but not dangerously hurt.

The ladies of the United Guild are not altogether satisfied with the result of their chautauqua enterprise. They managed the boarding house during the assembly and daily fed the crowds. They did a greatdent of hard work, and took is about $1,800. They have just finished paying the bills and find that the balance in their favor is only $1,800. The great disparity between the net and the gross receipts is due to the heavy expense for waiters and cooks and the difficulty of finding and keeping competent help in the kitchen. Their daily compact help in the kitchen. Their daily expense for help hired alone amounted to $20 a day. They are sorely disappointed over t e result, for they expected to establish a new church with the monor than here they have with the money they hoped to make.

"Do I look like a chump!" eagerly inquired Tom Hughes, a South Main street merchant last night. "I wish somebody would hit me with an axe. I have been dealing with the public all my life and I haven't learned enough not to cash acheck for a fellow I don't know. I've got a check for $7.50, drawn on the Council Bluffs Savings bank by the Council Binffs paper company, made payable to George Gregg, and I wouldn't take $10 for it. I'm going to have it framed and hung over my desk. I wouldn't show it if I hadn's seen about a dozen others just like it for the same amount, and all numbered 147 like this one. I gave Mr. Gregg $1 worth of goods and $3.50 in each for this thing, and from what I hear, I guess about every other merchant on Main street did the same thing. No, I don't think the palice will succeed in catching Gregg. I hope they won't. He is too valuable an instructor to be saut up. And then, $7.50—a lessen isn't too high when you can pay part of it in goods."

A Big Dose of Sarsaparilla Coming. The bill poster ordinance which has made so much trouble for a number of people in ble for the city atself. One of the men arrested for violating its provisions was a man named Hood, who is a consin of C. I. Hood, the great patent medicine man. Hood and his men were engaged in billing the town when arrested. They were not posting bills advertising the merchandise of the company, but distributing neat little picture books and cards. The men were released upon filing satisfactory bonds and were permitted to go about their business, but not to do any more advertising in the city. The cases have not been reached yet, and no date is fixed for hearing them in the superior court. In the meantime C. I. Hood has notified his agents to procure the best counsel that money em-ploy and fight the case to the bitter end, and it beaten in the courts here to appeal to the supreme court of the state, and if defeated there to carry the matter into the supreme court of the United States. He has also sent word here that he will suethecity for several undred thousand dollars damage, declared that the arrests will be worth thou sands of dollars to him for advertising pur poses, and he proposes to invest in it heavily as a new advertising scheme.
