

IF LOOKS LIKE A COLLAPSE.

The Strike on the New York Central Seems to be Dying Out. IT HAS NOT SPREAD TO THE WEST.

Officials of the Road Claim that Everything is Coming Their Way—Freight Trains Moved—Depew Not Heard From.

New York, August 11.—Whatever views one might take of the situation, all through the night and early this morning it looked as though the strike on the New York Central road was slowly but surely petering out. The Buffalo express, the newspaper train, moved exactly on time this morning and before 10 o'clock two trains had been sent out over the Hudson river.

Having been successful so far the management set about making its plans for the day. Soon after the announcement was made that all trains would be run today with the exception of two locals. At 6 o'clock this morning Vice President Webb, in answer to a question as to whether the freedom of the road had joined, the strikers, said they had not and that he had no further running right and fully manned. Webb said he had not heard from Depew yet, and that the strikers would be in no better position than when the strike began.

The freight train tied up. Albany, N. Y., August 11.—A freight train which left New York at 11 o'clock today arrived at Albany at 6 o'clock and will not be sent any further west for the present. When the train drew into the station it was met by a crowd of strikers, and it took the train crew some time to get the engine started. It is believed that the freight train will not be sent any further west for the present.
