

ST. LOUIS HONORS HARRISON.

The President Cordially Welcomed to the Metropolis of Missouri.

HE ADDRESSES ASSEMBLED THOUSANDS.

The Special Train on the Wabash Road Manned Entirely by Grand Army Employes of That System.

St. Louis, Mo., October 11.—The special train bearing President Harrison and his party... The President cordially welcomed to the metropolis of Missouri.

At breakfast this morning, thirty miles from St. Louis, the president was the guest of Vice President Kerens, of the Cotton Belt road, in the latter's private car.

On the arrival of the president at this city he was taken in charge by Governor Francis, Mayor Noonan and the entire reception committee, who, with military and other organizations, were to act as an escort through the city to the Southern hotel.

From the depot the procession moved to the Southern hotel, where the president was to be entertained. The president and party reviewed the military, Grand Army of the Republic, Sons of Veterans and various other organizations.

The president responded briefly to the salute, and then he turned to the grand army of the republic, and they manifested their enthusiasm by repeated cheers as they passed the reviewing stand.

Close of the Coal Poles. OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The coal poles closed tonight like an old-fashioned Methodist camp meeting.

Supreme Court Decisions. DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The following supreme court decisions were filed today:

Waterloo Secures Reed. WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Special Reed was announced today for a political speech in this city on Thursday, October 13.

A Brakeman Killed. CHESTER, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A brakeman named Shore, of the Chicago & North Western, was killed by a train on the Chicago & North Western.

Public Meetings Forbidden. BRAXTON, Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—All public meetings have been forbidden in Bellona by order of the federal commissioners.

LATEST DEMOCRATIC DOGGE.

How the Bourbon Circle Settled Against the McKinley Bill.

PARTY STOREKEEPERS PUT TO GOOD USE.

A Lull in the Gossip About an Extra Session—Mercurial Mr. Mills—Land Decisions—Miscellaneous Matters.

WASHINGTON BUREAU THE OMAHA BEE, 113 FORTY-SEVENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.

The latest dogge of the democratic party is a systematic attempt to induce the democratic storekeepers and merchants to prejudice the minds of the public against the bill.

Nancy Hanks Beats Alabaster. CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 11.—Fair weather brought over 2,500 people to the Green City on Saturday afternoon to witness the contest.

Close of the Coal Poles. OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The coal poles closed tonight like an old-fashioned Methodist camp meeting.

Supreme Court Decisions. DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The following supreme court decisions were filed today:

Waterloo Secures Reed. WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—Special Reed was announced today for a political speech in this city on Thursday, October 13.

A Brakeman Killed. CHESTER, Ia., Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—A brakeman named Shore, of the Chicago & North Western, was killed by a train on the Chicago & North Western.

Public Meetings Forbidden. BRAXTON, Oct. 11.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—All public meetings have been forbidden in Bellona by order of the federal commissioners.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Candidates for the Various County Offices Nominated Yesterday.

ANDERSON LEFT OUT IN THE COLD.

The Make-Up of the Legislative Ticket Causes Considerable Dissatisfaction Among the Country Delegations.

The democratic county convention held in Washington hall yesterday afternoon was a hammer. The local leaders of the unaffiliated caucus during the morning hours on the sidewalk in front of Ed Wittig's saloon.

The result of the primary election on Thursday had fairly changed the plans of some of the leaders of the democratic hosts and ambitious aspirants were hustling in an effort to get their political fences in presentable shape.

The first result of the morning caucus was shown when it came to the selection of candidates for commissioner. George Timme was chosen by a large majority.

The programme was repeated when the fifth ward democratic county central committee was defeated at the primary.

It was simply frightful the amount of eloquence that was tapper when it came to placing candidates for representative in nomination.

The following names were headed in for members of the county central committee: First ward—Tom Coffey, Jas. Murphy, Third ward—Pat Ford, Jas. Douglas.

At precisely 2:30, Euclid Martin, chairman of the democratic county central committee, rapped the convention to order.

When the committee was ready to report the secretary asked for an assistant, and it was reported that the secretary, James P. Conroy, was not present.

Con delegates were as follows: First ward—Andy Erick, W. M. Neve, Owen Slavin, William Frick, Lew Hermann, Will Stokes and J. P. Mulvihill.

When the committee was ready to report the secretary asked for an assistant, and it was reported that the secretary, James P. Conroy, was not present.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1890.—TWENTY PAGES.

WAS SHEFFLEE POISONED?

Mysterious Death of a Council Bluffs Man Hiding in a Cable Car.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

He is Suddenly Taken Sick While Hiding in a Cable Car and Shows Symptoms of Having Been Drugged.

The mortal remains of Charles E. Sheffield, formerly night agent at the Union Pacific transfer at Council Bluffs, lie at Healey & Healey's undertaking rooms awaiting a post-mortem examination.

The manner of Mr. Sheffield's death was quite mysterious. Some of the passengers on a cable train going toward the Coliseum and after being elevated to the stage, said he only wanted to be elected.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1890.—TWENTY PAGES.

WAS SHEFFLEE POISONED?

Mysterious Death of a Council Bluffs Man Hiding in a Cable Car.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

He is Suddenly Taken Sick While Hiding in a Cable Car and Shows Symptoms of Having Been Drugged.

The mortal remains of Charles E. Sheffield, formerly night agent at the Union Pacific transfer at Council Bluffs, lie at Healey & Healey's undertaking rooms awaiting a post-mortem examination.

The manner of Mr. Sheffield's death was quite mysterious. Some of the passengers on a cable train going toward the Coliseum and after being elevated to the stage, said he only wanted to be elected.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1890.—TWENTY PAGES.

WAS SHEFFLEE POISONED?

Mysterious Death of a Council Bluffs Man Hiding in a Cable Car.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

He is Suddenly Taken Sick While Hiding in a Cable Car and Shows Symptoms of Having Been Drugged.

The mortal remains of Charles E. Sheffield, formerly night agent at the Union Pacific transfer at Council Bluffs, lie at Healey & Healey's undertaking rooms awaiting a post-mortem examination.

The manner of Mr. Sheffield's death was quite mysterious. Some of the passengers on a cable train going toward the Coliseum and after being elevated to the stage, said he only wanted to be elected.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1890.—TWENTY PAGES.

WAS SHEFFLEE POISONED?

Mysterious Death of a Council Bluffs Man Hiding in a Cable Car.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

He is Suddenly Taken Sick While Hiding in a Cable Car and Shows Symptoms of Having Been Drugged.

The mortal remains of Charles E. Sheffield, formerly night agent at the Union Pacific transfer at Council Bluffs, lie at Healey & Healey's undertaking rooms awaiting a post-mortem examination.

The manner of Mr. Sheffield's death was quite mysterious. Some of the passengers on a cable train going toward the Coliseum and after being elevated to the stage, said he only wanted to be elected.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.

When the vote was announced a great howl went up from the delegates, declaring that the candidates had been buried under an early snow fall.