FOOLISH MORMONS.

They Want Utah Admitted as a State to Show Their Power.

Judge L. T. Edbolm of Morgan City, Utah, formerly a prominent member of the Mormon church, is visiting his son Benjamin at 2936 Charles at rect.

Judge Edholm has resided in Utah during the past twenty-nine years and is familiar with every phase of Mormonism. While in conversation yesterday the gentleman talked freely of his experience with the church and bis life among Brigham Young's faithful.

"I renounced the Mormon faith twenty years ago," observed the gentleman, "when the church was a power in the territory. The loss of the cause since that time can scarcely be estimated except by those who were affected by the change. The power of the church is threatened more by the inability of the leaders to continue the collection of tithes, as efold, than by the chiral processors aforticle by the continue the collection of tithes, as efold, than by the rigid measures adopted by the government against the practice of polygamy. Twenty years ago the failure to contribute one-tenth of one's income was instantly rebuked with expulsion from the church. But the continual diverting of the people's means into this channel impoverished the masses to such a degree that the faithful grew to fear the ondition was ascertained is similar to the means used by the government in collecting taxes, with the pos-sible exception of the manner in which the agents of the church pried into all family matters, however sacred, with a view of permitting no sources of revenue to escape. The dissatis faction increased when it was noticed that the immediate officers of the church grew immensely wealthy while the masses

"The reports in circulation concerning the intention of the church to remove its members to some other country, where they can practice the teachings of their religion with-out the interference of civil authorities, is scarcely to be credited. Gentile government is, of course, repugnant to Mormon leaders but they hope to secure things more to their liking when the territory is admitted into the union. Then they hope to elect state officials in accord with their ideas and be enabled to practice the teachings of the church as of old.

"The announcement of President Woodruff recently published, to the effect that the church had abolished polygamy and advising the members to observe the law, I have every reason in the world to believe is false. While the president published this notice to the the president published this notice to the world in language not to be misconstrued, it means altogether a different thing to the faithful members of the church. Polygamy is and will continue to be sanctioned by the church in secret. This amouncement is made with a view of securing early admittance as a state, and then by supporting either rediffical party. and then by supporting either political party from which favors can be gained in the in-terest of the church, the Mormons expect to sper as their prophets have predicted. The recruits to the faith at present are received from the south and from Europe, As a rule, these new members are densel ignorant and have no conception of the true bject for which they are brought to Utah. This is one of the deplorable features of situation. The coming generation of Mormons is much more liberal on the subject of polygamy than the past, and if the practice is ever completely abolished by the church it may be accredited to this influence. "I knew Brigham Young quite well during his lifetime and my observation is that he had more love for the almighty dollar and his individual interests that all of Mormondom.

Crawford's Fire.

Francis C. Grable has returned from a trip to Crawford, bringing with him the charred and blackened contents of the vault of the State bank of that place, of which he is vice president.

The bank building burned last week in a conflagration that swept off a large portion of the business portion of Crawford, and although the vault had been ordered built according to the plan of a reputable architect and stood after the fire without a crack, yet when opened all of the books and notes taken for money loaned were found to be undecipherable by the naked eye. Whether the ashes remains to be determined.

Mr. Grable thinks their loss is attributable to the wooden shelving inside the vault and to the intense heat produced by the burning of the three carloads of hams, lard and flour in the basement of the wholesale grocery ad-joing their banking room. There was no water in the town, and the vault kept getting hotter from the burning mass for twelve hours after the buildings were consumed. The money in the safe was blackened but its value was not impaired. No other papers were in the safe as the casher was in the habit of working at night after the safe was locked with a time lock. The men whose notes were burned are coming forward promptly and giving new ones, over $30,000 having thus been replaced in two days after the bank reopened.

Mr. Grable suggests that Crawford's experience ought to encourage all towns of any importance to adopt a system of waterworks.

HUNDREDS OF KNIGHTS.

They are Assembling at the Grand Lodge of Pythians. The grand lodge of Knights of Pythias will this morning. The sessions will be held in the large hall in Masonie block, corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue, and will open at 10 a. m. An address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Cushing with a response by one of the isiting delegates.

There will be about two hundred delegates in attendance besides a large number of in-terested members from all over the state. The committee on credentials will have its report ready for presentation in the morning. This committee is composed of J. W. Percival of Lincoln; J. G. Goss, Bellevue: H. E. Gapen, Sidney; Carl Kra-mer, Columbus, and C. E. Carrier, Omaha. Several important matters will come un for the consideration of the grand lodge, one of the most important being the question of adopting what is known as the "Ohlo system" of electing all the officers of the grand lodge. By this system the names of candi-cates for offices are sent to each lodge and each past chancellor is given the right to yote. The result of the yote in each lodge is sent to the designated place and announced when the grand lodge meets. The latter body has no voice in the election unless there should be a tie vote. Another question for legislation will be the proposed extending the time for which the grand keeper of records and scal is elected making it four years.

There is also some talk of incresing the salary of the grand chancellor.

The session of the grand lodge will probably continue three days. The following are the officers of the grand

The change that was to have gone into effect yesterday, by which school children could be transferred to the cable from all other lines in the city, in order to take them to the high school, did not take place, owing to a mistake in the printing of the transfer checks, which necessitates the printing of an entirely new lot. This will be done as soon as possible and the change will probably be made the latter part of the week.
