Recapture of the Herron Brothers Who Broke Jail at Valentine.

A FARMER CUTS HIS THROAT WITH A RAZOR

Methodist Ministerial Conference-The Presbyterian Synod-Elevator Fire at Edison-Chase County District Court.

VALENTINE, Neb., Oct. 17 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Herron Brothers, the Madison county train robbers who broke jail heret ast Saturday night, were caught on the Niobrara river near Carns postoffice, about seventy-five miles east of here, by David Johnston and F. Wise of Norden. Their trail was struck east of Norden vesterday afternoon and followed till too dark, when the pursuers went on a few miles and staid over night. This morning on getting up Weise went back to where they had left off, Johnston staying to guard the road, when the Herons came crawling out of a hay-stack and walked right up to him. Johnston covered them and took them in custody, they being afoot and unarmed, and the officers arrived with them this evening. District court is now in session and they will likely be tried at once, the prosecuting witness having already been held here several days.

Chase County District Court. IMPERIAL, Neb., Oct. 17 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-In the district court, now in session, the case which is attracting the most atten tion is that of the state vs Samuel Bugsch charged with disposing of mortgaged propcrty. The jury is still out. This prosecution attracts considerable attention for the reason that so many parties in this county, after having conveyed personal property by mortgage, have afterward sold and removed such property. There have been a number of these prosecutions brought here and all have signally failed A number of divorces have been granted during the present term, confirmations made and foreigners admitted to citizenship. A New Chautauqua Assembly. FREMONT, Neb., Oct. 17 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The board of trustees of the Christian Park and Assembly association held a meeting in this city last night and determined to launch a new Chautauoua association next year. This new enterprise was christened Central Chautauqua assembly and the result of the development of the Christian Park and Assembly association, the latter being primarily organized by the North Nebraska Methodist Episcopal conference and subject to its general control. The association which takes up this new work has been in existence two years and has met with flattering success. Its handsome grounds north of the city are already splendidly equipped, the largest and best auditorium in the state having built the past season. The association has an available fund of $16,000 to put in the work and it is the intention to make the chautauqua feature one of the very strongest and best of that popular plan of education in the west. Jacob Fawcett of Omaha is president of the association and last night Rev. C. M. Brown of Omaha was elected chancellor of the assembly, and upon him the work of pushing the new project will principally devolve. J. F. Hanson, Frement. is superintendent of grounds.

TREATED WORSE THAN BRUTES. Pitiable Story of Cruelties Practiced

by Railroad Contractors. New York, Oct. 17 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Jacob Metch, a German laborer, is lying in a precarious condition at his home in Brooklyn from the effects of treatment to which he alleges he was subjected in Logan county, West Virginia, where with fifty other aborers, he was sent to work by a New York contract labor firm with promises of good pay and easy hours. He is the only man to return, the others being unable to get back. The men, he says, were compelled to work on a railway under an armed guard, were compelled to sleep in the open fields, and given the poorest food and not enough of that. Not a cent was paid any of them for their work. Many of the men, he said, were aken sick with the fever and planned to es cape. He did so finally, and was compelled walk almost the entire distance be that place and New York, he has friends. The man's story of the cruelties inflicted is pitable in the extreme. The firm, Mayer & Copperek, deny the story.

DUN'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK

The Business Outlook is Improving in All Directions.

TRADE GROWS IN STRENGTH AND VOLUME.

Reports from Various Centers of Commerce and Industry-Comparaof this suspension is awaited quite tive Statement of Exports-Tariff Influences.

> New York, Oct. 17 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

In all directions the business outlook improves and the volume of trade so increases, notwithstanding the recent enormous increase of circulation, that the money markets are growing stringent. Exports have become remarkably large and the domestic trade is such that exchanges outside of New York exceed last year's 15 per cent. But while New York and Boston money markets are fairly supplied and steady 6 per light at per cent, the at 5 to Chicago market is and stringent at Philadelphia, only a part of the commercial paper being taken at 6 to 7 per cent. St. Louis notes an active market at 6 to 8 per cent; Milwankee a close market at 7, and Savannah a tight market; but at Cleveland and Detroit the markets are rather easier; at Kansas City firm; at Denver a good demand is well supplied; at Omaha the market is easy, and at Pittsburg there is a good demand without stringency. Trade is strong everywhere. At Boston wool is rising and goods are in better demand, while cottons are selling well and firm. At Philadelphia it is more active and slightly higher, the output of cottons is increasing, and there is an increased demand for paper, with a tendency toward advance in some shades. The liquor trade is stimulated by new duties. Chicago reports smaller receipts of grain, cured meats and dressed beef, cheese and butter than avearage, but a slight increase in lard and double the ceipts of wool, and larger transactions in dry goods and merchandise, generally with satisfactory payments. St. Kouis merchants are adjusting themselves to the new tariff tariff conditions and trade is strong. At Cleveland and Milwaukee the bad weather has retarded trade, which is nevertheless of fair volume. AtSt. Paul, Omana Denver and Kansus City trade is good. At Minucapolis the flour output declines to 166,000 barrels, but wheat receipts were 1,800,000 bush-At Pittsburg the iron and glass trades are active, with prospects of an advance in window glass. At Savannah trade is brisk. The weekly output of pig Iron in September was 13.6 per cent larger than a year ago, There are more sales of pig at Cleveland, and Pittsburg, pig is a little weak and Bessemer notably, but the demand for all manufactured iron and steel is growing stronger. At Philadelphia the steadiness in steel is encourag-ing, though Bessimer is weak, and all finished products are in good demand. The noteworthy fact at New York is the sale of Tennessee iron, Lucy or Enslee braud and strict No. 1 foundry, at $15.25 per ton. The coal trade is more confident and September prices now rule. The is 11 c lower, but lead is stronger at 5.9 cents, and copper at 15% to 17 cents. Of the textile industries the increasing demand for cotton and wool bears witness, though the production of print cloths at present prices is held unprofitable. Another great industry has been making notable progress. The number of hogs packed at the west March 1 to October 1 was 7,965,000, against 5,920,000 last year—an in-crease of nearly 35 per cent. Speculation in wheat has made further pro-gress this week, the price rising 1% cents on small sales, but the reports are practically stopped. In September, 5%,259 bushels, against 2,223,104 last year, went from Atlantic ports, and thus far in October only a small part of last year's exports—for four days of this week, 163,000 bashels, against 432,000 last year. Corn also goes abroad but little, hav-ing advanced during the week only 1/6, while oats have risen 1 4c. But the export move-ment of the latter is extraordinarily large— in September, 297,000,000 pounds, against 176,000,000 pounds last year, and in October hus far there is a large increase, helped by the yielding in price, of 1-16c this week. The exports of provisions are also very heavy— n September, $11,918,416 in value, against $8,707,645 last year, and this also continues, prices being steady, I exports there was an increase quantity last month-78,000,000 gallons, against 59,000,000 last year. Thus, in spite of last month-78,000,000 gallons, the suppression of exports of breadstuffs by nigh prices, the increase in value of the cipal products was almost 10 per cent in tember, and the aggregate of exports for that month will not vary much from the remarkably large value of imports. The new tariff has caused an advance in prices of some kinds of goods, which, torether with the rise resulting from partial level of price materially, though less than I per cent on all commodities since October 2; but the higher range of prices accounts in part for the quick absorption of a circulation far greater than that of last year. The business failures during the last seven days number 227, as compared with 215 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 223. SWUNG OFF WITH SANG FROID.

Remarkable Coolness Exhibited by an Illinois Murderer on the Gallows. Morris, Ili., Oct. 17.—James Maxwell wa hanged at 10:47 this morning for the murder of Charles Decker in June last. He was game to the last and died apparently the most unconcerned man in Morris.

Maxwell was the coolest man in the place. l ast night, when the sheriff showed some signs of trepidation at the task before him Maxwell said:

"Brace up, old man. You're much more troubled about this thing than lam." He slept well and ate his breakfast with apparent relish this morning. spiritual advisers received a severe this morning when they went in to administer the last words of consolation to him. An enterprising reporter had been before them. He had as-sumed the guise of a minister with the idea of getting an interview. the idea of getting an interview He failed, for when the newspaper representative began to question him as to his spiritual welfare, Maxwell threw off the re figious mask which he had hitherto worn and drove his visitor from him with a string of curses of the most sulphurous sort. When the sheriff began to read the death warrant in a trembling voice, Maxwell inter rupted with: "Stop that gab, Scroeder, and let us get through with this thing as soon as

His wish was complied with and he was at once conducted to the gallows. A brief prayer was offered, the prisoner was pinioned and the noose adjusted. The sheriff asked him if he had anything to say. His reply was him if he had anything to say. His reply was a complaint that the sheriff had put a window in the sharty where the execution took place so that the crowd outside could see him. The sheriff then cut the cord and the body fell. In six minutes Maxwell was pronounce Just before leaving his cell Maxwel handed the sheriff a big knife, telling him that he might have killed himself half a dozen times had he wished to do so.

BROUGHT THE VESSEL TO PORT. Wonderful Herofsm and Pluck of a Little Jim.

Captain's Wife. NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- | Special Telegram o THE BEE. |-On April 3, last, the Johanna, German bark well known in Australian waters, left Mauritius for Melbourne. For some days everything was plain sailing; then there followed a series of disasters such as are not often met with even in the annals of the sea. One by one the crew became prostrated by mauritius fever, and when almost every hand on board was lying ill the ship was caught in a gale. Two men and one woman were left to work the vessel, Captain Meinders, the chief mate, and the carpenter's wife. The heroine of this narrative had a double duty to to perform. She had, in the first place, to assist her husband and the mate in the difficult task of running the ship during the gale, but in spite of her efforts death was busy. The sailors died one after another, and finally the captain himself was struck down. Mrs. Meinders and the first mate were left alone to face the storm and bring the vessel to port. For forty days this woman stood at the wheel, saw to rigging and took an activa part in the management of the ship. To crown all, her husband died, but the brave woman held on to the very end and the vessel finally reached a haven of safety. Margherita Meinders is only twenty-seven years of age, She was married in 1882 and has been at sea ever She has two children, one, a boy, now being educated in Germany; the other a little girl of five, who ran about the deck of the

A workman at the new union depot was badly hurt yesterday by the falling of a huge stone which the crane was swinging from a flat car to the ground. A freight train backed in the twitch track just while the stone was in midair and bumped against the stone train and ran it against one of the guy ropes, breaking it and dropping the stone in the grip of the crane Daniel Donivan, one of the help-ers at the foot of the crane, was caught by the falling stone and badly crushed He was removed on a stretcher to St. Joseph's hospi-tal.

HER CLOTHES TOOK FIRE. Christina Norgaard, a Servant Girl,

Sustaines Serious Injuries. Christina Norgaard, a servant girl in the family of L. Larson, who lives at 1415 North Twentieth street, was very seriously burned yesterday. She was making fire in the kitchen stove and her apron became ignited as she bent over the stove. Her screams for belp soon brought assistance, but before the flames could be extinguished the girl's hands arms and one side were very badly burned She will recover, the physician thinks, but will have to endure a great deal of suffering.

DICKMAN'S CARELESSNESS.

It Results in the Serious Wounding of George Kunetson. George Kunetson and George Dickman, both of Onraha, went hunting yesterday over on Manawa lake. They saw some ducks and begun firing at them. Unfortunately Dickman fired at a flying duck just as it passed between him and his companion, and Kunetson received the entire load of shot, scattered over his face and in his arms and legs; but as they were small shot the accident will probably not prove fatal. The injured man was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where a physician was called to see him. He was suffering considerably from a wound in the knee, but the doctor thinks he will recover in a short time. DEFECTIVE SWEEPERS.

Squires & Co.'s Machines Fail to Do the Work Required. Yesterday afternoon was the time set by the board of public works for C. E. Squires, the street sweeping contractor, to prove that his machines are equal to the emergency. At 4 o'clock two of the sweepers were pulled to I wentieth and Farnam and started west on the cedar block pavement. The work they performed was rated fair. "Put them on a rough pavement and I will prove to you that they are not worth a continental," remarked the chairman, as several members of the committee suggested there was nothing wrong with the sweeping. The sweepers were turned about and again started east on the Sioux Falls granite with which lower Farnam is paved. The drivers set the brooms down until they seemed a part of the pavement and the mules leaned into the collars. The wheels slid along the stone, but the dirt remained. The next test was made on Ninth street, from Howard to Jones Here the committee concluded the work was not up to the standard, and the machine were pulled over to Thirteenth street and sent down as far as Jones. The committee followed along in the cloud of dust and then sat down on the curb stone, where the mem bers debated the question.

At last it was decided that the street sweepers cannot do the work as required under the contract, and such a report will be at the Temple of Israel. A fair sized audience greeted Rabbi Rosenau at the Temple of Israel last night, where he delivered his lecture upon "Consistency." "The natural parts of religion live on," said he, "in spite of the efforts of many who seek to bury them in eternal remoteness. No matter where we look we find the great and ever powerful lesson of consistency preached to us in the walks of every day life, and notwithstanding the efforts of man to overthrow this doctrine, na ture preaches it in the most eloquent terms. Goont on a clear day and gaze upon the warm sun; think how long it has shed its rays upon the earth, bringing forth grains, fruits and flowers, and then think how long this will continue. When this is considered, no reasoning man or woman can help but say that the doctrine of consistency is lofty and everlasting. At night you see thousands of stars that help to light the belated traveler on his way, and of this host, each one preaches and teaches the great and ever im-pertant lesson of consistency. "Today in the fields where the corn, the wheat and the fruits grow, there they will grow ages hence and when we consider that ach grain is adopted to its own particular soil, again I say you cannot help considering the mighty words and doctrines of consist

"CONSISTENCY." Subject of Rabbi Rosenau's Lecture

"Consistency is the grand bulwark upon which this universe has its foundation and the lesson taught by the inanimate things should be practiced by the men and women. but I regret to say that there are hundreds and thousands of men and women who will go to the New Year's atmement, where they will promise to practice this great lesson, but they soon forget and go on sinning against their fellow-men, forgetting the poor and needy and living lives that will not stand the test of a close and careful scrutiny. "Henceforth, whatever you do, let consist-ency be one of the main aims of your lives."

THE VIADUCT ASSESSMENT.

A Fund to Be Raised to Fight the Present Levy.

About seventy-five property owners who are interested in a reduction of the special tax levied upon their property for the purpose of raising funds to pay damages incident to the building of the Tenth street viaduct, met last night at Mets' hall, on 'Tenth street. They proceeded to discuss the most feasible plan by which the city council may be compelled to make the levy for raising this fund upon the entire city instead of placing it, as it now is, upon a district in the vicinity and south of the viaduct, supposed to be most benefited by the building of the via-

Mr. C. P. Burkett was chosen chairman and Charles Eigutter secretary of the meeting.
The following agreement had been

ared upon type written sheets of legal cap and the property owners present were asked to sign the same, which many of them did: "We, the undersigned citizens owning property in the special taxing district formed by the city council of Omaha to raise the necessary funds to pay the damages awarded to property holders caused by the building of the viaduct on Tenth street, believing the district as fermed too limited and that the taxes should have been levied on the entire taxes should have been levied on the entire city, as the improvement is one for the bene-fit of the city at large and not one of a local character as constituted by the council we believe that, if properly brought to the notice of the courts, an order can be obtained to assess the tax on the city at large. And with a view to bringing this matter properly into court, we, the undersigned, hereby agree with each other that we each for himself and not one for theother will contribute a prorata amount in accordance with the amoun of such special tax as is now levied against our property to raise a sum that will be equal to $400 as a fund to pay costs of said suit and a retainer fee for counsel and that we will further pay, each for himself, and not one for the other, in addition to said sum above named, to the attorney having charge of the case is a final fee, 5 per cent of the amount, that said attorney may succeed in re-ducing our taxes below the amounts now levied. And it is understood and hereby agreed that each signer shall not pay more agreed that each signer shall not pay more than 7 per cent of the amount of special viaduct tax now levied against his property."

Mr. Lee Estelle was asked to give his opinion in the case, as a property owner and also as an attorney. He said he believed that it was unjust for the city to assess all of the special taxes incident to the building of the viaduct was the said as the special taxes incident to the building of the viaduct was the said as the said a of the viaduct upon the adjacent property or the south side, but it should have been assessed upon the entire city. The improve-

Councilman Lowry spoke to the same Attorney Cornish was called and said that he had several clients who would make a special fight upon the special assessment, but he wished them to have a hand in the general fight also. He believed that the plan which had been adopted by the city council in placing the assessment was radically wrong. In some instances where property owners should have had the damages they have been called upon to pay special taxes on account of this viaduct. He believes the benefits of the viaduct were general and far reaching, and the entire city should help pay the damages.

John Brandt was elected treasurer to take charge of the funds raised for the expenses of the law suit. It was decided to proceed with the case and each property owner was urged to pay in at least $2, so that a ready each fund might be on hand for active business. The meeting then adjourned, Successful Trial Trip of the F. L.

Norton. Wilmington, Del., Oct. I'. - Special Telegram to THE BEE.] - Secretary Tracy has sent Naval Constructor Hobb from Washington to inspect the valve-rigged steamer F. L. Norton and note her performance under steam. Her inventor, F. L. Norten, has such absolute faith in his boat's indestructibility and her capacity to buffet the roughest winds and waves that he will start on a trip to Toulon, France, on November I, touching at the Bermudas and Azores. Mr. Norton will take his wife and niece with him. He will also go to France and Germany on the invitation of the governments.

The Norton is a pudgy little craft, 58 feet over all and 54 feet between her uprights. She is 12.6 feet in beam and her total depth is 61.6 feet. Besides being equipped with a 25-horse engine, she is rigged as a yawl and before the wind can make ten miles an hour. The displacement is twenty-five tons. The peculiarity and advantages of the Norten is her double shell or double bottom. She rides under steam or sail on her outer Balfour Banqueted. New Castle, Oct. 17. -This evening Bal four was entertained at a banquet, which was attended by 1,000 guests and presided over by Lord Londonderry. Balfour said no arrangement existed among the Gladstonians as to what would be the new home rule, but every culogy they passed on the Parnellites carried with it a pledge of future policy which it was impossible to redeem except by obstructing civilized society in Ireland. four went on to say that the Parnellites never debated anything approaching suggestion dealing with the real diffi-ulties. Not content with this negative attitude they had a positive policy, attested by three judges, a feeling of anarchy which

Two or Three Public Institutions Will Be Interested.

Manistee, Minn., Oct. 17.-Two or three public institutions will find themselves very directly interested in the failure of R. G. Peters. Several years ago it was an nounced that Peters had given $5,000 each to Oberlin college, Olivet college and the Congregational theological seminary at Chicago. Oberlin has since built a large and elegant building and chris-tened it "Peters' Hall." It now turns out that these gifts are only on paper. Peters having given his notes for the sums named There, was a run on the Manistee national bank this morning, which was promptly met. The institution was prepared for an emergency, and is amply able to meet the run without going outside of its own resources. The excitement here has Peters this afternoon, in speaking of the condition of the various firms in which he is interested, said the only ones likely to be seriously affected are Peters and Morrison of Menominee Arthur Meigs & Co., lumber and real estate, and Peters & Dusham of Grand Rapids and one or two southern firms. Phese are likely to go under.
